MULES are being bought in this country for the use of the English army in Egypt.
OLD GENERAL CAMERON, and his son Don, are nearly secured to death on account of the tariff.

BEAVER delivered a speech in Somerset on Tuesday, there is no report of the speech at hand.
HIGH tariff has eager friends in Colorado and when high tariff Judge Kelly of Philadelphia appeared in one of the towns of Colorado, and there made a tariff speech, the crowd was so pleased that about 300 of them had the judge put in a carriage and then in procession headed by a brass band marched the streets of the town pulling the carriage by hand.

The English send despatches, stating that on Thursday the 24th inst., a battle was fought in Egypt between 10,000 Egyptians, and 2000 English, and the English held their ground.
The Sharpless family held a reunion near Chester, last Thursday. They number about 2,000, their first American ancestor came to America August 24, 1682.

A colored boy has been appointed as a cadet to West Point. He is the second one of his race that has been appointed to that place. The first one had his ears slit, and lost his place. Let him take care of his ears.

A despatch from across the sea, last Thursday stated that at a place called Gross, Hungary, one hundred women are on trial for having poisoned their husbands, of the number 35 had already been proven guilty. Particulars will come by and by.

GENERAL CAMERON, was in Philadelphia last week, and charged it upon the Independents that they derived their support from the free traders, but the old gentleman was not out of the city till the Independents had the facts printed in the newspapers that the prominent men in the Independent cause have all their life been in favor of a protective tariff. Daddy Cameron should not forget his sagacity and tell what can be demonstrated differently.

A colored man was hanged in Delaware last Friday, for outraging the person of a 12-year-old girl in New Castle county, last February. The preacher that went to the scaffold with the wretch said he believed he had repented of his crime. The doctor in attendance upon the execution, wanted the condemned man to take some whisky to steady his nerves for the ordeal but the beast refused the liquor, and proclaimed himself a teetotaler by saying that he had promised his father never to drink, and that he would not break his promise.
CANDIDATES BEAVER, and Stewart, were both present at the Granger's picnic in Cumberland Valley last week; both made speeches, but not on politics. They talked about agriculture; they both had some of the experience when young, on a farm, hoeing corn and so forth, but Pattison the Democratic candidate was not present. He is the son of a town preacher, and as such, the hoe never hardened his hand, developed his muscle, and the hay seed never decorated his hat, his experience at farming amounts to nothing. He would have been like a fish out of water, among the farmers. Hensel, Chairman of the Democratic State Committee was there, and put in an excess for him, by telling from the platform that he was too busy at his desk, to attend the picnic. The Democracy are trying to have it appear that Pattison is a hard working man at his desk. He was too busy at his desk to attend the Convention that nominated him. If he becomes Governor, that desk of his will be cut up as relics of victory. Great Desk.

PAPERS in the eastern part of the State publish the following delirious, with regard to the cause of disease in Berks county. Dr. Bridges, veterinary surgeon to the State Board of Health, has just been making a tour of inspection through the infected cattle district of Berks Co., and after a thorough examination of a number of sick cases, decided that the disease was anthrax fever, caused by septic germs in low or swampy land in which cattle pastured, and that it was no uncommon thing in localities of that kind during July and August, and which generally disappears. In explanation of the cause of the disease, Dr. Bridges says "The septic germs, caused by alternate showers and hot sunshine in swamps and lowlands, are taken up by the cattle with the grass which they consume. These germs enter the blood, making it so thin by consuming the oxygen and throwing off carbon that the blood will not circulate. It then settles in the soft tissues of the body. The most convenient place in the bovine system is the spleen or spleen. It also settles in the cerebellum, causing effusions. This produces convulsions. The progress of the diseased germs is so quick, they multiply so rapidly, causing the blood to become disorganized in so short a time, that the disease is not often detected until a short while before death ensues. It is not contagious, save by contamination or inoculation."
As a treatment, Dr. Bridges says the premises should be thoroughly cleaned, the cattle kept on hillside pastures and the following powder given: Chlorate potas, half pound; sulphur iron, 4 pound; gentian 1 pound; mix thoroughly and give to table-spoonfuls to each animal twice daily. Purgatives are good in the first stages, but persons not familiar with the disease seldom detect it until cattle are almost ready to die.

LAST Thursday evening, a meeting was held in Philadelphia, for the purpose of organizing to oppose the Sunday laws and prohibition.

The American Republican says: We learn that at the baptizing of the old lady, Mrs. Butler, of Marion county, Ga., aged 112 years, an immense crowd witnessed the ceremony. The aged communicant was carried to the water and baptized in a chair. Mrs. Butler was at one time in her life a Presbyterian, then a Methodist, then a Missionary Baptist, and now a Primitive Baptist.

A DESPATCH from Washington says: Garfield's doctors are understood to be dividing up the $35,000 appropriated for his care by Congress last session. It is said that Drs. Bliss, Hamilton and Agnew will be set down in the joint claim for $10,000 each and Reburn for $5,000. Nothing is said about Boynton and Mrs. Edson. If any such arrangement is made Boynton and Edson will "kick."

A man was nailed shingles on the roof of a house in Harrisburg. He was very near the edge, and on standing up, lost his balance, and fell over backwards, striking the pavement on the back of his head which was split wide open, yet when he was picked up, he took his handkerchief out of his pocket and wiped his face with it. He died half an hour after the accident. He had fallen forty feet.
A Lafayette (Ala.) special of the 15th inst. says: Sam Johnson, a well-known, well-to-do planter, shot and killed his niece today. A large white dog annoyed Johnson for some time, by entering the house and destroying articles. Two days ago Johnson had gone to bed leaving his daughter and niece on the front piazza, where they stayed till late on entering the house to retire, the girls made some noise, which awoke Mrs. Johnson, who told her husband that the dog was on the piazza. Johnson arose, half asleep, and came out with a gun, when seeing something white in the doorway, he fired and instantly killed his niece and wounded his daughter. He became nearly insane when he realized his act.
From the Minneapolis Tribune.
At the Minneapolis fair the great prize was won by Miss Belle Cook, of California, who rode at the Chicago races last year and is the champion equestrienne of the world, having beaten every woman who has dared to enter a contest with her, and a Mexican named Eduardo Espinosa. Last Spring Miss Cooke issued a challenge to any man or woman in the country to ride a twenty mile race with her for $1,500 a side. This Mexican accepted, and Colonel King, who heard of the matter, offered an additional prize of $2,000 to the winner if the contest should take place on Minnesota track. This man Espinosa has been a scout and guide on the plains for many years and is well known to army officers who have served in New Mexico and Arizona. Although a Mexican by birth he has lived in California most of his life and is famous in all that country as a long distance rider. Several years ago he rode 192 miles in sixteen hours, which is said to be the greatest test of physical endurance on record. As the story goes he was sent as a messenger to carry the news of an Indian outbreak to a military camp about eighty miles distant, and was provided with two horses one of which he rode and the other he led, changing his saddle from the one to the other at intervals of ten or fifteen miles. When he arrived at the place where the camp had been found the troops had moved, and getting fresh horses from the sutler he followed their trail until he found them. He has been noted for other exploits, and a number of romantic stories are told of his adventures as a scout and guide.
Pat Magee, a bachelor, of Phoenixville, aged 63 years, has taken a coenely lass of 22, named Rosy MacKay, for his wife.

The way a bank was robbed in Kenosha Illinois, is stated by a despatch from that place under date of the 15th, as follows: Yesterday afternoon two men called at the First National Bank, in this city, and asked permission to leave their saddle bags a short time. About 6 o'clock, while Cashier Pratt and Miss Palmer a lady assistant, were closing up the man knocked at the door and asked for the saddle bags. Miss Palmer opened the door and was seized by the neck by one of the men, who then kicked her nearly insensible. The other man rushed by her toward the vault, near which Pratt was standing. He struck him on the head with a revolver, knocking him senseless. Pratt and Miss Palmer were then forced into the vault. The burglars secured about twenty thousand dollars, of which six thousand was in gold, and left the town. Miss Palmer and the cashier, after remaining imprisoned over an hour, succeeded in breaking the lock and releasing themselves. They are both badly injured.
That feeling of languor and debility that follows physical exertion, removed by using Brown's Iron Bitters.

HAZING, THAT DID NOT HAZE.
The Milwaukee Sun tells the following. Many have wondered why there has not been any hazing at Harvard for the past 3 months. In all that time there has not been a case of hazing reported, and none have come to the conclusion that the hazers have met with a change of heart. It is not exactly a change of heart, but a change of clothes that suits them. We are informed that the hazing has been effectually broken up. Just after Sullivan whipped Ryan he was called to Harvard and a plan of breaking up hazing was unfolded to him by the faculty and he fell into it readily. He was to attire himself as a Quaker young man, and apply for admission as a freshman, and let nature take its course. On the last day of April Mr. Sullivan appeared at the college under the name of Abijah Watson, and was assigned to a room and placed on the roll of freshmen. His appearance was commented on, and as he passed through the college grounds with his peculiar garb young fellows shouted, "Shoot the hat" "Get on his side" and other collegiate interjections. It was all Mr. Sullivan could do to restrain himself from whipping a couple of dozen of the boys then and there, but he decided to wait until the proper time until he would be able to get enough for a mess. That evening he was approached by a young man who pretended to be his friend, and invited to accompany him to a room where a few boys were going to open a few bottles of wine. Abijah said he did not go much on the sabbath, but to oblige his friend he went with him to a large room where 70 smart young fellows were congregated, with all the appliances for hazing. Sullivan says there were 70, but the faculty only found 65 smart Alecks when the door was opened, but Sullivan thinks a few may have jumped out of the window and took to the woods. It seems that when they got the "Quaker" into the room they locked the door and the ringleader told the peaceful man to strip off his coat, vest and shirt. He objected, but finally took them off. Some of the fellows who have since got out of the hospital say they noticed when he removed his shirt that he was put up like a bired man, and they thought it queer that a Quaker should have an arm as big as a canvas bag. They then told to "prepare to meet his God," and got out the iron to brand him on the back. He told them that he knew he was in their power, and was willing to submit to anything that was right, but he asked as a favor not to bear on him, as he was of a nervous temperament, and might faint. They decided then not to brand him until later, but would throw him in a blanket first. So they got the blanket and tipped Sullivan over in it, and about 20 of the smartest hazers took hold of the sides and tossed him up. When he came down he knocked 4 fellows senseless with his fists, kicked 4 more across the room, and then got on his feet and began to knock them right and left. He had knocked down about 20, and had stopped to spit on his hands, when the rest of the hazers huddled in a corner and proposed to put an end to the Quaker, please let us alone. We belong to respectable families, and won't do so any more." Sullivan looked at them and said: "It's hazing you want. Well, you can have it. I'll knock you all down, and then get on my feet and begin to knock them right and left.
