Court Proceedings: Court convened and proceeded to business on Monday, April 23, at 10 o'clock.

Constables were called and presented their returns. The grand jury was sworn and charged.

W. A. Toomy, John H. Hohn, John McCoy and George Hackenberger, were appointed constables for the county.

The first jury case was that of J. R. M. Todd vs. Samuel Murphy, No. 131, Dec. Term, 1874.

The suit was brought against Murphy to recover the sum of three hundred dollars as the price of a horse that died on the road between McCulloch's Mills and Waterford.

The horse was hired from Todd by Murphy for the purpose of driving to Waterford and back to Todd's livery stable in Patterson.

Plaintiff maintained that the horse was sound and in good health on the 3rd day of July, 1874, when he was hired to Murphy, and on that day he had been offered three hundred dollars for the animal.

The second jury trial was that of John B. M. Todd vs. John Dearing, No. 46, February Term, 1881.

The suit was taken up on Tuesday afternoon, and was an action to recover on three promissory notes that in the aggregate amounted to sixty some dollars.

The third jury case was taken up on Wednesday morning and was that of John Gingrich vs. Daniel Coffman and Adam Fisher, No. 129, April Term, 1881.

The fourth jury case was that of James Boon administrator of Elizabeth Boon, deceased, vs. John P. McWilliams, No. 29, December Term, 1881.

The fifth jury trial, Mary Ragan vs. Overseers of the Township of Mifflintown, No. 35, December Term, 1881, came up on Thursday forenoon.

The sixth jury trial, Mary Ragan vs. Overseers of the Township of Mifflintown, No. 35, December Term, 1881, came up on Thursday forenoon.

The seventh jury trial, Mary Ragan vs. Overseers of the Township of Mifflintown, No. 35, December Term, 1881, came up on Thursday forenoon.

The eighth jury trial, Mary Ragan vs. Overseers of the Township of Mifflintown, No. 35, December Term, 1881, came up on Thursday forenoon.

The ninth jury trial, Mary Ragan vs. Overseers of the Township of Mifflintown, No. 35, December Term, 1881, came up on Thursday forenoon.

The tenth jury trial, Mary Ragan vs. Overseers of the Township of Mifflintown, No. 35, December Term, 1881, came up on Thursday forenoon.

lo to buy on Palm's property on the 8th of July 1882, among the things levied on was the hog, the bruto was still in possession of Jesse Bryner.

The constable made a sale on the 12th day of July, 1882, of certain property of Palm. John Taylor bought the hog for $5.00 for John Bryner.

When John Bryner called to get the hog, Jesse Bryner confronted him with a bill for feeding the hog for $8.00.

Jesse would not give the hog to the purchaser unless he would pay him $8.00. John refused to do that, Jesse kept the animal, fattened it, and prepared it for market and shipped it to Philadelphia all of which caused the suit.

Verdict for plaintiff in the sum $5.26. The seventh jury trial was begun on Friday, and was that of Abelard Barber vs. Jonas M. Zellars, No. 65, September Term, 1882.

It was a slander case, the chief feature of which was charges of love meetings between people who are bound by the act of assembly to have no amours outside of the circle of husband and wife.

The tale and letter writing in the case took a comical and somewhat ludicrous turn.

Verdict for plaintiff $250, on Saturday. This case closed the court last week, but on Friday a jury was empaneled for the trial of the case of Noah Hertzler vs. J. Emory McCahan and William Grier, No. 59, Feb. Term, 1883.

to come before court with Judge Bucher as presiding Judge, on Tuesday May 1st. The suit is now in progress, and is about the ownership of a portable sawmill.
