

BENTINEL & REPUBLICAN

MIFFLINTOWN. Wednesday, February 1, 1882.

B. F. SCHWEIER, Editor and Proprietor.

A stormy panic broke out in Paris and London on Monday. Business is demoralized, according to dispatch.

A Missouri man deserted his wife and twins to elope with his mother-in-law.

Nearly all the preachers in Michigan preached against Mormonism on Sabbath a week.

The press in Canada is urging upon the country that it abolish the postage on newspapers.

A trial in court in Buffalo, N. Y., was brought to a sudden end last week by a juror becoming insane.

Pittsburg people have been holding public meetings to protest against Mormonism.

Stephen V. B. Kachline, a prominent citizen of Easton, Pa., fell dead while in his house, on the 24th inst.

The shipment of strawberries from Florida has commenced to the north-east cities.

The annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Editorial Association met in Harrisburg last Friday.

The Central Pennsylvania Poultry Association closed a satisfactory exhibition at Pottsville last week.

A WATER-SPOUT deluged part of White and Van Buren counties in Tennessee last Tuesday night.

Catholics are organizing in Canada for the purpose of bringing that country into a state of independence of British rule.

The Democrats in Congress are getting uneasy on the tariff question. They propose to hold a "big caucus" to determine what to do about it.

MANY of the streets of Bradford were covered with water from the overflowed river, last Friday. Water varied in depth from six inches to five feet in the streets.

GOVERNOR HOYT favored one man for Postmaster at Wilkesbarre, the Congressman from that place another man. The Congressman carried the day at Washington by getting his man appointed.

A REPORT from abroad that there are a number of American citizens under arrest in Ireland has led to the offering of a resolution in Congress, requesting the President to make inquiry of the British government relative to the reports aforesaid.

THERE is a bill in Congress, which, if it becomes a law, will make the business of having more than one wife a difficult business to operate in. The bill proposes to fine the too much married man five hundred dollars, and imprison him for a period of not more than five years.

COL. McCLELLAN, of the Philadelphia Times, attended a reception given in honor of Oscar Wilde. After that late coil spell "merely the delightful blossom of next year's icecream crop."

LAST Wednesday, January 25, the jury sitting in the case of the murderer Guiteau, after a half hour for the re-reading of the indictment, found a verdict of guilty as indicted. It is a verdict in accordance with the wishes of the orderly, law-abiding, law-abiding people of the world.

THE National Board of Health has declared small-pox to be epidemic, therefore, Superintendent Higbee has urged the management of each respective Soldiers' Orphan School in the Commonwealth to have the children all vaccinated.

GUTEAU wants a new trial. That's right. Give him a new trial; put a rope around his neck; hang him. He will then go to the highest Court in the Universe to be judged according to his deeds. But human courts should have no more to do with him. Such is the verdict of society, generally speaking.

A DISPATCH from Lafayette, Ind., last Friday, stated the whereabouts of the two Italians and the performing bear, all of which parties are familiar to the eyes of the people of the towns of the Juniata valley. The bear turned on its keepers and killed them not far from the town just mentioned. The brute then attacked a family, and was by them shot dead. The whole story may be a bear story.

EVER since the murder of Garfield men of unfair turn of mind, and unthinking men have been talking bad things against Arthur. First they said that he was at the head of a conspiracy to make himself President. Next that Guiteau was the man paid to kill President Garfield. That failed. The next story was that a jury fixer would cause a disagreement, and Guiteau would escape in that way. Well, that was false. Now they say that Arthur will pardon the murderer. Don't talk so fast. Hold your peace. Time will make all things right.

THE manner in which Mr. Blaine engaged in diplomatic relations with the South American States, Peru and Chili, has awakened a wide-spread interest among the nations of Europe, and also in this Republic. Mr. Blaine, it seems, was giving his influence as Secretary of State in favor of Peru against Chili, giving as his reason that Chili is moving under the control and power of English commerce and trade. It is understood that the Arthur administration looks upon the Monroe doctrine as being against the establishment of European governmental institutions on the American continent, but not against European trade or commerce to such a degree that it can be induced to lend its moral or governmental influence against trade or commerce when the business is confined to business interests. In that particular the Arthur administration differs from the Garfield administration. So, at least, the difference appears at this date.

How It Feels To Freeze.

A Man Before Whose Weary Eyes Straggle Colored Lights Danced and Flickered. From the Leadville Chronicle.

That there is at least sufficient latent heat in the snow to prevent death from freezing while entirely surrounded by it, Frank White, of this city, who returned a day or two ago from a long trip in the Indian country, is willing to testify. In the course of his homeward journey Mr. White had an experience which all the mineral wealth of Leadville could not attempt him to repeat. It was on the Grand river, where the snow had fallen to a great depth. The weather was somewhat murky when he started to return, but he relied upon a torpid good prairie and that unknown quantity termed good luck to get back before the snow had fallen in any great quantities. In both of these he was sadly deceived, as the freezing which he began to feel on the second day out soon obliterated everything except the most bold and readily recognized landmarks.

On the fourth day he was lost in the storm and at last found shelter in a little lump of cottonwood trees, the thickness of whose branches in a measure protected the ground. The night had turned bitterly and intensely cold and to his dismay he found that his pocket watch had fallen from his pocket and was not to be found. For an instant it seemed that nothing but a frozen death awaited him, for he knew well to spend that night where he stood or even to tarry there motionless any further length of time would surely be fatal. Already the colored lights that are a sure forerunner of death by freezing began to flicker beyond his eyes and he felt that he must take desperate chances for existence.

It occurred to him that he had read somewhere of the latent heat in the snow, and the last resort of freezing men. He did not stop long for deliberation, but began, with numbened fingers, to burrow in the high white bank ahead of him. In a few moments he had excavated a hole of considerable size, and drawing his blankets tightly around him he crept in. After a short time his body began to grow more comfortable and his hands began their sense of feeling. Then he felt a sharp pain in his eyes, fearing that it was the stapor of freezing that he felt. At last, with no knowing it, he fell asleep and did not awake until early the next morning. He had passed as comfortable a night as if he had had a roof over his head, and, save for his frost-bitten fingers which had been exposed, he was uninjured by his night in the snow. He resumed the tramp early in the morning, and toward the close of the afternoon was much relieved to strike a camp of snow-reeds.

GENERAL ITEMS.

Intelligence from Ohio says that on Tuesday night, January 24, at New Portage four masked robbers entered the house of Charles Hinebright, and found only the two daughters at home. They were made to take off their shoes and stockings. One was tied to the stove and threats of burning her feet were made. The other one was placed on the safe and threatened with death if she did not open the safe. The girl obeyed the robbers. They took one hundred and twenty dollars, a carriage and two horses, ate their supper and then fled.

A strange and mysterious explosion is related by dispatch from Little Rock, Ark., under date of January 25, as follows: A mysterious explosion occurred this morning at the residence of the United States District Judge H. C. Caldwell. The latter was sitting in his library near the fire, when a small package containing white powder, which he found on the mantel-piece and tossed into the fire, exploded, throwing the Judge violently across the room, rendering him insensible, and tearing the flesh from both arms up to the elbow.

John Lysle, of Belle Centre, Ohio, who had been totally blind for eight years, felt a queer sensation in his eyes a few days ago, and the next thing he knew he could see as well as ever he did in his life. The dancers at an aristocratic ball held in Ashland, Oregon, one evening recently, were surprised at the sudden cessation of the music, which was being furnished by a solitary violinist, and the surprise changed to a feeling of alarm at seeing the orchestra suddenly elevate his hands above his head with his eyes strained on a point in the direction of the door. On making an examination, the Sheriff of the county was found standing in doorway covering the covering form of the musical director with a shot-gun. The cruel officer of the law was also armed with a charge of horse-stealing, and nabbed him off to durance vile, regardless of the pleading of the belles and beaux for a stay of proceedings long enough to admit of "just one more set."

Thirty-seven thousand immigrants landed at the ports of New York and Philadelphia in 1880. The total number in 1880 was 716,880. Nearly 300,000 were Germans.

A thoughtful and brave boy, twelve years of age, averted a terrible accident on the Knoxville branch of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad a few days ago. He discovered a heavy landslide of dirt and rocks which had fallen across the track, and knowing a passenger train was due, ran up the track, and by swinging his hat attracted the attention of the engineer of the approaching train, who stopped before the obstruction was reached.

Madame Herbold is described as relating with great vivacity how, at Odessa, the Jews pelleted her with cucumbers for being a Christian stoned while the Christians stoned her for being a Jewess.

LEBANON, Ohio, January 23.—An excitement has been caused here by the discovery of a number of human skeletons under Bilney Tavern, erected eighty years ago.

READING, January 23.—The lifeless body of John A. Sirik, of Trexlertown, was found hanging to a rafter in his barn to day by his daughter. She raised the alarm and the body was cut down by neighbors. The rope being long the man had fallen on his knees.

The cause of suicide is said to have been something in going back for a neighbor and the feeling he would have to pay it. Deceased was fifty years of age and a prominent citizen in that locality.

NEW YORK, January 24.—Yesterday Mrs. Wallace, wife of Thomas Wallace, employed as a baker by Mr. George Engeman at No. 362 Pearl street, Brooklyn, came from Trenton, N. J., where she resides, to visit her husband. On account of the inclemency of the weather Mr. Wallace persuaded his wife to remain with him for the night. This morning they could not be awakened, and their room door was forced.

The apartment was found to be filled with gas. Mrs. Wallace was dead and her husband insensible. Every effort was made to resuscitate him, but the physicians give no hope of his recovery.

NEW YORK, January 24.—Francis Beldan, an Irish laborer, aged 40 years died a few days ago at the hospital in Castle Garden, from destitution and starvation.

It seems to satisfy a family want, and I wonder how we ever got along without Parker's Ginger Tonic. It cured me of Nervous prostration, and I have used it since for all sorts of ailments in our family.—Mrs. Jines, Albany.

Legal Notices. Administrator's Notice. Estate of John Heckman, deceased.

LETTERS of Administration having been granted to the estate of Walter Patterson, Junata Co., Pa., deceased, at the date of John Heckman, deceased, late of Fayette township, Junata county, all persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment, and those having claims against the same will present them without delay to JACOB HECKMAN, Administrator.

Dec. 21, 1881. Administrator's Notice. Estate of Jacob F. Smith, deceased.

LETTERS of Administration on the estate of Jacob F. Smith, late of Walker township, Junata county, Pa., deceased, have been granted to the undersigned, to whom all persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment, and those having claims against the same will present them without delay to JOHN P. SMITH, Administrator.

Dec. 21, 1881. NOTICE. TO all whom it may concern, it is hereby stated, that the undersigned will not pay any debts contracted in his name without her consent. MISS KUTH BUNCE.

Jan. 9, 1882. CAUTION NOTICE. ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs, cattle or hogs to run at large, or to fish, hunt, gather berries, or to cut wood, timber, or in any way trespass on the lands of the undersigned in Greenwood or Susquehanna township. Peter Miller, George Dressler, E. Long & S. Dimm, Frederick Rosta, Joel Dressler, Jonathan Miller.

Nov. 20, 1878. The undersigned, Geo. H. Hillman, of Beaver county, for stealing $5000 of money and bonds, the property of an old lady named Street. The old lady lived alone, and was found dead one evening sitting at a table. Hillman, one of the men implicated, paid his attentions to the daughter of Street, his confederate, and her talking led to their arrest. It is thought that the man murdered the old woman, and her body will be resurrected for examination.

PRIVATE SALES.

A RARE CHANCE To Buy a Large Tract of Good Land at a Moderate Price.

To a man who desires to make farming and stock-raising his business, this is the greatest bargain in the Juniata county. Three hundred Acres and more, having thereon a large Brick Dwelling House in good condition, Barn and other outbuildings; a running stream of water near the door, also, good well water in yard; an Orchard of acres, as good as any in the county; a grove of 50 maple trees, which, if attention were directed to, could be turned into a source of income, as such groves are in Somerset county, this State, and as such groves are in New England. Good timber on the farm. The farm will produce 40 to 50 tons of hay annually, and grow grain of all kinds. There is an abundance of LIMESTONE on the farm.

We repeat, this is the greatest bargain ever offered in this county, to the man who has energy, and desires to farm and raise stock. To such a man, who has a moderate sum of money for first payment, there is a rare chance to secure a property, that in the nature of things must increase in value gradually, for the period of a full generation yet to come.

Time, 10 to 12 years, to suit purchaser. If you have the inclination, the means, and the pluck to develop one of the finest tracts of land in the county, call at this office for particulars.
