Shall We Let the Child Die?

A hard-hearted political economist, looking at a pale and puny child feebly gasping as it lies upon a pillow, says that the child might as well die. It is so weak and poor that its life will never be worth much anyhow. There are already a good many people in the world who are of not much account anyhow. And what's the use of adding to their number another weakling, who has but slender chance of ever amounting to anything? Now ask that child's mother what she thinks about letting the child die. About this time the hard political economist had better get out of the way. "Let my child die? No! No! ' As long as there is a remedy to be found that will save that child, the child shall not die! In the inquiry—Which is the best Liniment for Man and Beast?-this is the answer, attested by two generations: the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINI-MENT. The reason is simple. It penetrates every sore. wound, or lameness, to the very bone, and drives out all inflammatory and morbid matter. It "goes to the root" of the trouble, and never fails to cure in double quick time.

time in years. A case that was given up by the physicians. Her friends and relatives had given up in despair of her ever getting out again. MRS. JULIA H.BRUNDAGE, of 45 Maple St., Bridgeport, Conn., recently said to a representative of this paper, when ques-tioned about the case of her mother: "I can very cheerfully give my testimony in favor of so valuable an article as Hunt's Remedy. My mother, who is seventy-six years of age, has for over thirty years been afflicted with kidney, liver and heart diseases, which has has for over thirty years been afflicted with kidney, liver and heart diseases, which has confined her to the house most of the time; and to add to her other troubles, about three years ago dropsy in its worst form set in. We had three doctors, who did all they could for her with but little success, as she grew rapidly worse, and death seemed inevitable. At times her body and limbs would be swollen nearly twice their usual size. Her physicians gave her up, saying they could do nothing more for her. She was also given up by her friends. Having heard of the great amount of good Hunt's liemedy had accomplished, and of the remarkable cures it had made in similar cases, we thought as a last hope we would try it, and to the great as onisiment of us all (doctors included) she began to im-prove, and in a very short time the succlings left her entire body; the many aches and pains from which she suffered she knows no more. She has walked out this summer for the first time the ward.
