Which fact makes Mr. Gould no better of the palace as follows, Jay Gould lives in a very large brownstone mansion, once occupied by Ex-Mayor Opdyke, on 47th street, opposite the Windsor Hotel. The vestibule is 50 feet long and finished in French burnt walnut and birdsye maple. In a large recess stands a marble statue of Miss Nellie Gould, in a recumbent position, taken when 5 years old. An excellent picture of Jay Gould, by Herkomer, hangs on the wall, while near it a painting by Rosa Bonheur-Mr. Gould's last purchase, representing a cattle scene-was placed ready for hanging. This picture alone cost $25 000. The hall is lighted by Oriental lamps in glass mosaic. The floor is of marble. On the left of the hall the reception room is ylaced. The wails are hung in embossed velvet of an old gold shade. Yellow silk curtains give the chamber a softened, agreeable tint. Small Profits and Quick Sales Our Upon a red velvet carpet is extended a buge tiger robe trimmed with bear skin. The mantlepiece supports two curious Japanese statuettes in brass, and between them a curious French clock of hammered bronze surmounted by a mythical figure, also of bronze.
