

SENTINEL & REPUBLICAN

MIFFLINTOWN. Wednesday, Sept 16, 1885. B. F. SCHWEIER, Editor and Proprietor.

The Democracy are denouncing Cooper for sending out circulars, and then do the same thing.

An original character remarks that to explode a keg of gunpowder under a cyclone, will knock the cyclone "higher than a kite." Certainly, good for the gunpowder.

GENERAL BUTLER has found his level. He is guilty of violating the law in overreaching the Indian in leasing his lands in the Reservations. The man who will rob the Indian under the guise of a contract will steal spoons from a conquered foe.

When President Cleveland takes Ben Butler and company by the horns, for stealing Indian lands under the guise of leases for cattle grazing purposes, he is not laying hold of a Republican. Butler never has been a Republican. He is anything for spoils.

When a charter has been obtained to build a railroad, and the right of way secured on the promise of building the highway the whole business should be annulled when the concern is turned into a fraudulent project in which to issue bonds and make money out of it in another way than by legitimate railroading.

There seems to be an unanimity among the leaders of the Democracy on the question of drink. The late Democratic platform in this State is in favor of the use of liquor. So is the platform of the Democracy of Ohio, and Headly the Democratic candidate for Governor in the "Buckeye" State, in a speech declared in favor of a temperate use of liquor.

The Democratic candidate for Governor in Ohio, in his opening campaign speech, bid for the liquor vote by justifying the use of liquor by citing the manufacture of it by Christ as his first miracle at the marriage feast. The Democratic convention in this State declared for rum, and against corporations. How will you vote?

Denmark almost had Germany and Spain engaged in a war about the island of Yap. King William, however, determined that there should be no war. He would not fall out with his friend, the King of Spain, about a little island in the Pacific ocean, so he ordered the German troops away from the island in dispute.

VICE PRESIDENT HENDRICKS delivered a speech the other day, that has been interpreted by the British to mean encouragement of the Dynamite Irish cause. Hendricks has always had trouble with his speech and his sympathy. He seems to be as full of sympathy for the Irish, as he was for the southern rebels. Hendricks! Hendricks! Can't the President put a plaster on one corner of the Vice President's speech.

The Philadelphia Bulletin of last Thursday, says: A man who cannot read or write has been appointed Postmaster at Bath, Pa., superseding an intelligent, faithful and popular Republican. But the literate Mr. Siegfried has always been a hard-working Democrat—an offensive partisan of the strongest type. He will have to hire a small boy from a public school to do the reading, writing and ciphering that his official duties may require of him. He is a nice choice for a man of letters.

NEWSPAPERS in the Juniata Valley, just now, are saying a good deal about the case of McClain, the young man in the Lewistown jail awaiting execution for the murder of Searns, at the Newton Hamilton camp-meeting. The man who will carry and flourish a butcher knife on the grounds of a religious meeting during a time of service is not the kind of a man that should live among civilized men. Of him it may be said as Judge Lord Basford, of Scotland, said of a culprit, "You're a very clever chile, man, but ye'll be none the worse for hanging."

The common school system has become the avenue through which great frauds and swindles are imposed on the tax payers by agents who are operating for school furniture houses, and book houses, in connection with unscrupulous township and town school boards. At this time the whole State of Indiana is excited over the fact that recent discoveries reveal the fact that over a half million bogus school bonds issued by school boards for school furniture, are afloat in the several townships of the State. It is about time that people in Pennsylvania look to the manner of the management of the schools. The townships of this Commonwealth are over-run with school furniture and school book men. Tax payers should not allow themselves to become the victims of a lot of outside swindlers in company with a few local rascals. The rascals should be watched, hunted down and punished. Open your eyes.

FORGED deeds have recently been discovered in some of the deed books of Western titles. A forged deed is of little account only as a means to catch a forger, where all deeds have been regularly recorded, but a forged deed that had been injected between purchases, or where regularly executed deeds had not been recorded might create a good deal of trouble. It is to the interest of people who have neglected to record their deeds to have them recorded for there is no telling where, in these degenerate days a forging court house rat might be developed, who would inject a forged deed between unrecorded title papers.

Jacob Rupp, a Lancaster county farmer has a barn with a glass roof. The Rev. Mr. Ballenger, of Walker county, preached 70 sermons in 50 days—Atlanta, Ga., Constitution.

Do not put salt into soup when cooking until it has been skimmed, as salt prevents the scum from rising.

Mrs. Irvine Crane, of Harrisburg, in striking at a mosquito a few days ago fell down a flight of stairs breaking her collar bone and spraining both ankles.

In California a judge has refused to naturalize a Canadian because the latter knew so little of the country's affairs that he thought a king ruled the United States.

Sebastian Bugher died at Sunday on Tuesday a week, aged 90 years. He was a soldier in the war of 1812, and was at Lundy's Lane and the capture of Fort Erie.

A Republican majority at a State Senatorial Convention in Iowa stuck to its candidate through 1340 ballots and having succeeded in nominating him was pleased to have the honor "finally" declined on account of the doubtfulness of the outlook.

John Roberts, a farmer living near Putnam, in this county, was fatally injured while threshing grain in his barn recently. The threshing machine, which was operated by steam, was going at a high rate of speed, when a wheel burst and struck Roberts in the abdomen, also breaking an arm and leg.

Peter Ames, of Belmont, Me., had a tooth extracted the other day, and the roots were found to have been in contact with metal. Ames had been wounded in the face at Spotsylvania, Va., in the war, and that metal was never extracted. More teeth were drawn, a part of the cheek bone removed, and an iron grape shot, weighing an ounce, was taken out, after being imbedded there for twenty-one years.

Washington, Fayette county, Ohio, was struck by a storm on the 8th, at 8 o'clock P. M. The Court House was demolished, three churches, the Telephone Exchange, three bridges, four depots and over a hundred business and dwelling houses. The dead bodies of two unknown persons have been found and it is believed several others have been killed or seriously injured. The loss to property cannot be ascertained, but it will reach several hundred thousand dollars.

GAISEVILLE, Texas, Sept. 9.—This community was started at daylight yesterday morning by the announcement that the famous Lee brothers, the terrors of northern Texas, had actually been killed. Ever since April last, the authorities have been scouring the country in search of Jim Lee, the leader of the terrible Lee gang.

While John and Henry Roff, two respectable cattle owners of this county, with two officers, one of whom was a Deputy United States Marshal, were on a searching expedition in the Chickasaw Nation for cattle bearing the Roffs' brand, they came upon the stronghold of the Lee gang, and bravely approached the stockade to arrest the cattle thieves. The desperado opened fire through the portholes of their fortifications, killing both the Roff brothers and the two officers, whose bodies lay exposed for several days and were partly eaten by hogs.

Innumerable rewards have been offered for the capture, dead or alive, of Jim and Pink Lee. The Governor offered a large reward, Cook county offered $1000, the Roff family offered $1000, and half-a-dozen neighboring counties placed a price on their heads, until the total amount of guaranteed rewards reached $7000 the heaviest by far ever offered in Texas. As many as forty eastern and northern detectives have visited this region in the hope of bagging the big rewards, but very few of the Pinkertons were willing to venture far away from civilization in searching for their game. It remained for a Texan named Heck Thomas, from Fort Worth, to vanquish the outlaws.

Their deadly Winchester. As the detectives raised to fire, both of the Lees, by Jim's order, lay flat on the ground. Pink Lee was struck at the first fire, and with blood on the ground groaning pitifully until the next volley put an end to his sufferings. As the officers fired they kept advancing, Jim Lee returning their fire very rapidly, although he had a bullet in his neck. After emptying his own revolver, Jim crawled over to where his dead brother lay, and grasping Pink's weapon, he emptied it also at the oncoming officers. About forty shots were fired at Jim before he ceased to move, but strangely only two shots took fatal effect.

Hiring a farmer's wagon, the officers threw the bodies on a pile of straw and started for this city. The Coroner's inquest was held, and the bodies were identified, so as to secure the large reward to Thomas and his two assistants.

Within two hours from last of last, my forty-two human lives were taken by this band of cattle and horse thieves. Their principal rendezvous was Delaware Bend, this county, just across from the Indian Territory. They stole thousands of cattle and drove them into the Indian Territory.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS. If you have not been vaccinated within seven years, vaccinate. The ground was nicely prepared for wheat sowing by the rain of last week. William Gensenshaver white-washed the fence about the Lutheran Church property.

Mrs. Herman Bossler, of Carlisle, is visiting her brother, John Kirk, in this place. Patrick Hagan improved the appearance of the School House property by white-washing the fence.

John Kirk has found it necessary to enlarge the storage room for his goods. The building back of his sale room has been fixed up to store extra goods.

Joseph Martin has completed the plastering of the building in Patterson that he contracted for, and now is putting the plastering on the Millard Kirk house, on Main street.

"Smith, did you see my wife go down this street?" "Yes, she passed about an hour ago." "Wonder what my chances are for overtaking her." "Good. The sidewalk is just lined with show windows."—Chicago Herald.

"The tramp law provides that every tramp, upon conviction as such, shall be confined by imprisonment at hard labor in the nearest penitentiary not more than six months." Tramps are defined as "persons who rove about from place to place begging, and all vagrants living without lawful occupation." Any tramp who enters into any building without the consent of the owner, who maliciously injures property, or who carries firearms, may under the law be imprisoned for three years.

The Bloomfield Advocate of last week, says: On Saturday last, as Gabo Kline was guiding the traction engine along the Peck River, Kline, being the small bridge near Watson's mill, below Bridgeport, in Spring township, the structure broke down after the front part of the engine had crossed, precipitating the rear of the engine about five feet into the water below. Steam was let off and in the evening, after hard work throughout the better part of the day, the engine was raised and steamed to its destination.

Personal Memoirs of General U. S. Grant. This popular work is now being actively canvassed for in this county. Every American citizen should secure a copy of this invaluable history of the great rebellion, as told by Gen. Grant, himself, the greatest actor in it all. All persons are cautioned against spurious works that are represented as "The Personal History of Gen Grant," "Life of Gen. Grant," etc. being mostly reprinted editions of former sketches, prepared for campaign purposes. The sole agent for Millifont, Patterson, Port Royal, Milford, Fatesburgh, Walker and Fayette, is S. D. Hateshough. The former agent for the above territory, Jacob Borgy, having resigned.

Getting Married. Getting married after the first of next month will be attended with more formality than attends the ceremony now. The clerk of the court will have to be seen, so that the intention of the parties may be recorded. The name of the law agent as well as have conferred the authority on the clerk of the court to marry people. In that way such people who are of preachers or squires, could have been accommodated when they declared their intention of matrimony, and had the clerk to marry them. An exchange that has given the new law attention, says, the ordeal of questions is a severe one, and states them as follows: they must be answered and sworn to, and be written in the docket. Give, 1. Full name of man. 2. Full name of woman. 3. Relationship of the parties, either by blood or marriage. 4. Age of man. 5. Age of woman. 6. Residence of the man. 7. Residence of the woman. 8. Parent's name—man. 9. Parent's name—woman. 10. Guardian's name—man. 11. Guardian's name—woman. 12. Consent of parents or guardian. 13. Date of death of man's former wife if any. 14. Date of death of woman's former husband, if any. 15. Date of divorce of man at any time. 16. Date of divorce of woman at any time. 17. Color of parties. 18. Occupation of man. 19. Occupation of woman.

Send for circulars and price-list to B. Wood, 64 South Salina Street, Syracuse, N. Y.

Re-union of the Sixteenth. The 16th Pennsylvania Cavalry regiment will hold a re-union in this place, on the 16th day of October, 1885. By writing to T. D. Gorman, orders for excursion tickets may be obtained for members and their families.

Emory McCahan's steam saw-mill at Macedonia was destroyed by fire last Saturday morning between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock. No insurance. Benjamin Heller, who lives at the third lock, was the first person to discover the fire, he aroused the neighbors of Miner town, and they kept the flames from getting among the saved lumber. The origin of the fire is not known. Three tramps went to the mill in the evening to lodge. It is not probable that a set of tramps would burn their lodging place so early in the morning. It is not probable that tramps would at anytime destroy a place where they could creep in for shelter and lodging. If it was set on fire by human hand, it is not believed that the fire was a tramp, but some local character. It might have caught from the engine fire. Of course all conjecture is at fault, and there is nothing certain concerning it, excepting that Mr. McCahan has sustained a great loss. He has the sympathy of the community.
