The post office agency in Patterson was closed last Thursday by the announcement that Howard Kirk had been appointed. Mr. Kirk is a pleasant young man and doubtless will make an efficient democratic official.

Ex-postmaster Books left the stairway of the upper side of the canal bridge at this place to the top path, a distance of about ten feet. If the hand rail had been in place he would not have fallen over.

Fans run by steam, were placed in many business houses in cities last week. Men whose employment is out of doors do not suffer as much from the heat as the indoor worker, or of the complaint of the indoor worker to be taken as a standard to judge by.

Under a law approved June 24, 1885, the Register of Wills is required to record all inventories and appraisments of the estate of any decedent, held in the office of Register of Wills, by executors or administrators in a book to be provided for that purpose.

The light of the burning of Spanogle's Mount Rock mill, near Lewistown, one night last week was seen by people in this town. Loss on building eight to ten thousand, insurance about five thousand dollars. A quantity of grain was burned.

Miss Kate A. Meyer, of Fernagh township, and Miss Mary W. McCulloch, of McCulloch's Mills, have been selected as two of the teachers of the public schools of Newport, Perry county, the former at a salary of $1.65 per day, and the latter at $1.50 per day.

Herbert L. Brown, of Philadelphia, came to the National House about 9 o'clock on Thursday evening, having that day ridden from Harrisburg on a bicycle. On Friday morning he resumed his journey on the pike, Huntington being the objective point for that day.

Not a particle of calumny or any other detestable substance enters into the composition of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. On the contrary, they prove of special service to those who have used calomel and other mineral poisons as medicines, and feel their injurious effects. In such cases Ayer's Pills are invaluable.

It is an antiquated idea that a newspaper or public journal should place a candidate's name at the head of some one of its columns months ahead of the time of election, as an advertisement for whom it is for office. Nearly all the live newspapers of these times have abandoned such methods of advertising candidates.

The Sheriff lost a night's sleep, last week, in keeping an open eye on Charley Parker and Philip Kank who made an effort to break out of jail, by cutting through the ceiling of their room. In addition to the attention of the Sheriff was the obstacle of iron bars across the joists between which the prisoners could not go.

On Saturday afternoon and evening, August 21st, there will be held a festival in Parker's Grove, Johnstown, for the benefit of the Sunday School and M. E. Church at that place. Some of the enterprising country newspapers that have had a branch department in Philadelphia were a part of their newspaper work has been executed, have dispensed with the expensive city department and now have all their work done at the home office. By some means, a Republican has been appointed postmaster at Matown, Lancaster county, and such another disturbance as is being created among the erring brethren has not been heard of in Old Lancaster in many days. Every democratic leader has lay on his horns cavorting around to go whosoever he finds that says a favorable word for the new Republican postmaster. It is not known that the post master keeps a gatting gun ready to protect him in his rights.

On Saturday a Mifflintown and a Thompson club of boys engaged in a match game of baseball. The Mifflintown boys won the game. Score, 14 to 5. On the same ground, in the afternoon, the Airy View club from Port Royal, and the Juniatas from Thompson, engaged in a match game of baseball. The Port Royal club was the victor. Score, 29 to 5. It was a big day for Juniatas ball-players.

New Methods of Selecting Jurors.
The following act was approved by the Governor on June 29th in reference to the selection of jurors for the trial of causes:
When any case shall be ready for trial some disinterested person shall, by direction of the Court, in open court, draw from the jury-box therein as aforesaid, twenty or more names, one after another, and if any of the jurors whose names shall be challenged and set aside for cause, such person shall proceed to draw as aforesaid a further number of the said papers until twenty jurors shall be written in a panel by the Prothonotary or Clerk, from which the plaintiff shall strike one name and the defendant one, and so alternately until each party shall have exercised the four peremptory challenges allowed by law, and the remaining twelve jurors, having been sworn or affirmed as the law directs shall be the jury to try such cause. Provided, that in case either party shall neglect or refuse to exercise any such strike as aforesaid, the Prothonotary Clerk shall strike the same on behalf of such party. And provided further, that whenever the first twelve jurors appearing in answer to the call of their names as aforesaid are satisfactory to the parties the calling of further jurors may be dispensed with.

A Grand Opportunity to Visit the Sea-shore at Low Rates.
The excursion to the sea-shore, provided by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, have been so successful and so cordial appreciated by the people of this section that the company has decided to run another to Atlantic City special train, on August 6th. As heretofore the special train will leave Pottsville at 8:00 A. M., running through to Philadelphia in twelve hours. Passengers after spending the night in the Quaker City may proceed to the shore on any of the numerous trains of the day following. The August temperature of these points is proverbial for its coolness, the torrid heat of the dog-days vanishes before the fresh breezes of the ocean, making life a luxury to the letter by the sea.

A ten days' stay on the shore goes far towards bracing up the tired worker than any other mode of recreation, and one must go a long way to find a pleasanter place for his vacation than either of the resorts mentioned. Sport and amusement is plentiful, and time never hangs heavy on one's hands at Atlantic or the Cape.

Excursion tickets, good for ten days, to be used going only on special train, but on any regular train returning within the limit, will be sold from stations named and at prices quoted: Pottsville, Irwin, Greensburg, Uniontown, Conestoga, Latrobe, Blairsville, Indiana, Apollo, Scotland, and Butler $10; Johnstown $9.25, Cresson $8.50, Altoona $8.00, Tyrone $7.50, Huntingdon $7.10, Cumberland $7.50, Bedford $6.50, Mount Union $6.75, McEwansburg $6.50, Lewistown Junction $6.00, Mifflin $5.50 and Newport $5.00.

In the early hours of the morning of the 22nd inst., thieves entered a second story window, in the south side of Lawyer Stone's house in this place and searched all the pockets of the clothes of Mr. Stone and his son Harry. The Doctor's pants were thrown out of the window to the yard for what reason, is known only to the thieves. A knife and several dollars of money were taken from the pockets. It is believed that the thieves entered the window by way of a boiler that was out down stairs and left the house by way of the south side kitchen door. On the same morning thieves entered the house of butcher John Howe by way of a ladder set to an open window from the parlor on Cherry street. They passed through a room occupied by Charles Howe to the room of Mr. Howe. They took his pants and a $50 gold watch and a $20 silver watch and went out by the way that they came in. Mr. Howe's pants were taken by the thieves to the pavement and from there were thrown into the alley-way between the dwelling-house of Howe and Aucker. The trousers contained two pocket books and what whatever money in the books was taken out, other papers were not removed. One book was found on the pavement, the other was found in Aucker's lot. The ladder, of ingers and egress, which had been brought from a cherry tree on the lot of Caleb Parker, decayed, lay on the pavement in front of Howe's house. A night watchman in front of the house of the night kept some of the family from sound sleep and they happened to be moving about at the time the burglary was to take place. The thief discovered the skylight inside or heard a door slammed by the wind and ran away.

At a late hour in the night or an early hour in the morning, Charles Parker of this place and a strange man, commonly called "The Tattoeer," who is believed to be from Chester county, and a third party were seen on Cherry street near from Howe's house. During the day following the robbery, John Howe made information against Charles Parker, believing him to have been concerned in the robbery of his watches and so forth and active measures were in the progress of institution when the proceedings for the time being were stayed by an action that was brought against Parker for having stolen a gold watch case from Dr. L. Banks. The theft of the watch was committed some time ago. The time keeper was sold to watchman, Wm. Rollman, in thistown by a colored man named T. E. Moore, of Port Royal. Rollman for some reason thought the watch or cases belonged to Dr. Banks, he made inquiry, Banks identified the cases. Moore was put under arrest, but was released upon the information that he received the watch as security for twenty-five cents that he loaned to Charley Parker. Charley never paid him the twenty-five cents and he kept the watch a certain time and then disposed of it. He did not know how Parker got the watch. Having this information Justice McDonald put Parker under bond to appear at court on the charge of having stolen Dr. Banks' watch. He could not secure bail and a bill was found on his person. This action stopped the Howe action but did not prevent Sheriff Shively from searching Charley's trunk for the plunder taken from Howe's house. None of Howe's goods were found, but several short sleeve cuffs with the name of L. Banks written on them were found, though the warrant was not in the interest of Banks, the finding of personal effects with his name on, caused a search warrant in his interest to be gotten out. The cuffs with the Doctor's name on them were found, a large lot of photographs of men and women, and a large number of keys, were found and handed over to Squire McDonald and he made an inventory of the same and filed it in the office of the Prothonotary. So the case stands at day.

Meeting of the Juniata Valley Medical Association.
On last Tuesday, the tenth annual meeting of the Juniata Valley Medical Association, was held at Cresson, and many of the Medical men with their friends attended the meeting. We, in company with the delegation from Mifflin, started for Cresson on Tuesday morning, on Pacific Express. As the train sped on its way through the Juniata Valley it began to fill up with Doctors, their wives, families and friends, and by the time Altoona was reached, the majority of the passengers were bound for Cresson. With several persons of the delegation from Mifflin, we took seats in the "observation car," a car with open sides, attached to the rear of the train, that runs daily between Altoona and Cresson. It is a cool place to ride and the view of the mountain that is obtained by looking from its open sides well relays for the smoke and cinder that have filled your throat and eyes. Passing through the Galtrix tunnel in the rear part of an open car thrills one with a strange sensation, passing from the cool and clear mountain air into the warm, foggy and smoky atmosphere of the tunnel, and the opening of the tunnel lit up with the morning sunlight, viewed from the rear car through the fog and smoke looks like the moon when almost full, the noise of the water dripping from the roof of the tunnel, and the rattle of cars, was enough to give ordinary mortal strange thoughts, and we were all absorbed in our own thoughts that the word "Cresson" shouted into the ear by the brakeman, as the train slowed up opposite Cresson Springs station, appeared to startle us. Then all was silent, except the noise made by the passengers alighting from the train, all again appeared to be engrossed with their own thoughts, and especially with thoughts occasioned by the sight of the "Mountain House," just presented to their view. Such an immense and grand structure, built on the summit of the Allegheny was met strangely out of place as it appeared, towering above the tallest trees of the surrounding grove, but upon a second look, it appeared to harmonize well with the grandeur of the surrounding summits and woods. The "Mountain House," the palace and hotel of the place is an immense structure, built after the Gothic style of architecture, and with the cottages surrounding it, has accommodations for five hundred guests. It stands about two hundred yards from the railroad station and on the summit of a steep hill. The Association marched from the station to the hotel in a body. They no doubt made an impression on the minds of the two hundred and fifty guests of the hotel, as they came up the board walk from the station. What that impression was, regular guests did not attend the meeting of the men of medicine, that august body of men did not impress them very favorably. Perhaps a feeling that the loss they had to do with medical men, the longer were their chances for living, took possession of them, but they did not express themselves in words, how are we to know. After having the smoke and cinder washed off our persons that had accumulated on our trip across the Allegheny mountain in an open car, we began to look about the place.

Cresson has become quite a summer resort. It is situated on the Pennsylvania Railroad about seventeen miles west of Altoona, and is twenty-two hundred feet above the level of the sea. The House is only open during the summer months. The guests are mostly western people. There are several springs of water about the grounds, that are said to have great medicinal qualities, namely: magnesia, iron, and alum water springs. There is also a large spring of mountain water in the grounds. The medical men soon became absorbed in looking about the magnificent building and grounds and in testing the drinking qualities of the different waters, and when the meeting was called to order, promptly at 10 o'clock A. M., by the President, Dr. L. Banks, of this place, not more than half the members were present, but they soon appeared on the scene, and proceeded to business. At one o'clock, the meeting adjourned for dinner, which was served at the Mountain House. The management placed in the Medical delegation and their friends at one table, and it was surprising to see the amount of "good things" that were disposed of, and among the different dinners, ordered was the "regular" dinner, but we all ate our fill share, and when we left the table we felt that the management of Cresson Springs hotel know how to get up a good dinner. A dinner that the learned ones of medical profession of the Juniata Valley pronounced excellent.

The afternoon, after the meeting adjourned was spent in social conversation, and a person seeing the doctors, only in a profession way, would have been surprised to see how they enjoyed each others company. They are a very jolly set, and some were more jolly than the delegation from Juniata county.

When the time came for departure, it was noticed that it was the older and married section of the Association that were loth to leave. Several of the younger ones and especially several medical students appeared to be in a great hurry to leave, and some one remarked, that it was a longing desire to see some beautiful and young female, whom they had not seen since the evening before, that was hurrying them home, but as to that being the case we cannot say.

The delegation from Juniata county, was composed of the following named persons: Dr. L. Banks, Dr. and Mrs. Sando, all of this place, Dr. and Mrs. Dechant, of Richfield; Medical students, "Robert" Crawford, and W. H. Banks; "Dovd" McCreary and Wilberforce Schweyer accompanied the delegation.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE MEETING.
The meeting was called to order by the President, Dr. L. Banks.

The Secretary, Dr. R. Deveraux, of Summit, Pa., being absent, Dr. H. Jacob, was elected Secretary, pro tem.

Secretary called the roll of active and honorary members. Letters from Dr. J. B. Shumaker were read.

The names of members who had died during the preceding year were removed from the roll.

On account of the President being unable to hear the motions as they were made, Dr. Rowan Clark, of Tyrone, was called to the aid of the President, to repeat the motions to him as they were made.

Under the head of unfinished business the Treasurer made a report, and was ordered by the meeting to meet the Secretary after adjournment and settle up last year's accounts.

The following named persons were proposed and accepted as members of the society: Dr. J. W. Dechant, of Richfield, Juniata county; Dr. W. T. Bishop, of Harrisburg; Dr. W. A. Lovingsgood, of Bellewood; Dr. Ludlow and Neff, of Philadelphia, were elected corresponding and honorary members of the Society.

The following committee for the election of officers and the selection of a place of meeting for the ensuing year, was appointed: Dr. J. M. Fay, of Tyrone; Dr. A. Rothrock, of McEwansburg; Dr. VanValzah, of Lewistown; Dr. G. W. Smith, of Hollidaysburg. They elected the following officers: President, Dr. J. D. Ross, of Altoona; Secretary, Dr. R. Deveraux, of Summit, Pa. Cresson is the place selected by the Committee for the next meeting.

Dr. Ross of Williamsport, and Dr. Clark, of Tyrone, were appointed a committee to choose oral subjects for discussion at the next meeting.

Dr. Lucien Banks, the President of the Association then delivered the Annual address. The Doctor delivered it in an able and eloquent manner and received the hearty applause of the audience.

A vote of thanks was extended to the Doctor, by the Society, for his able and eloquent address.

General discussion then followed upon the subjects: "Phthisis Pulmonalis contagiosa" and "of slight tendency to a State Board of Examiners and Licenses of those who are to practice medicine." The discussion upon the latter question became very interesting.

After the discussion the meeting adjourned to meet at Cresson, Springs in 1886.
