If France could be converted into Paris a war with Germany would immediately take place.

Boysenier, is the name of the General most admired by citizens of Paris, because he wishes to antagonize Germany.

Seventy-two Illinois citizens are in a state of indignation over the discovery of crookedness in the sheriff's office. The present sheriff and five preceding sheriffs are said to have robbed the county of many thousands of dollars.

Dr. McGLENN wants to go to Congress. Some district in which some one of the parties is fighting itself to death might nominate and elect him to represent the district, but it would be just the place to prove what a piece of nothing he is.

Some one wrote to Jeff Davis in 1861, that Governor Curtin had liberated two murderous criminals from penitentiary imprisonment to assassinate Davis. The criminals were to receive one hundred thousand dollars reward.

The Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, have issued an address setting forth the foreign mission work and suggesting the need of more money for the foreign mission work and suggesting that the week beginning August 8th, be observed as a week of prayer for the cause of missions and of liberal giving.

Jeff Davis says, let the past be past and then deliver in his oil rig sack of 1861, and produces an anonymous letter, that charges Governor Curtin with having pardoned two desperadoes out of the penitentiary, and promised them one hundred thousand dollars in the event of their assassination of Davis.

Democracy: the time of the war the Democrats wanted to prove the war a failure, by declaring it to be unconstitutional to bring the rebel states back into the Union. They wanted to prove the war a failure, by declaring it to be unconstitutional to free the slaves, and last but not least, Cleveland wanted to declare the war a failure by returning the Confederates.

The New York Independent observes: We suppose that we state the simple truth in saying that, with the exception of Sanday, more accidents happen and more crimes are committed on holidays than on any equal number of days in the year. Men, having nothing to do in the way of business, have more time to commit crime and expose themselves more to accidents.

The 12th inst., was the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne, and in a number of places where the Catholics are numerous riots took place between them and Protestant organizations known as Orangemen. It is about time in this day and generation that both Catholics and Protestants quit their worse than tomfoolery fighting, they'll both go to hell if they don't and that's where neither of them desire to go. Peace brethren, peace!

ASSISTANT GENERAL DIRM, he who secured President Cleveland as a willing instrument to the proposal to return captured Confederate flags to the respective states, is said to be in failing health. Such a plan as he intended to return the trophies of the late war might sicken any man after he heard the patriotic disapproval of the country against his unpatriotic proposal of the surrender of the trophies of the war. Couldn't Dem persuade the President to agree to return the stars to the States to which they belonged? There would be as much sense in such an order as to return the flags.

Cultivating Coffee. There is needed a rich soil, plenty of water and perfect shade; for the coffee plant cannot stand direct sun rays any more than cold. Just before the rainy season, seeds are planted in peculiar diagonal lines, so as to give about ninety trees to the acre, and given over to a farmer's care for five years. He at once plants banana trees beside them, which answer a double purpose of shading the tender growth and of producing quick returns. Meanwhile, the slower growing lincars, which is permanent, is planted, and by the time the coffee is large enough to bear, is ready to shield it for life. The owner now takes possession of his estate and it begins to yield, continuing for thirty years or more, with an average annual product of ten pounds to a tree. About the middle of March it is in full blossom, bearing a pretty, white, daisy-shaped flower, with half a dozen lanceolate leaves, and a delicate vanilla perfume. The fruit or berry, containing two coffee beans lying face to face like chestnuts in a burr, ripens early in autumn, when it is picked, husked, washed, sorted according to size and quality, and sent off to market in sacks of from 125 to 130 pounds—Dr. W. F. Hutchinson, in The American Magazine.

The Bully of Berks County. Reading, July 13.—Moses Rothel, a well known young farmer, brother of ex-District Attorney Rothel, and Frank Templar, a butcher, met this afternoon in an open field, near Fleetwood, this county, to decide who was the "bully of Berks county." They fought with bare knuckles, stripped to the waist without a referee—kicking and biting being allowed. They brutally gonged and kicked each other in regular hammer and tong style for fifteen minutes. When their friends took them in charge Rothel had both eyes closed and had badly kicked in the ribs and abdomen. Templar's face was fearfully punished. Five hundred people witnessed the fight.

Married on the Spot. Henry Wynn, a middle-aged bachelor, who has long lived in the Northwest, recently visited his brother in Owen Sound, Canada, and then decided that he wanted to get married. He didn't know a woman in town except his brother's wife, and he offered her fifty acres of land if she'd find him a wife. Mrs. Wynn was willing to earn the money, but it was not until her brother-in-law was about to start for his home that she found a maiden lady willing to take the chances with Wynn. The two were introduced just as the boat was leaving. A consultation was held, the pair were married on the spot. Mrs. Wynn received the deed for the fifty acres of land, and the bride and groom steamed away for their prairie home.

Joseph C. Kennedy, a real estate agent, was assassinated about 5 o'clock on the evening of the 13th inst., in Washington, D. C., by John Darley. Kennedy was about to take a street car when Darley stepped up to him, drew a large, keen-bladed knife similar to those used by butchers in killing hogs, ran it into Mr. Kennedy's right side near the abdomen with a vicious lunge and then gave it a jerk sideways. A large crowd was gathered at the corner at the time, including many clerks in the Government departments, but they were all so horrified-stricken that for a moment nobody moved. Mr. Kennedy fell to the ground and after giving one cry of "Murder!" groaned deeply and pointed to his murderer. The murderer was immediately arrested. Washington people do not often talk of lynching, but in this case lynching was freely talked of. Daily is in jail.

A few weeks ago a man from Johns town came to Register Barre's office with his "dove dove," who bails for a license, and applied for a marriage license. It was granted. The enamored couple then took the train for Mt. Union where they were married on Saturday, July 21, by the Presbyterian pastor, whose parson was enriched to the extent of $3. The groom had but $1 in his possession. After the ceremony had been performed the couple hastened to the depot intending to take Mail Express for Ryde, where they proposed making a visit, but when they reached the railroad station they were informed that the train had gone and that there would be no other one until the next morning. With a pocket the husband went to a hotel several rooms for the night for fifty cents, and after the happy couple had eaten twenty-five cents worth of ice cream, they retired with twenty-five cents remaining. The next morning they departed with breakfast, the husband went to the station, plunked down his remaining twenty-five cents for a ticket for his wife to Ryde, placed her in the train and off she went alone. It being Sunday and the groom not having anything to do, presently took the railroad and walked to Ryde, where he reported he met his wife shortly after dinner.—Huntingdon Globe.

Parties from Crawford Co. report a rather exciting incident which occurred down there last Tuesday afternoon. James Laswell, of Laswell Station, on the Air Line, discovered Charles P. Creelins carrying on a handkerchief fight with his antagonist and he at once took down the shotgun and opened fire on Creelins, who ran to the depot and boarded a passing freight train. Another freight train came along in a few minutes Laswell well followed it and followed Creelins to the station, where he saw Creelins standing on a platform at the depot at English, a station a few miles east of Laswell, and he jumped from the train and opened fire upon him with a revolver. Creelins rapidly retreated in the direction of a creek and, reaching the stream, plunged in and made for the opposite shore. Laswell followed and kept firing at Creelins whenever opportunity offered, but he was in such an excited condition that he would not shoot with certainty. Creelins crossed and recrossed the swollen creek three times in his flight from Laswell, and finally took to the woods and made his escape. Creelins sloped with Laswell's laughter, and his antagonist was arrested, and both parties returned to their homes.

An oily tongued youth of about eighteen summers visited this section of the county last week, professing to be P. T. Barnum's advance bill poster and advertiser, he engaged boarding at different places for about two hundred men and a lot of horses. The show was to have been on the 14th inst., at Lewisport, and P. T., through the fullness of his heart and the love he had for the people, had arranged to run a free train from Huntingdon to Lewisport for the accommodation of his million "seeing people." He is a fraud of the first water and should he ever strike this town or township again, he will receive his just deserts. He left Mt. Pleasant about midnight and was seen by the railroad watchman tramp lines on his way to Huntingdon. Pass him around.—Newton Hamilton Waterman.

Tourist (passing quiet looking country house).—There seems to be an air of sweet, calm, dreamy contentment and long summer-day quiet about this place, my friend? Inhabitant (leaning on gate).—Does, hey? you ought to go up in a balloon and look down on it for a second or two you'd see grandmarn rattling grand down in a shell in the barn, marn hold, the parson door agin. Eers a third attack of delirious tremens. Eers a Sul

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from an abundant successful practice, that the alarm consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured; pointing out a mode of cure, at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.
