The County Superintendent to decide who had won the prize. Prof. Ailman, of Centre, was declared the winner, having kept the nearest and most attractive school room in the county.

The Bloomfield Freeman of March 11, says: As we understand it sixty million dollars—more than one million a week—have been appropriated to pay pensioners of the late war during the current fiscal year. It is possible that so large an amount is required to pay poor and disabled soldiers? Are the pension laws not a little loose? No one objects to pensioning the soldier who was in any way disabled by the war; but it is possible that all on the pension roll are meritorious cases?

Last week, the illness of Caleb Parker an aged citizen of this place, was mentioned in these columns. He died on Saturday morning, March 14, at 4 o'clock. Mr. Parker was born in Chester county on the 22nd day of January, 1807, and came to Mifflintown, in 1833. Mrs. Parker, his wife, survives. Five sons survive him, Robert Parker, of this town, Cloyd Parker, of Patterson, Pa., G. A. McCrem, of Millroy, Mifflin county, Thaddeus and James Parker, both of Pittsburg. Interment, on Monday, at 2 o'clock in Presbyterian graveyard.

Mr. McAllister has a lot of valuable information relative to the early settlement of what is now Juniata.

The Huntingdon Journal remarks: We read that "Judgment begins at the house of God." To this a few about this town discussing the characters and social standing of some of their neighbors one would suppose they had robbed God of that high prerogative and were doing the business themselves.

James Law, the oldest native born citizen of this town, was prostrated by an attack of paralysis, a few mornings ago while taking breakfast at the National Hotel. His friend, Mr. Hughes, saw him sink in his chair, ran to his assistance and with the help of other friends carried Mr. Law to his room, where he has lain ever since.

The Perry county Freeman of last week, remarks, out of seventeen cases which were appealed from County Courts to the Supreme Court on assignments of error, sixteen were affirmed and one reversed lately. It seems that lawyers do not know what the law is, or else that the Supreme Court makes its decisions in a hap-hazard manner.

A superintendent of a New York church was seeking to develop the idea of a school and a quadruped among the scholars, for representing a horse, the other a rooster. Holding them apart, in full view of the scholars, he asked in encouraging tones: "Now, which one is an LP?" "The rooster, sir," was the unanimous reply.—New York Mail.

The cost of the duds next year will be longer. So say people of fashion from across the sea. A preacher in this town not many months ago, said, fashion in the country goes to Philadelphia and New York for its patterns, and Philadelphia goes to London for patterns, and London goes to Paris for fashion, and Paris goes fashion straight from the devil.

According to the Williamsport Sun and Banner a girl in that city came near losing her life the other day by trying a foolish experiment. She had heard of an old saying that any girl who swallowed a raw chicken heart would have for her husband the first male person she took hands with, and, believing the proverb, attempted to swallow a chicken's raw heart, but failed. The heart stuck in her throat and would not move down or up. A doctor was called in, and arrived only in season to save the girl from an untimely death by choking.

Francis Hower set a trap to catch a fox that was prowling about his premises in Farmington township. The fox had a particular place to pass through a fence and at that place the trap was put, and completely covered with a light coating of snow. The first time the animal came that way he detected the trap and went around it. Hower deepened the snow on the trap till it could not be seen and the next night the cunning animal walked into the trap with his right front foot. He was one of the largest of the red fox family. The female fox is still at large and in all probability will remain so unless Hower's fox dogs catch her.

Communication. A SUDDEN DEATH. Jacob Sulouff died suddenly at his residence, in Fayette township, on Saturday evening, the 7th inst. Mr. Sulouff was attending preaching in the new church at Brown's Mills in the afternoon, where quite an interesting meeting is going on, conducted by Rev. Mr. Summers, of Tyrone, after returning home, Mr. Sulouff sat supper, and spent the evening pleasantly with his family, which consisted of himself and wife and three grand-children, he was rather more cheerful than usual. He retired about 8 o'clock, his wife retired shortly after, when she noticed him making a strange noise which she soon realized was death. She called her grand-children to bring a light, but by the time the light was brought he drew out one breath. Falsey is supposed to have been the cause of his death, he was sixty-six years, eleven months and ten days old. Mr. Sulouff was a member of the U. B. church for quite a number of years and an exemplary christian, his remains were conveyed on Tuesday to the U. B., burying ground at East Salem and laid away to await the resurrection. Rev. Kinnebreiser, and Summers, of the United Brethren and Rev. Bear, of the Evangelical church officiated.
