EMEMBER THY MOTHER

Lead thy mother tenderly Down life's steep decline; Once her arm was thy support, Now she leans on thine. See upon her loving face,

Those deep lines of car Think—it was her toil for thee Left that record there. Ne'er forget her tireless watch

Kept by day and night,

Taking from her step the grace,

From her eye the light,

Cherish well her faithful heart

Which thereis Cherish well her faithful in Which, through weary years; Which, the sympathy Echoed with its sympathy All thy smiles and tears.

Thank God for thy mother's love. For the bitter parting hour Cometh all too soon.

When thy grateful tenderness Loses power to save, Earth will hold no dearer spot Than thy mother's grave.

HIS RIVAL!

It was the time when lilies blow The pearl-grey clouds were sailing and piling themselves lazily above, and behind these were "depths beyond depths" of clearest azure.

The crickets chirped drowsily among the drooping grasses, now and then a bird uttered a faint protest against the heat, and dropped into silence again. Dell Irving tripped down the garden path with its fringes of feathery ferns and pale, sweet-faced violets.

She was looking as cool as if the day were filled with delicious sea breezes.
