Taking the average depth of the ocean to three miles, there would be a layer f pure salt 230 feet thick on the bed of e Atlantic. The water is colder at the bottom than at the surface. In the many bays on the coast of Norway the water often freezes at the bottom be fore it does above. Waves are very deceptive. To look at them in a storm one would think the water traveled. The water stays in the same place, but the motion goes on. Sometimes in storms these waves are forty feet high, and travel fifty miles an hour, more spot. > A simple way to ascertain whether a sample of petroleum is dangerous or not has been recommended by a chemist of considerable standing. An ordinary tumbler is filled two-thirds full with the oil. While filling up the remaining one-third with boiling water a finme is held over the vessel. If the vapor which rises takes fire the test indicates that the petroleum is not safe to be exposed to the atmosphere.

At a meeting of the Berlin Medical Society lately photographs were shown by Professor Virchow of the gigantic plane tree, in the Island of Cos, under the shade of which Hippocrates is said by tradition to have held medical eraminations. The tree stands in the market-place of the town of Cos, on the east side of the island, and the branches, which spread over nearly the whole area of the market-place, are supported by marble pillars.

mian oats lies in the manner in which they are sold, not in the grain itself. Of this a writer in the National Stockman says that the oats make a good chicken feed, but for horses and cattle, feed either ground or whole, they are too rich, as the hull of an oat aids digestion. The Bohemian cats are hulless, or should be, to be like the original seed. Many horses refuse to eat them. Those that do are liable to colic from eating rapidly. They can no doubt be used to advantage in the manufacture of oatmeal.

SHEEP are less liable to disease than hogs and are subject to smaller risks than cattle. Sheep multiply fast, and returns come from them quickly. In addition to those he can keep his table supplied with fresh meat.

MANY weeds may be used profitably as food for hogs The narrow-leaved plantain possesses nearly the same nutritive value as timothy, while lamb's quarter and pig weed are both highly relished by swine. It is best not to allow any weeds to grow; yet they should be utilized as much as possible in case they have made growth.

GERMAN millet sown and lightly harrowed in, in the proportion of one bushel of seed per acre, makes an excellent crop for summer. But it must e cut as soon as it shall be in blossom, for if allowed to ripen its seed it will become hard and woody. On good, well-manured land it should produce two tons of hay per acre.

ALWAYS turn eggs twice a week if they are to be kept for future use. Egg for hatching will keep two or three weeks if turned half over daily. They hould be in a place of moderate temperature, where they will not freeze or be too warm.

OF THE varieties of ducks the Pekins stand confinement best, but they are not as tame as the common kinds, They grow very large, often reaching eight or nine pounds each, and yield feathers of a white color, and equal to hose of the goose.

FARMS in some sections of Pennsylvania maintain the fertility of their soils by applying 100 bushels of slacked time to the acre once in five years. It is said fields which have been subjected to this treatment for the past 100 years are as productive now as when the experiment was first tried. This application depends for its value any other. Ask your dealer for it, and much upon the original character of the soil. Soor obtained from a wood fire, mixed with boiling water and allowed to cool, forms an excellent liquid manure for roses. Its effects in promot-ing the health and strengthing the growth of flowers are extraordinary. WE ARE not prepared to say dogmatically which are the best poultry for profit, but we do say the Brown Leghorns and Plymouth Rock are good enough for us.

The electric light bids fair to be the ight of the immediate future in English country houses, according to the London World. Lord Salisbury, who is of an experimental and scientific turn of mind, was the first to use it in a country house. That was four or five years ago. Then the Duke of Southerland followed the example at Trentham, and now Lord Thurlow is lighting Dunphall House by electricity.
