

B. F. SCHWEIER, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

SENATOR COOPER is represented as a dark horse for the nomination of Governor.

It is said that Germany and France have formed a treaty, offensive and defensive.

UNITED STATES SENATOR Bill Hill is reported as dying of cancer on his tongue.

THERE was an earthquake in Costa Rica, that destroyed four towns, a day or two ago.

The entire line for the Isthmus Panama canal has been "cleared" of trees and underbrush for a width of 300 yards.

REV. HENRY WARD BEECHER was seized with a fainting spell while delivering a lecture at Chicago one night last week.

"The boring of the British channel tunnel has now progressed about 1100 yards under the sea. It is only seven feet in diameter.

The Chinese want a treaty that will prevent Americans from entering China—that is, one portion of the Chinese desire such a treaty.

MR. CONKLING has declined a position on the Supreme Bench. The President nominated him, and the Senate confirmed the nomination.

It is said by Western papers that in the three States, Arkansas, Mississippi and Tennessee, 43,000 people have been rendered homeless by the floods of a few days ago.

It is said that founding children, and others that are taken to the Philadelphia Almshouse, never live there over three months, if they are allowed to stay there that long.

A MAN named David Navarro died of small-pox in Pittsburgh last week. When he was born, which was in 1861, he weighed 7 pounds; when he died he weighed 700 pounds.

A NUMBER of farmers in Franklin county expect to cultivate the cotton plant this coming summer on the James. It is an experiment that will be looked upon with no common interest.

AN OYSTER, the shell of which weighs 528 pounds, was recently taken in the waters of Japan. The shell was bought by a Californian, and has been sent by him to the California State Museum.

THE Russian General Skobelev has almost thrown Europe into convulsions by declaring in a speech, that the Slavonic race must take issue with and check the increasing power of the Germanic race.

CLEARFIELD people are happy over the statement of a geologist, who has figured it out to his own satisfaction, that the coal supply in that county will last for a period of five thousand years.

JOURNALS of the grumbling quality are finding fault with President Arthur because he did not know that Conkling would not accept of the nomination to a place on the Supreme Bench. The grumblers must grumble over something.

A DISPATCH from London on the 7th inst., tells of a whaling business as follows: During a hurricane in the north of Scotland three hundred whales were driven in Weedsale Voe, Shetland Islands, and shoaled. They were all captured.

A MAN in the gallery at Washington arose and clapped his hands in applause over a speech that Mr. Dewey was delivering on the Chinese question on the 7th inst. It was concluded that the man was a crank, and he was led out of the house.

THE politicians of Illinois were anxious for something to do, and the Governor has been induced to call the Legislature to adjourn the State into Senatorial and Congressional districts. The Governor has made the politicians happy.

An exchange tells wires to be saucy to their husbands when they displease them. It says: "Tell your husband that he ought to be thankful that he has found a woman willing to live with him. The latest census bulletin shows that there are 900,000 more men than women in this country."

THE Mayor of Philadelphia, upon charges preferred by the Press, has removed the old "detective force," and appointed a new body of men as a detective force. The charge of the Press was that the old detectives were not detectives in point of fact; they were only "go-betweens" between thieves and people that had been robbed.

THE town of Neponset, Mass., experienced an uncommon sensation on Sabbath by the arrest of a Baptist preacher while he was in his pulpit preaching. It was a woman case, and people that side with the woman caused the arrest of the preacher while he was preaching, for the purpose of creating the greatest possible sensation.

THERE is a story in, fresh from Utah that Brigham Young has arisen from the dead. There is a supplement to the story; that he did not die, but that some other man was buried as Brigham. The desire to play off a resurrection came on his followers; it said to have been the cause of the announcement of his death. The whole story, supplement and all, is probably a —

DEMOCRATIC leaders in Congress have been clucking about this long time to find something to sit on and hatch out a policy. Once, early in the beginning of the session it was thought that the old hen would settle on the Mormon question, and try to incubate a policy around which to rally the untried, but they found that would not do. Last week the old cluck thought she had found the egg in the Chinese question out of which to hatch a policy, but when the vote was taken, and it was found that the Republicans had so voted that the old cluck was squawking with nothing under to hatch; and Democratic Congressmen are still clucking.

THERE is a great deal of sentiment wasted on the Chinese question. Men declare that this is the "land of the free, and the home of the brave, and an asylum for the oppressed of all lands," and that it is not constitutionally to exclude any foreigners. The talk about bravery and freedom is one thing, and to talk about the constitution is another thing. The people make the constitution and the laws, and if they prefer to make them to keep out the Chinese, there is nothing to prevent them from doing so; but then if Americans will not receive Chinaman, Americans should not want to go to China. It is the commercial interests, and mission interests that are seeking admission to China, and as a natural result of that seeking, bring about treaties between the two countries. Last Thursday the United States Senate passed the anti-Chinese bill. The bill provides that from and after the expiration of 90 days after the passage of the act, and for 20 years after its passage Chinese laborers shall be prevented from coming to this country. The penalties prescribed for the violation of the law are: a penalty of imprisonment not exceeding one year and a fine of not more than $500 against the master of any vessel who brings any Chinese laborer to this country during that period. It further provides that the classes of Chinese excepted by the treaty from such prohibition, are such as merchants, teachers, students, travelers, diplomatic agents, and Chinese laborers who were in the United States on the 17th of November, 1880.

BLAINE'S eulogy of Garfield embraced other people than the deceased President. The people that had assembled to hear the eulogy delivered, had hardly got away from the capital building till a dispatch was clicking over the wires of the country from General Rosecrans, stating that Blaine's glorification of Garfield as a military man should not be made at his expense. Garfield had been chief-of-staff for Rosecrans, and Blaine so shaped his eulogy as to have it appear as if Garfield was the very inspiration of the Rosecrans army. Since Rosecrans has stepped forward to correct the mistake of the eulogy, other men have come forward, and try to have it appear that Garfield, while he was chief-of-staff to Rosecrans, was not true to his General. They allege that Garfield was a back-biter of Rosecrans, and in support of the contention that it is said Garfield wrote to Chief Justice Chase has been published. Rosecrans has his knowledge that such a letter had been written, and as yet is in doubt as to its genuineness. The General is full of hope that the letter may not prove to be a genuine letter; he is full of hope that the letter may be proven to have been a forgery.

The following from a city exchange is of general interest: The following changes have been made in the regulations governing the issue and redemption of the currency and coins of the United States and of national bank notes. United States notes, silver certificates and fractional notes equaling or exceeding three-fifths of their original proportions, are redeemable at their full face value. Fragments of United States notes, silver certificates and fractional notes, each constituting clearly one-half, but less than three-fifths, are redeemable at one-half the full face value of whole notes or certificates. Fragments of less than a half are redeemable only when accompanied by an affidavit stating that the missing portion has been totally destroyed.

The following piece of intelligence from Lebanon county is of no small interest to people that have been having to do with speculative insurance business. The interesting item reads: "The receiver of the late World Company of Lebanon is about to bring suit against all responsible policy-holders for the recovery of the unpaid assessments on deaths which occurred prior to the failure of the company. The actions will be based on the contracts entered into between the company and the assured, and which were accepted by the assignees of the policies. Should these suits be successful, and of each and every one that desired to go to Ohio to require a dollar 'as an evidence of good faith.' He received many dollars. The men that he engaged were to meet at the railroad at a certain time on a certain day, when a train would be ready, he said, to take them to Ohio. The men went to the station, but neither contractor or train was there.

THE North American says: A movement is on foot to secure the passage by Congress of a bill directing that all immigrants arriving in this country should be vaccinated, unless they produce a certificate showing that the operation was performed before they left home.

Dr. JOSEPH PASCOAR, a distinguished Philadelphia surgeon, died on the morning of the 7th inst. He was 77 years of age. The Philadelphia Times, in speaking of his skill as a surgeon, said: "The great point in his career was his skill as an operator. He was a double-barreled gun, which he claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family. He insisted on taking it, however, and she followed him out to the barn, where she attempted to regain possession of it. The little children saw the altercation, and a thirteen-year-old daughter says her father stepped back a few steps, took aim and fired at her mother. The lead took effect in the left side, just below the shoulder-blade, and the woman fell dead in a pool of blood. Shaw immediately took to the woods. A pursuing party was at once organized and are scouring the country for the murderer. The murderer is about fifty years old and the father of five children, the oldest married and the youngest a girl of four years. One son lives in Philadelphia.

Indiana county has a dwarf in the person of a Miss Cassidy, of Smicksburg, who will be 13 years old in April. She is only thirty-two and one-half inches high, and weighs twenty-one pounds. She is said to be well developed and has never had any sickness in her life. She has not grown one-half inch since she was three years of age, and is well proportioned with the exception that her head is perhaps somewhat larger than it should be in proportion to the rest of her person, and she runs around the house and enjoys herself as much as any one could.

Edward Worth, residing at Wawa, Delaware county, sold his Jersey cow, Bertha Morgan, a few days ago for $2500. The purchaser is Velancy V. Fuller, of Canada, who also paid Mr. Worth $700 for two heifers, one a yearling and the other two years old.

John C. Burrows and Horace B. Zahler of Lancaster, have purchased the Cypress Island in the Susquehanna River, and will devote them exclusively to poultry-raising for the Philadelphia and Baltimore markets. The insurance company of Lancaster county, started a little over a year ago, to insure tobacco crops against damage by hail paid out in insurances last season over $91,000.

Lumbermen state that the high waters this year will bring down more lumber than has reached the market in that way for years. A gale overturned a tree at Misery Bay, near Erie, on Wednesday week. This exposed two skeletons, supposed to be those of John Bird and Edward Rankin, deserters from Niagara in 1813. Bird was at the time made the subject of a well-known ballad.

Eighty members of the Evangelical Mission Church in Reading have refused to use the building in which the congregation worships. They claim to be dissatisfied with the site of the church and will build one upon another location. Tobacco growers in York county will increase their acreage this year. The Reading News publishes the death-bed confession of Mrs. George Metz, who died recently at that place. All the druggists in Washington, Pa., with a single exception, will be arraigned at Court, for selling liquor without a license.

William Lutz and Henry Greengier, of Deuver, Lancaster county, have signed articles to fight for a prize of $200. Both men are said to be of great strength and skill.

For some months Mrs. W. E. Owens, of Steubenville, Ohio, has been a confirmed invalid. On Thursday week she read the Bible and then prayed for her health might be restored. Her prayer was answered, and she was honorably discharged from the service of the United States, with the loss of all pay and allowances now due or to become due to him, and then confined at hard labor in such penitentiary as the proper authorities may direct for eight years.

THE Chinese, to work on the western division of the Canada Pacific Railroad, have been contracted for, and will be shipped direct from China to Victoria. After much debate the State Senate of Iowa has agreed to a constitutional amendment prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage. The measure now goes before the people.

At Corsicana, Texas, John York attempting to frighten Charles Alexander, who was sleeping in an adjoining room, by firing through the partition, blew off the top of Alexander's head. A peculiar story comes to us of a family who have resided in Jennings county, Indiana, for many years, and during all this time have eaten their meals in an open porch facing the corner of a weathered barn, which could not drive them from this open porch to take their meals. A gentleman says he dined with the family when it was cold enough to freeze the victuals on the table, yet the family sat at the table as indifferently as if they had been in a comfortable room.

Charges of terrible cruelty are made against John Bennett, a farmer at Johnstown, N. Y. It is alleged that he has mercilessly beaten his four-year-old daughter, and after throwing her, naked, into a snow-bank and plunging her into a cistern, confined her, without food, in a cold room. When found she was so badly bruised that a physician stopped further supplies. Bennett has fled, and his neighbors threaten to lynch him if they find him.

STATE ITEMS.

A dispatch from Lancaster, Pa., last Wednesday narrates the following terrible affair: James Shaw, living at a secluded spot near the village of Bartville in the southeastern section of this county, shot and instantly killed his wife this morning. The pair had not been living happily together, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which they resided and which Shaw had deeded to her when in financial difficulty. This morning Shaw began packing up some of his traps with a view of leaving home. Mrs. Shaw objected to his taking a double-barreled gun, which she claimed belonged to their family, and for some time there had been bitter contention between them on account of the refusal of Mrs. Shaw to convey to her husband the title to the farm on which