

B. F. SCHWEIER

THE CONSTITUTION-THE UNION-AND THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAWS.

VOL. XXXV.

MIFFLINTOWN, JUNIATA COUNTY, PENNA., WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1881.

A GOOD NIGHT.

By-and-by the evening falls. Sons of labor rest Weary cattle seek the stalls, Birds are in the net By-and-by the tide will turn, Change comes o'er the sky, Lite's hard task the child will learn,

By-and-bye the din will cease Day's long hours be past, By-and-bye in holy peace We shall have sleep at last. Calm will be the sea wind's roar. Calm we too shall lie, Toil and moil and weep no more; By-and-bye.

TOYING WITH CUPID,

Arnold Winton, strolling up and down the upper deck of the steamship Bothnia, with a fragrant Havana held bet judging from the smile playing abou his mouth and lightning up the dark handsome face, was the subject o thought at all disagreeable.

It was, in fact, no less a subject than represented some five feet five inches of blonde humanity, in the shape of Mrs Ray's governess. Mrs. Ray herself had ceno of her retreating footsteps had died not, during the five days they had been ont at sea, been seen above decks, but Miss Thornton had braved both wind and weather, and, with or without her was by no means agreeable. little eight year old charge, had sought every opportunity to escape from the stifling cabin into a purer atmosphere.

kindly fate and chance introduction Doubtless she had made satisfactory erthrew him across Cecil Thornton's path. planation, and Mrs. Ray had pardoned He had amused himself with women all his life, and, of course a governess was fair sport. She would be very of New York's society, vouchsafed his py.

kindly attentious. Of course it was merely to pass away the time. She upon him. He had been playing with must understsand that, though certainly fire and it had burnt him; he had been nothing of this or the foregoing mus- playing with love, and Cupid had reings were apparent in this manner, as, venged him-in love-with but one just as they reached this stage, a alight hope, one thought, one wish to gain, figure encased in a water-proof appeared | Cecil Thorton for his own-his wife. at the other end of the deck, but out Of course he would have to ask her from the water-proof peeped out a be- forgiveness. For a time she might hewilderingly lovely face and over it broke sitate to grant it, but in the end he a revishing smile, as he came eagerly must win. After all, his means were foward to meet her

"I am so glad you have come," he said; "and alone, too. Need I throw away my cigar? May I smoke?' suffered!

"Certainly, I like it, you know, the odor of tobacco. Oh, how good this odor of tobacco. Oh, how good this are the reality home to him, and the ridden to the end of the line, crossed of the Mikado), in Tokio, is a restaumaten (which, by the way, is now deo-air feels! Poor Mrs. Ray! She has came the reality home to him, and the the ferry, observing to himself. "Dot rant "where persons can enjoy the su-dorised) or with black or silver for or been so very sick to day." ment of his desire. "And you have been so much with Confident and rejoicing, he pulled some dimes I go owit to East Nyatick her, leaving me to depend on my own resources. There are such stupid people evening. too, on board. But for the happy accident of meeting you, I feel I should ere this have grown desperate, and buried my sorrow beneath the waves. Now I only dread the day when our vessel shall ride into port."

ed and half questioned. "Why did you not speak ?" "There was nothing to say," he "I can't take that nickel " said plied, shrugging his shoulders. horse-car conducter to a man who got in "Nothing to ssy?,' she repeated. at the City Hall. "Could you not have told her what I "Vot vos de matter mit dot goi was to you?" asked the passenger, blandly. "And what is that?" he asked. "It's no good. It's got a hole in it "You ask me?" she answered. "What replied the conductor, gruffly. have your words and kisses meant? Did "Ist dot so? Off you please you you not love me? Did you mean me to me dot holes." be your wife?" "Look at it. We can't take any such

"I loved you yes; but really I have money as that." not given consideration to the question "Oxcuse me," smiled the pa of matrimony. Do not be foolish, Cecil. and he handed over a dime. I am ready to do anything in reason, my "That's worse yet," growled the con dear, to atone for any trouble you may ductor. get into on my account-" "Vos dot dime full of holes, too

"Hush!" she cried, stamping her foot asked the passenger looking up innocen upon the deck, her eyes flashing in his face. "Don't make me despise you "Here's a whole side chipped out here! An hour ago I loved you. Think ween his lips, was (a most unwonted of it! An hour ago I would have lived We ain't allowed to take mutilated excercise for hin.) thinking deeply, nor forever on the narrow limits of this ship money," and the conductor handed it alone with you, and considered myse f back. blessed among woman. Now I wonder "So?" inquired the passenger. "Hat the whole world is wide enough to hold if you changes for heluf a dollar?" and he "So?" inquired the passenger. "Ha us two, and give my contempt breathing passed over another co'n.

"What's this?" asked the con space!' contemptuously. "I't as bald as a dea-The scathing words left him no reply. They still burned in his soul after the con. There ain't a scratch on it to show whether it's an overcoat button or a skating rink. Haven't you got any away. monev?

For the first time in his life he felt "Vell, I should make smiles!" contempt for himself, and the sensation the passenger, good humoredly. "Here is fife tollar, and you can paste it togeth-Neither could he shake it off as days merged into weeks.

He wondered too, if Miss Thornton Life on shipboard had promised to had been discharged. No! he learned handed over a bill torn in four or eight be monotonous to Mr. Winton, until a that she was still in Mrs. Ray's service, pieces.

"I don't want no more fooling," said the conductor. "If you can't pay your the indiscretion. fare, get off." This should have satisfied him but it

"Vell, don'd make so many troubles failed to do so. He grew more and I vill bay you," and he pulled out s grateful to hum, that he, one of the lions more ill at case-restless, almost unhap- Mexican quarter. "Gif me bennies," ne suggested

At last, like a lightning flash it burst "Look here, are you going to pay our fare or not!" "Off gourse. May be you vas vatin for dat moneys, 'and he took back his quarter and substituted an English six-

"Now you get off this car!" roared the conductor. "Vere has dese cars got by?" asked the passenger, rising to obey. "Fulton Ferry," said the cond ample to provide his wife with every "Den I may as well get owit. You after the fugitive husband. comfort, and her beauty would adorn dell dem gompanies dot some dimes do his home! Why had he been so blind ? make more money as ode- dimes off day Poor child! How much she must have dook voteffer dey got instead of going midout no.lings, don't it?"

And the smiling passenger, having The more he thought of it the nearer vas petter off, I safe such moneys, und red-headed heart-breaker across the street. I m going to wait here and see for myself, and if I catch him there won't be doctors enough in town to put his sinter are now engaging the attention of those who are making ready their Do you remember, says Frank H. Cush-ing, the mention I made of the Ma-soury of the Zunis, in New Mexico, of the spot for some minutes, but offict furthers into her prepared and the officers of furthers and the officers of furthers to shift the camera. Large rines, and mantles are all objects of in- army were insufficient in the melves crowds kept coming in and going out terest at present. until after five o'clock, but the scraggy Fur lined circulars are warm and little woman remained. When she was alone with the lecturer she asked that however, the best extra wrap yet intro- country coustantly raided by Apaches for the manager be called in and bought the show for the rest of the afternoon.

The anxious little wife, the lecturer and on the picture.

"I'll bet that's him," said George, as ing man walked along the pavement. "Yes, you bet that's him," said the roman, becoming intensely interested in the picture.

"Look there, he lifts his hat," said the manager. "And bows and smiles." added the lecturer "And that caroty-haired attraction in about which the mind may be at rest, the window smiled as if she'd eaten if the wearer is overtaken by rain or something that soured on her stomach, continued the woman. "Open the door. Let me confront him in his er ven you got some leisures. Haf you got changes off dot fife tollars," and he if you're any where around when we get favor-such as black have and glossy

The little woman broke for the door, small scraggy womar in white. She waved her hand at the fleeing man and she shouted, but when he entered the she shouled, but when he chused from sight, she turned back, and the last seen of her she was talking to a tall police-of her she was talking to a tall police-tor the turned back and the last seen of her she was talking to a tall police-tor the turned back and the last seen of her she was talking to a tall police-tor the turned back and the last seen of her she was talking to a tall police-after the car as if she wanted the officer to arrest the driver or fire a shot or two

A correspondent says on the street called Okiyo-koge (High resting place be doctors enough in town to put his winter wardrobes. During the last few the prayers, ancient songs, unwritten Bible, home." The woman kept her eyes fastened on he spot for some minutes, but other turning a scale to solution will wear; but still, what the turning a scale to solution will be a solution of the bow,' and of my desire, through se-curing a scale to solution of the bow,' and of my desire, through se-curing a scale to solution of the bow,' and of my desire, through se-curing a scale to solution of the bow,' and of my desire, through se-curing a scale to solution of the bow,' and of my desire, through se-curing a scale to solution of the bow,' and of my desire, through se-curing a scale to solution of the bow,' and of my desire, through se-curing a scale to solution of the bow,' and of my desire, through se-curing a scale to solution of the bow,' and of my desire, through se-curing a scale to solution of the bow,' and of my desire, through se-curing a scale to solution of the bow,' and of my desire, through se-curing a scale to solution of the bow,' and of my desire, through se-curing a scale to solution of the bow,' and of my desire, through se-curing a scale to solution of the bow,' and of my desire, through se-curing a scale to solution of the bow,' and of my desire, through se-curing a scale to solution of the bow,' and of my desire, through se-curing a scale to solution of the bow,' and of my desire, through se-curing a scale to solution of the bow,' and the pieces together after I once get him days of positively warm weather it is obsolete The woman kept her eyes fastened on London will wear; but still, what the curing a scalp to get into this wonderful the spot for some minutes, but other furriers have prepared in the way of organization ? The scalps procured for

Fur lined circulars are warm and comfortable, but not pretty; they are, and title of presention I passed through a duced, and they suit slender purses because they accepted as a general fash-From 5.05 o'clock the camera reflected ion. The new circulars have arm holes poured down over New Mexico-the valley cut in them, trimmed round with fur; of the Zum in particular - and washed away house with the woman at the window. and, instead of being lined with squir- the foundation of the scalp house, destroyrel lock, which is the breast of the skin, Mr. McManus kept their eyes fastened and has white for its prodominating color, preference is given to the all-gray lining, which is the back of the skin, well-dressed and gentlemanly-appear- but is decidely heavier than the squirre cover of night to the chamber of warriors lock. Rich materials are now used for sonvened a council, listened to my tale of the exterior of these circulars-velvet lood and thunder, refused absolutely my embossed with large flowers; tremerlain trance into the order, but consented (a new soft twilled silk, with satin lustre) listen to a strong defensive speech from me, in which I recalled former allusions lamask satin, Sicilienne, satin de Lyon, tending my initiation, my service to the merveil'eux and camel's hair are all to gods in securing the trophies, my love for be seen: but as circulars are only wraps, my people, the sadness to while as A-piththe wisest course is to select a material

The set of fur now seems limited to cape and muff; the former is large; the guilt, and then stuff cotton in your cars latter small. Black furs are in high black fox. Beaver is also likely to be much worn, and it is a skin that is antil morning, taken out to the and went down the stairs like a barrel of flour with its fastest legs on. George natural brown, as colored, plucked, half songs and ceremonials, ensued. A pole and Jimmy followed the man up the plucked, silvery or pointed, and as the was produced; to it the scalps were have a street with the camera. The sun-pictstreet with the camera. The sun-pict-ure reflected him quietly promenading the avenue for about a balf block, then the avenue for about a half block, then there are none prettier than the beaver was planted; I was perched bare-bea he turned around, and when he sudden-that Nature, not art, has shaded. The on a sand hill filled with ants, compelled ly turned back his head again his pace golden beaver, bleached into a bright to sit motionlers in the hot sun, watching quickened. There was a car ahead and hue, looks well on a black velvet coshe ran for it. Following him was a tume. Great care should be taken when and adoption into the clans took place; the purchasing the pointed beaver, as its pandemoniac four marches round the silvery hoirs sewn in at intervals are Pueblo, the killing of twenty-five or thirty sometimes only glued, and disappear dogs, and ere I knew it I was hurried of length, and the latter are as long as convenient to wear them. The jackets fit closely to the waist, below which ample room is provided for the crinolette. The fronts are double-breasted, the sleeves are narrow and without cuffs, all the pockets are inside, and these jackets no longer trimmed with another shi-wa-ni my heart would be always Zani-as a baffied warrior I should return forever severed from my people, ere two moons pass, to Wash Fifteen minutes after the disas to which clans should adopt me, the Parrot decided, and the vows of eternal fidelity to Zuni and obedience to the rules of the order were administered Then I was hustled off without warning, guarded by four warnors and two price and 'son of the eagles,' locked up prison. a single article of dress, night or day, four days. How fearful those four

A Terrible OrdeaL

this purpose; but the timely outbreak of the Apaches enabled me to acquire another four days and nights, and saw very effectually a fight between them and some ing all save one of the trophies of centuries of Zuni valor. My Pueblo brethren were herefore ready for the story 1 had to tell them, made me buy my insigma of victory about two miles westward from the Pueblo, guarded me all day, and took me unde officers of the

The Earth's Surface

barren sand and gravel.

he case when natural vegetation natural transport of sedume its absence attracted attention had been gone an hour and the family be-gan to look for it, but not finding it on the place at once roused their neighbors to join in the search. Califerria Brown, who had stopped over night on the place, Ben White, itenry Shane, several Mext-cans and the distressed parents hunted all that day and night, and at about 1 o'clock on the next day the dim track of the child's shoe was discovered by the practiced eye of Mr. Brown. The party, buoyant with hope, followed the trail with great difficulty until night, when fires were built child, instead of its bones, can better be trials of tramps. imagined than described It was out two -Edwind Boo days and nights, without any food whatever, and where the tracks of panthers, woives and wild-cats were found thick by Punched Out.

"Yesterday I bought a knife of you,

"Yes, sir-yes, sir, and now you want to exchange it for a glass rolling pin?

"I don't want any of your rolling pin.

"Yes-just so-I remember it. You put a string through it, and now want to ask me whether to wear it on your breast or between the shoulders. My forty years exp-" "Wear it: What in thunder do I want want another hole in it, ch? Something

"I want you to take this half dollar

The man who secured the contract a more profitable job than he anticipat-ed. In a crevice of the wall he discovered two $100 greenbacks, and near by a large amount of gold jewelry, all of which had evidently been hidden by thieves in order to avoid having their spoils found upon their persons.

-A Missouri woman has a colle back and give me—" "Two quarters with holes in 'em! Cer-tainly—glad to oblige. William, look over the change and get the pieces he new in wall decoration-good idea-put on with gold headed tacks.

"That's it-certainly-just so. You of 96

You gave me a half dollar with a hole in the hunters.

Come this way, sir."

hifting sand dunes and encroachments of he sea. Along that part of the French coast which extends from the Gironde to the Adour, the sea throws up annually my scalps until evening ; then the prayers .345,000 cubic metres of sand, which he wind heaps up in hills and carries inland, overwhelming villages and converting streams into marshy pools. The annual progress of these hills was so nnual progress of these great that in many parts of Brstagne the to be baptized as 'child of the parrots, tops of chimmeys above a sea of sand one marked the site of buried villages chamber of the watriors sans fire, meat, The amount of duncland in Western Eu-rope alone has be-u estimated to cover oil, tobacco; tabooed from touching any on or thing, from leaving m nore than a mitlion acres; and still looking at women or laying aside arger deposits exist in parts of Africa, Asia and America. The destruction caused by these shifting sands has, from an days, with their motionless sittings, their nights of only five hours sleep, their early date, attracted the attention of Gov ernments; and the result has been to emetics, sacrifices, etc. But I must stop check their ravages by careful planting. here. I can not describe the multitude of Thus has man's ingenuity been success fully opposed to the action of the agen Jackets no longer trimmed with another fur. The long seal coats are, on the contrary, trimmed with either black marten (which by the way is now deep cies which have caused those end wastes of drifting sands in Poland, Peru, d the United States tation which has resulted in the formation of the landes of Gascony, Sologna, and Beenne, and the Campi Belgium. up a new significance to the study of In dian ethnology. It may be that when I see you I can tell you more about this. But A Babe in the Woods. Not long ago the little three year old I can only add now that I have told you girl of Mr. Jonnson, hving on the Sabinal, Texas, wandered off in search of flowers.

that were taken to Paris subsequently to the occupation of Egypt under Napoleon I. and placed in the Louvre. After the cu-riosity in regard to them had worn off they becams a nuisance, and, owing to the pe-different directions. About 10 o'clock vealed to me the fact that all my previous already compelled me to learn by heart five ancient prayers, and commit to paper for memorization as many more with songs and rules for conduct as a member of the

NO. 50.

NEWS IN BRIEF According to Lombardini, the Po now ansports three times as much sedu -The colon in printing, does not oc merly, the increase being chiefly cur before 1490. due to the destruction of the forests, and -There are 1830 tel phone a ibseri ers in Boston. -Michigan is to have a new museum the Rhone has advanced at a rate fan greater than it did previous to the hich will cost $60,000. vation of its valley. In the Eastern United States, wherever a mountain slope -Pearl fishery in England is as old as Casar's time has been stripped, incipient ravines ly form and enlarge with such rap -Shanghai, China, is to have an international exhibition in 1883. to excite the attention of geologists. This is especially the case with the sandy soils of Maryland, Georgia and Alabama, pre---The Prussian monarchy was de-clared established in 1701. viously covered with pine forests. -Libraries existed in Egypt contemoraneously with the Trojan war. -Mrs. Hayes will visit Washington sources of the agricuitural wealth of th empire, is quickly cut up into huge ravines, and the finest soil in Europe is some time during the winter. being rapidly carried away to increase the deltas of the Volga and the Don, and -There are 140 woman law firms in the United States, to silt up the sea of Azov. During the -Emanuel Swedenborg died in 1772. great floods of 1866 and 1868 in Franc -Cornell University has an endowand Switzerland, the wooded soil alone ment of $1,700,000 escaped being washed away. The im -Bishop Weightman of the M. E. munity of the provinces of Brescis Churen, South, is critically ill at Charleston, S. C. Bergamo from damage by the great floods of 1872 was chiefly due to forest improvements. During ten years, the depart-ment of the Lower Alps lost $1,000 acres -Donald G. Mitchell is spoken of for ment of the Lower Alps lost 61,000 acres the professorship of English literature of cultivated soil from the effects of tor- in Columbia College. rents; and the clearing of the forests of every day from the cellar of Edward -Chaucer received a pitcher of wine the Ardeche has resulted in the cover up of 70,000 acres of good land with -Charles Martel, who defeted the It is thought by many that vegetation Saracens in the Battle of Tours, 732, died in 741. elevates the surface as much as water de resses it. This, however, can only be -Drowning was a military punish ed to decay on the ground in which it ment mention grew. In the case of cultivated crops, ard I. only. ment mentioned in the charter of which only partly return to the soil, this -The oldest canal in England, from elevation of the surface cannot take place ; the Trent to the Withan, 's said to have and its compensating effect being lost, denudation is relatively greater from this been dug in 1134. -The number of meteorological tacause alone. Hence, it appears that one tions maintained in the United States result of man's influence, by laying bare by the signal service is 296. large tracts of land for cultivation, has -The Rev. Dr. John Hall, has de en greatly to increase the erosion of the clined the Chancellorship of the New In some instances, however, York University. he action of man has been to check the -Senator Blaine's new house in nt. This Washington will be ready for occupancy specially has been done in the case next spring -There is perfect darkness at the North pole from Nov. 13 to Jan. 29, a period of seventy-seven days, -England's sidest baronet is a Hebrew, Sir Moses Montefiore, a man of great benevolence and blameless record. - Marggraf, an eminent Prussian chemist, first drew the attention of the public to beet-root sugar in 1747. -Baked, coarse bread, called horse bread, was common food for horses in the time of James I, instead of grain, -The Archduke Rudolph of Austria has just printed an account, in two volnmes of his Oriental travels last year -M. Pasteur has resolved to visit the Bordeaux lazaretto to study yellow fever and ascertain whether it is due to a parasite and can be guarded against.

-The French fishermen suffered in October almost as much as the British. At Boulogue the October storm has -Oakes Ames' children have erected library and hall as a memorial of the Congressman in North Easton, Mass. It cost $40,000.

-The 1 mace of Snam has been in ienna recently to purchase arms and engage Austrian instructing officers for -A transfer of $45,000 of real estate n McLesn County, Illinois, represents the losses of the former owner in two

-According to statistics just issued, the import of gram into Germany has far exceeded the export during the first

-A colony of 150 Italians, in and around Nashville, Tenn., have 1500 acres of land devoted to grape raising,

-The pianoforte was invented in Ger many, and began to be popular in Eng-land and France near the close of the

-The last court dwarf in England was a German, named Copperheim, re-tained by the Princess of Wales, the

-In the time of Edward I. of England, the pay of a knight or esquire was sixteen shillings a day, and that of an

-One Wisconsin county estimate that in eight months the cost incurred

-Edwind Booth, it is reported, has

-Mr. A. F. Grant, of Montreal, who

-Eight of the Jurors who acquitted

-In consideration of the exception ally trying season, the Duke of Suther land has remitted 50 per cent. of the current year's rent to his sheep-farming tenants in Sutherlandshire.

-Thomas Parnell, a retired publican who died at Ramsgate, in England, took part in the battle of Copenhagen under Nelson, in 1801. He served in that fight as a naval volunteer, and died at the age

-The Annapolis of Italy is Leghorn, where the Government has established a'dourishing naval academy under forty-two officers and professors The pupils number 145, and will be tanght how to -A number of young Englishmen are working on a farm at Le Mars, Iowa.

They are pupils of an Englishman who extensive farming in the far West. There is a large English colony at Le Mars, including many sens of aristocratic

-The Mormon Tabernacle at Sal

Lake Oity, which has been twenty-eigh years in process of construction, and is not yet completed, has granite walls nine feet four inches thick, is 250 feet in diameter, and seats 12,000 persons. It is a perfect whispering gallery, and the dropping of a pin or the rustle of a dress can be heard from one side to the handle the new iron-clad monster.

Bella Spraudling of murdering her hus-band, at Galesburg, Ill., accepted her invitation to a banquet in the celof her escape from the gallows.

lately gave $4,000 for a theological col-lege, has offered $30,000 to free Trinity written to Berlin that he will appear in Germany next year, after having com pleted his unfulfilled contracts during archer three shillings.

next spring and summer.

began a man as he entered a hardware Episcopal Church, in that city, from wants; and if he finds that two quarters owns a large tract there, and are learning won't answer, we'll give him five tens with centers punched out!"

Willi

mese army.

weeks of heavy play at poker.

nine months of the current year.

which has proved very success

She raised to him those great bewildnized him. ered eves. "You mean," she said, with unconhands.

scious pain in her voice," that then will be the end, that I shall see you no more?"

"No, no!" he answered quickly, striving to dissipate the impression. "I meant that I would not have the daily almost hourly o portunities of meeting you that we have here. Does the thought give you any pain?"

He bent his head lowor as he spoke, and somehow his head hid from view the little white fingers that lay upon his wife.

erm: "Cecil, will you remember these days in vain. -these nights?" She started at the sound of he nime "Mr. Winton, you must not," she murmured. "How did you know it?" "I think I should have known it by at one fell blow, I thought that I a name I was glad to find it yours."

The moonlight failed to hide the fl sh his quick glance noted, and the little hand on his arm trembled. What mattered it! Another week on shipboard remained to him. A week was an eter nity without some 1.ve divertisement and once on shore, with his feet on solid ground, if she had made a mistake she would not be very long in discovering it.

realize that it would cost him too, something of a wrench. If he were a fabu lously rich man, if he could afford to follow the bent of his own free will-he would be almost tempted to link the girl's fortunes irrevocably with his, Her beanty thrilled him. It was upon him in all its force, on the last night they were to spend together on board the vessel. They had been talking long and earnestly, and the night was growing

"I dread to morrow!" said the girl, shivering.

"And why?" he questioned. "Becam it seperates us?" She uplifted to his sight the pale, beautiful face, with its answer written there.

The temptation was stronger than his strength. He stopped and pressed a fervent kiss apon the ripe red lips. The girl lay passive in his cubrace.

At that instant Mrs Ray, unhappily recovered from her recent illness stepped in front of them.

"Miss Thornton!" she said in tones of incredulous amazement.

Then she waited for an explanation of the scene. Receiving none, she turned silently away in evident displeasure. Cecil drew herself from Arnold Win ton's side. "You said nothing?" she half assert other.

Mrs. Ray's bell, in the dusk of a winter und it don'd gost me no more as noddings at all," "Yes, sir, Miss Thornton is in the library," said the man who admitted

She sprang up with a glad cry at th sound of his footstep, then drew back, her face growing very pale as she recog-

He came forward, with ontstretche "Miss Thorton-Cecil!" he began. "I and to beg your forgiveness. Oh, dar-ling, these months have taught me my the day, but the structure was not yet said: "There is not a splinter left in of a family springing from such a deown heart, and how your image fills it! the day, but the structure was not yet the fish." The operator washed down praved moral source. I cannot tear it out. I was mad that around again in the afternon, when the the block, chopped the flattened eel into night-mad! Now I am sane, and I roof of the building would be in place. three-inch lengths and shouted to a cook have come to fall at your feet, if needs She came back at four o'clock, apparbe, if but you will smile your forgive- ently more determined than ever to see We advanced to a range and saw anothwill become my loved and honored book she asked:

"Hush!" she said, now very gently.

'I am sorry for this, yet glad that I can give you back a portion of my forfeited never claim. My love for you was killed a cent more." came. We are to be married next I know my business, and while I'm after and boneless! I drew my box toward Just? Aye, with the awful justice which made of Harold Winton's future life so barren and cheerless a thing-jus' with the justice which made men's praise of John Clive's beautiful wife a two-Yet as the days wore on, he began to too late showed him his life's mistake.

know.

Sentalgin

One of the London medical journals declares that the great prevalence of neuralgia-or what commonly goes by that name, should be regarded as a warning indicative of a low condition of health, which must necessarily render its subjects peculiarly susceptible to the invasion of diseases of an aggressive type. It is always essential that the vial forces should be vigorous and the al forces should be regenerating until the visitor told her story. nent, but neuralgia indicates a low or lepressed state of vitality-a poor and weak state-and should be promptly placed under treatment.

INDUCTIVE-Officer-"Bow's this, Murat all. All I said was, "Sorgeant,' said I, come of us ought to be in a menagerie !'" "DARS the newspapers! Why can' they leave such stems out ?" exclain hard-up undertaker, when he read an ar ticle warning people not to indulge freely in green fruit. Ambition is the avarice of power. To know is one thing, to do is an-

Caught by the Camera

She was a little woman, fierce-faced, saw, and the white lawn dress and white terously ran it down to the tail, then weighed 200 pounds more than she Holding up the head, to which was at-Thrice she had tried to check him but "How much does it take to get in?"

"Ten cents," answered Mr. McMan-

"And how much to stay in?" "You can stay in as long as you like, respect. More, Mr. Winton, you can said the manager, "and it won't cost you planged it into a vessel containing old "Well, I want to stay in till closin' up instinct," he replied. "In reality, I could never live again for any man, but time, and I want you to keep that secheard the child one day say 'Miss Cecil' I have learnt differently. I am engaged tion of stove pipe pointed at one place. when she addressed you. It is so sweet to be married to Mr. Clive, Mrs Ray's You don't need no lecturer to show me brother. I thought it was he when you the beauties and high art of the thing. licious, rish, tender, delicately flavored, you please," was the reply.

The woman put down ten cents and went in. Jimmy Hannerty was inside, and began turning the camera around. edged sword in his soul-just with the The woman looked in, but apparently justice of his own outraged love, which, took no interest in the pictures until a any dish than I did those unagi. spot on Washington avenue was arrived

"Now, go slow," she said, "you're getting near home." Jimmy turned the camera very slow-"Hold on," she velled, "now you've struck it. You can ler the sun shine in this particular spot and go over to the chanced to know his particular failing came stack of money to do it with." The young man said he could wait until the visitors got tired, and then she "You see that woman in that window," pointing to a lady sitting at a window of a Washington avenue house; "Well; she's red-headed, squint eyed, lopshouldered and has a strawberry-mark on her nose, and do you think she's by i The sargeant complains that you called him names?" Private Murphy-"Plaze, surr, I niver called him any name to award the apple to the Helen in the sun picture on the table before them. "Neither do I," continued the small and scraggy woman, "but I've got husband that doesn't know beauty even when he rubs his nose against it, and hasn't an eye in his head that I'd give a and was shown by the proprietor into the kitchen. A cook selected a vigor-fashionable. The skirt will be bordered ed the creature's neck, inserted a knife scraggy as the ragged edge of a circular in the left side of the vetebra and dexchip hat she had on looked as if they rapidly applied his instrument to the had got on the wrong woman in a senf- other side of the backbone and repeated fle between herself and somebody who the process, leaving the eel split open. man was up before Judge Foster for ille-

"Miss Thorton-Cecil!" he began. "I weighed 200 pounds more than she Holding up the head, to which was at-have come to acknowledge my wrong, weighed. She had been up to the door tached the vertebræ and lateral bones he developed a line of family depravity who advanced and removed it on a dish.

ness into my eyes, and say to me you the show. The building was now ready, er cook skewering the pieces of eel on and as she pulled out a yellow pocket long bamboo splints. Then he placed hem on the rods over the glowing coals and when one side was browned, dexterously picked them up with a pair of iron chopsticks and turned them. After they were thoroughly cooked he seized the fish with the same instrument and shoyn, which was as thick and dark as I took my chopsticks in my right hand inserted the point in the fish, broke off a morsel and ate. Ye gods! It was demonth. It's but just that you should something it's got to do some slick run- me, nodded approvingly at the attend-

"You can point the camera wherever The smiling girl brought in box after the contents of each being nices box, the contents of each being nicer than the last. I have partaken of fried oysters at home, broiled fish in all countries and the delicacies of every clime, but have never more thoroughly enjoyed

Absent-Mindeduines

It is an awk ward thing to be absent-mind law." The story is told of a certain gentleed.

man of Detroit, who discovered this at his cost. It so happened the other day that the dining-room of the club which he saloon corner and sit under the awning in very hungry. The watter told the new for a while. I'll run things, and if there's any thing to pay I've got the sested and reading the newspaper, a brilliant idea struck the hungry man. "Has Mr. A. dined yet," he que

"No sir," replied the watter. "Well, never mind, take him his bill tell him he has had his dinner." The waster besitated' a moment, then appreciating the situation were to Mr. A. and handed him his bill. "What is this for ?" quoth the poor fellow. "For your dinner, sir." "My danner-ah! Have I really had it?" "Yes, sir," rejoined the waiter in all in

"Dear me, I had an idea - was waiting for it. What a curious mistake.

And with a comtemplative smile Mr. A auntered out of the room, leaving his table for the use of the genius who had prefited by his abgent-min two-cent piece for if I was buying eyes for an artist. He passes by here from work every day between five and six Holland family. Her name was Belle o'clock, and I hear he flirts with that Hardenberg. Sojourner Truth, the colored ex-slave, rant "where persons can enjoy the su-preme delight of broiled eels." In com-pany with a friend I visited the eel horse and was shown by the proprietor into ously squirming fish, struck its head with a wide band, and occasionally there smartly upon a wooden block placed will be panels. Shaded brown beaver smartly upon a wooden block placed which placed which are and black marten will all be worn the mere beginning and least interesting part of my experiences. These have reon winter costumes.

Practising Law

work amounts to nothing as compared to that which is at band; for the Indians have At Fort Wayne I heard of a man who had fallen very in the social scale. The seldom heard of. I confess I never heard order, all of which you will remember, I was using every effort to get hold of, and had about despaired of recording." Some Highly Honored Mummies "What has been your profession pre-Perhaps the most remarkable experience vious to your arrest?" asked Lawyer which have befallen the human remains of up in the hope of attracting its attention an ancient race occured to some mummies On Friday morning the search was resum-that were taken to Paris subsequently to the ed and fresh tracks found, which were

Johnson, one of the proudest lawyers in Fort Wayne. "I have kept a saloon sir."

"Anything else?" asked Lawyer

Thompson. "You have not kept a sa-loon for ten years, have you?" "No sir; I was a negro minstrel for a year, and then I went with Coup's cir-cus." "No sir; I was a negro minstrel for a ter subscription of the climate, in the becams a nuisance, and, owing to the pe-culiar condution of the climate, in the parts of genres of years slightly offensive. They have been stowed away in the garrets of the Louvre, and the curators had year af-cus."

ter year been endeavoring to solve the through which it had worked i way. On "Do you not think the life of a pegro problem of how they could most decently the approach of the hunters the child minstrel and a traveling circus man a very low calling?" asked the lawyer. "Yes, sir; they are low callings, I many of the heroes of that episode fell in the approach of the builders the callo commenced crying, and the first remark the made was that she "wanted to go to her mamma." Signal guns were immedi-ate builders the callo commenced crying, and the first remark the made was that she "wanted to go to her mamma." Signal guns were immedi-the court of the Louvre. When the curs- ately fired, which soon brought the bal-"Yes, sir; they are low callings, will admit, but they are honest. You the court of the Louvre. When the curs-tors observed that graves were being dug for distiguished pariots and republicans inder their very poses, the brilliant idea frantic mother at the finding of her living tors observed that graves were being dug see, my father started very low, and I could not seem to get ahead." under their very noses, the brilliant idea occured to them to slip surreptitionsly into the same resting places the bodies of the ancient Egyptians which had for so long

"But your father never occupied : lower position than you, sir. He could not. Impossible," said the lawyer. "Yes, sir. but he did."

been a cause of embarrassment to them. With the inspiration of genius they seized "Well, what?" "Why he kept a faro bank. He had past and the present of two great rations by a common sepulture of those who h d ad luck at that and kept going down hill. He ran away from mother just before I was born, leaving us children to upon the nummies was nothing to what starve. Then he began to get drunk was yet in store for them. When the giorious days of 1848 arrived, it was deand sleep on saloon floors. He got cided to exhume the heroes who had been buried in the Court of the Louvre, and relower and lower, and became a low tramp, and next we heard of him overin Kalamazoo, utterly shameless, practicing to the Place de la Bastille. The secret of the mummies' burial had been well kept, and when they were disinterred with their companions of modern date, to the super-ficial observer there was nothing to dis-Education is always opportune, and tinguish their bones from an ordinary in the magnitude of modern progressive. French Republican. They were, therefore, all exhumed together and formed the most ess everything should be anticipated, interesting and, possibly, most respetable for even the day when the cook must part of the procession which traversed "Wear it: What in thunder do I want necessarily be fluently conversant with Paris on that occasion. The magnificent to wear a half-dollar for?" exclaimed the incient history seemth not far distant. funeral orations were made over them by customer. The writer happened to be spending the fervod orators, who hitle suspected, whose bones they were hono.ing; and to this day vening with one of the feminine literathese mummies were awaiting the fina moment under the Column of July. Mean are of the East End, recently, when the tollowing suggestive colloquy took place time, according to the ancient belief of the between the worthy lady of the house gyptians, the remarkable adventures which have thus befallen these bodies have and the cook: been narrowly watched by their souls; for it was the idea of the Ezyptians that the "What shall I get for breakfast, issus ? oul retained the warmest interest in "Split the two Casar chickens body after death-not merely from a un-tural feeling of affection and sympathy for fry them quite brown; butter and serve a shell, so to speak, which one has inha at 7. sharp." bited once, and would under certain al-

The Roman Senate Chamber.

"Will you have coffee or tea ?" tered circumstances inhabit again, but be-cause it was all that the individuals could "Titus Andronicus in the brown cause it was all that the individuals could for taking down the old brick county leave for the world to remember him by ; juil at Battle Breek, Mich., has found it chliemann jug."

and hence he was desirous that his body should be preserved in as perfect state as possible, and under such conditions of spleudor and durability as befitted earthly "Shall I bake biscuit?" "Alexander muffins, done crisp, and lon't you forget it. I say, set the table, Biddy, in the Boman Senate chamber Biddy, much perplexed, weaded her way thitherward, while the writer bethought unsudibly, the oft-thought thought, "knowledge is necessary."

ains which were ultimately destined t

Iowa has 13 lady candidates for sup--Cowper, the poet, died in 1800.

mortality.

Editor and Proprietor.