Many car loads of cattle were frozen to death on the New York Railroads, in the late storm.

Rev. Hays, is reported, to have preached a red hot temperance sermon, last Sunday evening.

The Newport Ledger says: Samuel Cooper drank 28 glasses of water at one sitting the other evening.

At Albany, York state, the snow was 45 inches deep on the level before the wind began to blow, last week.

The cow shipped by Jacob Thomas from this place on the 12th., were storm delayed at Harrisburg till the 17th.

"Seventeen counties in Michigan, including the one the capital is in, have gone "dry" under local option."

"At Akron, O., the other day a letter was delivered to fourteen John Smiths, before the right one was reached."

The New Englanders, say, there has not been a storm like the late equinoctial storm within the past hundred years.

From the tracks, in the snow it was a gang of three that prepared to go through Bell-man's jewelry store the other night.

It takes the French to knock out the prize fighters by sending them to the lock up "For we like no sport of rat kind."

Mrs. George Kearns, of Decatur township, Mifflin county has just finished a quilt that contains twenty three hundred patches.

Treat Zahnit are wondering whether the great snow drifts, will have disappeared by the time trout fishing season is ushered in.

An exchange says the ground hog, is coming out a "great bird." No remarks, a rose, would smell as sweet by any other name.

The snow blockade sent the price of all kind of provisions up high in Philadelphia, New York, Boston and other cities last week.

It is reported that the English sparrow feeds extensively on the buds of fruit trees in the spring as soon as the buds begin to swell.

In some of the snow drifted passenger trains in Jersey, last week, eggs sold at 15 cts a piece, and sandwiches, each a half dollar.

People, who contemplate going to house keeping in the spring should call at C. B. Horning's furniture store in the Palace building.

The 20th session of the Central Pennsylvania annual conference of the M. E. church, opened in the Pine Street church, Williamsport on the 14th inst.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Juniata county will meet in the Presbyterian church in Port Royal, on Thursday at 10 o'clock A. M.

From hence forth for the period of at least a generation, Philadelphia, New York and Boston people will not smile when the western blizzard is talked about.

The snow drifts in the streets of New York city were so deep on the 12th inst., that people "struck fast" and in a number of cases required help to get out.

"An Omaha paper alluded to a number of prominent and influential residents of the city as "old-timers," but the types got it "old terriers," and the editor had to apologize.

From the Newport News: One night recently thieves cut the padlock off John W. Wagner's smoke house, in Center township and stole all the meat of two good-sized hogs.

Thieves, made an effort to get into the house of Mrs. Balsbach in Port Royal one night last week but her son George hearing the thieves at work, sprang out of bed and scared the burglars away.

The funeral of King William of Germany took place last Saturday. The open hearse, in which was the coffin of dark brown polished oak, with brass ornaments, was drawn by eight plumeless horses.

Senator Conkling, almost perished while floundering through a snow drift arm pit deep, while crossing a square in New York city, one day during the late storm. He was 20 minutes getting out of the drifted street.

New York business and travel was snowed under during the late blizzard, as completely as it carried on in country roads. With this difference, there were no fences to let down to let one out of the drift by the side.

"A Chinaman named Ah Lin has been placed on the pension list. He served as a "landsman" in the navy at San Francisco during the Rebellion and broke his leg. He is probably the first of his race to receive such recognition."

When the Philadelphia and New York papers arrived, they were induced with accounts of the great storm of the 11th and 12th inst. There has been no such storm in eastern Pennsylvania, York state, and the New England states in 40 years.

Washington Mann, of Fayette township, while on his way to H. L. Smith's sale near McAlisterville, last Thursday, in company with his neighbor John Strayer, suddenly staggered and before Mr. Strayer could help him fell in the road and expired in a few minutes time. He was aged, 82 yea.s 10 months.

There was no communication by rail or telegraph between Boston and Philadelphia half of last week. To learn whether the other still survived a despatch was sent across the sea by way of Great Britain, a distance of 6000 miles. Think of it, what a long distance, to find out whether neighbors were snowed under.

Congressional candidates in this the 18th district are being announced among republicans. L. E. Atkinson will be presented for renomination, and new candidates as far as heard from are A. W. Potter, of Snyder; William Woods, of Huntingdon; Captain Miller, of Union; Horace Culbertson, of Mifflin; Hastings Gher, of Franklin.

This has been the stormiest March, known since railroads have been built in York State and Pennsylvania. In this state east of Harrisburg, travel by rail was suspended three days. The skill and the handicraft of man could not prevail against the snow and wind. Telegraph wires were down and the railroad cuts were filled with snow.

Mr. J. S. Whitmer, is extensively engaged in buying up walnut trees in the vicinity of Mercersburg, which are cut into logs of suitable size and shipped to Baltimore, whence they are shipped by steamer to Liverpool and London. A good price is paid the farmers for sound trees of a suitable size, and some very large logs were brought to that town we saw. "the past few we ks.—Fulton Republican.

From the Bloomfield Advocate: It was only learned the other day that the block of buildings recently burned in this borough made a narrow escape from destruction a few weeks before. One evening Mrs Daniel Briner detected the smell of burning wood and making a search, found a fire raging in the kitchen chimney. The soot had fallen down and by some means caught fire; when discovered a large hole had been burned through the fire board, and a patch of carpet consumed. In a short time it would have been beyond control.

The Democratic brethren are exercised over the remarks of Senator Ingalls, that a good a President as Cleveland could be taken from any of the walks of life. The brethren shouldn't take it so hard. Ingalls' remark is only an other way of stating what has been the boast of the people of the United States, namely, that the offices are open to all, and no better proof of Ingalls' position is needed than to read the history of presidents of the government. Read the lives of prominent presidents, such as Jackson, Buchanan, Lincoln, Johnson, Grant, and learn how correctly Ingalls, was in his remarks.

The Lewistown Gazette of last week, says: One day last week, a wagon passed through Reedsville loaded with 620 dozen of eggs. * * * Thomas J. Hazlett, while crossing the mountain road leading from this place to McVeytown, killed a large muskrat on the top of the mountain. * * * In Kelly, Albert Smith was so unfortunate a week or two ago as to shoot himself in the leg near the knee. Having his revolver along while chopping in the woods expecting to get a shot at some small game to make a palatable dish for his sick wife, while juteing behind a tree to get a shot at his game, the cocked pistol went off, with the above result, and left the hunter on crutches at least for a while.

From the Lewistown Free Press: Michael Bair, father of Mrs. Beaver, living about midway between Painter and Maitland, after eating a hearty dinner last Tuesday about 4 o'clock, complained of a pain between his shoulders, and after lying down the pain located in the region of his heart, and although every remedy at hand was administered, he died between 5 and 6 o'clock. He was aged 91 years, 5 months and 16 days. Deceased was interred in the cemetery at the Dunkard church, on Friday. At one time, when life insurance was at its height, parties had some $200,000 on his life, but, as we predicted, he lived to see all the wild cat insurance companies die. He was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

Report of School No. 3, Mifflintown, Pa., for the 5th and 6th months. Per cent. of attendance 90. Anna Fesick, Nannie Stambaugh, Ada Donelson, Ezra Wagner, Austin Wagner, Holmes Pannabaker were present every day during the 5th month. Minnie Warner, Annie Eollman, Chas Noble and Guy Auker missed but one day.

The following were present every day during the 6th month: Joe Stutts, Josie Adams, Holmes Pannabaker, Anna Fasick, Sylvia Yoder, Nellie Musser, Nannie Stambough, Ada Donelson, Clara Robison, Amelia Anderson. The following were present every day but one: Guy Auker, Chas. Meminger, Mary Snyder, Elsie Miller, Annie Rollman.

M. A. COOPER, Teacher.

John Horning, night watchman, in William Rollman's jewelry store must sleep with his ears open, for when three burglars appeared at the back windows of the jewelry establishment, at half past one o'clock on one of the windy nights of last week, Horning was awake and sat inside, with a revolver or two and a Winchester rifle all loaded with which to receive and salute the thieves when they shou'd force the shutters of the window. That there were three thieves is proven by three tracks that lead from the carriage shop of Wagner & Robison, where the burglars took out a sash, entered the shop and stole a brace and bit and several chisels. The brace and bit was left in back of Rollman's place. A chisel had been inserted between shutters, but the work was so cautiously done that Horning scarcely recognized it, and it is probable that by the slight prying that was then done, the thieves caught a sight of the light in the room and "smelled a mice." "At all events" the rascals made no great effort to open the shutters, and did not use the brace and bit, in any way, which is quite a misfortune, for if they had continued their work, Horning, certainly would have "winged" one or more of them, which would have revealed to the community who it is, who is breaking into houses in this community. It is known that the thieves prowled around the back part of the house quite a while before they thought they were ready for work.

"Somewhat of goodness, something true
From sun and spirit shining through
All faiths, all worlds, as through the dark
Of ocean shines the lighthouse spark.
Attests the presence everywhere
Of love and providential care."

FOREVER.

Kate Porter, of No. 2536 Fisher street, was charged with habitual drunkenness by her husband Henry, at the Central Station this morning. "She is a very good woman otherwise" he feelingly remarked. "But she will drink. However, I'm willing to give her another chance."

"All right," said Magistrate Pole, ever ready to adjust strained relations. "How long will you swear off?"

"Say, a year," replied the woman.

"No; say forever!" exclaimed the husband dramatically. She so swore.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Delegate to the National Convention.

Chairmen of County Committees, with their Secretaries of all the counties in the 18th Congressional District, excepting the counties of Fulton and Huntingdon, met at Lewistown on the 13th inst., and passed the following resolution.

Resolved, That in the opinion of the representative committees of the Counties composing the 18th congressional district, that the present system of three Conferees from each county, which has been in operation, and given entire satisfaction, be and the same is hereby continued for the future.

"The conferees to nominate a delegate to the National Convention in accordance with the above resolution, will meet at the national House, in Lewistown, Thursday, April 19."

The Bohemian Oats Swindle.

The Bohemian oats swindle has at last reached the Supreme Court in the State of Michigan, and, as we expected, the decision was dead against the oats rascals. The case, briefly stated, was this: One Goggolt bought Bohemian oats and gave his note for it. The note, as usual, was transferred to a third party. When due, the giver refused to pay it on the ground of fraud and inadequate consideration. The lower Court decided against him, and the case was carried to the Supreme Court, which ruled that the contract for which the note was given was fraudulent, and, therefore, not binding. The terms of the contract are at war with public policy, and, therefore, null and void.—ex.

The Age of Steam.

The toughest heart is soonest reached through the stomach. The man who ate a boiled crow was asked how he liked it, and answered: "I can worry it down, but don't hanker after it." The head of many a family where this paper is read, sits down daily to a meal of crow, Soggy potatoes, and vegetables with all the flavor boiled out them, meats tough as leather, and with about as much sweetness. They worry it down, but hanker for something eatable. Dyspepsia, indigestion and ill-temper are never seen in families that use the Model Steam Cook-r. See illustration. It fits any stove, and will cook a whole meal for the family with the fire that would keep a teakettle boiling. It will save its cost in any family in three months in the saving of fuel, and food, to say nothing of health and temper preserved. The Model Cooker Co., 34 Park Row, New York, want agents in every county to help them sell these wonderful Cookers, and any one wishing permanent remunerative employment should write to them at once for full particulars.

TEN DAYS AT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Pennsylvania Railroad's Popular Excursion.

In order that everyone may have an opportunity of visiting Washington, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will run a third and the last special excursion to Washington, on Thursday, March 29th, 1888. The round trip tickets will be operative for ten days, a period of time ample for a thorough visit to the capital with its hundreds of interesting scenes and places. The public buildings are a source of the greatest interest, while Congress, the courts, the Government institutions, and the prominent places in the vicinity, serve to fill the measure of pleasure.

In addition to these, Richmond and Mount Vernon may be visited on low rate tickets which will be sold to the excursionists. The special train of Pullman Parlor Cars and day coaches will leave at the time specified below, and round trip tickets, allowing a stop-over to Baltimore on return trip, good for ten days, to be used going only on special train and returning by any regular train except the New York and Chicago Limited, will be sold from the stations mentioned at the rates quoted :—
