

SENTINEL & REPUBLICAN

MIFFLINTOWN:

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1887.

TERMS.

Subscription, $1.50 per annum if paid in advance; $1.00 if not paid in advance. Transient advertisements inserted at 50 cents per inch for each insertion.

Transient business notices in local column, 10 cents per line for each insertion. Publications will be made to those desiring to advertise by the year, half or quarter year.

SHORT LOCALS.

The teachers are here instituting. Buy the Boy a sled at the set store.

Hunters are gathering in the rabbits. Fine glass ware for sale at Espechade's. The largest stock of dolls in town are at the set store.

You will find all the new toys and all fresh candies at Kepner's.

Read "Gambling with beans in another column.

The Court of the "Hub," that is Boston, has decided that a cigar is a drug.

The Tyrone Times came to hand last week printed on pink colored paper.

Christmas comes on Sunday. The stores will be closed on Monday after Christmas.

Dr. Banks is hunting excursion a few days ago captured a rabbit that had two tails.

Call early for Holiday goods at Kepner's while the stock is full and save disappointment.

The three successive frost signs will bring a rain, as it now has proven itself, is not reliable.

Ram, Ramism, and Rebellion, preacher Burchard, called on President Cleveland last Friday.

Last Saturday the water was let out of the canal. Some fish were caught by different parties.

Many goods that will cost you 50cts at any other store we are selling at acts to 10cts at the set store.

While President Cleveland's message is not a definite free trade advocate, it is clearly against a protective tariff.

The Juniata Valley Editorial Association will meet in the Tribune office at Altoona next Saturday at 2 o'clock P. M.

Such a platform as Cleveland proposes—to keep the war taxes and repeal the foreign tax on tariff. Call another.

Cleveland's plan of reducing the surplus, is to cut down the tariff, and to strike off the tariff entirely on certain articles.

The wool growers of the country are aroused over Cleveland's message which proposes to put wool on the free list.

It American labor is to work as cheaply, and live as poorly as foreign workers, then hurrah for Cleveland's platform for 1888.

Merchant Espechade, can save pork as well as store goods. His largest hog slaughtered the other day, weighed 400 pounds.

Toys! Toys! C. S. Kepner has the largest stock to select from in the County. Call at his double store on Bridge Street Millington Pa.

Solomon Beator of Fermanagh township had a fat steer to hang itself by tangling its chain through its stall last Sunday night.

Cleveland is in favor of retaining the war taxes, and in favor of reducing the tariff on foreign goods. That's the kind of an American he is.

The State convocation at Harrisburg on Tuesday, yesterday, and will continue in session till Friday. They do business behind closed doors.

No other offer like this. Send one dollar and fifty cents to pay for one year's subscription to the SENTINEL AND REPUBLICAN and The Weekly Press.

Examine the stock of Holiday goods at Kepner's and you will be convinced that money can be saved by purchasing articles for Christmas presents of him.

The M. E. Church will hold a festival in the G. A. R. Hall on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week chicken, sandwiches, hot coffee, confections, &c.

If your lightning rod needs to be put in a state of repair. Call on J. M. McDonald. If you have no rod on your building McDonald will give you the required rod protection.

Don't neglect the roof of your house. There is nothing that will preserve a roof so well as red slate roof paint, for particular address J. Miller McDonald, Millington Pa.

If you want cheap stoves go to the Miller Foundry, where cook stoves in good order may be bought at $4 to $14. Also sleds sold at $2.40 to $3.25 per set.

Cleveland's platform for 1888—that is his late message is in favor of free wool from the old world, which would to a great degree destroy the sheep raising business in the United States.

Hot, Heavy, and Scratches of every kind on humans or animals cured in 20 minutes by Woolford's Sanitary Lotion. This never fails. Sold by L. Banks and Co., Druggists, Millington Pa. Oct. 26, 87, Em.

It is astonishing how a coat or suitable paint preserves the root of horse or harn. You want to be certain of the kind of paint you put on your building. J. M. McDonald has the paint that a tin or wooden coat requires.

Aaron Heidley, aged 78 years, of Fayette township, walked from his home near McAllister to this place one day last week to attend court. He left home at seven o'clock in the morning and was at the Court House by 10 o'clock a. m.

Prof. A. L. Goss, died of Pneumonia in Nebraska, on the 5th inst., aged 54 years. His remains were taken to Washington D. C. for interment. He was a native of this county and from 1861 to 1865 was editor and owner of the Juniata Sentinel.

If the tariff be reduced so that the country be flooded with cheap foreign goods, how will that benefit the thousands of men thrown out of employment by the closing of American manufacturers? Question referred to Cleveland's platform for 1888.

A low tariff will break up manufacturing establishments and throw the thousands of men out of employment; that are at work, and render the buildings of little value, how can the country prosper. Question referred to President Cleveland's platform that he sent to Congress.

Francis Campbell of Beau township has a seven month old hen that laid a big egg.

The egg measured lengthwise 4½ inches and in circumference measured 7½ inches. He slaughtered a hog one year, one month old, that weighed 475 pounds. For raising eggs and hogs Campbell is ahead.

Friend (to happy father)—"Hello, Jones, let me congratulate you. I hear you have a new boy at your house." Happy Father—"By George! can you hear him all this distance?"—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

Miss School, the organizer for the Young Women's Christian Temperance Union Work in Pennsylvania, will come to Juniata county, this week. She will deliver addresses and organize societies as follows: At Thompsons, Friday night, Dec 16; at Van Dyke (Center), Saturday night, December 17; at Mexico, Monday night, December 19; at Johnstown, Tuesday night, December 21st, and at McAlisterville, Thursday night, December 22d.

Miss School comes highly recommended as a young lady possessing rare gifts and qualifications for such an important work.

The Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Millington will pay her expenses while she is here.

M. F. Loxom, Secretary.

From the Philadelphia Bulletin:—"What does Mr. Cleveland mean in his doleful talk about 'commercial conventions,' and widespread disaster?" If his methods of relieving the surplus in the Federal treasury are not adopted nothing that he has ever said is more of an impeachment of his wisdom than these utterances.

English Spain Livinent removes all Hart, Scott, or Calloson Lumps and Blotches from horses. Blood Spain, Curries, Splints, Sweeny, Ringbone, Sores, Sprains, all Swollen Throats, Coughs, Etc. Save $20 by the use of one bottle. Warranted, Sold by L. Banks & Co., Druggists, Millington Pa. Oct. 26, 87, Em.

Put wool in the free list, for foreigners send it to America and you will have cheap or woolen goods, says the President. And it makes no difference what becomes of the American farmer, who deals to sheep as one of the helps, or means to raise enough money to keep up the machinery of the country—poor tax, poor tax, school tax, road tax.

Adopt President Cleveland's platform for 1888, by passing a congressional act to adopt raw material that we have in this country, and to repeal all protective duties or tariffs, and within a year after it goes into effect, tens of thousands of men now at work will be out of employment, beggars or paupers on the farming community, which is already heavily taxed.

Mr. Pennington, 4, and 7 months, son of Mr. Penny who lives at the first stock north of town died suddenly on last Wednesday afternoon. He had been sick with some disease like pneumonia, but had recovered to such a degree that he was going about as if in good health. Suddenly on the morning mentioned he ran to his mother and in a thundered way asked for water. Mrs. Penny gave him the water. He immediately took a spasm and died in a short time.

The Selinsgrove Tribune says: If the ruling of Judge McLean of Adams county that elections held outside the election district are illegal, is a good law and sustained by the Supreme court, then the polling place of Franklin township, in this county might be thrown out some day in a close election.

Isaac Wagner, of Millington, town, Paris green sprinkled on the meat and vegetables in his cellar, and is convinced that some person wanted to poison him.

In his message to Congress last year Cleveland was as near to the Gold Bugs as he could get without declaring for a gold standard. This year he is as near as he can get to Free Trade without declaring for it. His message against silver, last year, had been popular he would have repeated it this year in his message platform for 1888. Reelect Cleveland and give him a supporting Congress in 1888, and within four years there will be nothing left of the surplus, and the manufacturing prosperity. Nothing but bankruptcy.

Report of Patterson School No. 2, for the month ending December 1st, 1887. The following persons attended every day: Hilda Cramer, Gertrude Franklin, Jessie Dehoff, Jessie Birefield, Katie Creer, Lydia Ladd, Harriet Nixon, Mabel: Walter Henderson, Harry Butt, John Brindie, Grubbs Garrison, Charles Kusig. The following persons attended every day but one: Beckie Mitchell, Mand Birefield, John W. Banks, Willis Fank, Floyd Todd.

A. S. FASCH, Teacher.

A few days since, John Watson Lewis, a resident of Fermanagh township, in company with some other men was at work moving a telegraph pole along the Pennsylvania railroad near Huntingdon. The pole was leaning against an embankment and in moving it to get it into the right position, a stone was dislodged from the embankment and fell upon Mr. Lewis's left leg above the ankle. Medical assistance was necessary and Mr. Lewis was confined to his bed for a week. His friends were greatly concerned for his health, but he soon recovered and got up again.

Some evenings ago a man in Fayette township took a young lady driving in a buggy. A young lady in the house from whom they had driven, saw it, and put on some clothes and went out to them when they come back and scared them by demanding "your money or your life." She looked like a man in a man's suit, and some distance from the house waited for their return. Soon a buggy came along. She sprang out, took the horse by the bridle, haled him and shouted, "Your money or your life." A masculine voice trembled with fright, answered from the buggy, "For God sake take the chickens and let us go." The young lady had stopped the wrong party, and was so frightened that she could not speak, but she managed to stagger to the house, and the party with the chickens half frightened to death drove away.

In his message to Congress last year Cleveland was as near to the Gold Bugs as he could get without declaring for a gold standard. This year he is as near as he can get to Free Trade without declaring for it. His message against silver, last year, had been popular he would have repeated it this year in his message platform for 1888. Reelect Cleveland and give him a supporting Congress in 1888, and within four years there will be nothing left of the surplus, and the manufacturing prosperity. Nothing but bankruptcy.

Report of Patterson School No. 2, for the month ending December 1st, 1887. The following persons attended every day: Hilda Cramer, Gertrude Franklin, Jessie Dehoff, Jessie Birefield, Katie Creer, Lydia Ladd, Harriet Nixon, Mabel: Walter Henderson, Harry Butt, John Brindie, Grubbs Garrison, Charles Kusig. The following persons attended every day but one: Beckie Mitchell, Mand Birefield, John W. Banks, Willis Fank, Floyd Todd.

A. S. FASCH, Teacher.

A few days since, John Watson Lewis, a resident of Fermanagh township, in company with some other men was at work moving a telegraph pole along the Pennsylvania railroad near Huntingdon. The pole was leaning against an embankment and in moving it to get it into the right position, a stone was dislodged from the embankment and fell upon Mr. Lewis's left leg above the ankle. Medical assistance was necessary and Mr. Lewis was confined to his bed for a week. His friends were greatly concerned for his health, but he soon recovered and got up again.

Some evenings ago a man in Fayette township took a young lady driving in a buggy. A young lady in the house from whom they had driven, saw it, and put on some clothes and went out to them when they come back and scared them by demanding "your money or your life." She looked like a man in a man's suit, and some distance from the house waited for their return. Soon a buggy came along. She sprang out, took the horse by the bridle, haled him and shouted, "Your money or your life." A masculine voice trembled with fright, answered from the buggy, "For God sake take the chickens and let us go." The young lady had stopped the wrong party, and was so frightened that she could not speak, but she managed to stagger to the house, and the party with the chickens half frightened to death drove away.

In his message to Congress last year Cleveland was as near to the Gold Bugs as he could get without declaring for a gold standard. This year he is as near as he can get to Free Trade without declaring for it. His message against silver, last year, had been popular he would have repeated it this year in his message platform for 1888. Reelect Cleveland and give him a supporting Congress in 1888, and within four years there will be nothing left of the surplus, and the manufacturing prosperity. Nothing but bankruptcy.

Report of Patterson School No. 2, for the month ending December 1st, 1887. The following persons attended every day: Hilda Cramer, Gertrude Franklin, Jessie Dehoff, Jessie Birefield, Katie Creer, Lydia Ladd, Harriet Nixon, Mabel: Walter Henderson, Harry Butt, John Brindie, Grubbs Garrison, Charles Kusig. The following persons attended every day but one: Beckie Mitchell, Mand Birefield, John W. Banks, Willis Fank, Floyd Todd.

A. S. FASCH, Teacher.

A few days since, John Watson Lewis, a resident of Fermanagh township, in company with some other men was at work moving a telegraph pole along the Pennsylvania railroad near Huntingdon. The pole was leaning against an embankment and in moving it to get it into the right position, a stone was dislodged from the embankment and fell upon Mr. Lewis's left leg above the ankle. Medical assistance was necessary and Mr. Lewis was confined to his bed for a week. His friends were greatly concerned for his health, but he soon recovered and got up again.

Some evenings ago a man in Fayette township took a young lady driving in a buggy. A young lady in the house from whom they had driven, saw it, and put on some clothes and went out to them when they come back and scared them by demanding "your money or your life." She looked like a man in a man's suit, and some distance from the house waited for their return. Soon a buggy came along. She sprang out, took the horse by the bridle, haled him and shouted, "Your money or your life." A masculine voice trembled with fright, answered from the buggy, "For God sake take the chickens and let us go." The young lady had stopped the wrong party, and was so frightened that she could not speak, but she managed to stagger to the house, and the party with the chickens half frightened to death drove away.

In his message to Congress last year Cleveland was as near to the Gold Bugs as he could get without declaring for a gold standard. This year he is as near as he can get to Free Trade without declaring for it. His message against silver, last year, had been popular he would have repeated it this year in his message platform for 1888. Reelect Cleveland and give him a supporting Congress in 1888, and within four years there will be nothing left of the surplus, and the manufacturing prosperity. Nothing but bankruptcy.

Report of Patterson School No. 2, for the month ending December 1st, 1887. The following persons attended every day: Hilda Cramer, Gertrude Franklin, Jessie Dehoff, Jessie Birefield, Katie Creer, Lydia Ladd, Harriet Nixon, Mabel: Walter Henderson, Harry Butt, John Brindie, Grubbs Garrison, Charles Kusig. The following persons attended every day but one: Beckie Mitchell, Mand Birefield, John W. Banks, Willis Fank, Floyd Todd.

A. S. FASCH, Teacher.

A few days since, John Watson Lewis, a resident of Fermanagh township, in company with some other men was at work moving a telegraph pole along the Pennsylvania railroad near Huntingdon. The pole was leaning against an embankment and in moving it to get it into the right position, a stone was dislodged from the embankment and fell upon Mr. Lewis's left leg above the ankle. Medical assistance was necessary and Mr. Lewis was confined to his bed for a week. His friends were greatly concerned for his health, but he soon recovered and got up again.

Some evenings ago a man in Fayette township took a young lady driving in a buggy. A young lady in the house from whom they had driven, saw it, and put on some clothes and went out to them when they come back and scared them by demanding "your money or your life." She looked like a man in a man's suit, and some distance from the house waited for their return. Soon a buggy came along. She sprang out, took the horse by the bridle, haled him and shouted, "Your money or your life." A masculine voice trembled with fright, answered from the buggy, "For God sake take the chickens and let us go." The young lady had stopped the wrong party, and was so frightened that she could not speak, but she managed to stagger to the house, and the party with the chickens half frightened to death drove away.

In his message to Congress last year Cleveland was as near to the Gold Bugs as he could get without declaring for a gold standard. This year he is as near as he can get to Free Trade without declaring for it. His message against silver, last year, had been popular he would have repeated it this year in his message platform for 1888. Reelect Cleveland and give him a supporting Congress in 1888, and within four years there will be nothing left of the surplus, and the manufacturing prosperity. Nothing but bankruptcy.

Report of Patterson School No. 2, for the month ending December 1st, 1887. The following persons attended every day: Hilda Cramer, Gertrude Franklin, Jessie Dehoff, Jessie Birefield, Katie Creer, Lydia Ladd, Harriet Nixon, Mabel: Walter Henderson, Harry Butt, John Brindie, Grubbs Garrison, Charles Kusig. The following persons attended every day but one: Beckie Mitchell, Mand Birefield, John W. Banks, Willis Fank, Floyd Todd.

A. S. FASCH, Teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Kohler were the guests.

He saw the horse of Mrs. Eliza Ritman last Wednesday. Mrs. Sylvester Wise visited Mrs. James Calhoun last Thursday.

ATTORNEY.

Walker Sketches.

John Patton the Supervisor had a finger mashed while working on the road one day last week.

Mrs. Zimmerman and wife of Lancaster county are visiting friends in this vicinity.

John the son of Samuel Aranta, died last week and was buried in the Locust Run grave yard.

H. B. Hartman and Josiah Gingerich, each, lost a horse last week from some strange disease.

Cyrus Seiber is the happiest man in Mt Pleasant. It's a bouncing boy.

Messrs. Kauffman and Buckwalter, took about 49 bushels of buckwheat to Dumm's Hill to have ground into flour.

The young carp that Charles Book received from the State Fish Commission, last March, now measures 18 inches in length.

Mrs. Sadie Aucker is on a visit to Duncannon.

Mrs. William Alexander and sister, Jeanie of Millington county visited Webster last week.

There will be no sleighs at Cedar Grove.

Thursdays evening the 15th inst.