

SENTINEL & REPUBLICAN
MIFFLINTOWN.

Wednesday, July 26, 1882.
B. F. SCHWEIER,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

The war in Egypt goes on.

The Crescent, the picture of the new moon standing on its point, causes Johnnie Bull to lash his tail and roar.

There is no accounting for taste, as 36 again sail, over the announcement of the marriage of an American girl by a Christian minister, at Augusta, Ga., to a Chinaman.

The Turkish government has authorized the English government to restore order in Egypt, and Aribi Bey has ordered Ali Feima to command the Suez Canal.

Abri Bey, the war minister of the Khedive of Egypt, the Khedive has sent an order for Aribi to cease his hostilities. The order is a little like the order of the Pope's Bull is issued against the sun.

A battle was fought in the Indian country, between Indians, and U. S. troops on the 17th. The fight was in Arizona; 14 Indians were killed; 6 women and children were taken prisoners. The camp outfit of the red skins, with 100 head of horses, were captured. There is yet three months of fine weather before the Indian, in which to keep up a running fight, and after that is over, and the cold of winter comes he can ask for peace, and receive it till next summer. The Indian loves to fight the white man during the summer months, and during the winter months he loves to lie about the wigwags with the squaws, sleeping, eating, and drinking. It has ever been so, since the red man, and white man first met, and it will be so "till the red man is no more.

Our first speech that General Beaver delivered, after the failure to fix things with Stewart, was delivered at Bristol, Bucks county, last week. It was a semi-Pennsylvanian-political speech. All shades of Republicans and Democrats were present. The General spoke about William Penn and the Quakers. He spoke of the tariff question. He declared that he has not been seeking the Governorship and he would rather than $10,000, if he had to give, to be out of it, so as to be able to attend to his private business, but duty to his country causes him to stand firm. He told the assembly that he would be glad to answer questions. Some one in the crowd took him at his word and said, "General" "I shall not vote the Republican ticket, but will vote for the Independent candidates, unless I am satisfied that your administration will not be organized in the interest of Don Cameron." A reporter of Philadelphia says: "The General answered 'I answer it a very fair question, and I'll answer it. I shall when I see a chance to do so, but I have not made a pledge to a living man, and I say now that I cannot make any pledge. Why, what is one man? I have magnified a little man into a big man and think he fills the whole Republican party and the whole of this great State of Pennsylvania. Don Cameron, my friends is not a big man, but a very little man. (Great cheering.) He has no hold upon me (Cheers.) When a man is wrong the thing for you to do is to defeat him. Now I can't make any more specific pledge than that. My friend here would not want me to pledge myself to organize an administration against Mr. Cameron. He would not want me to organize an administration in his favor. I cannot be expected to organize an administration that will control the representatives and Senators of the State Legislature. I did not come into Bucks county to make pledges like that. Such things are only worthy of the pot-house politician. Let our friend fight Mr. Cameron as he likes, but let him stay in the Republican party and do it. I expect to be elected by about 550,000 majority this fall.

The English have succeeded in destroying Alexandria, but Aribi Bey, what of him? It will be successful in destroying the Suez Canal for the English, who'll be ahead, England, or Aribi, or Egypt? It is an excellent picture to contemplate. Look at it from whatever side we may.

The Democrats say that when General Beaver called Senator Cameron, a small man, he did so for the purpose of making the people believe that he and Cameron are not one, and that Cameron is not his boss.

CONSTITUTIONAL PROHIBITION. A series of public meetings in the interest of Constitutional Prohibition will be held in Juniata County, at the following places:

Port Royal, Friday evening, August 4. Spruce Hill, Saturday evening, August 5. East Waterford, Sunday evening, August 6. Waterloo, Monday evening, August 7. McConville, Tuesday evening, August 8. Johnstown, Wednesday evening, August 9. Patterson, Thursday evening, August 10. McAlisterville, Friday evening, August 11. Richfield, Saturday evening, August 12. Thompsonston, Sunday evening, August 13. Mifflintown, Monday evening, August 14. Mifflintown, Tuesday August 15.

These meetings will commence at half past seven o'clock, P. M.

At each meeting held in the county, an auxiliary Constitutional Amendment Association, will be formed, and addresses delivered, by a representative of the State Association, and others. Those who favor a continuance of the liquor traffic and license system, are invited to attend all these meetings, and to those who are opposed to the prohibition of the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors, except for legitimate purposes, a reasonable amount of time will be given to defend their case. Turn out! Every body irrespective of sex, race, party, or denomination, and hear the discussions.

At each meeting, delegates will be elected to attend the Convention, to be held at Mifflintown August 15.

The ministers of all denominations, and all others in the county, who are interested, please make thorough announcement of the time of all the above stated meetings and lend your aid and influence to make all a success!

By order of
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
N. B. CUT this article of announcement out, and preserve it for reference.

GENERAL ITEMS.
A Berks county farmer boasts of eight bushels and two quarts of rye from one hundred sheaves.

A London clergyman makes a charge of $5 a year to women who want spiritual advice.

Mrs. Agnes Poe, a demoted lady of Chambersburg, escaped from the second story of her home on Thursday by using a rope made of sheets. She has not since been heard from.

Rye is six odd in some sections seven feet high in Iowa.

California takes the lead for heavy heads of wheat. Some stalks have shown, six feet high, with heads six inches long.

The army worms, which are abundant in Lyons county, Ky., are being destroyed by myriads of small red ants.

The large bean raising districts of New York are silted by a worm called the bean weevil, which is doing great damage to newly planted crops.

The oleomargarine factories of New York have a producing capacity of 116,000,000 pounds annually, while the production of dairy butter in the State is only 111,000,000 pounds.

An enterprise is on foot to illuminate Mount Washington by electricity. It is proposed to place six powerful lights on the observatory and it is claimed that they can be seen a distance of one hundred miles.

Franco Tralold deserted his wife fourteen years ago in Germany and coming to America, settled in Johns town. The wife appeared there a few days ago and had her recent Lord arrested. He has since promised to live with his wife and the suit against him has been withdrawn.

A salmon in the Susquehanna River at Sunbury, a few days since, leaped from the water and was caught by the gills in a bush overhanging the river. It was captured and found to weigh 124 pounds.

A young lady in Reading received a proposition of marriage from a gentleman visiting in Europe, and to cable him simply the word "yes" cost her $2.15.

Leslie Kanev, a young girl, died in Greensburg, Westmoreland county, on Wednesday of inanition. In two years she was reduced from 140 pounds to 40 pounds in weight.

From the Ocoela Sentinel.
In connection with the White Breast Bottom, Iowa, storm, we wish to speak of the heroic conduct of Mrs. Carey, a young married lady, who was stopping with Mrs. Wiles for the night. About 9:30 or 10 P. M. the banks of the creek began to overflow and soon the water began coming into the house; the whole bottom was a black and roaring body of water; the rain was pouring down in torrents; the cloud overhanging the sky like a velvet curtain and the thunder was terrific. Mrs. Carey took one little boy, aged about nine, and Mrs. Wiles' baby, but six weeks old, left the house and started for the high ground. Reaching the garden fence, perhaps 100 feet from the house, she found the current so strong that she could not keep her footing. Her clothes became entangled in a barb wire fence. Fortunately she was at the foot of a tree. Helping the boy to climb the tree she handed him the baby to hold a moment. The waters were raging all about her and were rapidly rising. She must act quickly. With great presence of mind she disengaged herself by tearing her dress from her person, and swung herself into the tree. As the water took the boy further up the tree, she took the baby and held it and herself by one foot and one hand to that way for three long hours and till rescued by men, who swam in to her and brought her and the children away by the aid of ropes. When the men reached her she said, "save the baby first." The heroism of this noble little woman woman who thus saved these children—the children of another—deserves to be mentioned in song.

Galathea Times at Cape May.

Beasts and the 18th inst. Cape May puts on holiday attire, and from that time until the close of the season sojourners there have been, and will be at no loss for amusement. The famous Baltimore regatta, the "5th Maryland," with 800 men and a band of 40, encamped on the 18th and still remain, during their stay, there will be balls in their honor, exhibition drills, lawn concerts, parades, target exercises, and all the features incidental to camp life.

On the 20th and 21st the Grand Musical Festival will take place, and it is promised by those in charge that it will be the greatest event of the kind ever held at a watering place. M. Albrecht, the famous concert virtuoso, and other distinguished soloists, have already been engaged. Simon Heister, Carl Bentz, and J. P. Zimmerman will lead an orchestra of 125 and a chorus of 400 voices. The programs will embrace numbers from the most prominent composers of the German, Italian, and French schools, and among those already decided on are selections from "Stabat Mater," "The Creation," "Faust," "Moses in Egypt," "The Messiah," &c.

Commencing on the 20th inst. there began excursions in a capitol boat, one of the largest ever constructed in this country for manufacturing and conducting, which the famous aeronauts Prof. Chas. K. and John Wise have been engaged.

By the attachment of strong cables and suitable machinery, the balloons will be held captive and permitted to rise to the height of 1000 feet, at which altitude a view of 60 miles in every direction around Cape May will be obtained. These ascensions of course will be for the public. Cape May was never more popular than at present, and with its beach, which is the finest in the world, illuminated by electric lights; its improved ocean drives; beach railroads; excellent surf, etc., stands number 1 among the watering places of this country. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company have arranged to give excursions covering the Musical Festival from all stations on its lines at less than half the usual rate, the particulars of which may now be had of the ticket agents.

GENERAL ITEMS.
A calf from the Jersey cow Beauty, owned by John Patterson, of Chester county, was recently sold for $2500.

A crow alighted in a swamp near Norristown a few days since, when a snapping turtle seized upon his leg and held him until a man captured both of them.

A tramp who was allowed to sleep in the house of Henry Miller, in Huntingdon county, robbed the house of its valuables during the night.

A party of New York capitalists has purchased a large tract of ground near Leighton, Carbon county, upon which a factory will be erected to manufacture fuel from coal dust.

Three men belonging to a show company, a box car near Lyons, Dauphin county, with their legs dangling out of the door. In passing along on which cars were standing the foot of one was caught and all three thrown out, one being killed and the other two badly bruised.

A Western circus manager arranged to have a wax baby dropped from a second story window in every town in which his show visited just in time to be caught by one of his athletes. The performance was successful several times, and crowds went to see the hero of the rescue, until the newspapers exposed the trick.

The Kansas City Times, says: Near Mexico, Mo., a mammoth tree was felled on the farm of Charles Swann. It measured nine feet through the trunk, was 110 feet high, the first limb growing out at a height thirty feet from its base and it is thought to be at least 300 years old. The wood was made up into 800 rails, 500 fence posts besides ten cords of firewood. By its fall twelve squirrels and one raccoon were killed. This is the largest tree that ever grew in that section.

A bitter and relentless war has been declared on the part of the farmers against the invading army worm in New Jersey, near Heidelberg a few days ago the owners of a farm hastily dug a trench across the track of the pests, which was soon filled with a struggling mass. Kerosene was then poured in and set on fire, but the advancing hosts marched on until the last of the line had been consumed, and the crop of corn, which would otherwise have been entirely destroyed, was saved. Another farmer in the same vicinity scattered straw in advance of the worms, which was also saturated with kerosene and set on fire, and succeeded in saving his corn.

The following is related by the South Carolina Calhoun Times, about two weeks ago Mr. Smith, living a few miles of Calhoun, Georgia, on the Oostanular river, lost a heifer and as it was fine stock made diligent search, but could not find it. A few days ago a party of young men fishing on the river were attracted by the smell of a dead carcass and upon examining the cause, lo and behold, they found a monster catfish, which had swallowed the calf, and the horns of the calf became entangled in the fish's gills had drowned the fish. The fish measured exactly twenty-three feet and seven inches in length and was five feet eight and one quarter inches across the head, and from the length of its whiskers spanned to be one hundred and seventeen years old.

A Florida paper relates the following: A strange and accident lately befell a La Grange boy in Florida. Charles heard had shot a water turkey, and not knowing the vicious character of the fowl when wounded went for his game. It showed fight and plucked out one of Mr. Heard's eyes in the encounter. The other eye is now affected and Mr. Heard is in Atlanta for treatment.

The Philadelphia Record of last Thursday says: One of the largest and finest collections of Jersey cattle that has ever been offered at public sale in this country went under the hammer yesterday at Hookstown. There was a large attendance, and the bidding was spirited. There were in all 82 head disposed of—50 cows and 22 calves. The average for cows was $457.50, for calves $187.00. The highest price paid $1360 for a Coomassie calf, 2 years old, and the premium calf, two months old, brought $700.
