Realized at Sea. "A wet sheet and a flowing sea, a breeze that follows fast. From his look-out the faithful old captain of yonder merchantman casts an uneasy glance at the distant horizon. Seel yonder a small speck of cloud "no larger than a man's hand." He watches it with his piercing eye for a few moments, then reaches for his long eyeglass. To his experienced view, this harmless little cloud betokens danger.

Across his bronzed face there comes a look of determination, and, with quick orders to the seamen, the craft is put about and all sail made for the nearest harbor, where in apparent safety the anchor is dropped, and the hardy mariners watch the approaching storm with defiance. The storm bursts!

The decks have been clearad, the sails close furied, and all ordinary preparations made for an emergency. The storm increases but all seems safe. But seel the vessel gives a sudden
