

OUR ARTIST'S VISION.

Our special artist had a vision the other night when all around was still, in which, "Windy Bill," of the Herald, appeared at Harrisburg, in heroic size on Capitol Hill, threatening to storm, some one, if the Beaver administration fails to give him his rights, in a snug office in the department of the Secretary of State. His rights are based on his wonderful political tumbling, turn coat ability, claims—in being "good Lord good devil," to "chill circumstances,"—in having been an ardent advocate of Tilden's election, and in running a mule campaign in Junia, for which he complains he has not been paid, just as if the Republican party is under obligation to pay him for Independent mule political work. His other great claims were not clearly set forth in the vision, and as the vision gradually faded from sight, the expiring flash of light revealed "Windy Bill" still legging on Capitol Hill, in heroic size, for an office, but guards standing among the shrubbery that surrounds the Capitol building indicates that "wind" claims are not of the right stamp.

The Judge's Cash Puzzle

GRANT MONUMENT FUND.
USE YOUR HEADS AND MAKE MONEY.
Men-Women-Children-Everybody

The Judge proposes to assist the Grant Monument Fund by organizing a grand competition on word-building (making the largest number of English words from a given sentence by transposing and using letters to suit the purpose), using for the theme the sentence "Who will be our next President?" and offering Cash prizes to successful competitors, each of whom will have to pay fifty (50) cents on presentation of his competitive paper. The money received will be applied as follows: Twenty-five cents at once credited to the Grant Fund.
The remaining twenty-five cents, after deducting the legitimate expenses of advertising names with their respective answers, etc., will be placed in a common fund to be equally divided among the six successful competitors, i. e., the six persons sending in the largest lists of English words (proper nouns included) made from the sentence "Who will be our next President?"
The magnitude of the prizes will depend on the amount of money received, or in other words on the number of competitors. Communications open until February 16, 1887, 12 o'clock.
This is not a new thing. In England large sums of money have been raised for Charity by this method, and those who have participated and incidentally helped a worthy object have won a prize as high as $10,000 as a reward for mental activity.
The names of competitors will be published from week to week in Judge as they may come in. This will not only serve as an acknowledgment of the receipt of the money, etc., but will also serve to show the weekly progress of the fund. Governing rules in this week's Judge.

Why should our tears in sorrow flow,
When God recalls his own,
And bade him leave a world of woe,
For an immortal crown?
Is not his death a gain to those
Whose life in God was given?
Gladly to catch his bright eyes closed,
To open them in heaven.
His toils are past his work is done,
And he is fully blessed;
He fought the fight, the victory won,
And entered into rest.
Then let our sorrows cease to flow,
God has recalled his own;
But let our hearts in every weep,
Still say, "Thy will be done."
