The tobacco crop is reported at 15 per cent less than last year.

A reviewer has bought the Garret interest in the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

There is the opinion of the man who proposes, to contest Carlisle's seat in Congress.

"A reviewer is a Democrat who thinks all prohibitionists should vote the Democratic ticket."

Mrs. Cleveland was invited to present certain flags to the New York Fire Department. She declined, because the President was not in sight.

There is a complaint from Chicago that the Milk Producers Union of the Northwest propose to organize to monopolize the entire milk business of Chicago.

The President and Southern Free traders and their New York allies are trying to arrange a tariff revision programme for Democratic Congressmen to work by next winter.

Recent a reviewer was hung at midnight in Columbus Ohio. Men should be executed in daylight. Secret tribunals and secret punishment, and secret execution are all antagonistic to the spirit of free government.

The New York Legislature scattered its head last winter and said from henceforth there shall be no Monday, and forthwith passed a law making Monday a legal holiday. Some unbelievers have arisen to declare that now it is Blue Tuesday. The question is submitted to the New York Legislature.

The Philadelphia Times, September 13, it is said, has news to good many people that there is a Greenback party in this state, but there is, and it will hold a State convention at Williamsport to day. Men have been known to think themselves dead when they were still alive, but the Greenback party of Pennsylvania is a conspicuous example of a party that thinks itself alive when it is dead.

WALTER BARBER of Philadelphia comes to the front as the recipient of great concessions on the part of the Chinese Government. The imperial Chinese Government grants to Mr. Barber the privilege of establishing banking, railway and telephone enterprises. There are millions in it, and if great prospective wealth is to suffer hardship, Barber will have some full, running over with his hands.

George H. Barker is reported to have answered an inquiry, while at Pittsburg, relative to the calling of an extra session of the Legislature, by saying, "the people have not asked for an extra session." The Governor is correct in his statement, and there is no probability that the people will ask for an extra session for the purpose of considering the defeated revenue bill. The Governor Pattison extra session gave them enough of it.

That extra session of the Legislature, the number of its members, by office, and will defeat others in the future. The people are suspicious of an extra session. Should Governor Beaver re-convene the Legislature there is suspicion that the Legislature might not pass the revenue bill, but pile amendment after amendment upon it till it will have lost all appearance of itself.

From the Philadelphia Bulletin, September 7.—"The cigarette scare has all the while," said a Chestnut street cigar seller this morning "When the newspapers were attacking cigarettes and cigarette smokers and manufacturers, we noticed a large falling off in our retail sales of these goods. The decline was fully fifty per cent, and I have noticed that many of my customers who changed to cigars about that time have never changed back. A good many have, however, and recruits have joined the ranks of the lovers of cigarettes, so that the army of smokers is about as large as it ever was. We sell as many cigarettes as we ever did, perhaps more, for the business increases from year to year. Is cigarette smoking really injurious? Well, now you will hardly expect me to answer that question, for I am in the business, but I don't mind saying that I always select cigars for my own smoking."

"WANTED A POLICY," is the heading of an editorial advertisement in the New York World. It is wanted for the Democratic party, which has been for some years without such a necessary article, although it has the Presidency, a majority in the lower House of Congress and a vast army of office-holders scattered over the land. For about half a century before the Civil War the party had a fine working policy which was based on the slave-holding aristocracy of the South. It lost the article among the spoils of war, and since then it has been on the hunt for office. Now it is in need of a definite plan of collecting and expending the revenues of the country, and the leaders cannot agree upon one which they can present to the people without danger of losing the more practicable privilege of keeping possession of the offices. The party platform, various states are widely divergent. Most of the leaders are in favor of destroying protection and making foreign trade free. But from the party by this process, and then who would care for the office holders? The advertisement for a policy does not state very clearly the exact kind that is wanted; but it says that unless the party can furnish one "on what ground can they appeal to the people for a new lease of power?" Philadelphia Bulletin.

An old swindle. An old swindle has been worked on M. Gibson, a farmer living near Mercer. He tried to sell his farm. A man made his appearance, agreed to buy and paid $100 as forfeit. He went away. In a few days a second man came along, but a higher price. No. 1 came again. Gibson paid him $1,000 to release the bargain, and now he is looking for the purchaser who was to pay the biggest price.

Wages in 1800. From McMaster's history of the People of the United States. The condition of the wages class of that day may be well examined; it is full of instruction for social agitators. In the great cities unskilled workmen were hired by the day, bought their whole food, and found their own lodgings. But in the country on the farms, or wherever a hand was employed at some public work they were fed and lodged by the employer and given a few dollars a month. On the Pennsylvania canals the diggers ate the coarsest diet, were housed in the rudest sheds, and paid $6 a month from May to November, $8 a month from November to March. In Albany and New York were three shillings, or a monthy then went forty cents a day; at Lancaster $8 to $10 a month; elsewhere in Pennsylvania workmen were paid in winter. At Baltimore men were paid to be hired at 18 pence a day. None, by the month, asked more than $1. At Frederickburg the price of labor was from $5 to $7. In Virginia, white men employed by the year were given $16 pounds current. Slaves when hired, were clothed and their masters paid £1 a month. A poor Virginian money was in Federal money, $3.33. The average rate of wages the land over was, therefore $65 a year, with food and perquisites included. Out of this small sum the workman must, with his wife's help, maintain his family.

Constitutional Centennial Celebration at Philadelphia. The centennial anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of the United States will be celebrated in Philadelphia, on September 17th, 18th, and 19th. The commission having the matter in charge has devoted much care and attention to the detail of the various forms of entertainment provided for the occasion, and the celebration as a whole bids fair to surpass anything of the kind seen in this country, while many individual features will possess not only a national but an historic interest.

of his brick foundation. Three horses in a wooded pasture were killed by falling trees. All tall trees were leveled. One farmer had fifty acres of fine timber all blown down. A brick school house at Michie was destroyed. The track of the tornado was south by east from here along the line of the Toledo and Ohio Central road, and is from one to two hundred yards wide. No fences or tall trees are standing. Corn is scattered and houses and barns are unroofed for miles. At Waterville and other villages to the southwest much damage was done, and the total damage will amount to many thousands of dollars. No loss of life is reported. The slate roofs of a number of the buildings were badly damaged and the towering chimneys of the main building of the Inness Asylum were blown down, crushing in the roof. The total loss to the asylum is $8,000. Dr. Embury, the assistant superintendent of the asylum, was driving into the grounds at the time, his wife and little daughter being with him. The buggy was overturned and the three were thrown on the ground. The doctor, who was on the horse, which, with the vehicle, was lifted and carried, several rods. His wife and child were carried over a hundred feet and dropped into a ditch in two feet from which they were rescued unhurt.

A Wabash train met the centre of the tornado, and the smokestack of the locomotive was carried off.

If the country newspaper proprietors were to publish the names of the subscribers who take, read and enjoy, and are gratified by, and yet refuse to pay for their home papers, the reputation of most communities would be ruined. An editor's labors are seldom estimated. A lawyer will give five minutes advice on a topic and charge you $5 for it. An editor will give you advice on a hundred topics and charge you five cents a copy for his paper. And very often five cents given to an editor would save $5 given to a lawyer. In fact no other business men are so generally robbed and swindled out of their labor and capital as the country newspaper publishers.—New York Sun.

CARLENE PA. Sept. 7.—Take Hishi Pesshi Tarro, of George Tarro, the Japanese who killed James S. Scott, at Mt. Holly Springs on the 6th of August, has surrendered. Fearing lynching, he had fled to the mountains, and thence walked to Baltimore. There he engaged himself to Ed Falkner, a truck raiser on the eastern shore. He agreed to deliver, however, that he walked to Wilming, Del., where he has relatives, and after consulting with them, gave himself up to an officer, who brought him to Carlisle on the 6:45 P. M. train. He will be tried at the November court.

Young man, when you jeer at a lady passing along the street or haunt and stare her with your glances, does it ever occur to you that some object scorned in you, is your sister, your wife, or in coming years, your daughter, in the same infamous manner? How would you like that? Would you think it smart? Would you think it as smart to knock a lady of blood if you should be to knock one from one end of the continent to the other and horsewhipped back again.

The American Agriculturist says the best way to get rid of the Buffalo and other pests is to insect. It is very hotly intended for but, also to all other vermin that may be lurking under the carpet.
