Cheap confectioners do not uso the keynote of candy success "Pure naterials, fruit syrups and fine butter." The main expense in running a candy store is rent and clerk hire. The rent of a Broadway or Fifth avenue store runs from $2,500 a year to $18,000, and on a pound of candy costs almost as much as the sugar. The clerk hire is large in amount, as the candy trade is not steady, but depends on the weather and hours of the day. A fine afternoon will crowd the store and work teaspoonfuls of soda, a cupful of sour cream and a heaping tablespoonful of lard. rent as clerk hire. As much candy of the best grades is sold in summer as in winter, if not more. The candy stores down town do a big summer business, as business men buy candy there to take to their wives out of town, and young clerks send a box every little while to their girl who is off at some summer resort. In the winter the bulk of the trade is by the women themselves, who cause more trouble than the men and do not buy so much of the highest price. PANTOMINE IN NAPLES.

A People Who Are Most Proficient in the Use of Sign Language.

The people of Naples are most profici-ent in the use of gesture. "With what were you most struck when in England?" asked a British subject of a Neapolitan, "With the total absence of all pantomimic action in conversation," replied he. To watch a lecturer addressing his audience without so much as lifting a finger, in emphasis of his remarks, is the most laughable cf sights to this lively southern race. Such admirable mimics are the Nea-

Familiarity, with the lauguage signs saves a great deal of time and effort. For example, if, in any other city, you wish to invite a passing acquaintance to dinner, you must stop him, and go through a quantity of courteous formality. In Naples, you may simply rap your mouth, and intlinate the hour by holding up the requisite number of fingers. A motion on his part informs you whether your friend will accept your hospitality.
