SENTINEL & REPUBLICAN

MIFFLINTOWN.

Wednesday, February 15, 1882.

B. F. SCHWEIER,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

THE Bi-Centennial Association is getting things into shape for the celebration in the fall.

A NUMBER of Southern U. S. Senators arose in their place in the Senate last week and delivered speeches in favor of the Pension Arrears law.

ON the 7th of this month an Ellenville, N. Y., lover shot himself dead because a young lady refused his offer of marriage. He was a drinking man.

THE court in Lynchburg, Va., last Thursday sentenced a white man to receive 156 lashes on his bare back. The punishment was administered in two instalments.

A MAN named Andrew Olsen, living in Chicago, believing whisky to be a certain preventive of small-pox, drank three quarts of the fluid. He never will get the small-pox; the whisky killed him.

OUT in Sidney, Ohio, a man named Robinson kissed a Miss Alleman against her will. It was an expensive kiss for Robinson. The young lady sued him, and the jury gave her a verdict of $450. The Judge reduced the amount to $200. Ungallant Judge.

IMPORTANT discoveries have recently been made by excavation in the ruins of a buried Assyrian city. A large room or vault under a palace was opened, and in it were found 10,000 tablets, which have been sent to England for translation. It is believed that the tablets contain records of the people beyond Noah's flood.

PRESIDENT ARTHUR will receive visitors on Saturday. Former Presidents did not receive visitors on that day of the week. The last day of the week formerly was taken up with the consideration of Executive business. Monday will, under the Arthur administration be the day for the transaction of Executive business.

Two brothers named Soteldo walked into the editorial room of the Washington National Republican last Thursday, and there engaged in a pistol fight with C. M. Barton, news editor of the paper. All three men were wounded. One of the Soteldo's was mortally wounded. The fight had its origin in sundry newspaper articles that had been published respecting the private character of the men.

THE rowdy conduct that has characterized the acts of young men at a number of prominent colleges in this country during the past winter, has raised the question in the minds of the thoughtful people of the country as to whether boys are not a great deal better off without college training, if they are to be exposed to the rowdy influences that now surge around nearly all of the institutions of learning.

THE National Woman Suffrage Association are rejoiced over a letter that Governor Hoyt wrote to them. The Governor, they now say, is with them in the advocacy of the cause. The Governor has risen to the pinacle of the question, which is that suffrage cannot unsex womankind, and that her voice, if expressed on questions that affect the public and private interests of humanity, will be like her sympathy, directed to the maintenance of correct principles.

A REMARKABLE piece of information is found in the following, which was dispatched from Philadelphia, under date of the 10th inst. The dispatch reads: This afternoon Professor Goodell, assisted by a staff of surgeons, at the University hospital, removed a tumor weighing one hundred and twelve pounds from a lady. The patient, after the operation, weighed seventy-four pounds. She is resting easy this evening and the surgeons are quite confident of her ultimate recovery.

THE Tribune has contradicted itself so flatly on the church question in the past two issues that its friends are amazed, and ask each other, "Is such contradiction the result of ignorance, or is it the work of ——————?" On the church question, in regard to the admission of communications to the columns of the Tribune, it said, in the issue of February 4, 1882:

"Mr. Parker and ourself have refused, and shall continue to refuse communications from both sides of that question." In the very next issue, that of February 11, 1882, it contradicts all of the above declaration by saying, "We have many personal friends in the Lost Creek congregation, and one of them, who is a leader on their side of the controversy, was told by us if he wanted to be heard through our paper he could have space, but we deprecated such discussion. No boss in that." Comment on such contradiction is unnecessary. The course of the Tribune has been a sort of perpetual round of contradiction of itself. At a convenient time, we will write of its political contradictions, which are as ludicrous as its contradictions on the church question.

A LECTURE, delivered at Chautauqua, Aug. 8, 1881, by Rev. A. H. Lewis, on "Sunday Laws, Past and Present," lies on our table. It is a pamphlet such as should be in the hands of every student of the Sabbath law question. It contains important data relative to the Sabbath of the Jews, which had its foundation or corner-stone in the fourth commandment. It mentions the formal observances of the Jewish church as regards the Sabbath at the time Christ appeared. Then it passes to a brief review of the festival days of the Heathen Romans, which were the foundation of the Sunday edicts of Constantine, who united with the Christians, and joined Church and State. The Sabbath theories of Luther and Calvin are passed in review, and the Sabbath of Continental Europe is stated to be something quite different from that developed by the Puritans of England. It is the Puritan Sabbath, says the lecturer, that has been transferred to America. The dangers that surround the Sabbath question in America are briefly stated. The American Sabbath Tract Society publishes the lecture.

THE North American says: In September, 1871, five whalers were in the Arctic Ocean, just beginning the work of the season. About sixty miles further north lay thirty-two American whaling vessels shut in by the ice and abandoned. The crews numbered 1200 persons, and they had not sufficient food or clothing with which to pass the winter in the ice. The thirty-two masters called upon the outside vessels in the name of humanity to abandon their whaling and take them to some civilized port, feeling assured, they said, that our government would make ample compensation for all losses. The whalers carried the shipwrecked sailors to Honolulu, receiving $35 passage money for each person from the government. The House Committee on Claims now recommends that $10,000 be paid to the owners of each of the five vessels.

A LARGE crowd of people that like to witness a prize fight assembled at Mississippi City, the place where Jefferson Davis lives, to see a fist fight between a prize-fighter named Sullivan, and Ryan. Sullivan knocked Ryan senseless on the ninth round. Dueling used to be such a common way of settling disputes in the South, that the average Southern gentleman only laughs over a pugilistic fight just as he would be amused over a chicken fight, on which he had staked some money. The duel was to settle disputes. The prize fight is a sort of a commercial transaction, by which to make money. It is believed that $100,000 to $200,000 changed hands on the result of the Sullivan and Ryan fight.

THE snow, the beautiful snow was the cause of a great excitement among the Catholics at Rahway, N. J., last week. It seems that the Sisters of Charity teaching in the parochial school had arranged a sleigh ride for the children. The Priest of the parish found it out. He went to the school and accused the Sisters of putting nonsense in the heads of the children, and for not attending to their duties. He dismissed the teachers and adjourned the school. The question is to be carried up to the Bishop.

STATE ITEMS.

The flouring mill of A. S. and C. W. S. Sinckey, at Wolfsburg, Bedford county, with all its contents, and the bridge that spanned the Raystown branch at that place, were destroyed by fire on Friday, the 3rd inst. The loss is heavy.

One of the largest iron works in Pittsburg has for several years been successfully illuminated and also had its furnaces heated by natural gas derived from wells in the bituminous coal regions forty miles distant, and now a company proposes to relieve Philadelphia and other cities of expensive light by conveying the natural material to them also.

Robert Newton, aged 65 years, and sexton of Calvary Episcopal Church at Pittsburg, committed suicide on Tuesday by cutting his throat. He had become a despondent because of continued sickness.

Some days ago a passenger train on the Lehigh Valley Railroad struck a sleigh, containing six persons, on the Sugar Notch crossing. Nicholas Papson, of Wanamie, had both legs broken, and his son William was instantly killed. The others were slightly injured.

Andrews, charged with murdering his wife at Highspire on July 4, 1881, alleges that recently a detective was placed in his cell in the guise of a tramp, for the purpose of pumping him. The detective let fall a remark relating to the murder and Andrews shut up and refused to talk. The detective also said he was from Columbus, Ohio, but his hat contained the mark of a Market street hatter, and Andrews saw it. It was a very sharp transaction all the way through.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

James Wasley, who was robbed and then placed upon the railroad track at Wampum, Lawrence county, several weeks ago, died of his injuries on Saturday night a week.

The Dauphin county gallows is being repaired for the exection of the Rumbergers.

Walter H. Chase who was arrested at Huntingdon, where he was a school principal, and taken to New York for trial for bigamy, was sentenced on Wednesday to three years six months in the penitentiary.

The Post Office at Ashley, Luzerne county, was entered by burglars at midnight Monday night a week. The safe was blown open and $60 in stamps stolen.

The Carlisle Town Council has appropriated $300 for the purpose of vaccinating those who are unable to have it done at their own expense.

Governor Hoyt has granted a respite to John Coyle, who murdered Emma Myres, in York county, and was sentenced to be hanged on March 24, as Coyl's case has been taken to the Supreme court

Lock Haven needs a town clock and the city agrees to give $100 for one to the Court House if the county will contribute the same amount.

The Snyder County Commissioners desire to borrow the Lycoming county gallows for the purpose of hanging three murderers.

At Pittston Pa., on the 6th inst. a runaway team ran into a funeral procession, and Mrs Evans and Mrs. Lloyd were seriously if not fatally injured.

The Kinsua creek flows at the bottom of a ravine between Bradford and Alton, Pa., over 300 feet deep and over 2 250 feet wide. This chasm has for years prevented a railroad connection between that region and Pittsburg The Erie railway is now spanning the ravine with a bridge, to make the long-desired connection by extending its Bradford branch to Johnstown, Pa The bridge will be the highest railroad bridge in the world—305 feet. This is sixty feet higher than Niagara suspension bridge, 170 feet higher than the great bridge across the Ohio river at Cincinnati, 180 feet above High bridge New York; 170 feet higher the East river bridge, and 45 feet higher than the Portage railroad bridge over the Genesee river. The Kinsua structure will consume 40,000,000 pounds of iron. It will require 30,000 yards of masonry. The cost will be over $500,000. The Bradford branch will connect with the low grade division of the Allegheny Valley Railroad and will make a short through route between New York and Pittsburg.

GENERAL ITEMS.

A Hartford, Conn., man sold a seven-year-old trotting horse the other day to a Cleveland, Ohio, man for $30,000. The horse has a record of 2.19, made last summer.

Robbers got in a mail car that runs between Pittsburg and Cincinnati, on the morning of the 7th inst., and stole a pouch that is said contained 50 to 75 packages of letters.

A dispatch from Iowa City on Tuesday a week says: An infant's body, naked, yet warm, was found yesterday morning near the cemetery, horribly mangled by dogs. The flesh had been torn from one leg and completely eaten off from the head and face. The child was undoubtedly born the night before.

There is a young woman at Chicopee Falls, Mass., Miss Ida Ferry, who can boast a head of hair which probably excels in abundance and length anything which has ever been on public exhibition. In these cases the hair rarely more than touches the ground, but a full length photograph of Miss Ferry just taken shows her hair trailing for half a yard along the floor, though she is of full average height. But so much hair is after all a burden and soon the photograph will be the only evidence of it.

Charles Miller, who was sentenced on Monday a week to be hanged at Benton, Scott county, Mo., on March 10 for the murder of Franklin Hamilton, committed suicide in his cell on Tuesday night by hanging himself with a blanket which he had torn into strips for the purpose.

On Monday night a week at Georgetown, Col., Peter Chialero and Dominique Massey, Italians, were severely injured by an explosion of giant powder in a cook stove, placed there maliciously by another Italian, whom the Sheriff is now in pursuit of. It was intended for Massey, but Chialero received the most severe injuries. Both men will probably die.

A widow of Shelbyville, Ind., aged 36, induced her drughter to discard a lover aged 24, and then wooed him herself, and with such success that the wedding day is fixed.

A Baptist minister immersed eleven person in five minutes at Clarinda, Iowa, wading in and out of the stream with each. It was a freezing day, and he had good reasons for haste.

Two lives were not lost, but saved, by a railroad accident at Newcomerstown, Ohio. A freight car was smashed by a collision, and in it were found two men insensible from cold. They had sneaked in for a free ride, the door had been locked, and as they lay near the roof on some cotton bales without room to move their limbs, a night at zero would have killed them if they had not by chance been discovered.

Counterfeit silver dollars, bearing the date 1843, have been discovered by a Chicago bank. They are well executed, and are made in Central Illinois.

Major Washburn, engineer and superintendent of part of the Missouri Pacific Railroad of Texas, and the wife of W. Stoll, the head contractor of construction, were killed in a hand-car accident near Waco, Texas, on Monday night a week.

For some time past Durango, Cal., has been flooded with counterfeit dollars. On Monday evening a week the Sheriff captured Jim Bush, a former member of the notorious Allison gang, Jack McIntosh, W. F. Everetts, a prominent merchant, and two gamblers, together with their moulds and stolen bullion from which the bogus money was made.

From the Buena Vista (Ga.) Argus.

When Joe Rodgers was making syrup he left a barrel of the skimmings near the mill. A day or two after a drove of thirty five fine hogs went for the skimmings and the whole crowd got drunk. They cut up all manner of didos, and finally the entire gang lay down and went to sleep. This alarmed Joe a little, and for a while he was in doubt whether to administer sweet milk or strong coffee or send for a doctor. They got over their spree after and went around for a day or two with red eyes and the headache.

Senator Pendleton's house is said to be the most beautiful in Washington. It is wholly American in material, all the wood being pine, maple and poplar, polished and oiled so as to show the the beautiful grains. There is not a marble mantel, nothing heavier than wood, simply carved in light, grac-ful designs. In spite of all this it is intimated that Mr. Pendleton would like to move into the White House.

Charles McKillop, being baffled in an attempt to commit suicide, by throwing himself in front of a train, at Winnipeg, Manitoba, on Saturday, climbed a derrick, and fastening a chain around his throat, jumped off and broke his neck. Domestic unhappiness was the cause.

Lynching is not so popular in Ottawa county, Mich., as in many parts of the west. Seven men led a mob into the jail, last summer, for the purpose of hanging a murderer. The sheriff's wife locked them in, thus frustrating their design; and now they have been fined $100 each, on pleading guilty to charges of assault. One was a village physician, and all were men of good standing.

One of the wealthy and fashionable women of Zanesville, O., astonished a large company of keno gamblers by walking coolly into the room where they were at play, accompanied by a policeman. She was in quest of a young brother, who had become possessed of an uncontrollable mania for gambling, and she not only took him away, but secured enough evidence to convict the proprietors of the place, which was closed.

Two clergymen of Fauquier, Va., went into court with their dispute as to the ownership of a $3 dollar calf, each owned a cow which, he claimed was the mother of the calf. The justice went with the jury and litigants to a pasture, where the two cows were let loose for the youngster to choose between; and the question was so quickly and unmistakably settled by the brutes that the jury gave a verdict without further hesitation.

A widow lady named Tankersly, living in Cherokee county, Ga., was murdered and robbed on Sunday the 6th inst., and the house burned and her charred remains found in the debris. Parties who discovered the crime searched around, and deep under the embers found a box containing $762 in silver and gold. Tom and Baler Moun, nephews of the deceased, have been arrested charged with the crime.

GENERAL ITEMS.

Kate Southern, the woman who shot another woman in Georgia a few years ago of whom she was jealous, is still a convict, but is allowed great liberty, her husband being one of her guards.

A St Paul despatch says. The situation in Grant county Dakota is warlike over the fight between Millbank and Big Stone City for the county seat. Three hundred Millbankers went to Big Stone City, the former county seat and voted to remove it. Having been pronounced in favor of Millbank, they took by force the records of the county Treasurer and the District Court. The Big Stoners rallied and saved the Sheriff's office and the safes containing the records of the County Clerk and Register, which they still hold by force. There are now fully three hundred armed men at Big Stone, who threaten to shoot anyone attempting to remove the safes. They have regular pickets stationed in and around the town day and night, intercepting every traveler coming from Millbank. Recruits have been secured from all around the county, and it is reported that they have a cannon from Brown's Valley. One hundred bales of hay have been made into a barricade, from which the old County Clerk's office can be easily covered with rifles. The probable Judge, accompanied by a deputy sheriff, visited Big Stone and demanded the probate records. They were defiantly refused by armed men standing on guard at the door. Several Indians have been obtained from Colenux, armed with guns and enlirted by the Big Stone people. New records and seals have been ordered by the county Commissioners, and the county business is being transacted at Millbank. The Millbankers are eager to get possession of the rest of the records, and skirmish is among the possibilities.

From the Louisville Commercial.

A carriage was rolling rapidly down Jefferson avenue yesterday afternoon about three o'clock. In it was a young lady and gentleman who seemed restless and inclined to hurry the carriage to a still greater speed. It was very evident they were very anxious to widen the distance between them and some one behind them or shorten the distance which lay between them and some destination. These features of the case did not, however, present themselves to a crowd of playful urchins who were snow balling on the street, and when one of them knocked the driver's plug hat off the other one who picked it up did not hand it to the man, who quickly got down for it, but, regardless of the appeals of the young man in the carriage and also the driver's anxious phiz and muttered oaths, he ran off with it. Seeing he was going to be caught the mischevious boy threw the unlucky hat as far as he could away from his pursuer and dodged around the corner. Recovering his hat, the driver, breathlessly from his run remounted the box, and, doubly urged by the most thoroughly anxious young couple, whipped his horses to their utmost speed, and made the best time possible to the Ohio and Mississippi depot at Fourteenth and Main. He threw the door of the carriage open, and the young people rushed into the depot just in time to learn that the train had been gone three and a half minutes. Completely disgusted and vainly planing they returned to the platform at the proper moment to see another carriage stop beside the one in which they had remained a few minutes too long. From this carriage alighted an elderly lady and gentleman, who walked directly up to the eloping pair, for such they were, and demanded the young lady. The young man protested and remonstrated, but the mother took possession of her romantic daughter and hustled her into the carriage, when she and the father followed and the vehicle was quickly whirled out of sight. The disappointed Lochinvar turned slowly, and pronouncing a curse upon boys, snowballs, hackmen and trains which were always on time, took his seat in the other carriage a lonlier if not a happier man.

It seems to satisfy a family want, and I wonder how we ever got along without Parker's Ginger Tonic. It cured me of Nervous prostration, and I have used it since for all sorts of complaints in our family.—Mrs. Jines, Albany.
