

B. F. SCHWEIER, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

The wheat crop in Europe is reported as a full one.

What did Vanderbilt start the South Pennsylvania railroad for?

Think of General Butler skinning the Indians. The men who ran him for the Presidency, last year, did not know the man.

Chicago educators are denouncing the wretched combination of vowels and consonants as they exist in the English language.

Who would have believed it, that General Butler would have become a party to skin the Indians through cattle grazing leases?

Alas! how the great have fallen. General Butler in the role of a cattle dealer trying to over-reach the Indian in leaving their lands.

The Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture of Kansas has not issued and will not issue a crop report for the month of August.

The men who brought the career of many Chinamen to an end, in Wyoming Territory, last week, after the most approved Indian style should be punished.

Ward, the New York swindler was before the Supreme Court of York State the other day. He testified that he had drawn checks to the amount of $20,000,000.

People who have not been vaccinated within a period of seven years, may do well to vaccinate now, as there is a small-pox epidemic threatened in Canada. Lock the stable before the horse is stolen.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND, under an act of Congress has warned certain cattle dealers to cease from trespassing on Indian reservations. Butler talks about suing the President, for interfering and declaring his so-called contract with the red men, void.

CALL UP the history of the Democratic party on the question of legalizing corporations. Call the roll of the Democratic party and see how many of its members belong to corporations and then think of the action of the late Democratic State Convention.

Two women driving in a phaeton, near Alpine, N. J., were stopped by two tramps who demanded their money. One woman threw her pocket-book containing $6, and screamed. The tramps took the book and fled. People in that part of Jersey are talking about traveling with shot guns.

WHERE are the good times that the Democrats promised one year ago? Do you believe you have heard it all? Wait reader, till Cleveland addresses the coming Congress. Meanwhile put yourself on the safe side by voting the Republican ticket at the coming election. You know there is nothing like being on the safe side.

The late Democratic State Convention must have been under the influence of "Appolinian Spring" water, when it did its best to create the impression that corporations and the Republican party are one and the same thing. If it means that the Republican party sold the public works and by that means got rid of $40,000,000 Democratic debt which each year was getting larger, it is an illustration of the saying, that sometimes drunken people tell the truth.

You will hold up your hands in amazement, when informed of the fact that General Benjamin Butler, of Massachusetts, is one of a company of men who leased from the Indians a range of country on their reservation, for the purpose of pasturing cattle. The General's work comes under the ban of President Cleveland's Proclamation, to get off the reservation. Butler threatens to sue the President. The merits in the case would warrant a suit against Butler & Company.

GERMANY and Spain are on the eve of a war about the ownership of Yap, one of the Caroline group of islands in the Pacific ocean. On the 21st of August, Spain sent two gun-boats to land a company and occupy the island. The commander frisked his troops away, and did not land the troops. On the evening of 24th ult., a German gun-boat came to the island, and before the Spanish commander realized it, a company of German troops occupied the island. The news led to riots against Germans in Spain.

War Against Chinese.

On the 2nd inst., the Chinese in the mining town of Rock Springs, Wyoming Territory, were driven from the place and such houses as they occupied were burned, about fifty houses were destroyed by fire, a number of Chinamen perished in the flames. A number were shot dead as they fled from the burning buildings and a still larger number were wounded. The onslaught on the Chinamen was caused by white people believing that contractors were employing too many Chinamen, there were some six hundred in that community. They had been ordered to leave within an hour of a certain time, they agreed to do so, and started to pack up, but in about half an hour the white men grew impatient and advanced upon the Chinese quarters, shouting and firing their guns into the air. With-out offering resistance the Chinese fled with whatever they could snatch up. They fled to the hills about a mile east of town, the miners firing at them as they fled. The Governor of Wyoming Territory called on President Cleveland for troops to put down the war on the Chinese.

A Saw-Dust Swindler Killed. Thomas Davies, of New York city, better known as "Tom" Davies or "Sawdust Tom," gambler, sporting man and swindler, was shot dead by an intended victim while attempting to swindle him at the old time sawdust game, on the 31st day of August, at No. 113, West Broadway, New York city, by a Texan named Holland. Holland had come to the city after having had some correspondence with the swindler, Davies. The Texan was to pay five hundred dollars, good money, or ten thousand dollars counterfeit money. It appears that the game that the Davies brothers were working was to show good money to all their victims, place it convenient to a partition that had a sliding panel. A Davies on the other side of the partition would take the panel, reach through, take the package of money and replace it with a package of sawdust, which the victim would carry away with him when he was ready to leave the confidence place. Holland was to be worked as other victims had been worked.

Tom Davies counted out what Holland thought was right looking counterfeit money, but which, in fact, was $10,000 in good money, which he carefully wrapped up in three packages and placed in a new black satchel that he had provided for the purpose. The satchel with the money in it was then placed in a recess in the desk and Holland took out his wallet to pay for his supposed counterfeits. In the next room was Theodore Davies, the brother and "pal" of "Tom," ready to play his part in the game. When Holland was apparently busily engaged in counting out his money "Tom" Davies gave a signal, which was agreed upon, and Theo. softly opened a panel in the partition between the two rooms, just behind the desk on which was deposited the satchel containing the $10,000. After opening the panel he drew the satchel quickly toward him and as quickly substituted for it a satchel precisely similar containing three neat packages of blank paper cut to the size of bank bills. As quick as the substitution was made, however, it was not quick enough to escape the eye of the suspicious Texan. As he saw the change of the satchel he shoved the roll of bills into his pocket and drawing his revolver from another pocket he shouted fiercely: "You scoundrel! you are trying to rob me!" At a glance Davies saw that his game was discovered, and that the Texan "meant business." He was unarmed himself, and was therefore only intent on escape. He leaped from the chair and made a desperate jump for the door. He was not quick enough, however, for as he got opposite Holland the latter pulled the trigger and sent a bullet crashing through Davies' body. The stricken man gave a cry and staggered a step toward the door and then fell to the floor dying. The bullet had struck the fifth rib, an inch to the left of the nipple, went clear through him, striking the ninth rib on the right side, and then burying itself in the partition separating the office from the carriage factory. The pistol was so close to him that his coat was scorched. Without waiting to see the result of the first shot Holland wheeled around quickly and sent a bullet through the partition and into the room where Theodore Davies was, but he was not struck. Holland walked quietly out of the place, but had not come far when he was arrested. He said: "They tried to rob me, and I laid 'em out." Then catching sight of a black satchel lying on the floor he exclaimed: "Keep that satchel. That's my defence." It was the satchel with the sawdust. The other satchel had been carried off by the surviving Davies. Holland was taken back to where the swindler lay. He was lying on his back with the blood slowly oozing from a wound in his chest. In his right hand was clutched a $5 bill. A search of Davies showed that he had in his possession $554 in United States currency, $42 in Canada money, a gold watch, a pearl-handled knife and a bunch of keys. No pistol or weapon of any kind was found on him. The bullet that killed him was found in the plank partition, and was extracted. In the desk was a number of papers, including forty-one bonds of the face value of $500 each of the town of Mattoon, Ill. They were signed by W. O. Ellis, clerk and Thomas P. C. Lane, supervisor. They had twenty years to run from July 1, 1871, and none of the coupons had been cut off. There was also a number of certificates of stock of the Pioneer and Inskip Mill and Mining Company and the Santa Rita Silver Mining Company.

Thomas Davies, of New York city, better known as "Tom" Davies or "Sawdust Tom," gambler, sporting man and swindler, was shot dead by an intended victim while attempting to swindle him at the old time sawdust game, on the 31st day of August, at No. 113, West Broadway, New York city, by a Texan named Holland. Holland had come to the city after having had some correspondence with the swindler, Davies. The Texan was to pay five hundred dollars, good money, or ten thousand dollars counterfeit money. It appears that the game that the Davies brothers were working was to show good money to all their victims, place it convenient to a partition that had a sliding panel. A Davies on the other side of the partition would take the panel, reach through, take the package of money and replace it with a package of sawdust, which the victim would carry away with him when he was ready to leave the confidence place. Holland was to be worked as other victims had been worked.

Tom Davies counted out what Holland thought was right looking counterfeit money, but which, in fact, was $10,000 in good money, which he carefully wrapped up in three packages and placed in a new black satchel that he had provided for the purpose. The satchel with the money in it was then placed in a recess in the desk and Holland took out his wallet to pay for his supposed counterfeits. In the next room was Theodore Davies, the brother and "pal" of "Tom," ready to play his part in the game. When Holland was apparently busily engaged in counting out his money "Tom" Davies gave a signal, which was agreed upon, and Theo. softly opened a panel in the partition between the two rooms, just behind the desk on which was deposited the satchel containing the $10,000. After opening the panel he drew the satchel quickly toward him and as quickly substituted for it a satchel precisely similar containing three neat packages of blank paper cut to the size of bank bills. As quick as the substitution was made, however, it was not quick enough to escape the eye of the suspicious Texan. As he saw the change of the satchel he shoved the roll of bills into his pocket and drawing his revolver from another pocket he shouted fiercely: "You scoundrel! you are trying to rob me!" At a glance Davies saw that his game was discovered, and that the Texan "meant business." He was unarmed himself, and was therefore only intent on escape. He leaped from the chair and made a desperate jump for the door. He was not quick enough, however, for as he got opposite Holland the latter pulled the trigger and sent a bullet crashing through Davies' body. The stricken man gave a cry and staggered a step toward the door and then fell to the floor dying. The bullet had struck the fifth rib, an inch to the left of the nipple, went clear through him, striking the ninth rib on the right side, and then burying itself in the partition separating the office from the carriage factory. The pistol was so close to him that his coat was scorched. Without waiting to see the result of the first shot Holland wheeled around quickly and sent a bullet through the partition and into the room where Theodore Davies was, but he was not struck. Holland walked quietly out of the place, but had not come far when he was arrested. He said: "They tried to rob me, and I laid 'em out." Then catching sight of a black satchel lying on the floor he exclaimed: "Keep that satchel. That's my defence." It was the satchel with the sawdust. The other satchel had been carried off by the surviving Davies. Holland was taken back to where the swindler lay. He was lying on his back with the blood slowly oozing from a wound in his chest. In his right hand was clutched a $5 bill. A search of Davies showed that he had in his possession $554 in United States currency, $42 in Canada money, a gold watch, a pearl-handled knife and a bunch of keys. No pistol or weapon of any kind was found on him. The bullet that killed him was found in the plank partition, and was extracted. In the desk was a number of papers, including forty-one bonds of the face value of $500 each of the town of Mattoon, Ill. They were signed by W. O. Ellis, clerk and Thomas P. C. Lane, supervisor. They had twenty years to run from July 1, 1871, and none of the coupons had been cut off. There was also a number of certificates of stock of the Pioneer and Inskip Mill and Mining Company and the Santa Rita Silver Mining Company.

Tom Davies counted out what Holland thought was right looking counterfeit money, but which, in fact, was $10,000 in good money, which he carefully wrapped up in three packages and placed in a new black satchel that he had provided for the purpose. The satchel with the money in it was then placed in a recess in the desk and Holland took out his wallet to pay for his supposed counterfeits. In the next room was Theodore Davies, the brother and "pal" of "Tom," ready to play his part in the game. When Holland was apparently busily engaged in counting out his money "Tom" Davies gave a signal, which was agreed upon, and Theo. softly opened a panel in the partition between the two rooms, just behind the desk on which was deposited the satchel containing the $10,000. After opening the panel he drew the satchel quickly toward him and as quickly substituted for it a satchel precisely similar containing three neat packages of blank paper cut to the size of bank bills. As quick as the substitution was made, however, it was not quick enough to escape the eye of the suspicious Texan. As he saw the change of the satchel he shoved the roll of bills into his pocket and drawing his revolver from another pocket he shouted fiercely: "You scoundrel! you are trying to rob me!" At a glance Davies saw that his game was discovered, and that the Texan "meant business." He was unarmed himself, and was therefore only intent on escape. He leaped from the chair and made a desperate jump for the door. He was not quick enough, however, for as he got opposite Holland the latter pulled the trigger and sent a bullet crashing through Davies' body. The stricken man gave a cry and staggered a step toward the door and then fell to the floor dying. The bullet had struck the fifth rib, an inch to the left of the nipple, went clear through him, striking the ninth rib on the right side, and then burying itself in the partition separating the office from the carriage factory. The pistol was so close to him that his coat was scorched. Without waiting to see the result of the first shot Holland wheeled around quickly and sent a bullet through the partition and into the room where Theodore Davies was, but he was not struck. Holland walked quietly out of the place, but had not come far when he was arrested. He said: "They tried to rob me, and I laid 'em out." Then catching sight of a black satchel lying on the floor he exclaimed: "Keep that satchel. That's my defence." It was the satchel with the sawdust. The other satchel had been carried off by the surviving Davies. Holland was taken back to where the swindler lay. He was lying on his back with the blood slowly oozing from a wound in his chest. In his right hand was clutched a $5 bill. A search of Davies showed that he had in his possession $554 in United States currency, $42 in Canada money, a gold watch, a pearl-handled knife and a bunch of keys. No pistol or weapon of any kind was found on him. The bullet that killed him was found in the plank partition, and was extracted. In the desk was a number of papers, including forty-one bonds of the face value of $500 each of the town of Mattoon, Ill. They were signed by W. O. Ellis, clerk and Thomas P. C. Lane, supervisor. They had twenty years to run from July 1, 1871, and none of the coupons had been cut off. There was also a number of certificates of stock of the Pioneer and Inskip Mill and Mining Company and the Santa Rita Silver Mining Company.

HARRISBURG, September 2.—John E. Ricker, a Dauphin county farmer, was recently relieved of one thousand dollars. Two men, who registered their names as D. D. Foster, of Boston, and D. N. Davis, of Philadelphia, informed Ricker of a desire to graze sheep on his farm. While negotiating with them they told him they had a scheme by which he might make two thousand dollars out of an investment of one thousand dollars. The unsuspecting farmer, in company with one of the men, came to this city and took one thousand dollars out of a bank. At a secluded spot a few moments later the two men compelled Ricker to deliver his money to them. They made their escape hurriedly and now one hundred dollars reward is offered for their arrest.

THE WORK OF TRAMPS. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 3.—The Journalist St. Joseph, Mo., special says: "A gang of seven tramps early yesterday morning took possession of the south bound freight train on the Kansas City and St. Joe and Council Bluffs road at Lake Station, five miles south of this city, and held it about three hours. The train was on a side track, and when an attempt was made to go ahead, it was found that the switch had been closed, the work of tramps, who had been expelled from the cars a few minutes before. Trainers undertook to open the switch, but were driven away by tramps, who fired a number of shots at them. No one was injured and the train succeeded in capturing two of the tramps, who were imprisoned here to-day. One gave the name of Tom O'Bried, the other Mike Slattery. The former had a fine gold watch, with the name of A. W. Jones engraved on the case.

Acquitted. CARLEISLE PA., September 2.—The trial of Daniel Clever for the killing of William Martin at Oakville, this county, last May, ended to-day with a verdict of acquittal. The case was in the jury's hands less than two hours, and when the verdict was announced in the court house a tumultuous scene followed. The relatives and friends of the accused rushed upon him and hugged and kissed him for joy, and the spectators applauded long and loud. The proposition for the shooting was the supposed seduction of Clever's wife by young Martin. Clever suspected undue intimacy between the two, one evening, when she was visiting friends in the town. He was also suspicious, went to where his wife was visiting and found her and Martin in a room together by themselves. He broke down the door, and Martin ran out, Clever shooting after him several times as he ran. Martin was hit twice and died the second day after the shooting. He was but 20 years of age, while Clever was 34. Great interest was felt in the case throughout the whole county, and the court house was crowded during each of the five days of the trial.

Paper pulp is now moulded into spokers for carriage and wagon wheels, and is said to be superior to wood in every respect, and much cheaper and easier made. A baby was born recently in McCook county, Dakota, which only weighed two pounds. A quarter of a dollar will completely cover the palm of its hand, and a finger ring makes a nice bracelet for it.

CAUTION NOTICE. All persons are hereby cautioned against trespassing upon the lands hereunder designated, whether seated or unseated, in possession of, for the purpose of fishing, hunting, gathering berries, cutting timber, or for any unnecessary purpose. Benjamin Schellberger, Joseph Pine, Wm. Norman, John Kellner, Isaac Schellberger, Lucien Ankner, (June 11, 1885.) S. H. Kluener.

PEABODY HOTEL, Ninth St., south of Chestnut, one square south of the New Post Office, one square from Walnut St. Theatre and in the very business centre of the city. On the American and European plans. Good rooms from $10 to $20 per day. Refreshments and newly furnished. W. FAINE, M. D., Owner and Proprietor. Nov. 21, 1884, 17.

ITEMS. Crops in Wisconsin have been damaged somewhat by frosts. A Chinaman has opened a laundry at Bellefonte, Centre county. Late corn was badly damaged by a heavy frost at Stanton, Va. John H. Mohr, 72 years, of East Texas, Leigh county, was buried in a marble coffin. This season is the worst for the circus that they have known in ten years, it is said that not one has cleared any money, and many have lost heavily. The apprehension of the personal property of the Henry Singmaster, of Stroudsburg, amounted to $92,000. The real estate is estimated to be worth $30,000. Nearly all the money goes to the Lutheran colleges. Out of ten who started five years ago in the business of torpedoing oil wells in the region of Duke Center, McKean county, two brothers named Gallagher are the only survivors, the other eight having come to their deaths by the explosions of nitroglycerine used in this risky business. The barn of W. H. Harter, in Greenwood township, Perry county, was destroyed by fire, some nights ago, with the season's crops, farm implements, etc., the loss amounting to $2,800, covered by insurance. This is the third barn Mr. Harter has lost by fire during the last eight years. A Nebraska man claims to have discovered, by means of a microscope, the existence of a human soul. It would require a more powerful microscope than has ever been invented to discover the souls of the New York Skylocks who pay women twenty cents a dozen for making shirts. General Andrew Frank of Marlborough, Pa., has a famous mare, but kills from three to half dozen rats every night. When the rats come into the house to eat the food, she seizes them by the back gives them a grip with her teeth, opens her mouth, and they drop dead at her feet. As a rat exterminator she is worth half a dozen cats.

Portland, Oregon, Sept. 2.—The dead body of Daniel Church, a prominent farmer of the Mohawk valley, in Lane county, was found in a bullet hole in the back. Shortly afterward his wife was found back of the house with her face mashed in as if by a heavy club or other blunt instrument. She is still alive but there is no hope for her recovery. A boy belonging to Andrew Boggs, a neighbor, was found near the prostrate Mrs. Church, and a search party on going to Boggs' ranch found him hanging to the rafters in the barn, having committed suicide.

For Two Cents. A Silver dollar weighs very nearly an ounce. Hence any letter not heavier than the dollar can go for a single cent stamp. This is easily remembered. If you want to be more exact, take a silver dollar and a silver five-cent piece, and you have an ounce almost to a feather's weight. Provided you haven't the silver dollar handy use two halves, or if you have nickels only five of them and a small copper cent will give you nearly the ounce. As ninety nine letters out of one hundred will fall within the ounce weight, this simple system of weighing will serve for general use. It is the result of some tests made by Chief Clerk Woodhouse of the New York Postoffice.—Ex.

THE OLD STORY. HARRISBURG, September 2.—John E. Ricker, a Dauphin county farmer, was recently relieved of one thousand dollars. Two men, who registered their names as D. D. Foster, of Boston, and D. N. Davis, of Philadelphia, informed Ricker of a desire to graze sheep on his farm. While negotiating with them they told him they had a scheme by which he might make two thousand dollars out of an investment of one thousand dollars. The unsuspecting farmer, in company with one of the men, came to this city and took one thousand dollars out of a bank. At a secluded spot a few moments later the two men compelled Ricker to deliver his money to them. They made their escape hurriedly and now one hundred dollars reward is offered for their arrest.

THE WORK OF TRAMPS. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 3.—The Journalist St. Joseph, Mo., special says: "A gang of seven tramps early yesterday morning took possession of the south bound freight train on the Kansas City and St. Joe and Council Bluffs road at Lake Station, five miles south of this city, and held it about three hours. The train was on a side track, and when an attempt was made to go ahead, it was found that the switch had been closed, the work of tramps, who had been expelled from the cars a few minutes before. Trainers undertook to open the switch, but were driven away by tramps, who fired a number of shots at them. No one was injured and the train succeeded in capturing two of the tramps, who were imprisoned here to-day. One gave the name of Tom O'Bried, the other Mike Slattery. The former had a fine gold watch, with the name of A. W. Jones engraved on the case.

Acquitted. CARLEISLE PA., September 2.—The trial of Daniel Clever for the killing of William Martin at Oakville, this county, last May, ended to-day with a verdict of acquittal. The case was in the jury's hands less than two hours, and when the verdict was announced in the court house a tumultuous scene followed. The relatives and friends of the accused rushed upon him and hugged and kissed him for joy, and the spectators applauded long and loud. The proposition for the shooting was the supposed seduction of Clever's wife by young Martin. Clever suspected undue intimacy between the two, one evening, when she was visiting friends in the town. He was also suspicious, went to where his wife was visiting and found her and Martin in a room together by themselves. He broke down the door, and Martin ran out, Clever shooting after him several times as he ran. Martin was hit twice and died the second day after the shooting. He was but 20 years of age, while Clever was 34. Great interest was felt in the case throughout the whole county, and the court house was crowded during each of the five days of the trial.

Acquitted. CARLEISLE PA., September 2.—The trial of Daniel Clever for the killing of William Martin at Oakville, this county, last May, ended to-day with a verdict of acquittal. The case was in the jury's hands less than two hours, and when the verdict was announced in the court house a tumultuous scene followed. The relatives and friends of the accused rushed upon him and hugged and kissed him for joy, and the spectators applauded long and loud. The proposition for the shooting was the supposed seduction of Clever's wife by young Martin. Clever suspected undue intimacy between the two, one evening, when she was visiting friends in the town. He was also suspicious, went to where his wife was visiting and found her and Martin in a room together by themselves. He broke down the door, and Martin ran out, Clever shooting after him several times as he ran. Martin was hit twice and died the second day after the shooting. He was but 20 years of age, while Clever was 34. Great interest was felt in the case throughout the whole county, and the court house was crowded during each of the five days of the trial.

Acquitted. CARLEISLE PA., September 2.—The trial of Daniel Clever for the killing of William Martin at Oakville, this county, last May, ended to-day with a verdict of acquittal. The case was in the jury's hands less than two hours, and when the verdict was announced in the court house a tumultuous scene followed. The relatives and friends of the accused rushed upon him and hugged and kissed him for joy, and the spectators applauded long and loud. The proposition for the shooting was the supposed seduction of Clever's wife by young Martin. Clever suspected undue intimacy between the two, one evening, when she was visiting friends in the town. He was also suspicious, went to where his wife was visiting and found her and Martin in a room together by themselves. He broke down the door, and Martin ran out, Clever shooting after him several times as he ran. Martin was hit twice and died the second day after the shooting. He was but 20 years of age, while Clever was 34. Great interest was felt in the case throughout the whole county, and the court house was crowded during each of the five days of the trial.

Acquitted. CARLEISLE PA., September 2.—The trial of Daniel Clever for the killing of William Martin at Oakville, this county, last May, ended to-day with a verdict of acquittal. The case was in the jury's hands less than two hours, and when the verdict was announced in the court house a tumultuous scene followed. The relatives and friends of the accused rushed upon him and hugged and kissed him for joy, and the spectators applauded long and loud. The proposition for the shooting was the supposed seduction of Clever's wife by young Martin. Clever suspected undue intimacy between the two, one evening, when she was visiting friends in the town. He was also suspicious, went to where his wife was visiting and found her and Martin in a room together by themselves. He broke down the door, and Martin ran out, Clever shooting after him several times as he ran. Martin was hit twice and died the second day after the shooting. He was but 20 years of age, while Clever was 34. Great interest was felt in the case throughout the whole county, and the court house was crowded during each of the five days of the trial.

Acquitted. CARLEISLE PA., September 2.—The trial of Daniel Clever for the killing of William Martin at Oakville, this county, last May, ended to-day with a verdict of acquittal. The case was in the jury's hands less than two hours, and when the verdict was announced in the court house a tumultuous scene followed. The relatives and friends of the accused rushed upon him and hugged and kissed him for joy, and the spectators applauded long and loud. The proposition for the shooting was the supposed seduction of Clever's wife by young Martin. Clever suspected undue intimacy between the two, one evening, when she was visiting friends in the town. He was also suspicious, went to where his wife was visiting and found her and Martin in a room together by themselves. He broke down the door, and Martin ran out, Clever shooting after him several times as he ran. Martin was hit twice and died the second day after the shooting. He was but 20 years of age, while Clever was 34. Great interest was felt in the case throughout the whole county, and the court house was crowded during each of the five days of the trial.

THE CHAMPION PUMP. THE UNIVERSAL FAMILY SCALE. FIRE ON THE HEARTH. TO CONSUMPTIVES. RUPTURE CURED BY OUR METHOD.

THE CHAMPION PUMP. THE UNIVERSAL FAMILY SCALE. FIRE ON THE HEARTH. TO CONSUMPTIVES. RUPTURE CURED BY OUR METHOD.

THE CHAMPION PUMP. THE UNIVERSAL FAMILY SCALE. FIRE ON THE HEARTH. TO CONSUMPTIVES. RUPTURE CURED BY OUR METHOD.

THE CHAMPION PUMP. THE UNIVERSAL FAMILY SCALE. FIRE ON THE HEARTH. TO CONSUMPTIVES. RUPTURE CURED BY OUR METHOD.

THE CHAMPION PUMP. THE UNIVERSAL FAMILY SCALE. FIRE ON THE HEARTH. TO CONSUMPTIVES. RUPTURE CURED BY OUR METHOD.

THE CHAMPION PUMP. THE UNIVERSAL FAMILY SCALE. FIRE ON THE HEARTH. TO CONSUMPTIVES. RUPTURE CURED BY OUR METHOD.

THE CHAMPION PUMP. THE UNIVERSAL FAMILY SCALE. FIRE ON THE HEARTH. TO CONSUMPTIVES. RUPTURE CURED BY OUR METHOD.

THE CHAMPION PUMP. THE UNIVERSAL FAMILY SCALE. FIRE ON THE HEARTH. TO CONSUMPTIVES. RUPTURE CURED BY OUR METHOD.

THE CHAMPION PUMP. THE UNIVERSAL FAMILY SCALE. FIRE ON THE HEARTH. TO CONSUMPTIVES. RUPTURE CURED BY OUR METHOD.

THE CHAMPION PUMP. THE UNIVERSAL FAMILY SCALE. FIRE ON THE HEARTH. TO CONSUMPTIVES. RUPTURE CURED BY OUR METHOD.

STILL ON TO P AND WE MEAN TO STAY THERE. FAIR DEALING, IS OUR MOTTO. SUCCESS, OUR REWARD.

STRAYER will not, nor cannot be undersold. We are highly gratified at the success attending our efforts to bring down the high prices formerly charged for CLOTHING in Mifflintown, and find the community sticks to its first love.

The public have faith in our published statements, and we strive to deserve the full measure of confidence so freely placed in us. Every day brings fresh proof to us of the good will of all classes. We say without the least fear of contradiction (and have plenty of money to back it) that my terribly offended opposition has Two Dollars worth of unsalable, or as he calls them, W.A.R. GOODS to my one.

NO OLD GOODS THIS SEASON, as all our summer clothing was destroyed by fire. SOME TALK ABOUT FIVE PER CENT. FIE! Why, before I will allow my customers and friends to be deceived in that manner, I will do business this summer for pleasure, and show you the bill for every piece of goods you buy, only asking expense of transportation, and our advantages for buying are equal, if not superior, to any house in central Pennsylvania.

"I had rather be a dog and bay the moon, than such a clothier." How conceited, some people think all others are old foggies. Well, by the time they get through with us and our low prices, they shall change their minds. Remember whatever you buy of us must be as represented. When we guarantee a suit is all wool such must be fast, and when we give you a price we guarantee that such price is lower than any one else can sell the same article at.

Sam'l STRAYER, THE OLD RELIABLE CLOTHIER AND FURNISHER. May 13, 1885. THE CHAMPION PUMP. THE UNIVERSAL FAMILY SCALE. FIRE ON THE HEARTH. TO CONSUMPTIVES. RUPTURE CURED BY OUR METHOD.

THE CHAMPION PUMP. THE UNIVERSAL FAMILY SCALE. FIRE ON THE HEARTH. TO CONSUMPTIVES. RUPTURE CURED BY OUR METHOD.

THE CHAMPION PUMP. THE UNIVERSAL FAMILY SCALE. FIRE ON THE HEARTH. TO CONSUMPTIVES. RUPTURE CURED BY OUR METHOD.

THE CHAMPION PUMP. THE UNIVERSAL FAMILY SCALE. FIRE ON THE HEARTH. TO CONSUMPTIVES. RUPTURE CURED BY OUR METHOD.

THE CHAMPION PUMP. THE UNIVERSAL FAMILY SCALE. FIRE ON THE HEARTH. TO CONSUMPTIVES. RUPTURE CURED BY OUR METHOD.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD. TIME TABLE. On and after Sunday, August 30, 1885, trains that stop at Mifflin will run as follows: EASTWARD.

HUNTINGDON ACCOMMODATION leaves Huntingdon daily at 6:30 a. m., Mount Union 6:56 a. m., Newton Hamilton, 7:02 a. m., McVeytown, 7:24 a. m., Lewisburg, 7:50 a. m., Millard, 8:09 a. m., Mifflin, 8:15 a. m., Port Royal, 8:22 a. m., Mexico, 8:27 a. m., Tuscarora, 8:30 a. m., Yankeetown, 8:44 a. m., Thompsonsonton, 8:52 a. m., Newport, 9:05 a. m., Millertown, 9:15 a. m., Harrisburg at 10:10 a. m., and at Philadelphia, 9:15 p. m.

MAIL TRAIN leaves Mifflin daily at 6:30 p. m., Harrisburg at 7:10 p. m., Philadelphia at 8:45 p. m. Harrisburg Express leaves Mifflin daily at 10:25 a. m., Harrisburg at 11:40 a. m., Philadelphia at 11:45 a. m. Harrisburg Express leaves Philadelphia daily at 4:30 a. m., Harrisburg, 8:15 a. m., Duncannon, 8:53 a. m., Newport, 9:25 a. m., Millertown, 9:36 a. m., Thompsonsonton, 9:47 a. m., Van Dyke, 9:55 a. m., Tuscarora, 9:59 a. m., Mexico, 10:02 a. m., Port Royal, 10:07 a. m., Mifflin, 10:15 a. m., Millard, 10:21 a. m., Narrows, 10:29 a. m., Lewisburg, 10:40 a. m., McVeytown, 11:07 a. m., Newton Hamilton, 11:25 a. m., Huntingdon, 12:05 p. m., Tyrone, 12:58 p. m., Altoona, 1:40 p. m., and stop at all regular stations between Harrisburg and Altoona.

WESTWARD. WAY PASSENGER leaves Philadelphia daily at 4:30 a. m., Harrisburg, 8:15 a. m., Duncannon, 8:53 a. m., Newport, 9:25 a. m., Millertown, 9:36 a. m., Thompsonsonton, 9:47 a. m., Van Dyke, 9:55 a. m., Tuscarora, 9:59 a. m., Mexico, 10:02 a. m., Port Royal, 10:07 a. m., Mifflin, 10:15 a. m., Millard, 10:21 a. m., Narrows, 10:29 a. m., Lewisburg, 10:40 a. m., McVeytown, 11:07 a. m., Newton Hamilton, 11:25 a. m., Huntingdon, 12:05 p. m., Tyrone, 12:58 p. m., Altoona, 1:40 p. m., and stop at all regular stations between Harrisburg and Altoona.

MAIL TRAIN leaves Philadelphia daily at 7:00 a. m., Harrisburg, 11:01 a. m., Newport, 12:16 p. m., Mifflin, 12:47 p. m., Millard, 1:06 p. m., Tyrone, 1:59 p. m., Altoona, 2:52 p. m., and stop at all regular stations between Mifflin and Altoona reaches Altoona at 3:30 p. m., Pittsburg 8:15 p. m. HUNTINGDON ACCOMMODATION leaves Philadelphia daily at 11:50 a. m., Harrisburg at 5:15 p. m., Duncannon 5:50 p. m., Newport, 6:17 p. m., Millertown, 6:28 p. m., Thompsonsonton, 6:39 p. m., Van Dyke, 6:47 p. m., Tuscarora, 6:51 p. m., Mexico, 6:54 p. m., Port Royal, 7:00 p. m., Mifflin, 7:05 p. m., Lewisburg, 7:28 p. m., McVeytown, 7:58 p. m., Newton Hamilton, 8:14 p. m., Huntingdon, 8:45 p. m.

Pacific Express leaves Philadelphia at 11:20 p. m., Harrisburg at 10 a. m., Duncannon 8:29 a. m., Newport 8:01 a. m., Mifflin 8:42 a. m., Lewisburg 6:06 a. m., McVeytown 5:30 a. m., Millard 5:08 a. m., Harrisburg 4:26 a. m., Port Royal 4:40 a. m., Spruce Creek 6:54 a. m., Tyrone 7:12 a. m., Bell's Mills 7:23 a. m., Altoona 8:10 a. m., Pittsburg 1:00 p. m. Fast Line leaves Philadelphia at 11:00 a. m., Harrisburg 8:45 p. m., Mifflin 9:05 p. m., Lewisburg 6:29 p. m., Huntingdon 6:20 p. m., Tyrone 6:10 p. m., Altoona 5:19 p. m., Pittsburg 11:55 p. m.

Fast Line west, on Sundays, will stop at Duncannon, Newport and McVeytown when flagged. Mail Express east, on Sundays, will stop at Lockport and Poorman's Spring, when flagged. Johnstown Express will stop at Lockport, when flagged. NEWBURN DIVISION. Trains leave Lewisburg Junction for Millroy at 8:35 a. m., 10:45 a. m., 8:15 p. m., and 10:15 p. m. Trains arrive at Lewisburg Junction from Millroy at 9:10 a. m., 1:40 p. m., 4:40 p. m., and 9:25 a. m., 4:30 p. m.

TYRONE DIVISION. Trains leave Tyrone for Bellefonte and Lock Haven at 10 a. m., 7:00 p. m. Leave Tyrone for Curwensville and Clearfield at 8:20 a. m., 7:00 p. m. Trains leave Tyrone for Warriors Mark, Pennsylvania Furnace and Scotia at 9:20 a. m., and 4:30 p. m. Trains arrive at Tyrone from Bellefonte and Lock Haven at 7:06 a. m., and 7:00 p. m. Trains arrive at Tyrone from Curwensville and Clearfield at 6:58 a. m., and 5:05 p. m. Trains arrive at Huntingdon from Bedford, Bridgeport and Cumberland at 12:30 p. m., 6:20 p. m.

J. WARREN PLITTE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, MIFFLINTOWN, PA. HAS JUST RECEIVED All the above enumerated articles, and all other things that may be found in a CARPET & FURNITURE STORE, AT PRICES BEYOND COMPETITION.

D. M. CRAWFORD, M. D. HAS RESTORED actively the practice of Medicine and Surgery and their collateral branches. Office at the old corner of Third and Orange streets, Mifflintown, Pa. March 29, 1876.

FALL STOCK OF CARPETS. Choice Pattern VELVET Body and Tapestry BRUSSELS, Extra Super Medium and Low Grade INGRAINS, A Full Line of VENETIAN,