DON'T YOU TELL.

If you have a cherished secret, Don't you tell.

Not your riend—for his tympanum
Is a bell, With its echoes, wide rebounding. Multiplied and far resounding; Don't you tell.

If yourself, you cannot keep it, Then, who can? Could you more expect of any Other man?
Yet you put him, if he tells it— If he gives away or sells it, Under ban.

In the mart; Of your wealth to feed the hungry Spare a part. Blessings on the open pocket, But your secret-ke-p it, lock it In your heart.
