County Superintendent.

At this time, a quiet, but most vigorous electioneering canvass is going on among the school directors of this county. There are six candid ates in the field and that is a number sufficient to stir effectually any circle, whether of state, church or school into a feeling of deep interest. The candidates are Auman, the present. polite, competent and hard working Superintendent: Ailman, the Grange lecturer, and quiet scholar ; Martin, the solid instructor; Turbett, the efficient teacher: Hibbs, the social and versatile professor; and Keller, the popular principal of the Mifflintown schools. It would be quite a task to learn how often the school directors of the respective districts have been individually visited and re visited, relative to the election of a Superintendent of public schools. The di rectors will meet in convention next Tuesday a week and elect a Superintendent. Each one of the six candid ates seem to be sanguine of securing the prize. There is no more certain fact, than that only one can be elected. It is announced that there is no politics in the movement, but regardless of the announcement, everybody political antecedents of each individ- and dune thousands of people annuual in the canvass, but as to how ally. closely the lines will be drawn, the the field may divide on second ballot. few days ago. JOHNNIE BULL -Yes, Uncle Sammy, a true confession is good to ease a guilty conscience. I know that some of my fishermen were fishing within a distance of three miles of your coast and getting the fish into your por s as best they could, while at the same time, your ships that came within the three mile line of my coast, and some times ran into a by harbor to get bait were siezed upon and their cargo confiscated.

Unite Sam - Now that's a nice old boy of a confession, and it suits first rate. I can retaliate and shut my ports against your fish, but the best thing to do that will be consistent with the dignity and honor of both of us is to have our fishermen behave themselves and obey the law.
