SENSIBLE MEN'and women know ere diseases and derangements of the body each a separate cause or origin, and that each needs a different method of treatment in order to effect a cure, and a moment's reflection must convince that any of the quack nostrums foisted upon the public claiming to cure all of a number of diametricly different diseases must prove failures, even if we do not call them humbers.

POOR PROPIL and people of moderate well to do or wealthy find that the enorwell to do or wealthy find that the enormous charges of practising physicians are a serious burden to them, and also find that after paying themselves poor that no benefit has accrued to them, that in fact they have thrown their money away.
