There are so many colliding of engine passing over the Reading line that we are grateful to suggest that speculators in grain and the colliding reporter for yellow journals may keep off the track and not run over the people here to be put for enforcement by interested parties.

The Eastern Legislature will have their convention next Tuesday. The important resolutions passed were the "Gentile enforcing President Arthur to veto the River and Harbor bill and expressing approval of the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, and requesting the next Legislature to submit such amendments to the State Constitution as will secure to women the right of suffrage."

The Canada Medical Record says Dr. Wood, Professor of Chemistry in the medical department of Bishop's College, Montreal, reports a number of cases in which after the failure of various remedies he cured by having wounds from four to eight feet. In one case it was necessary to cut away three inches. Four gallons were injected in cases of chronic diseases. The patients were allowed to drink freely of cold water or lemonade, but no beverages containing alcohol. Dr. Wood says that from the quick and almost invariably good results obtained by simple means.

A JOINT DISCUSSION.

DEAR SENTINEL-STAR TARGET, }
Aug. 12, 1882. }

My Dear Mr. Editor:—It will not give you a turkish, to hear it, but I know you'll open your eyes, when I tell you that I have to start to the front this Saturday night. When I learn that there would be a call for 600 Pennsylvania militia at Harrisburg, at the encampment I said, by the everlasting I must not there, for then was just exactly forty between a hobby existence. Did you ever think of all what good old Jeff. Davis and the country it was with an army of 600 would be that and body thanked the British at New Orleans and were taken for himself, under him Brigadier-General, and smashed the United States Bank, that had stood upon the back of the people of Continental money, a period of about 50 years. If the general Government had that long they will do well. And Andy and his wife made Gardner for my old Democratic friends. Since that time till the time when Jeff Davis smashed the machine by kicking up the rebellion. Jeff was a big big machine, he smashed the Democratic machine that Andy built, and he smashed the Radicals, and then his friends wanted to throw it on your Republicans. A very few people would gang down the long lane therefore of how Andy had saved the country from the ruin of the old organ and how he had saved the country from a second attack by smashing the United States Bank. But the old fellows around Hollidaysburg don't see whether they didn't help to take up the State with the carpet-bag. Well, well, Andy's lucky number of 666 in parable of Lancaster, it is no wonder that I went up to see them in all I can have to say, so that I consider it my duty to the State this Saturday night. When I heard
