

SENTINEL & REPUBLICAN

MIFFLINTOWN, Wednesday, December 16, 1885.

B. F. SCHWEIER, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S South American policy is different from that of Garfield and Arthur's.

The Philadelphia Evening Call printed a twenty-page paper on the 9th inst., and all increased in a handsome colored cover. The Call is a valuable newspaper.

From the views expressed by President Cleveland on the question of a canal across the Isthmus of Central America, he is not greatly in favor of the Monroe Doctrine.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND attended a Solemn Requiem Mass, in St. Matthew's Catholic Church, in Washington, on the 10th inst., for the repose of the soul of the late King Alfonso of Spain.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S message has three prominent points. He is opposed to interference with European enterprises in South and Central America. He is opposed to a protective tariff. He is in favor of the suspension of the coinage of silver but a large percentage of his party do not believe as he does on these points.

Coal miners to the number of two hundred in the Monongahela Valley, struck last week. On the morning of the 10th, they masked and attacked a lot of workmen who desired to take the places that they vacated. If there should be a law enacted that would compel a man to work, it would be looked upon with great disfavour. The strikers do not propose to be so compulsory as to compel men to work but they go to the opposite extreme and propose to compel people to not work in places that they have left and will not work in. There is such a lack of common sense in their movements and acts of violence that there is a general denunciation hurled against them for their violation of the common rights of men.

Last Wednesday at 2:30 P. M. while in his own house, engaged in conversation with Robert Garrett, of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, William H. Vanderbilt died suddenly. He was seemingly in perfect health. While conversing, Mr. Garrett was suddenly made aware of a slight incontinence in Mr. Vanderbilt's speech that grew into an inarticulate sound. As he looked over to catch his words Vanderbilt pitched forward without a word or warning, and fell heavily to the floor on his face. Garrett sprang to his feet, with an exclamation of alarm, and seizing a pillow from the sofa laid it under his friend's head, and then summoned Mrs. Vanderbilt and George, the youngest son. Messengers were sent in haste for physicians. One from the neighborhood responded first, and was followed almost immediately by the family doctor, James McLean. Such simple restoratives as were at hand had been hurriedly applied, but human aid was in vain. Vanderbilt never spoke or moved after he fell under the sudden stroke and died within a few minutes without a struggle. Dr. McLean pronounced his death the result of a sudden stroke of paralysis due to the bursting of a large blood vessel at the base of the brain and of the kind that is absolutely fatal at the moment. He was sixty-four years old.

Liquor Men in Session. Over one hundred delegates representing the liquor organizations in seventeen counties, met in Reading, this State, on the 8th inst., and organized the Liquor League of Pennsylvania. Resolutions in the nature of an address to the people of the State were adopted denouncing that the sentiment of the people in the State is against prohibition and in favor of a well regulated license law whereby many of the evils of the present system may be avoided; that it shall be the aim of the league to elevate and protect the liquor traffic by laws combining equity, fairness and stringent regulation which will wipe out dens of vice; declaring in favor of a uniform license law throughout the state and police regulations which will not subject workers to petty extortions and multiplied exactions, but not making it a condition to destroy all but gilded palaces of vice; holding up to public scorn and detestation of spies and informers and agents of the law and other societies; declaring that informers who induce a saloon keeper to break the law for the sake of bringing prosecution are moral lepers and should be made amenable to the criminal code; demanding the repeal of the law which permits judges without jury trial to take judgments from saloon keepers for violations of law; opposing the present unjust method of enforcing the Sunday law of 1874, and declaring that the league will only support those candidates for public office, irrespective of party, who pledge themselves in favor of fair laws for regulation of the liquor traffic. Immediately upon adjournment of the league, the committees in which there are no branches, organized and all will be invited to send delegates to a more general and large convention to be held about next June.

Notes From Washington, Pa. There are eight or ten students in the college who are writing newspapers.

Thomas Hall, aged 91 years, the father of Mr. Hall proprietor of the Fulton Hotel, died several days ago. He lived to see his great-grand child.

There is some talk of building water works here. It is the second time this question has been agitated.

The Pennsylvania R. Co. has obtained control of the Washington and Wayneburg narrow gauge road, which is thirty miles long, extending from Washington to Wayneburg. At this town the latter named road connects with the Chambers Valley road north to Pittsburg and is the next branch to go to that city from this town, since it carries its passengers to the Union station from which people can travel east and west on the P. R. Co. The B. & O. runs into Pittsburg, but not into the Union Depot.

The two engines that were smashed last week in the terrible wreck on the B. & O., were numbered 522 and 309. It was stated that there were two men killed and two wounded, but there were four wounded one of whom has since died, making three deaths by the crash.

In the grain cradle factory not far distant from the Chambers Valley station about 300 cradles are manufactured each year.

Some time ago the Ganz well was struck a filling with oil but the said well was closed and the oil was found, covered in. A man has been sent for from Pittsburg and he will stop the cave in if possible.

Oil from the Gordon well brings no less than $1.30 per barrel. Over half the nineteen or twenty wells near Washington are being sunk. The larger percentage in the county are gas. The oil vein has only lately been discovered, that is within a little more than a year. There are only two oil producing wells in the county, the rest are only being drilled but the Gordon is one of the strongest in the state.

On Saturday the 6th inst., a short distance from town, in a small woods along the public road was a crowd of traveling men, women and children, they had twenty-one horses, seven wagons, three carriages.

Several days ago the students of college aided by some others not belonging to college held an entertainment in the town hall. The proceeds from it will be for the benefit of the paper edited by students, which is named the J. B. Freeman.

Some of the students have banded together and arranged for a course of lectures for this winter.

The college building is four stories, with two towers rising up its front.

There are three hundred students in this town as follows: Seventy-five in Female Seminary, thirty-five in Trinity Academy, and two hundred in Washington and Jefferson colleges.

Trinity Academy is a three story nice looking building, on a hill.

The Phi Delta Theta Fraternity, composed of some of the college students, is ten years old.

J. R. Wright, of College, living in town, is coined into silver dollars, and if the process of paying gold for silver is kept up by President expresses the belief that the government owns will be paid out for silver and then it will be driven to offer silver for its obligations and that will cause gold to go to a premium. He believes that gold is now being hoarded with the expectation of it going to premium. Banks that have gold will buy silver and pay their customers in silver and make handsome profits on the transaction.

The President passes from thus considering the home side of the silver and gold question and says that the effort to arrange with foreign nations for a plan of international bimetallic money has failed. Four of the nations abroad have agreed among themselves that no more silver shall be coined by their respective governments, and such as have silver coin shall re-learn that coin in gold when presented in their respective countries. Capital he believes shrinks from trade because it fears it will be paid by and by in silver. Therefore he favors the repeal of the compulsory coinage bill that requires the coining of two million silver dollars every month.

The navy is declared to be weak, and in need of immediate re-organization.

The Postoffice Department is re-organized. The United States Courts are reviewed. The Indian Policy, the Public Lands, Land Grants, Pensions, Polygamy, and Civil Service questions are all considered at length without any new features being presented in their consideration.

A ten year-old daughter of James Dunn, of Xenia, died from triphthymia. She ate raw pork.

Joseph Frank, of Petersburg, Huntingdon county, has lost two children within a week from diphtheria.

A fight between a bull and a mare on the farm of John C. Heel, in Westtown, Chester county, resulted in the latter's favor.

During a heavy gale recently the Methodist house of worship at Allentown, Millin county, was partly lifted from its foundation. Services were being held at the time.

Frank Sheffer, a fifteen-year-old resident of Lewistown, has been arrested on the charge of placing an obstruction on the railroad track there recently a few minutes before a passenger train was due.

Dorsey Barnhart, a young resident of Stoystown, Somerset county, while preparing to go on a hunting expedition on Thanksgiving day, his mother left the room for a few minutes and upon her return was horrified to find him half reclining on the sofa dead.

Over one hundred delegates representing the liquor organizations in seventeen counties, met in Reading, this State, on the 8th inst., and organized the Liquor League of Pennsylvania. Resolutions in the nature of an address to the people of the State were adopted denouncing that the sentiment of the people in the State is against prohibition and in favor of a well regulated license law whereby many of the evils of the present system may be avoided; that it shall be the aim of the league to elevate and protect the liquor traffic by laws combining equity, fairness and stringent regulation which will wipe out dens of vice; declaring in favor of a uniform license law throughout the state and police regulations which will not subject workers to petty extortions and multiplied exactions, but not making it a condition to destroy all but gilded palaces of vice; holding up to public scorn and detestation of spies and informers and agents of the law and other societies; declaring that informers who induce a saloon keeper to break the law for the sake of bringing prosecution are moral lepers and should be made amenable to the criminal code; demanding the repeal of the law which permits judges without jury trial to take judgments from saloon keepers for violations of law; opposing the present unjust method of enforcing the Sunday law of 1874, and declaring that the league will only support those candidates for public office, irrespective of party, who pledge themselves in favor of fair laws for regulation of the liquor traffic. Thirty-five cents will pay a pair of ladies' gum shoes at G. W. Hecks. Others charge fifty cents.

Court did not bring many people to town last week, for the reason that there were no cases of general interest.

Heck's shoe store windows show for themselves. Do cards to pass along that side of the street and see for yourself.

Joseph Crawford, of Sinking Valley, Blair county, while conversing with friends in his home last Wednesday, dropped dead.

Huntingdon was excited last week over the discovery of a dead new-born baby in a closet in the ladies' waiting room at the railroad station.

Letter From Topeka, Kansas. Mr. Estlin—Our weather up to now—November 6th—has been very fine. One of the ways we use our money follows: at the penitentiary is to mine coal; we have two hundred and seventy-five prisoners to work in the state mine; they mine seventy-five hundred bushels per day, which brings into the state treasury sixty dollars per day, but much of it is used by state institutions.

On the 4th, the Governor issued a proclamation for the legislature to convene this winter to re-district the state. Our state is rapidly filling up, the land report, up to June 30, 1885, shows 2,030,040 acres of land taken up by actual settlers the last year. In a few years more and the most available land will be taken, then will go rapidly. Lucky is the man that improves the opportunity of homesteading. Come in early spring. We have two million bushels of corn this year, which is pretty good for this time. It was very satisfactory at first over the new license law, but six years has proved to me that high license is the only way to control it. The present law only makes high taxes and expensive lawsuits, if the accident is committed they are worth nothing and lay in jail until the county gets their boarding them and then turn them out. The Statekeepers were in town the other day, they have a fine lot of 200,000 acres, on which they have four thousand Percheron thorough bred horses, of which four hundred are stallions and yet with many other breeds the demand is good. Washington county is leading ten thousand hogs and twenty thousand hogs, the hogs run among the stock cattle, which eat corn, and live and fatten on the droppings. The stock will be worth $1,000,000 that county besides their corn and wheat. They raise cotton, last year their cotton took the premium at the New Orleans exhibition for fine and long fiber. It is a right good country to have a store in. Irvin Thompson and Herbert Ross are in the transfer business, hauling and delivering goods from depots. They have three teams, six wagons. Last year 16,281 came to Topeka, so they are kept busy. The graders will begin work on a new railroad as soon as the right of way can be secured.

HALL'S HAIR RENEWER. Vegetable Preparation for the Hair. The great popularity of this preparation, after its test of many years, should be an inducement to every one who is desirous of preserving their hair from falling out. It is really restorative. Those who have used Hall's Hair Restorer know that it does all that it claims.

It causes new growth of hair on bald heads, restores the hair to its natural color, restores natural color to gray or faded hair; prevents the scalp from itching or becoming dandruff; prevents the hair falling out or thinning; keeps it soft, pliant, lustrous, and causes it to grow long and curling.

HALL'S HAIR RENEWER produces its effects by the beneficial influence of its vegetable ingredients, which invigorate and revitalize. It is not a dye, and is a delicious article for toilet use. Containing no alcohol, it does not evaporate quickly and dry up the natural oil, leaving the hair harsh and brittle, as do other preparations.

Buckingham's Dye FOR THE WHISKERS. Colors them brown or black, as desired, and is the best dye, because it is harmless, produces a permanent color, and, being a simple preparation, is more convenient of application than any other.
