A Baptist clergyman in Dakota has held a great plowing and sowing bee, and seeded to wheat a large tract of land given by a wealthy member. If all goes well the church will have several thousand bushels of wheat next season.

It is said that city hotel waiters have an organization to encourage "tipping" and that the boarder or traveler that does not "tip" is always given a slow and reluctant attendance. In other words if you desire a just attendance. In other words if you desire a just attendance at hotels you must bribe or buy the servants to wait on you properly.

The editor of the Philadelphia Record came nearly being angry when he wrote the following: The Iowa Democrats fused with the Greenbackers in the choice of candidates for a joint ticket, but they abstained from putting any Greenbackery in their platform. This sort of fraud will not impose upon anybody. When men go about honest business they don't take rogues into partnership.

WHENEVER a Republican President left the White House for a few days in the country for rest from the labors of the Presidential office it was the habit of Democrats to set up a disapproving shout they declared that the President was doing nothing but running about, but now that Pres. Cleveland and nearly all his Cabinet are off on a junket, the former fault finding Democrats are as quiet as political mice.

The Philadelphia Bulletin says: Seventeen years ago the death penalty for murder in the first degree was abolished by Minnesota, and life imprisonment was substituted; but the gallows has just been re-erected. Michigan tried the same experiment, and not long since a bill was passed by the lower House of the Legislature re-enacting the hanging policy, although it failed of adoption in the Senate. Maine did not hang for six years, and then went back to capital punishment.

Who Next?

THERE is an unwashed and unperfected Democratic editor, named Davis, walking around in the Pension office shoes of Col. W. A. Norris at Philadelphia, as an appointee of President Cleveland. Davis appointed as his chief clerk, an ex-confederate soldier named Barbere. The ex-confederate had not only been a soldier in the rebel cause but he had been a newspaper and book writer against the north. His articles of the bloody shirt, were of last ditch kind, and when Davis took him in, there was a howl along the Union line against the man for his bloody writing and fighting. He resigned, Davis put a man named Paine in his place and now it turns out that while Paine was a Union soldier, he is more objectionable than the rebel, for the reason that he has not been honest. He was arraigned before court for having obtained money on false pretense, he pleaded guilty, and was kept out of jail by the tenderness of the court. Davis was compelled to drop Paine. Who he will take next is a question of conjecture. He has been unfortunate in his selections to such a degree that it is asked, "who next?"

A Canada dealer in hides has issued a circular telling farmers that calves should be partly skinned before they are killed, in order that the hide at the throat may not be damaged by the mortal cut.

At Waterloo, N. Y., a few nights ago, two tons of hay overloading a wagon forced the iron arch of the rack down on one of the iron tires. Fire followed the friction, and sparks flew into the hay. Thereupon the horses took fright, and a flying bonfire on the highway made the farmers wonder.

Premium on Wild Cats, Foxes, etc.

An act for the destruction of wolves, wild cats, hawks, weasels and owls in this Commonwealth, was passed by the Legislature, and approved June 23, 1885. It contains five sections. The first section gives the following premiums to be paid by the respective counties in which they are slain, namely: for every wild cat, two dollars; for every red or gray fox, one dollar; for every mink fifty cents; for every weasel, fifty cents; and for every owl, except the Screech owl or barn owl, fifty cents. Section two provides that, to obtain the premium, the skin animal or bird must be produced before the magistrate, alderman or justice of the peace of the county in which the same was killed and make affidavit of the time and place of killing the same, or produce the pelt of animal or bird, and it shall be the duty of such magistrate or justice of the peace, in the presence of the person killing such animal or bird and one elector of the county to cut off the ears of such animal, or the head of such bird, and in the presence of such person burn the same. Justice of the peace, &c., shall receive from the county twenty cents in full compensation for all services under the act. Violation of the act in any form is a misdemeanor, punishable by fine not exceeding $200 and imprisonment not exceeding one year, or either, at both at the discretion of the Court.

Three Tramps Thrashed.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., August 18.—The residence of Noah Lockbill, on a farm near Brown's Valley, was entered by tramps on Sunday night. Lockbill was awakened by the noise sprang from his bed and closed with the one in the room. The burglar re-entered by two others. Mr. Lockbill is a powerful man, and flung the captured burglar against the two others in such a manner as to bring the three to the floor. Then he went at the clothes line, and together they bound the tramps, sat down and waited for them to recover. When the tramps regained consciousness, Mr. Lockbill asked them which they preferred—to be taken to Crawfordsville and be placed in jail, where they stood the chance of several years in the penitentiary, or to be led out, one at a time, and receive such a whipping as he would administer. They chose the latter, and the farmer took them out severally, tied them to the gate posts, and administered 100 lashes to each tramp with a large new rawhide wagon whip. Each stroke of the whip raised a huge welt on the back of the tramps, and when the operation was completed a pool of blood could be seen where they had stood. Their piteous cries for mercy called in the neighbors, until quite a little audience had assembled to witness the chastisement of tramp No. 3. All sympathized with the irate farmer the performance went on till he had completed the hundred lashes.

Had Their Fortunes Told.

An occurrence took place near Frick's farm, Eden township, which came near ending in a tragedy, in a large strip of woods where a band of twenty gypsies were encamped. The men traded horses and the women told fortunes. Several old hags visited the home of Jared Umpton and wanted to tell his wife's fortune. She finally consented, and paid one dollar for a long yarn concerning the alleged shortcomings of her husband. The wife then left for a neighbor's in the chimney, keeping the matter a secret from his wife. On the following morning the wife saw traces of salt and pepper strewn about the closet, and probably from something told her by the gypsy immediately suspected her husband of mixing poison with these articles. The accused him of the supposed crime and a quarrel ensued. She husband did not explain about the bag in the chimney and the finally continued.

The wife finally carried the articles containing what she supposed to be poison to her sister, residing not far distant, and both returned to the unhappy household together. Another stormy scene ensued between husband and wife, the latter goaded on by her sister when the enraged woman caught up a butcher knife and made a force strike at the husband's breast, wounding him. In self defense the imperiled man at last knocked his wife down, the knife flying from her grasp. The affair created great excitement among those who heard of it and the gypsies were routed out by the excited farmers. Five of the gypsies were arrested at Bowmanville for swindling in bogus horse trades.—Everett Press.

A newspaper man lamented over the fact that women use newspapers to make babies. A fellow newspaper man thought that his journalistic brother should not grow dependent for if the newspaper failed to improve the mind of the lady, it improved the appearance of her person. The newspaper then is good for both, intellectual and physical defects.

Two engines drawing a freight train on the Lehigh and Susquehanna road were thrown off the track near Lewisport, on Wednesday night, about 11 o'clock, by a stone that lay over the track. The engineers, firemen and brakemen escaped without serious injury.

On an average each person in the United States drinks 9-10 pounds of coffee in a year, and 1-2 pounds of tea in a year. In Great Britain the order of drinking is changed, that is, they drink more tea than coffee. The average person in England drinks about 4-5 pounds of tea and only 0-3 of a pound of coffee. Combining the two liquids, our people drink another time as much as the British.

"Minneapolis has a peculiar ordinance regulating the liquor traffic. Besides charging a license fee of $500, the ordinance marks out certain patrol limits, including the business portion of the city, within which all saloons there are to be established, and where they can be kept under close police inspection. As to the rest of the city, including all the main residence portions of the city, where probably nine-tenths of the inhabitants have their homes, absolute saloon prohibition prevails, and is rigidly enforced."

The last of the series of excursions to the seashore, which have proven of such value to the people of this section during the summer, will be run by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company on Thursday, August 27th. All who have not availed themselves before of this excellent opportunity to take a flying trip to the shore, should grasp this last chance. This is really the choicest period of the season, and ten days passed now under the reviving influences of sea baths and ocean air, will be of the greatest benefit to those who have worked through the heat and burden of the summer. Pleasure coaches too will find everything they could desire in the way of amusement. There are more people both at Cape May and Atlantic City than there have been at any time this season, and the gayety and life of the coast reaches its highest point in the latter days of August. No one could choose a more agreeable time nor a livelier one for a vacation trip to the seashore.

Excursion tickets to good for ten days, for use going only on special train and to return by any regular train within the limit will be sold, as heretofore, from stations following at the rates quoted, and the special will run on schedule attached—
