Frank James, the notorious outlaw, was taken to Independence, on the 6th, and committed without bail. The way he came to surrender was this: On the first of October he sent a letter to Governor Crittenden, under a St. Louis date, saying that he desired to give himself up. was prompted to do this through cons stion for his wife and children and a de sire to clear his name from the shadow which has been cast upon it, and through it upon the good name of Western Missouri He declared that he was not as bad as he has been painted; that the outlaw has th thoughts and impulses of a man, and that he desired to return to the house of his parents, and there, with his parents and there, with his family, to pass his days in peace and thus gain the respect of his felow men. He thought it unnecessary, at present, to recount the history of his lifethose who are his friends are already acquainted with it. The public at present was not disposed to judge him charitably. He thought that his sufferings had already done penance for his acts. He denied authorship of any of the letters threatening assessination in retaliation for the murle of Jesse and which have been attributed to im. He submitted the question whether Frank James, humbled, repentant and reformed, would not be an example before the world more fraught with good to the rising generation than Frank James, the outlaw and wanderer. He said this letter was the result of a determination formed during the past four years of industrious farm life which he has spent. He asked for amnesty, if possible, and stated that an answer would reach him through his wife, at Independence, Missouri.

On receipt of this letter Governor Crittenden replied that he could make no defi nite promises, but would recommend that James present himself before the courts and answer to them as best becomes a man. In accordance therewith, James appeared before the governor, accompanied by Major John N. Edwards, of Sedalia, as counsel. and formally surrendered himself. Governor Crittenden stated this was no time to consider the matter of amnesty. If after the verdict of the court, the consideration of the question of pardon seemed justifiable, he would consider it

Frank James is five feet mine inches in height, spare but sinewy, with rather a then face and prominent cheek bones. He hes light blue eyes, a small bloude moustache and rather dark hair. His complexion is that of a man who has been in confinement for some time. He weighs one hundred and twenty-five pounds. In an interview he declared that from April, 1877, until April, 1881, he lived quietly with his wife upon a reuted farm in Ten nessee. near Nashville. This he asserts he can prove by staunch business men of Nashville. As to his whereabouts since Atril 1881, he is silent. He says, how ever, that he read the news of the shooting of Jesse James in a New York paper on the morning of the publication, indicating that he was in that vicinity, and he admits that he has been east of the Alleghenies and in Kentucky during the past year.

At stations all the way from Jefferso City the greatest interest was manifested, and depot platforms were crowded with expectant people, men women and children. The scene at Jefferson City was one to be remembered. The voluntary pris-oner was the coolest man in the hall when the Governor surrounded by his officials, received the man who for years had moved shout through the heart of the country with an enormous price on his head. James bears marks of many battles. Seventeen wounds have left scars and he has been shot through the body twice with minnie balls.

When the train reached Independence the crowd fell back while James met his mother, wife, and little boy of four years. His mother, Mrs. Samuels, wept, and Frank's eves were wet with tears. The wife seemed absorbed in the joy of meeting her husband again, while the child looked wonderingly upon the scene from his father's shoulders. The party, accomanned by the officers of the law, then drove to the Court House.

A FATAL MISTAKE.

A BLUNDERING JUDGEMENT MAY BE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE MOST SERIOUS RESULTS.

Mr. Edwin Booth said recently that he supposed his lungs were affected. baving a persistent cough until he saw Dr. Mackenzie, of London, who found that his symptom arose from a dis-turbance of the liver.-N. Y. Her.

The above item, which has been going the rounds of the Press, is of no special significance other than to the personal friends of Mr. Booth, except that it brings to light a truth of the greatest importance to the world. Few people pass through life without the affliction of a couch at some point in their career. In most cases this is considered the result of a cold or the beginning of consumption, and thous-ands have become terrified at this revelation and have sought by a change of air and the use of cough medicines to avert the impending disaster. It may safely be said that more than half the coughs which are sillecting the world to-day do not have their origin in the lungs but are the result of more serious troubles in other organs of the body. "Liver coughs" are exceedingly common and yet are almost wholly misunderstood. Arising from a disordere state of the liver they show their results by congesting the lungs. In fact, the efforts of the liver to throw off the disease, produce coughing even when the lungs themselves are m a healthy state.

But it is a mistake to suppose that such delicate tissues as the lungs can long remain in a healthy condition when they are being constantly agitated by coughing, Such a theory would be absurd. Consumption, which was feared at first, is certain to take place unless something is done to check the cause. This must be plain to every thoughtful mind. It stands to reason, therefore, that the only way in which "liver coughs" can be removed is by re toring the liver to health,

In this connection, another fact of great importance becomes known, which can best be explained by the relation of an tle dealer of Colorado, became greatly reduced in health and came east to Chicago for the purpose of being cured. He consulted Dr. J-, one of the leading physicians of the country on pulmonic subjects and began treatment for the cure of his lungs. But his cough increased while his strength decreased. Finally he determined to consult another physician and applied to Dr. B-. After a careful examination he was informed that his lungs was perfectly sound, while his kidneys were in a most terrible condition. He had all the apparent symptoms of consumption but he was suffering from the terrible Bright's disease. The symptoms of consumption are often the sure indication of Bright's disease.

The above truths regarding coughs have been known by the leading physicians for several years but the public been informed of them. They are serious facts, however, and should be understood by all, so that dangers which might otherwise prove fatal may be avoided. They clearly prove one great truth which is, that the kidneys and liver are such vital organs that their health should be constantly guarded. The distressing, backing cough. which is often dreaded as the forerunner of consumption and the was ing strength which accompanies it, in all probability may arise from weakened or diseased kidneys or liver, to restore which would cause returning health. How this most desirable end may be attained has long been a problem, but few people of intelligence at the present day have longer any doubts that the popular remedy known as Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver cure has done more to correct, relieve and restore these organs than any other preparation ever before known. There are hundreds of instances which have occurred within the past three months where individuals have believed themselves the victims of consumption. when, in reshity it was deranged kickneys pletely cured, as witness the fol-

Graham, Druggist: Dear Sir -- My case was an acute form of Bronchitis, ployed the best medical aid possible, but failed rapidly, until the doctors said I would die—that my case was incurable. Thrown upon my own resources I got a bottle of DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, and in six hours felt a decided relief. In three days the cough almost disappeared. Now that my chances of life are good for many years, I carnestly recommend the above to every sufferer of throat or lung disease. C. G. LATHROP.

Mr. H. R. SERVEINS?

Dear Sir.—Your "Vegetine" has been doing wonders for me. Have been having the Chilis and Pecer, contracted in the swamps of the South, nothing giving me relief until I began the use of your Vegetine, it giving me immediate relief, toning up my system, jurifying my blood, giving strength; whereas all other medicines weak nea me, and filled my system with poison; and I am satisfied that if families that live in the sgree districts of the South and West would take Vegetine two or three times a week, they would not be troubled with the "Chilis," or the malignant "Fevers," that prevail at certain times of the Jear, mye doctors' bills, and live to a good old age.
