

B. F. SCHWEIER, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

GOVERNOR, JAMES A. BEAVER. LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR, WILLIAM T. DAVIES. AUDITOR GENERAL, A. WILSON NORRIS. SECRETARY OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS, THOMAS J. STEWART. CONGRESSMAN AT LARGE, EDWIN S. OSBORNE.

RANDALL was the one-man power in the Democratic State Convention.

The Prohibition convention meets this Wednesday at Harrisburg, to nominate a State ticket.

The temperance people are giving a French shrug of the shoulder over the nomination of Black.

The civil service reform and other reform measures of the Democracy were earnestly supported by such distinguished Philadelphia politicians as Samuel Josephs.

A swimmer in search of notoriety attempted to swim the rapids below Niagara falls with a cork life preserver fastened to his body. He came through a lifeless man.

The Democratic Black ticket nominated at Harrisburg, last week, was a splendidly set up job by the office holders, and a nicely set down job on Wallace, one of the ablest men in the Democratic party.

One might read the late Democratic state platform a thousand years and never learn that there is such an interest as the liquor or prohibition interest within the limits of the commonwealth. How forgetful the erring brethren are.

WILLIAM GRAY, of Boston, managed to get away with a half million dollars of the Atlantic and Indian Orchard Mills. He was treasurer for the companies. He closed his career by drowning himself to escape the law, one day last week.

The Philadelphia Record in speaking of the nomination of Mr. Black for the governorship, says: "We have lost our Governor, anyway, and we may as well make the defeat a Waterloo, thus testifying our devotion to Democracy and our hatred of its betrayers."

The long and arduous trial of the Anarchists in Chicago was brought to a conclusion last Friday morning by the jury bringing in a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree against Spies, Parsons, Lingg, Fischer, Fielden and Engle. Several others have been found guilty of manslaughter.

A CHICAGO jury has risen to a comprehension of the enormity of the murderous and plundering purposes of the Anarchists, and has found a lot of them guilty of murder. One more act will end the dreadful tragedy that was inaugurated by riot and dynamite bomb throwing. The Chicago court has done only what is due to its industrious, orderly people.

The office holders of the Democratic party led by office holder Samuel J. Randall, of Philadelphia, held a State Convention at Harrisburg last week, and nominated office holder, Lieutenant Governor, Chauncey F. Black, for Governor. Senator Wallace, who stood by the party when it was most in need of friends was a candidate, but he was placed upon the alter for the sacrifice, and now amidst the shouts of the triumphant office holders the smoke of the sacrificial clouds the scene and fills the air with an ominous mist that is the fore runner of defeat in November.

The Democracy of Pennsylvania never say Jefferson Davis, dear Davis, don't talk. Last Thursday the chief of ex-rebeldom attended a Democratic congressional convention in Mississippi and while there was asked to deliver a speech. He responded in a short speech in which he gave expression to the following piece of irony in regard to the negro vote. He said: "The Southern Democrats should be congratulated upon having educated their slaves up to a grade of citizenship so high that the Republicans thought them fit to exercise the right of citizenship." Dear Davis why will you talk?

The Democratic State Convention met at Harrisburg last Wednesday, and shelled Senator Wallace, one of the ablest public men that the Democracy have, and nominated Lieutenant Governor Chauncey F. Black for Governor. Mr. Black was brought into Juniata a few years ago to make a speech or two for his party, when he was called on—and could not deliver his speech. He was nominated on first ballot. Black, Wallace, McCormick, Wolverton, and Dechert were all before the Convention for nomination. The first and only ballot stood: Black 193; Wallace, 129; McCormick, 12; Wolverton, 9; Dechert, 2. It required 180 votes to nominate and Black was the nominee.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR. Colonel Robert Bruce Ricketts, of Luzerne county, was nominated for the Lieutenant Governorship by a vote of 182.

CONGRESSMAN-AT-LARGE. Maxwell Stevenson, a native of Ireland, now a resident of Philadelphia, was nominated for Congress-man-at-Large.

SECRETARY OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS. J. Simpson Africa, of Huntingdon, was nominated for the office of Secretary of Internal Affairs.

AUDITOR GENERAL. William J. Brennan, of Pittsburgh, was nominated for Auditor General. R. Milton Spear, of Huntingdon, nominated Brennan in a speech in which he called Quay a briber and Norris his tool, both ready to steal the people's money. It is probable that Milton thought that he was addressing a jury that was setting inquisition to condemn some poor fellow's farm that a fat banker like Milton was ready to gobble up through a process of law. It might do, perhaps, to say, dear Milton, don't talk, but it would be infinitely better if an odorous plaster were placed across the one side of his mouth, so that his speeches in the future may not be like the stereotyped speeches of abuse that are so frequently heard delivered before juries.

RESOLUTIONS. The following are the resolutions that were passed by the Convention:

FIRST. The Democracy of Pennsylvania in convention assembled do declare that we reaffirm the Chicago platform of 1884 approved by the people in the election of Cleveland and Hendricks. That we favor a just and fair revision of the revenue laws in accordance with the letter and spirit of that declaration of Democratic principles and in such revision care should be taken that such changes shall be made in a spirit of fairness to all interests and without depriving American labor of the ability to successfully compete with foreign labor and without imposing lower rates of duty than will be ample to cover any increased cost of production which may exist in consequence of the higher rate of wages prevailing in this commonwealth.

SECOND. That we indorse the Democratic reform administration of President Cleveland. It has given confidence to the business industries of the country, purged the departments of corruption, checked extravagance, discouraged class legislation and monopolies, elevated the civil service from the partisan debasement to which it had been reduced by previous administrations and has made the people of the United States feel assured confidence in the perpetuity and safety of the nation.

THIRD. That we indorse the Democratic reform administration of Governor Pattison. It has rescued the Commonwealth from rampant corruption, vigilantly guarded the public treasury, scrupulously protected the rights of the people, economically administered the government, earnestly endeavored to enforce every provision of the Constitution, reformed the management of State institutions, exposed and corrected abuse in the soldiers' orphans' schools, redeemed the Pardon Board from scandal and executed all promises made by the candidates and party in 1882.

FOURTH. That we sympathize with labor in its efforts to make industrial and moral worth, not money, the true standard of individual and national greatness, and to secure to the workers the full enjoyment of the wealth they create and sufficient leisure in which to develop their intellectual and social faculties, and to this end we desire the enlargement of the Bureau of Statistics, the abrogation of all laws that do not bear equally upon capital and labor, and the prevention of the hiring out of convict labor, the adoption of measures providing for the health and safety and indemnification of injuries to those employed in mining, manufacturing and building industries, the enactment of laws by which labor organizations may be incorporated and arbitration extended and enforced, and a suitable apprenticeship act for the purpose of creating a better class of artisans and mechanics; the prohibition of the employment of children under fourteen years of age in workshops, mines and factories; the strict and exact enforcement of the laws relating to pluck-me stores and store orders and those relating to the accounting of industrial works; the appointment of inspectors to carry out these provisions and a rigid enforcement of existing emigration laws to exclude pauper, contract and assisted emigration.

FIFTH. That we pledge ourselves to the enforcement of articles sixteen and seventeen of the State Constitution relative to private corporations, railroads and canals by appropriate legislation.

SIXTH. That the State and local tax laws should be so altered and amended as to relieve farms and real estate from its present unfair and large proportion of taxation, and equalize the same so that personal estate would be made to pay its just part.

RESOLVED. That we lament the death of the Democratic leaders who upheld their political principles through years of distrust, injustice and wrong. Death does not dissolve the tie which their virtues bound us. Our party's inspirations and hope come from the memory of lives and labors given to the service of our country. We lament the death of him whose life was happily prolonged until the wrong done in 1876 was made right, the Vice President, Thomas A. Hendricks. From Democratic councils has been taken the presence, but not the influence, of the purity of character, the lofty patriotism of the beloved soldier and citizen, George B. McClellan. We mourn the loss of the venerable statesman, who elevated his party with the wisdom and integrity of Horatio Seymour. We know how Pennsylvania grieved for Winfield Scott Hancock. We cherish the memory of him in the shadow of whose death we meet, and the sentiment which was adopted by a National Convention of our party gives him the best homage of freemen—the pledge of our devotion to the principles and cause now inseparable in the history of the Republic from the labor and name of Samuel J. Tilden.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS. Seven tramps were recently taken forcibly from the jail at Salida, Col., by members of the Citizens' League, flogged and set free.

The old boatmen of the western division of the Pennsylvania Canal will hold a picnic at Ninevah, Westmoreland county, on September 9.

William Gorham and his hired man, who were looking out of a barn window near St. Charles, Ill., during a thunderstorm, were both killed by lightning.

A Hartford boy that died the other day weighed less than three pounds but his little body was placed in a burial casket and carried to the grave in a little white hearse.

The Rev. Miss Louise Baker is a preacher at Nantucket. A correspondent says of her: "She has a serene beautiful face and a sweet voice. Young men get converted by a look."

Thayer county, Nebraska, was the scene of a marriage in which the blushing bride of forty, Mrs. Jane Studley, weighing 374 pounds, took as her companion for life her hired hand, John Bell, aged twenty-two, and weighing 125 pounds. The wife is possessed of $50,000.

Cavalry regiments in the Prussian army are being carefully drilled in the art of swimming their horses across rivers. The feat is said to be performed with the utmost precision and rapidity, whole regiments crossing and recrossing in an astonishingly short space of time.

On the night of June 2nd an immense pest bog with which the people of Port Stanley, Falkland Islands, carried their fuel, became loosened by heavy rains and rushed down upon the town, sweeping everything before it and causing great destruction. A boy of 7 and an old man named Patrick Keating were lost. It is estimated that over 50,000 tons of peat lay over the town.

Printers have much to endure. A morning paper that had sub-edited a cheap "ad," received the following lucid complaint: "Please insert the above as it is rote down, not alter it as it were last week please." This is how it was "rote": "A respectable woman aged 47, a good plain cook trustworthy to edify or smother family good reference, address, &c." It only remains to add that the writing of this was fully as original as the spelling—Wilmington Home Weekly.

McAlisterville people held a picnic last Thursday.

WANTED.—Daniel Rupp's English translation of the great Martyr book.

Junata Veterans' Association. The reunion of the Veteran Soldiers of Junata County will be held in Mifflintown, July 27, 1886.

Lost. A memorandum and account book, with list of merchant appraisers, letters, and other papers. The finder will confer a favor by addressing J. S. Bear, at McAlisterville, Junata county, Pa., in regard to it.

Cider Making. On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of every week, until the first of September, 1886, cider will be made at the Van Werder Press. The press will be run on other days of the week.

Read. The undersigned is the only agent in the county for the sale of the celebrated "Munson's Copper Tubing Lightening Rod." This is the rod that was so effective on the house of C. C. Metz during a thunder storm on the 15th inst. I have samples of the copper covered rod which I can furnish for 12 cents per foot.

Give your children an education, if nothing else. They will keep that. Patronize home institutions. L. Y. HAYS, Principal.

The Last Excursion to the New Jersey Coast. The last of the summer series of popular low-rate excursions by the Pennsylvania Railroad to Atlantic City, Cape May, or Sea Isle City, will be run Thursday, August 26th. It will reach the shore at a time when the midsummer season will offer all the attractions which the seaside possesses. The bathing in August is not only better than at any other period of the year, but the seashore itself more enjoyable, as it is free from the intense heat which usually prevails in the interior. No other excursion of like character will occur after this date, and it would be well for those who would enjoy a most delightful trip at a very small outlay of money to seize this occasion for doing so. The special train will run on schedule giving on excursion tickets good for ten days and will be sold from points mentioned and at rates quoted below:

Table with columns: Train, Exc. Rates, Leaves. Rows include Pittsburg, East Liberty, Irwin, Uniontown, Connettsville, Scottsdales, Greensburg, Indiana, Butler, Apollo, Blairsville, Johnstown, Crosson, Altoona, Huntingdon, Cumberland, Bedford, Mt. Union, McVeytown, Lewistown Junction, Millin, Port Royal, Newport, Philadelphia.

Excursionists will spend the night in Philadelphia and proceed to the seashore by any regular train of the following day. Tickets are good to return on any regular train (except New York and Chicago Limited) within the time-limit.

"It Saved My Life" Is a common expression, often heard from those who have realized, by personal use, the curative powers of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died from lung troubles. —E. Bragdon, Palestine, Tex.

About six months ago I had a severe hemorrhage of the lungs, brought on by a distressing cough, which deprived me of sleep and rest. I had used various cough balsams and expectorants, without obtaining relief. I then began using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for over a year, and sincerely believe I should have been in my grave, had it not been for this medicine. It has cured me of a dangerous affection of the lungs, for which I had almost despaired of ever finding a remedy. —D. A. McMillan, Windsor, Province of Ontario.
