

B. F. SCHWEIER, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Republican State Ticket FOR STATE TREASURER, Matthew Steubley Quay.

Republican County Ticket. FOR SHERIFF, JAMES McCauley.

FOR REGISTER AND RECORDER AND CLERK OF ORPHANS' COURT, S. B. CAVENY. FOR JURY COMMISSIONERS, JOSEPH SIBBER.

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEEN are calling on candidates for funds.

The next Granger's picnic at Williams Grove is announced for August 30th, 1886. Paste the date in the chimney corner.

These are the good times that the erring brethren told their people, and all other people about, one year ago. How do you like the times.

"GOVERNOR PATTERSON has appointed Col. R. H. Thomas, of Mechanicsburg, to be commissioner to represent Pennsylvania at the North, Central and South American Exposition, to open at New Orleans in October."

The small-pox epidemic in certain parts of Canada, is shocking in its work. The situation is rendered doubly horrible by the fact that a large percentage of the people will not be vaccinated. They have no confidence in doctors and British government.

The financial world awaits the trial of Ward with more than common interest. Perhaps "bed rock may be struck," and the parties found out who stood in with the confidence thief, in raising a fund with which to pay large dividends to bait men to loan them large sums of money.

The Democrat and Register has wrapped itself in the stars and stripes and pleads for the soldier, and pleads with the zeal of a new convert. It makes a good wrapper, if you can keep it on, standing colors too, red, white and blue, you know. Whoop up the flag and the soldier, better late than never. Can't you give us a whoop or two, for Quay, McCauley and Caveny, and the whole ticket.

The North, Central and South American Exposition at New Orleans, will be opened on the 10th of next November, to continue till April 1886. It is believed that the exposition will excel the one held in New Orleans last winter. President Cleveland, the Governors of all the states, the emperor of Brazil and the Governor General of Canada have all been invited to be present. Every interest in North, Central and South America, will be fully represented at the Exposition.

Quay as a Soldier.

From the Philadelphia Times. The Democratic organs of this State are only hurting themselves and their candidate for State Treasurer by unfairly stating Col. Quay's military record. It is true that the Republican candidate resigned precisely six days before the battle of Fredericksburg on account of continued ill health, but it is also true that several days later, when he learned that a battle was probable, he returned to camp and insisted on going to battle with his regiment. He was afterwards highly praised in general orders for the gallantry which he displayed. Whatever Colonel Quay has been or done since the war there is no question as to his personal courage in the field and attempts to misrepresent it can only react upon those who make them.

Civil Service Reform.

The following are a few of the civil service reform appointments of President Cleveland's administration: "John Conolly, Statistical Agent of the Department of Agriculture for the State of Ohio, appointed upon the recommendation of Gilbert Barger, Chairman of the Democratic Committee of that State. Conolly was indicted, tried, convicted and sentenced to nine months imprisonment for theft. Jerry Mallory, appointed custodian of the new Post Office buildings at Cleveland, Ohio. Served a full term in the work house for theft. Ferdinand Witte, assistant custodian of Public Buildings at Cleveland, Ohio. Served three years in Sing Sing, for obtaining $5,000 by false pretences, and another year in Hamilton County, Ohio Jail for a similar offense. Gus O'Connor, appointed an officer of customs at Cleveland, Ohio. Served three years in the Ohio State Prison for theft. "Potch" Moran, also appointed a custom officer at Cleveland, Ohio, was indicted for murder, failed of conviction because the chief witness against him absented himself from the trial and could not be found. I. L. Meade, appointed Postmaster at Hazlehurst, Copiah county, Miss., by President Cleveland, with full knowledge of the fact that he presided at the meeting held to endorse the Copiah murders—A general protest on the part of the Republican press compelled the President to revoke Meade's appointment. Meade has since then taken pleasure in explaining that in his estimation "those who committed the Copiah murders were quite as good as those who profited by them."

Mr. Grubb's upon the recommendation of First Comptroller of the Treasury, Durham, appointed Supervisor of the Federal buildings at Frankfort, Kentucky, against the protest of Senator Blackburn, Governor Koontz and Congressman Breckinridge. Mr. Grubb has four indictments hanging over him in the criminal court of Boyle county, Kentucky.

Theodore Fryer of Buffalo, New York, an old personal friend of President Cleveland, appointed to a clerkship in the Treasury Department; his qualifications a five years sentence to the State Prison at Auburn, New York, for forgery, and a four years term in the State Prison of Minnesota, for forgery.

Dr. Hire, appointed examining surgeon at New Orleans, was under indictment for embezzlement.

Democratic Dead Issues.

- Slavery was Democratic, and it is dead. Inflation was a Democratic doctrine, and it is dead. State rights was a Democratic doctrine, and it is dead. Secession was a Democratic doctrine, and it is dead. All purely Democratic doctrines are dead or dying. Nullification was a Democratic doctrine, and it is dead. The Dred Scott decision was Democratic, and it is dead. Free Trade has long been Democratic, and it is dying. Squatter sovereignty was a Democratic doctrine, and it is dead. An absolute free whisky traffic is Democratic, and it is dying. Reputation of the public debt was Democratic, and it is dead. "The war is a failure" was a Democratic doctrine, and it is dead. The fugitive slave law was a Democratic measure, and it is dead. Opposition to specie payment was Democratic, and it is dead. Illiteracy among negroes was the cornerstone of Democracy. It is dying. The Knights of the Golden Circle was a Democratic organization, and it is dead. The Southern Confederacy was a Democratic institution. It is exultantly dead. John Morrissey and Tweed were great Democratic leaders, and they are dead. "This is a confederacy and not a nation" was the Democratic doctrine, and it is eternally dead. The idea that one Southerner could whip three Northerners was Democratic, and it is dead. Jeff Davis and Sam Tilden are both distinguished Democratic leaders, and they are almost dead. The opinion that Union soldiers were "Lincoln dogs" and "hirelings" was Democratic, and it is dead. The law forbidding the carrying of abolition papers in Southern mails was Democratic, and it is dead. The idea that a human being is not a man because he is black was a Democratic doctrine, and it is dead. The business of breeding negro babies in Virginia, Maryland and Kentucky and selling them down the river for $5 per pound was Democratic, and it is dead. Tissue ballot frauds, ballot-box stuffing, carrying elections by murder and intimidation, the killing of men on account of their political opinions, are Democratic practices which must cease with the growth of education in the South.

Down From The Sky.

A special despatch from Pittsburg, Pa., says: The aerolite or meteoric stone, which caused the loud detonation heard throughout the greater part of Washington and Allegheny counties, on Saturday, September 26, fell upon the farm of Mr. Buckland, in Jefferson township, Washington county, near the West Virginia line, instead of in Cecil township, as reported. Ellis Jones, a mail carrier, witnessed the fiery ball in its flight through the heavens. He said that he never beheld a more awful or impressive scene. His horse suddenly stopped and he heard a noise as if the winds were rushing onward with great violence. Looking up he saw moving high above him a huge mass, which he described as resembling a great coal of fire as large as the largest barn he ever saw. There appeared to be attached to it an immense flame of a deep red color which tapered off into a darker tail. Instantly the noise which accompanied it ceased: the fire like appearance, the flame and the tail disappeared, and in their stead the stone assumed a whitish hue, which it retained until it passed out of sight. Jones's horse was so frightened that it took several minutes of vigorous application of the whip before the animal could be persuaded to move.

When the stone fell it broke into three pieces, but did not penetrate the earth to such a great depth as already stated, as two thirds of it remained above ground. It is grayish in color with a succession of red streaks; is irregular in form and at least fifty feet in diameter. Consternation seized upon the people who beheld the meteor in its flight, and many of them are filled with a superstitious dread, believing that the spirit which causes pestilence and famine pervaded the fiery visitor. A great number of people have gone to see the wonder. Up to this time the relic hunters have done remarkably well in carrying away souvenirs.

Letter From Washington, Pa.

On the 29th day of September, Freshman class of Washington College, met and decided to cut out attendance on classes, in order that they might see Berman's show parade. On the same day the Sophomores voted down cutting but a meeting was again called on the 8th, and it was decided to cut by a considerable majority. On the morning of the 1st of October, when the Chapel bell rang all Sophomores cut except twelve and all Freshmen except nine. The Juniors and Seniors did not cut, but were in full attendance. The latter wear white plaid hats and carry canes.

President Moffat delivered a speech and said that each member would be dealt with separately and his reasons for cutting investigated. On the 2nd, fifteen Freshmen and many Sophomores were compelled to sign a pledge never to combine together to violate the laws of the Faculty, or if they refused, to be suspended. The pledge signed will be sent home to students' parents. On Saturday the 2nd, the cane rush did not come off because over half the Sophomores were shut up in a room before the Faculty for having cut on the previous day from exercise. The Freshmen were to the gymnasium grounds ready for the fray with collars off, and old clothes on. They waited an hour or two on the Sophomores and then marched through town in a body cheering and claiming the victory. The President of the Sophomores class is Grant Oliver, who was elected at the opening of the term this autumn. Le Moynes, is the family name of a deceased citizen who built the first crematory in the United States of America. The crematory is located on a hill not far from town. The cemetery near the town is worth a visit. The mathematical department of the College—called "applied mathematics"—was endowed by Dr. F. J. Le Moynes, the man who built the crematory—it is now under the instruction of Professor McAdams. The preparatory department of the College is unusually well filled and is under the instruction of Professor Eaton. In Physics and Chemistry, Professor Ray has taken the place of Professor Lyon who resigned. The second Presbyterian congregation are building a new church. They have been holding services in the church building belonging to the Methodist Protestants who are different from the regular Methodists. They have a very large church not far from the first Presbyterian and the College. Rev. George Hayes, formerly President of the College before Dr. Moffat, was one of the first preachers in the second Presbyterian. Rev. Mr. McGill is the present pastor. Professor Adams Lin prepared himself at one time for the ministry, was ordained, preached only a short time, and for some reason determined to be a Greek professor which he is to-day. He has the reputation of being a good doctor, and a chemist. Because of the surplus gas burning, as it issues from four or five gas wells the most cloudy and moonless night is nearly as bright as moonlight, especially upon the hill tops, for a distance of four or five miles around the town and it looks as if the Northern Lights were blazing all around. The principal business street of Washington is Main, which is near the heart of the town, and during the evening pedestrians are constantly moving up and down its hills. There are many fine buildings on this street is the finest building in the town, and like the Millintown court house it can be seen far around towering above other structures. The educational institutions of the town are Washington College, Trinity Academy, a military school, the Female Seminary and the large common school building in which are no less than ten or eleven teachers. Some of the business interests are, two flour mills run by steam and gas that are no large creeks near the town, one planing mill, a woolen mill in which is made yarn for stockings, a foundry, a machine shop for making steam engines of a certain class. In this shop a new engine has been invented and a patent put out for it, for which the inventor has been offered twenty-five thousand dollars. There is also a machine shop or mill for grinding into ashes, sugar maple, and bench wood, which had previously been burned into charcoal, the ashes are sent to another mill four miles from town and there passed through a mill and then sent to glass works in large cities. The oil and gas wells near the town being very numerous of working men like the college brings many student boarders for the hotels and private boarding places. Property holders near town have leased their land to companies of men that desire to bore for oil or gas, for a bonus of $50 to $100 per acre. Seventy acres of a property owned by the Clark has been leased to a company named the Messers Hayes for what they call a bonus of $30 per acre, while the owner retains the property and gets the crops and one eighth part of the oil. They propose sinking a well near the Gordon which has been yielding 100 barrels of oil per day. Both the gas and oil wells are drilled by steam engines and out of both, oil and gas flow or run. The McDowell gas well is the strongest in the county. It is north of this place sixteen miles, the gas from it is piped several miles to Pittsburg, where furnaces and rolling mills are run by it. From a well in Tuscarora, Pa., the gas is piped three miles to Butler, a large town, where it is used instead of coal and wood for fuel. In some of the best oil wells, the oil is struck at or passing through a nearly white sand, then through an entirely white vein, then through a brown vein in which the oil is found, however a vein of slate intervenes between each sand rock vein. The Lutherans have a handsome church here in which they have, sometimes, preaching, singing and prayer in German. Some of the college students in company with young ladies, residents of the town held a picnic a short distance from town on Saturday. On the 7th inst., President Moffat, announced to the students of College that on Friday the 9th, the Faculty had agreed to have no recreation because of a public picnic that the Washington Agriculture Association will hold, instead of their annual fair, because of their having this summer repaired and re-arranged their park. The students were delighted with the idea of a day off and clapped their hands in appreciation of the decision of the Faculty. Some new houses are being built upon the outskirts of the town, and strangers say the people of this vicinity do not build their dwelling houses as large as in eastern towns but the houses are handsome and built for comfort.

HALL'S HAIR RENEWER. The great popularity of this preparation, after its test of many years, should be its best recommendation. It is really meritorious. Those who have used HALL'S HAIR RENEWER know that it does all that is claimed.

Buckingham's Dye FOR THE WHISKERS. Colors them brown or black, as desired, and is the best dye, because it is harmless, does not irritate the natural color, and being a single preparation, is more convenient of application than any other.

STILL ON TO P AND WE MEAN TO STAY THERE. FAIR DEALING, IS OUR MOTTO. SUCCESS, OUR REWARD.

STRAYER will not, nor cannot be undersold. We are highly gratified at the success attending our efforts to bring down the high prices formerly charged for CLOTHING in Mifflintown, and find the community sticks to its first love.

The public have faith in our published statements, and we strive to deserve the full measure of confidence so freely placed in us. Every day brings fresh proof to us of the good will of all classes. We say without the least fear of contradiction (and have plenty of money to back it) that my terribly offended opposition has Two Dollars worth of wearable, or as he calls them, WAR GOODS to say you.

NO OLD GOODS THIS SEASON, as all our summer clothing was destroyed by fire.

SOME TALK ABOUT FIVE PER CENT. FINE! Why, before I will allow my customers and friends to be deceived in that manner. I will do business this summer for pleasure, and show you the bill for every piece of goods you buy, only asking expense of transportation, and our advantage for buying are equal, if not superior, to any house in central Pennsylvania.

"I had rather be a dog and bay the moon, than such a clothier!" How conceited, some people think all others are old foggies. Well, by the time they get through with us and our low prices, they shall change their minds.

Remember whatever you buy of us must be so represented. When we say a suit is all wool such must be fact, and when we give you a price we guarantee that each price is lower than any one else can sell the same article at.

Sam'l STRAYER, THE OLD RELIABLE CLOTHIER AND FURNISHER. May 13, 1885.
