The Democracy, secured the Post cannon, last Saturday, and hailed it to the Court House yard and fired a salute for each York State elector which was in accordance with instructions which were the chairman of the Democratic National Committee that a salute should be fired for Cleveland.

The Democrat and Register remarks: Some people have an idea that it is not compulsory for a man to render assistance to an officer, when called upon by the latter, to make an arrest. Four men in Adams county thought so recently, and were fined $2.75 each, which they paid like little men to save imprisonment.

John and Fred Waldsmith, of Milford township, have a 3000 pound steer of their own raising. The Democracy talk of buying the animal and roasting it. It is too large, it cannot be handled. It will be a bigger job to roast it than to elect Cleveland. The Waldsmith brothers, it is said, ask $300 for the steer.

George, son of Dr. J. F. Thompson, was unfortunate on Saturday morning. He was playing in George C. Snyder's barn with other boys and he and Howard Keagle fell from the overhead to the threshing floor.
Howard escaped injury but George broke both wrist bones of the right arm. He ran home to his father who rendered the proper surgical aid.—Liverpool Sun.

This is the reason why cats wash their faces after meals: A cat caught a sparrow and was about to devour it, but the sparrow said: "No gentleman eats me till he has first washed his face." The cat, struck with this remark, sat the sparrow down and began to wash his face with his paw, but the sparrow flew away. This vexed puss exceedingly, and he said: "As long as I live I will eat first and wash my face afterward." Which all cats do to this day.—Old Fable.

The criminal negligence, of shooting at an object, without knowing what it may be, in the woods of a settled community, is again set forth, in the following item from the Liverpool Sun. Last week one day a citizen of Turkey Valley was out in the woods after turkeys, and he saw what he thought was a turkey moving about in the thick bushes, so he took deliberate aim with his rifle and fired at it. It was not a turkey, but one of Joseph Kain's boys covering his head about, and the bullet went through his hat and hair grazing the head.

In New York there has been a searching investigation for mistakes and irregularities in the work of election boards. In the 24th election district the entire board of canvassers was arrested and locked up in the Tomb because of a failure to file election returns. In Juniata county the same mistake was made, and if a fuss had occurred about who received the highest vote the return judge from Thompsonstown the return judge from Turbett, and the return judge from Black Log would all have been sent for and probably put under arrest for having failed to file their election returns in the office of the Prothonotary at the time prescribed by law. It is always best to comply with the act of Assembly and thus be out of the act.

Some days ago the family of Mr. Tommy, who lives at Thompson's Lock here, was stricken by a noise coming from the yard.
Attention was given to the noise and the family looked out into the yard where the sound came. Their eyes were greeted by an object on the ground. The previous result had been hollowed and it was concluded by the younger members of the family that a track was contemplated by the bandit that lay by the gate, however, the mysterious looking object was approached and opened and to the amazement of the family it contained a boy baby about 2 months old. A woman was seen getting off a passenger train at Thompsonstown the previous evening with a basket that looked like the one that the baby contained and it is believed that she left the baby at Tommy's.
Mrs. Nelson Collier, it is said, has taken the child to raise.

On Thursday afternoon a steam engine, which was at work at the barn of David Wertz, in Jackson township, exploded its boiler, instantly killing a young man named David Snyder. He had just come out from dinner and was fortunately the only man near the engine at the time. He was struck on the forehead by a piece of the boiler which split open his head and scattered his brains in various directions. The boiler and smokestack were thrown overboard and the boiler was set on fire and burned. The building together with many tons of hay, 1500 bushels of wheat, 1000 bushels of oats, 1000 bushels of corn and some farming implements, horse gears, &c.
There was an insurance in the North America of Philadelphia, of $1,200 on the building and $500 on the crop.

Mr. Snyder who was killed, was a son of Simon Snyder of Jackson twp., and aged about 25 years. He was not the regular engineer, as the weather being bad in the morning, the engineer had gone home, supposing that work at clover hulling would be done that day. As it cleared off, Snyder fired up with the above result.
The engine belonged to George Wentz, and the clover huller to James Baker.
The boiler fell 400 feet from where it started, alighting on, and killing a child.
Three colts were injured, as it was impossible to get them from the burning building.

Cure For Felon.
An exchange says: I wish to tell those who may suffer from that terrible affliction, felons, of a painless remedy that will effect a perfect cure in twenty-four hours, as I have had occasion to use it many times and these days I feel like the man who had been suffering over two weeks with a felon on the end of her middle finger. I saturated a bit of gauze with turpentine, the size of a finger, and applied it to the affected part.
It relieved the pain. It relieved the pain at once. In twelve hours there was a hole in the bone and the felon was destroyed.
I removed the turpentine and applied healing olive, and the finger is well.

Items.
A Lithitz blacksmith tried to enlarge the bung-hole of a whiskey barrel with a red-hot poker. He succeeded, but the barrel spread itself around so promiscuously in the explosion that followed the ignition of the gas in it that it was badly hurt.

James Miller, of Zion's Grove, Schuylkill county, aged 18 years, has just been married to Sarah Ziegler, of the same place, aged 52 years.

Last night we sailed, my love and I,
Last night and years ago;
Was it sea or moon we drifted through?
I think I shall never know.
We had no oar
We neared no shore,
We floated with the tide;
And the sea alight,
And none in the world beside.
I and my love, we sailed farewell—It was years and years away; We kissed our last in a life gone by—I think it was yesterday.
O, for heaven give me
A moon and sea
To sail when we both have a d,
With never an oar,
With never a shore,
Drifting eternally.

A Dangerous Bank.
The fully equipped parlor stove as a safe deposit vault received its latest ill-luminated in Brooklyn a few days ago. A hand-working painter sold his business lately and handed the proceeds—$800—to his wife to take care of until they completed their preparations for a European trip. With glowing eyes and a swelling bosom, she counted over the crisp new bills, and then casting about for a place of safety saw the unused stove in the front room, and said to herself that surely no burglar would ever look there for valuables. And inasmuch as the pipe had been removed, there was no danger that any member of the family would incidentally kindle a fire without her knowledge. The fact that she had converted the stove into a safe she carefully locked in her own breast. One day last week the head of the family had occasion to light his pipe in the parlor, and naturally he dropped the half-burned match into the stove.
When the painter's wife went to look for the money she found only some fragments of burned paper, there was a small merchant in that household. The trip to Europe was then postponed. The painter has secured a new stock of pots and brass (on credit), and his wife casts evil looks at the stove whenever she sees it, and is strongly tempted to throw it out of the window.

Washed-Out Hair.
There is a sort of pallid, chalky complexion which the medical call a "washed-out hair." It is a sign of a weak and no-mistake. Washed-out, faded, discolored, or part-colored hair is almost as repulsive and unpleasantly. Parker's Hair Balsam will restore your hair to its original color, whatever it was; brown, Auburn or black. Will wear on your head, when you may easily have lively, shining hair.

The Great Brooklyn Bridge.
The engineers have at last made the "grip" success upon the New York and Brooklyn Bridge Railroad. But this is weak compared to the grip which the Florence Oil Saver has upon the minds of the people. It cures and breaks up all kinds of rheumatism, and has ever cured any one could wish. Call upon local dealer, or write for particulars to Florence Machine Company, Florence, Mass.

as large a quantity of reading matter as the Sentinel and Republican. It is above all others the paper for the general reader.

Two Dangerous Seasons.
Spring and fall are times when so many people get sick. The changes in the weather are severe on feeble persons, and even those naturally strong are apt, as they say, "to be feeling miserable." Then they are just in condition to be struck down with some kind of fever. A bottle or two of Parker's Tonic will increase the digestion, put the liver, kidneys and blood in perfect order, and prevent more serious attacks. Why suffer, and perhaps die, when so simple a medicine will save you? Good for both sexes and all ages.
