Burned to Death.
About three o'clock Tuesday of last week a horrible and fatal accident occurred on West Hale street, in the South ward, resulting in the instant death of Mrs. Albert Kemmerling and the severe burning of her husband. Mr. Kemmerling is a brickman on the Lewistown division, running from this place to Sunbury. Tuesday afternoon July 5 he was called to make a trip and his wife was about to prepare him something to eat and take along in his bucket. In order to hasten the cooking she endeavored to re-ignite the fire by means of coal oil pouring the contents of a glass can into the stove. Immediately there was an explosion and the interior of the room was a dense mass of flames and smoke. Her husband, who had been in the front part of the house, hearing the explosion, ran into the kitchen and in an instant realized what had taken place. Barring in a door he endeavored to rescue his wife, not too late as she must have been killed instantly. The neighbor-hood was aroused and soon sympathizing hands were rendering the assistance possible to rescue the body of Mrs. Kemmerling and prevent the destruction of the house by fire. Water was dashed through windows and doors, and when entrance could be made the charred and blackened body was found protruding upon the floor, with the clothing entirely burned from her. Mr. Kemmerling had his hands, arms and face painfully burned and it was feared his injuries might also prove fatal. After the accident Coroner Waters impelled a jury and held an inquest, finding a verdict in accordance with the above facts. The body was prepared for burial and Mr. Kemmerling removed to the residence of John M. Wimer corner Main and Hall streets. This sad accident the horrible death of which it is not necessary to enter into, has cast a warning and a gloom over and shattered the time for holding the Primary Election, for Saturday, August 27, 1887, under the rules of the party, the return judges will meet on Monday, August 29, 1887, in the Court House to count the vote and announce the names of the nominees.

rapidly as it ran off the rocks, otherwise the house would have been entirely destroyed. Let this misfortune be a lasting warning to our citizens in regard to the use of coal oil in kindling fires.—Lewistown Gazette.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company will again this summer offer to the public a number of special excursions from principal points in Western Pennsylvania to the resorts of the New Jersey coast.
