

SENTINEL & REPUBLICAN

MIFFLINTOWN.
Wednesday, July 19, 1882.
B. F. SCHWEIER,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

COMMITTEE MEETING.

The State Committee of the two Harrisburg Republican Conventions met in Philadelphia, last Wednesday, to prepare a way by which the troubles in the Republican party can be overcome. The candidates of the Harrisburg convention, namely, Beaver, Dawle, Davies, Greer, and Brosius, were in the city, and addressed a communication to the committee stating that they do not desire to stand in the way of the success of the Republican party, but desire the tickets to be submitted to the test that indicate the popular will.

After considering the communication, the committee formulated their proposals to the Philadelphia Republican State Convention people in the following:

Pursuant to the resolution passed by the Harrisburg Convention of June 21, authorizing the Republican State Committee to use all honorable means to promote harmony in the party, the said committee, acting in conjunction with the Republican candidates on the State ticket, respectfully submit to the State Committee and candidates of the Independents the following propositions:

First. The tickets headed by James A. Beaver and John Stewart respectively to be submitted to a vote of the Republican electors of the State at primaries as heretofore provided for.

Second. The selection of candidates to be voted for by the Republican party in November to be submitted as aforesaid, every Republican elector constitutionally and legally qualified to nominate.

Third. A State Convention to be held, to be constituted as recommended by the Continental Hotel Conference, whereof William Barker was Chairman and Francis B. Reeves Secretary, to select candidates to be voted for by the Republican party in November; its choice to be limited to the candidates now in nomination or unopposed as the Independent State Committee may prefer. The primaries or Convention referred to in the foregoing propositions to be held on or before the fourth Wednesday in August next, under regulations or appointments to be made by Daniel Agnew, Hampton L. Carson and Francis B. Reeves, not in conflict, however, with the acts of Assembly regulating primary elections, and the candidates receiving the highest popular vote or the votes of a majority of the members of the Convention to receive the united support of the party.

Resolved, That in the opinion of the Republican State Committee the above propositions fully carry out the letter and spirit of the resolution passed by the Harrisburg Convention June 21, and that we hereby pledge the State Committee to carry out in good faith any one of the foregoing propositions which may be accepted.

Fourth. A State Convention to be held, to be constituted as provided for by the new rules adopted by the late Republican State Convention, to select candidates to be voted for by the Republican party in November; provided, that such candidates be agreed to said Convention shall not be held later than the fourth Wednesday in August.

Resolved, That the Chairman of the Republican State Committee be directed to forward an official copy of the proceedings of this meeting, together with the foregoing propositions to the Independent State Committee and candidates.

Chairman Cooper forwarded the resolutions to Chairman McKee, of the committee of the Independents. Stewart, Junkin, Duff, and Merrick of the Philadelphia and Republican State Convention ticket were in the city; they held a conference, and without professing to speak for their committee they expressed their disapproval of the plan as presented by the Cooper committee.

McKee, chairman of the Independent committee acknowledged the receipt of the Cooper committee resolutions, and announced that he could not accept or reject the plan, until his committee had taken action on the matter, which it will do before many days.

Out of courtesy, however, the Independent candidates, Messrs Stewart, Duff, Merrick, and Junkin, addressed a letter to the candidates Beaver, Dawle, Davies, Greer and Brosius. They are desirous of party unity, and are anxious to cooperate, to restore peace and harmony to the Republican party, but they do not believe that any of the propositions if accepted, will produce harmony in the party, but on the contrary would lead to wider divisions.

To go before the people with both tickets would be to divide the party on the tickets. They are prepared to yield all personal considerations, and withdraw both tickets, and pledge themselves not to accept any subsequent nomination by the proposed new convention and they hope that the Beaver ticket will approve and accept their proposal of withdrawal.

Colonel William McMichael did not join in the proposal to withdraw both tickets and nominate a new ticket of new men. He rejects the Cooper Beaver proposal, because it is a plain proposal to re-nominate Beaver and re-affirm the abuses that called the Independent movement into being. He declares that the Independent ticket was called into being, as a movement against "bossism," the spoils system, and all the evils which impair Republican usefulness. A movement in favor of popular rule, equal rights of all, national unity, protection to labor and all the principles of true Republicanism. He declares, "that no other ticket now in the field presents those issues."

Such is the situation that the Committee meeting brought forth. The situation is not hard to comprehend. The Cooper ticket proposes that both tickets shall be submitted to the votes of the Republican party for nomination, and the ticket that secures the majority vote shall be the tickets to combat the Democratic ticket at the November election.

The McKee ticket proposes that both the Cooper ticket, and the McKee ticket withdraw, and that an entirely new ticket be formed by a convention elected under new rules, and that no candidate, on either one of the present tickets be allowed to be a candidate for re-nomination on the new ticket, and the new ticket formed of new men shall be the Republican ticket to combat the Democratic State ticket in November.

THE WHEAT CROP IN KANSAS, IS A LARGE ONE.

ENGLAND has her own way in the Egyptian country, by and by the other powers will say something.

A CONGRESSMAN from Ohio, named Butterworth, used such foul language in a speech in Congress the other day, that the ladies fled from the place.

The McKee Republicans, say there can be no peace unless there is an entirely new State ticket nominated, from men that are not on either of the tickets.

GREAT excitement prevails at Parker city Pa., on account of the failure of the Parker Savings Bank. Its assets $100,000, and has only $50,000 to pay it with.

IN Russia a passenger train of cars ran off the track, last Thursday, whereby 180 persons were killed, 217 persons were on the train at the time of the accident.

A YOUNG Democrat in the recent State convention, said that the divisions in the ranks of the Democracy, is because of the quarrels of the old men in the party, and now the old men are sour, and everybody is unhappy.

A MRS. JOHN MILLER, a respectable and rich widow, of Washington Pa., married a negro porter a few days ago. The woman's relatives had her arrested, and by due process of law she was declared insane and sent to an insane asylum.

THE Cooper Republicans, say they are for peace by the plan of submitting the Beaver, and Stewart tickets to the Republican party for nomination, and whichever ticket is nominated by a majority vote of the party, shall be the Republican State ticket.

PEACE! Peace! Peace! says Cooper, we will leave two tickets to a vote. Peace! Peace! Peace! says McKee, but not in that way. Take both tickets out of the field, a new ticket, a new convention, and then we can march as a united party to victory.

IT is reported that Minister Lew Wallace, is to be appointed Commander-in-chief of the Turkish armies. Well, if the war goes on with the English, the best thing for the Turks to do would be to get native Americans to officer their armies. The English can circumvent all creation, except the Yankee of North America.

IN cities where the Spiritualists have circles, they claim to have heard from Goulet. The trouble with the Spiritualists is that they do not agree, as to the state in which the assassin is. A Philadelphia Spiritualist says, that she has information from the spirit world that Goulet and Gardner are together and are both in New York. A Spiritualist says that she has information from the spirit world that Goulet is in torment, and that he has discovered that his inspiration theory is all wrong.

SOME of the English, and other people from across the sea, construct a canal across Central America, from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean, at the first appearance of danger from the people of Central or South America; an English fleet will close the canal to travel and commerce, and take possession with their naval forces, of all the adjacent towns, and forts, under the plea of protecting the rights of Englishmen, and the commerce of other nations, just as they done with the Suez canal and Egypt.

TWO Italians of a Philadelphia Catholic church, held a picnic on their church ground, for the purpose of raising funds for building purposes. They have ten thousand dollars in the treasury but they want twenty-five thousand dollars. They began the picnic at 9 o'clock in the morning, and closed it at 8 o'clock in the evening. They had an orchestra of six string instruments that furnished music for the dance that was kept up all day. All kinds of eatables were sold to the hungry. Twenty-five cents admission fee to the grounds was charged. They go one better than Protestants on Festivals.

Will the ministers of all denominations, and all others in the county, who are interested, please make through announcement of the time of all the above stated meetings and lend your aid and influence to make all a success?

By order of
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.
N. B. Cut this article of announcement out, and preserve it for reference.

It has been decided by the authorities of Mahoning City to get rid of the surplus Hungarian population, who are crowded into basements, cellars and stables, wherever they can find quarters. Notice has been served on fourteen owners of properties to clear their premises of the nuisance within twenty-four hours. Those who refuse to comply with the orders are subject to a fine of twenty dollars.

Invalid wives and mothers quickly restored to health by using Brown's Iron Bitters. A true tonic.

Chinese Pork Butchers.

San Francisco Chronicle.

"Yes, sir, we have to buy all our pork in Chinatown," replied a prominent pork packer and retailer recently to the inquiry made by a reporter whether all the pork eaten in this city was sold by Chinese.

"You don't mean to say that all the pork butchers are obliged to go to Chinatown to obtain a supply of meat for their customers?"

"Yes, I do. Every pound of fresh pork sold in this city comes from Chinatown. We can't get it elsewhere. You're a reporter, ain't you?"

"Well, I want you to tell the whole truth about this business of ours. It is not properly understood by the people. A wrong idea has been given out relative to our trade, and we wish the Chronicle would correct it. The papers have spread the impression that Chinamen deal in live hogs, and control the market in Butcherhuts. This is not the case, as I will explain to you."

"Why, where do the Chinese get the hogs?"

"They buy them in the slaughter-houses of white men. You never see a Chinaman handling a drove of hogs at the cars or steam-boats. He never gets his hands upon a hog until it is killed, when the porker passes into his possession and remains there until we white dealers go after it in Chinatown."

"Please explain more fully."

"The jobber sells his drove of hogs to one of the principal hog slaughterers in Butcherhuts. They are allowed to rest and recover after their journey from the country and then sold to the Chinamen, who kill and dress them and haul them off to Sacramento and Dupont streets, where they are supported in a pile until rapidly cut up. Here they are divided. One portion is preferred for the Chinese trade and the remainder is taken into back yards, up stairs rooms or cellars in Chinatown, to be cooled off for sale to the white people."

"Why don't you kill and handle your own pork, as dealers in beef and mutton do?"

"Because we cannot compete with John Chinaman. We want that portion of the hogs which does not, particularly care about keeping for home supply. We obtain the hams, sides and loins—that's all. The rest is kept to feed the thousands of voracious pork eaters in Chinatown. A Chinese will not buy pork unless it is warm and soft, with some of the animal heat in it. He does not want it hard and firm, like this one we are cutting up. No, sir; John wants his meat warm and fatty; hence the carcass must be taken to Chinatown to be cut up as soon as killed. There the head, shoulders, breast, feet and fat are cut off and sold to Chinese customers. The hind quarters are carried up stairs or down stairs and hung up to cool. We send our men to Chinatown at 5 A. M. and 5 P. M. to buy pork for the supply of our white customers."

"Is not the idea of eating meat which has cooled in filthy, close dens and smoky yards of Chinatown very repulsive to people of sensitive tastes?"

"Yes, I have no doubt it is; but people who eat pork must shut their eyes to the fact that it comes from the hogs of Chinatown. We pork dealers don't like it, but we cannot help ourselves. We get two white men to engage in the business in Butcherhuts, and all agreed not to patronize the Chinese. They tried it a short time and gave it up, and we had to go back to the Chinese again."

"What caused their failure?"

"They could not dispose of the refuse and offal, which is cash to the Chinaman. He sells everything; nothing is wasted. He gets the same price for shoulders as would be paid for hams. The head, feet, gut fat and entrails are all good to John. Our white people will not buy anything except loin, tenderloin or chops. The hams and sides we cure at our packing-houses. There you see that poor woman with the ragged dress and threadbare shawl; she would turn her nose at a shoulder or a pig's head. She prefers to pay twenty cents a pound for a tenderloin. No, sir, our people have been educated to demand the best part of the hog or nothing. We could not sell that which the Chinamen eat and prefer."

GENERAL ITEMS.

The Philadelphia and Reading railroad company is placing safety switch lights at all the switches along its main line.

The time for boys to eat wild parsnips and die has fully arrived. Three of them tried it in Lehigh last week, and two of them succeeded in becoming little corpses.

The official reports of persons killed and injured on the steam railroads in Pennsylvania during 1881 show 661 killed and 1,649 injured. The Pennsylvania Railroad carried 9,077,714 passengers, of whom only 8 were killed and 59 injured. The total from this road was 201 killed and 878 injured; of these 10 were killed and 80 injured from causes beyond their own control, while 191 were killed and 798 injured through their own misconduct or carelessness. The Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore road injured only 2 passengers, but the killed among the employees and others numbered 26 and the injured 19.

A son of a farmer of Strathmore has been admitted into Stratton Hospital suffering from severe injuries inflicted upon him by an owl. A pair of owls had made their home in a elm tree and as they made raids on the farmer's chickens to supply the wants of a numerous family of young owls, one of the farmer's sons ascended the tree and secured two of the young owls and kept them for several days feeding them by hand. He had one of the young owls in his hand showing it to a friend when one of the parent birds suddenly pounced upon him and struck him heavily on the head. He dropped the fledgling and defended himself with a stick, but the owl sawed the stick and wounded the boy in the eye so seriously that the sight has been destroyed. The father who witnessed the attack, immediately killed the two young birds, whereupon the parent owl attacked him and another of his sons, inflicting wounds in the necks of both. The farmer then went for his gun, but owl escaped.

To strengthen and build up the system, a trial will convince you that Brown's Iron Bitters is the best medicine made.
