THE CONSTITUTION-THE UNION-AND THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAWS.

Editor and Proprietor.

NO. 2.

VOL. XXXVI.

MIFFLINTOWN, JUNIATA COUNTY, PENNA., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 18, 1882.

AN OLD COUNTRY CHURCH.

I stop to rest in the grass-grown yard To gather the Autumn blooms, And lazily dream on the velvet sward That mantles the sunken tombs. The rasplerry briars obscure the words Affection has carved on the stone; with ripening blossoms and bees and birds Forgotten they sleep alone.

And all of the men who wore this path Or the threshold of yonder door. To hear of a father's love or wrath, Are found on the earth no more ; And spiders lazily spin their threads Secure from intruding feet, While Autumn its leaves o'er the pulpit spreads And the listener's sunken seat.

I close my eyes and I seem to hear Some sacred old hymn arise, or the pastor inviting, in accents clear, To "Mansions above the skies;" or I hear the bearers, with reverent tread, Their charge to the chancel bear, And their murmurous sigh for the honored dead Floats out on the autumn air.

Then the call of the robin dispels my dreams; So, rising with bated breath, 1 mark where the sun through the casement glea As life in the midst of death. "He careth for sparrows;" I thank Thee, Lord, For a temple not made with hands, And a love that onto the least affords A gift from Thy outstretched hands
