One of those mathematical heads calculates that if the Chinese nation were to pass before an observer in single file the procession would never cease, for a new generation would be coming on the stage as fast as the procession moved. This fact, it seems to be, ought to discourage the Chinese nation from getting up a procession. And it probably will.—Norristown Herald.

The administrations of President Cleveland, and Governor Pattison have been weighed in the balance and found wanting. The New York Legislature is Republican on its list, ballot, and the Democratic congressional delegation has been reduced from 17 to 10, all of which reduces the size of the candidacy of Mr. Cleveland for the presidency in 1888.

"Papa," she said softly and blushing, "young Mr. Sampson is in the parlor and wishes to speak with you." Then she sank into an easy chair and her heart beat so fiercely that it made the gas fixtures rattle. Presently the father returned, "Oh, papa," she said, "did he—was he—what did he say?" "He wanted to borrow two coats to get over to Brooklyn with," said the disappointed old gentleman.—New York Sun.

Mrs. Angelonias—"I cannot tell you what a treat it is to hear you talk. You have been in England so long that every word you utter reminds me of the delightful words and dukes I used to meet."

Returned Tourist—"Parson, but England is the only country I did not visit." Mrs. Angelonias—"Indeed! How very strange! I was sure you had unconsciously acquired the English vocal tones."

Returned Tourist—"No; it is only a cold in the head."

Secretary Nowlin of the constitutional Amendment Convention of 1873, asked Governor Pattison to bring suit against the Railroad Companies for being in legal passes. Mr. Nowlin might advocate an amendment to the state constitution, reducing the number of courts and the number of members of the lower house of the Legislature. What need of only 40, 000 people having a court. What need of a member of the Legislature for every county. A court for 80,000 people would be sufficient.

J. Grier Long of Port Royal Juniata Co., has been elected Literary Editor of the Washington and Jefferson County students of Washington and Jefferson County. The Editor-in-chief of the paper is H. E. Alexander. It has a local, an All-union, Exchange and business manager editor. The latest edition of the paper had a part of its news the recent speech of Hon James G. Blaine as made before the Faculty and students of W. & J. College in October before the Pennsylvania Legislature. Blaine and Beaver are both graduates of the above named college.

It is uncommon for a mother of small children to commit suicide at any time. The Fulton Republican of last week says: Mrs. George Dilling, of Loyalsock, Bedford County committed suicide by hanging herself with a rope in a stable on the premises on Friday evening. For some time past she has been troubled with an affection of the brain, and caused her friends much uneasiness in regard to her actions. At about 4 o'clock that evening she started to a bucket of water. She had been gone an hour when her sister, becoming alarmed at her protracted absence, in company with another lady went in search of her, and found her hanging by a rope from a beam in the stable. She was aged 33 years, and leaves a husband and three small children. Atkinson's majority in the district is 1201 in Huntington county, 768 in Franklin, 800 in Perry, 331 in Juniata, 850 in Snyder. Total 3450. Jacobs' majority in Fulton is 201, which leaves Atkinson the magnificent majority of 3249. His majority over the State ticket in the district is 1079.

The Newton Hamilton Watchman says: that a few evenings ago Joseph Irvin, who resides with his son at Edward Furnace, went for the cows he encountered a brood sow with a litter of pigs. The animal started with his approach and trampled upon one of the pigs, causing it to squeal with pain, when the sow made a dash for Mr. Irvin who, being a man of advanced years, was unable to get out of the way of the infuriated beast, which attacked him with savage ferocity, mutilating his person in a shocking manner and literally tearing the clothing from his body. He finally succeeded in gaining a fence, which he climbed over and sank exhausted upon the ground. When found he was bleeding profusely from his wounds and was in a state of semi-consciousness. A physician was summoned who dressed his wounds, and we are glad to state that there is good prospect of his recovery.

When you are out in the woods don't prove yourself to be an idiot, or a bad man by deliberately shooting at an object, that you are not certain what it is. There are too many half-wits that walk about with guns and shoot at objects that they see in the bushes without first determining what the object is that they propose to shoot. Men are liable to be overtaken by accident when gunning, but it is not an accident when a man levels his gun at an object and fires before he certainly knows what he is shooting at. The man who will shoot at objects in corn fields and in the woods without knowing what they are, is not a fit subject to run at large, he is either too ignorant or too vicious for free citizenship. The latest case of vicious or ignorant—not accidental—shooting is reported by the Lewistown Sentinel, of November 5, as follows: Last Friday while Mr. Harmon, was out hunting, he mistook Mr. Jack Barbin for a turkey and fired a load of shot at him point blank; but fortunately only two of the shot took effect, striking Mr. B. on the arm and side. Barbin was in the cornfield at the time picking up corn, and had just raised up with a handful of corn, or he would have received the charge full in the head.

The Creamery. A busy place these mornings is the creamery of Blaine & Co., located on what used to be the tannery lot of John Wright, south of town by the basin. Everything about the creamery from the top to the bottom is new excepting that part of the wall under-ground along the alley. At the north end of the building the milk is received and emptied into a condenser that carries it to a vessel inside, on a pair of scales, where it is weighed for each patron, thence it passes into a tank where the cream is extracted from the sweet milk. The milk runs away into a tank and the patrons of the creamery generally fill their cans and go home with as much milk in bulk as when they came. The cream is run into a large cylindrical churn into which a half dozen good sized men might be placed. The churn and all of the machinery of the place is run by a steam engine. 40 to 45 minutes are required to churn the sweet cream into a butter such as will cause the water of an egg to rise to water for more than he has tasted off. The butter milk is run into a tank outside of the building from whence the patrons of the establishment are at liberty to pump it into their cans if they prefer it to sweet milk. The butter is pressed into round blocks and stamped and has a ready sale at first rate prices.

Some one writing from Dimsville to the Liverpool Sun says: A terrible accident befell Peter Pontius of Dimsville, a short time since. He was in the act of splitting some very tough hickory, and was told to bore a hole into the log, fill with lime and water, cork shut, and the steam formed thereby would do the work. He accordingly made use of this philosophical knowledge, but the result was not satisfactory. He went back to the log, and was about to do something at it, when the explosion took place, scattering the cork, and lime into his face, causing it to hang like a forehead and nearly destroying his eyesight. At present he must be kept in a dark room, and suffers indescribable pain owing to particles of lime being imbedded in the eyeballs. The physician says one eye is safe, but is doubtful whether the other can be saved. We are very sorry for this unfortunate occurrence to our friend Peter, and hope he may soon recover.

On the afternoon of the 27th of October the barn of Harry Herman, living about two miles West of Elizabethville Dauphin county burned to the ground, together with its contents. It appears Aaron Zimmerman was threshing for Mr. Herman with his steam, and a straw stack 20 or 25 feet from the engine was ignited by a spark from the fire box and a blast wind at that time quickly fanned it into a flame and blew the fire direct to the barn, which was born with wonderful rapidity, so that help was of no avail. Comparatively nothing could be saved except the horses and some of the furniture. The fire was in time to escape the fire. A hog stable was also burned and with it six chickens. Nearly the entire year's harvest was consumed, and the threshing machine.

Re-union in Millintown. The Veterans' Re-union will take place November 17, 1886. Address of welcome by F. M. Penned Esq. Orator of the day by Wm. Penn Lloyd Capt 1st Pa. Cavalry, Gen. J. P. Hobin Captain in chief and Thos. J. Stewart Adj. Gen. of G. A. R. by the same. We will be glad to help at the Camp Fire in the evening. Come one, come all.

To Our Readers. We cannot too strongly urge upon our readers the necessity of subscribing for a family weekly newspaper of the first class—such, for instance, as THE INDEPENDENT, of New York. We were obliged to select one publication for habitual and careful reading to the exclusion of all others, we should choose unhesitatingly THE INDEPENDENT. It is a newspaper, magazine, and review, all in one. It is a religious, a literary, an educational, a story, an art, a scientific, an agricultural, a financial, and a political paper combined. It has 32 folio pages and 21 departments. No matter what a person's religion, politics or profession may be, no matter what his sex, employment or condition may be, he is interested in it. It is a paper that is free to all, and for thirty cents the paper will be sent a month, enabling one to judge of its merits more critically. Its yearly subscription is $3.00, or two years for $5.00. Address, THE INDEPENDENT, 251 Broadway, New York City.
