

B. F. SCHWEIER,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

MAHOZE never was a Republican.

Politicians are already lying the wires for the February election.

The Republican chances for 1894 have improved since the late election. Nominate Harlan.

Gracious! General Bob Toomb has joined the Methodist church.—Will that take Bob Ingersoll into the fold?

One thousand dollars reward is offered for Abe and Ike Buzzard, dead or alive, in Lancaster county. The brothers are noted outlaws.

The French are now suffering from a fit of seceding, that was brought on by the announcement that King William, of Germany, is about to visit the King of Spain.

The world did not come to an end on the 8th. We are still all right, aboard of the earth, speeding around the sun at the rate of 68,000 miles an hour. Destruction could take place in a minute.

BUTLER is cool, and intimates that next year he will ask the Democrats to nominate him for the Presidency, for he claims that he increased the Democratic vote at the late election some 8 or 9 thousand. Hopefull Butler.

The Democracy are convinced now, that the result of the election in Ohio, was caused by local questions. They understand that the Republican party is not a disintegrated party, but is as strong in the faith as ever. Long live the Republican party.

A small number of education fanatics held what they were pleased to call, a meeting of the Inter-State Commission on Federal Aid to Education, in New York City last week, and resolved to ask Congress to appropriate $60,000,000 to the States for education purposes.

When the Civil Rights Bill passed Congress, there were in the Lower House 193 Republicans, and 101 Democrats. Every one of the Republicans voted for it excepting, Blaine, of Maine, and Phelps, of New Jersey. The Senate stood 47 Republicans, 21 Democrats, 4 Liberals. The Republicans all voted for the bill, and President Grant signed it. Harlan for President in 1884.

Of all the applications for divorce, who ever heard of one like the following: "A Canadian woman who recently applied for a divorce assigned as one among other reasons for desiring a separation that her husband, a minister, while at family prayer "would often crawl across the floor on his knees, keeping up his prayer all the while, and administering blows all the while to his children for supposed inattention."

In the late battle with the false prophet, 6,000 Remington rifles in the hands of 6,000 Egyptians were sufficient to overcome two columns of 10,000 Arab horsemen armed with lances. Of the 20,000 troops of the false prophet, 8,000 were shot out of their saddles before the advanced lance reached the Egyptian column. So say despatches from Egypt. If the prophet is to succeed he will soon have to get some other kind of weapon than lances for his troops.

The North American says the recent discoveries of extensive thieving among the train hands of the Pennsylvania Railroad freight lines seems to argue that the railways are no more free from dishonesty among the employes than are the departments of the national, State and municipal governments. Indeed it may be thought that public affairs, being more carefully watched by the party out of power, are more likely, after all, to be carried on with prudence and economy than are those of a vast corporation.

Ox the four hundredth anniversary day of the birth of Martin Luther, which was on the 10th inst, last Saturday. The mind of preachers, literary men, and editors was directed in thought to the life and work of the great Protestant. On that date there appeared a well written article in the Philadelphia Times, on the chief events of the life of Martin Luther, with extensive statement bearing on the personal character of the reformer. It is probable that a Catholic priest, or pagan wrote the article. The Times article clouds the personal character of the reformer, by inferring that in his case the boy was father of the man, and that the boy had been so naughty or bad at school that it became necessary to whip him 15 times within the period of a half day. As a man it intimates that he was fond of women; as a theologian he had little faith in Moses; the book of Esther; and the epistle of St. James; and that he was a great beer drinker, all of which statement will cause Colonel McClure to find out that he has struck a Lutheran hornet's nest. The Colonel may expect to bear a great deal about that article from Lutheran editors and preachers within the next month.

COONY TO THE ROOSTERS!

Crest fallen by Jove? Well! well, you look worse than hen pecked rooster. You are soon pecked this time. Perhaps that is not exactly it either. Call it Pattison pecked. Now roosters of the lost cause, and torn plumage, let me tell you the truth, that if Governor Pattison had been equal to the occasion you could hold up your heads and crow. The Governor is good for size, but when it comes to filling the promise made one year ago, he is not so overshadowing. The promised reform came in the discharge of a few old scrub wren from the departments at Harrisburg, and that is called reform. Heavy reform! When it comes to the promises of economy and good government, we find that Pattisonism consists of an extra session of the Legislature at ten dollars per member, per day, or sum total, three thousand dollars per day. The Governor is a good man for size, and the work of his extra session is the biggest bluster that was ever inflicted on the people of the Commonwealth. With such a Pattison record, all made within a year, it is no wonder that the State has given a Republican majority of 18,000. There is no use in your roosters trying to grow new tails, and sleek feathers for 1884, for the scrub wren reform, and the $10 a day extra session economy, and the causeless onslaught on corporations, will poll a larger majority against you next year. Democratic statesmanship in this Commonwealth is the politics of a hand-ull of Philadelphia Democratic politicians, exhibited by the large fine looking Governor. York State Democratic management, my dear roosters, was no better. Your majority there last year was firesome to count, now we have a majority of the Legislature. We have the Secretary of State by 18,000. We have 28 majority on joint ballot. We have a majority of the Supreme Judges, and a majority of the State officers. Ha! roosters, it is a little severe, but there is Butler, of Mass., who you had again taken into the coop and admitted as a full member on the roost, he too has been carried away by the deluge. If you can crow, do it, over New Jersey and Maryland and Virginia, which have all gone Democratic. The Mahoneites have been defeated. The Democratic candidate for Governor in Maryland has been elected by about 12,000 majority, both houses are Democratic.—The Democratic Governor in New Jersey has a majority of about 7,000, the Legislature is Democratic on joint ballot. Can you crow over the 25,000 Republican majority in Minnesota? everything Republican there.—Nebraska is Republican by 5,000 majority. Connecticut is Republican, on joint ballot the Republicans have a majority of 65. My well plucked roosters, coony don't want to choke you, and hopes that you may find a grain of comfort in the fact that the Mississippi Legislature is Democratic. If it is a comfort to you, roosters, that the Democratic majority in Juniaata is less than two hundred, take the comfort. Can you crow! What will Pattison do with the Legislature?

Official Vote of Juniata.
The reader who looks over this tabular statement of the vote of Juniata county will observe that only about one-half of the vote of the county was polled.

County Committees.
Juniata is well off for political county committees, there being three within her borders. The Democracy seem to be particularly fortunate or unfortunate in having two. So that a convenient list of the membership of the committees may be within reach of every one, we publish the names of the committees in this issue of the SENTINEL AND REPUBLICAN. Lay the paper where you can easily get it, any time during the year 1888. You may want to look up the name of a committee or two during the progress of the campaign of 1884.

The window-glass manufacturers at Bellefonte notified the Pittsburg manufacturers that they could not fill an order for glass, as their men threaten to strike if more shipments are made. This is due to an order from the headquarters of the workmen. The bottle-glass blowers have issued a circular to druggists and patent medicine dealers threatening to boycott them if they buy bottles made by non-union workmen.

Additional Locals.
A Profitable Crop.
The following brief communication explains itself:
Mr. B. F. SCHWEIER, Dear Sir:—I will give you the amount of wheat raised on my farm, just thrashed. I had 10 acres which yielded 316 heaped bushels from the machine, making 31 heaped bushels to the acre, by weight, 35 bushels to the acre. A. L. Stoner had 31 acres in wheat, which yielded 828 bushels from the machine, being 27 heaped bushels to the acre. The whole amount of wheat raised on the farm from 41 acres, was 1,154 bushels from the machine, averaging 28 bushels to the acre, by machine measure.
Yours truly,
JOS. ROTHRACK.

I think our council made a mistake in getting a two wheel 100 gallon engine, for it is a man killer to pull; it weighs 2800 when charged.
I think your idea in getting two 55 gallon cylinders a good one, for the reason you can recharging the one, while you are exhausting the other.—In our case we lose about 15 minutes re-charging ours and that is a big thing if the fire gets a start. By all means get a two cylinder engine or two single engines.
We have a splendid hook and ladder truck with two eight gallon Babcock's on each side. The truck including the small Babcock's cost $300, and the engine $750.
In conclusion, would say that the Babcock Chemical Fire Extinguisher will do all they claim for it. Yours,
A. C. KEEPERS,
Chief Fire Department.
