

DEMOCRATIC OX ROAST AND JUBILEE!

During the past eight years the Democracy of this county have been desirous of having an ox roast, and last Wednesday night witnessed the accomplishment of their long cherished desire.

The ox was a live weight 1,000 pound steer, that Wm. Benks brought from Pittsburg. John Howe slaughtered and dressed the steer in Sissonm Sieber's slaughter house, in Pennamach township, and brought it to town on a spring wagon about 1 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, and hauled it to a field on the North farm, directly south of town, where a pan and spit and cover, that Dick Duncan had brought from Lancaster, had been put in place to receive the dead ox for the roasting process.

The ox was roasted in a large kettle that was kept at a boil over a fire by the jail wall in the rear of the Court House. Several thousand people partook of the feast. In the evening a torch light procession was indulged in. There were two hundred and thirty torches in line not counting the band torches.

Several bank failures were reported from Texas. The report does not state whether the cashier has shot himself, has run away or what his condition is.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS.

Virginia's Plague.

LYNCHBURG, Va., Nov. 20.—The counties suffering from the new and fatal disease before reported are Lee and Dickenson and the edge of Scott, in Virginia, and Harland, Lee and the adjoining counties in Kentucky.

Hundreds are said to have died, and allowing for exaggeration, it can be affirmed that the mortality is large.

He attributes it to a mineral poison in the drought-dried water, and says a strong and disagreeable mineral taste like that of copper exists.

At a Democratic jollification a Stoneboro, Venango county, man, attempting to shoot a revolver in the air, accidentally hit John Harris, a youth of 18, the ball passing just above the head.
