Sods is water impregnated with carbonic acid gas. Carbonic acid gas is made from pulverized marble and vitriot. The marble is put into a receiver and mixed with the vitriol. The gas is thus generated, and after passing through purifiers or through water is ready to be charged into any kind of sweetened water. A bottling machine fills a bottle a second with the help of one operator. Over the bottling table are the teservoirs containing syrups, connected with the bottling machine. The carbonic acid gas, mingled with water, is let in, the strup faucet is opened and in the space of a second a battle of ginger sie, sarsaparitia, pap, or other maxure is resay for mar-

CHOICE ROSES.-Those who have choice roses often desire a few extra ones, either to bestow upon friends, or to use in enlarging their flower garden. In order to secure good strong pinnts, it is only Lecessary to select ripe shoots, well branched near the ground (preferring those limbs that if cut off would make a nice bushy plant) and with a sharp knife, back or notch the under ide so that when bent it o mes in coptact with the soil. These notches should be five in number, through to the heart or titch. Now bend the timb down and with the knile shit the limbs ore and a half mones up towards the end of the top, just below the notches, and be careful Lot to break the high; cover we inches in the sandy soil, and lay a orick or stone over it to keep it down. Kindling with enthusiasm as he recalled the great truggle of twenty years ago, Capt. J. R. Sanford, of Newark, who raised Company B of Md N. J. Zouavea, and went to the front with the m. said to a transfer "Yes, I was in eight of the flercest battles of the war ren Pines, Malvern Hill, Savage Station, Missionar litige and Ha rison's Landing are in the list, I started to go with sherman to the sea, but my right log was shiftered by a ball at the first engagement after the great march began. After the amputation was taken twenty-five miles and left in a tent at Bing silenized, as in the manufacture of hy-drochloric scid, Dr. Drinkwater found Then I was started on my way to Chattanooga 2 gold, Gz. A rain came on and my tent was flooded. miles distant. Just try to imagine the horror of that curney to a man in my condition. For years after wards I was shaken with every exertion. Yes, the loctors prescribe, as they always will when you ask them, but I keep my own doctor now, and he never pens his mouth."

"A dumb doctor" exclaimed the captain's caller.
"Yes, dumb as a mummy, but smart as lightning; there he is," pointing to a bottle of DR, DAVID REN.
