DOUGLAS ST SHOE FOR BOTH DOUGLAS $1.75 YOUTH'S Said BROCKTON, MASS,

WANTED: ONE AGENT FOR THIS COUNTY LIFE-SIZE GRAYON PICTURES

international Publishing & Printing Ca

FRAZER AXLE GREASE.

THE ORANGE GROVE LAND AGENCE

GREASE

SPECIAL OFFER TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS.

Illustrated a year's sub* WEEKL Supplements JST and Place, Boston, Mass.

Imiata Sentinel La and Republican.

B. F. SCHWEIER.

THE CONSTITUTION-THE UNION-AND THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAWS.

Editor and Proprietor.

VOL. XLII.

MIFFLINTOWN, JUNIATA COUNTY, PENNA., WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1888. with it, and I don't know as 'twill be 'But his work lives after him. It !

An expert accountant testifies that he found in the books of the late Mrs. A. T. Stewart bills for $156,000 spent on lawyers employed to beat off the ormorants who began to settle on the estate almost before the merchant wince was dead.

THE increase of church building, superb in their architectural proportions, in all parts of the United States has been amazing thus far this year. Nowhere in the Christian world is as much money spent for church erection and improvement as at present in this

THE law regarding the employment of children in mills, passed last winter by the Maine Legislature, has very materially increased the school attendance in the manufacturing towns of the State. At Lisbon Falls the increase is about 10 per cent., at Auburn and Saccarappa about 5 per cent.

PRESIDENT ELECT HARRISON has followed the example of President Cleveland in taking a newspaper man for his private secretary. There is wisdom in that, for, though an editor may be no better qualified in other ways than a man of another profession, he at least has experienced in dealing with troublesome visitors, who want what they cannot get and yet must be

A DISTINCTION between "heirs" and "relations" was marked out by Vice his wife's death, should go to his seemed to tremble as he still kept them with Lang?' "nearest relations," and the Vice Chancellor decides that these are his sharing in the division of the estate.

NEAR the soda springs of Ashland, Oregon, there is a spring which emits a gas so poisonous as to kill whatever may breathe it, and it is said that there is almost constantly a ring of birds, snakes, lizards and small deer lying dead about it. The same deadliness is claimed for a spring somewhere in Idaho, and in both it is thought that a concentrated form of carbonic acid gas is the active agent of destruction.

good use for convict labor, and that is for cutting a canal to straighten the Mississippi river near Fort Leavenworth, thus securing the safety of thousands of acres of bottom land now subject to cutting action of the river. Convict labor thus employed will do a good work without coming into competition with free labor, because the work would not be done at all if day's wages had to be paid for it. There is a great deal of engineering work of this description in which convicts might be usefully and fairly employed.

ONE of the worst cases of Breach of Trust and embezzlement recently disclosed was that of James E. Bedell, who robbed the New York law firm of Barlow, Larocque & Choate and their customers of more than a quarter of a million of dollars, which he spent in extravagant living or lost in speculations. The sentence he received, twenty-five years and four months in the penitentiary, is in keeping with the character of his crime, but it is much to be feared that he will get out before the end of his term, through mistaken sympathy of men who remember him only when his reputation was good. In crimes of this kind, however, good reputation should count against the culprit rather than for him.

MR. POWDERLY has been re-elected General Master Workman of the thought. Knights of Labor, the opposition to where they will stay. It is to be hoped Order conform more nearly to his ideal Roy. 'I had some opinion of myself at than heretofore. In his published ut- home. 'I thought I knew something right views of strikes, and has ex- a dunce. I've been here a year, work- he is in a faint. vancing the interests of its members present.'

CHARLESTON is having a merry time looking at the card and reading thereon celebrating the reconstruction of the the name of 'Nathan Lang,' written in the name of 'Nathan Lang,' written in a bold free hand. 'We must stand by There was no pulse. to have stirred up the city in more one another against these Philistines." ways than one. An industrial issue of The News and Courfer presents an night toward the end of it Roy Mather the wine! Oh, no! the poor youth has attractive picture of the city, its trades, was making his way somewhat gloomily entered the habitations of the blest, manufactures and other enterprises, through that picturesque tangle of and needs not the wine any more now. Over $4,000,000 was extended in build- streets called the Latin Quartier. He Monsieur must think of his safety; the quake, of which nearly $1,000,000 was Roxie which he had stopped by a contributed by other cities for the lighted window to read. relief of property owners in distress. perhaps by this time, you're a carvin' and that was all that remained to be used for rebuilding purposes, and it is easy to believe that the perhaps by this time, you're a carvin' and that was all that remained to be done. There was no reason why Roy should go there again. He convinced a straight and narrer path, and never himself of that fact on his way home. been accomplished by Charleston men and Charleston money." The city suffered greatly from the war, and almost as much during the reconstruction period; then the earthquake gave the suffered greatly are those of the control of the c it another set back; so that its present it was to be, an' it's no use a goin' him.' prosperous condition is encouraged and agin the ordinances; but tain't clear to At that moment a subtle voice seemed the outlook for the future bright.

Above me bend the noonday skies, Beyond me spreads the realm of hope. Behind, the land of memory lies know not what the years may bring Ofdangers wild, or joys serene; But, turning to the east, I sing. "Lord, keep my memory green."

land of winter and of bloom Of singing bird and mouning pine, Thy golden light, they tender gloom, Thy vales and mountains, all are min The holy loves of other years,

With beck'ning hands toward me lean,
And whisper, through their falling tears "Lord, keep my memory green."

Dear Memoryl whose unclouded care Can pierce the darkest wilds of space see her morning watch-fires blaze, I feel her breezes fan my face; would not give the light she flings Across my future's landscape seen or all the pomp and power of kings-"Lord, keep my memory green.

Let Memory near my soul abide, With eye and voice to warn and win Till Hope and Memory, side by side, Shall walk above the tides of sin-Till from life's western lakes and ril. The angel lifts the sunset sheen nd hangs it o'er the eastern hills-"Lord, keep my memory green."

ROY'S BATTLE.

'Hallo! two fresh!' cried a mocking oice, 'this is a red letter day.' The speaker was a huge fellow with head, a cigarette in his mouth and an nsolent swagger in his manner. Roy stopped and glanced around,

Yes, there was another, and he looked tike an American. He was long and like a flower—tean and lank, but looked eager and 'What do you intelligent. He was looking shyly and currously into the studio of the "Beau Chancellor Bird, of New Jersey, in a Arts," His gray tweed suit was worn recent will case. The testator in his and seedy in the extreme. There was what you call the other?" will provided that his property, after a real hunger in his eye, and his hands on the half open door. The hall was a long one, and there Walk in, gentlemen,' cried one 'You weren't expected this morning, or we'd have had the studio

Roy had heard something of the re-'Delighted to welcome a native of the land of the great Barnum,' cried another, seizing Roy's hand and work- lit a candle. Then he called his friend ing it like a pump handle. 'How many by name but there was no answer. scalps have you on hand?' 'Two new fellows—a double treat.

and the supervisor approaches Roy. 'Thirty francs from you.'

Roy reddens, and looks at his companion. It is rather hard for two free born American citizens to be brow- his 'What do they mean?' asks the other. It's a tax on every newcomer.'

Must we pay it? 'I suppose so; it's a beastly shame, 'But-I cannot,' faltered the other. have only five francs in the world. 'Stop chattering, new fellows,' cried the supervisor, 'We're thirsty.' Roy felt a strange pity for the land oung man with the hungry eyes. 'Only five francs? Oh, I see; your remittance has not arrived.'

'I-never get remittances,' faltered be other. 'Why, how do you live?"

'I work my way.' 'A thousand thunders,' vociferated the supervisor. 'In the name of George Washington, how long must we wait? 'It's no use-I-must give it up for the present,' said the young man, growing paler, and casting a longing look at the forest of easels. 'Stopl I will pay for you,' exclaimed Roy, with a sudden impulse of friendliness to the forlorn being. 'You can give it back-when you're able.' He was unprepared for the tears that suddenly rushed into the cavernous ungry eyes of the latter. 'Thanks. You have saved me; and

f ever I forget it---He held out one gaunt, bony hand, that still trembled in Roy's grasp. 'I believe the fellow is hungry,' Roy decided, his heart melting at the

So, after the noisy crew had disposed membership of the Convention. His invited his new acquaintance to dinner, most active enemies were outside, and they grew quite confidential over

'I haven't a relative in the world but a maiden aunt, who believes in my education rather than by forcible alone, I depend upon myself, and have he has had the grace to leave. Typhus, education rather than by forcible means which almost always fail of their purposes. Welcome then to Mr. that is my name, and I have too; that frightens my lodgers. Ah, I am a lone woman, and have no one to take my part! Powderly, with his increased power to build up a great and useful organiza- in for all the prizes, and if pluck and bed with a fear for himself selfishly work can do anything I shall win. You springing up in his heart. 'Here, take have done me a service to-day-ing enterprises the year after the earth- had just received a letter from Aunt fever is very bad.'

'DEAR ROY-I've got to tell you Another million was expended in the some bad news. There ain't no es-year just closed. For a city of 60,000 capin' of it, or puttin' of it off. But in his room to pay funeral expenses, city has been transformed. According deviate into painting them there to The News and Courier, "the city Wenuses and Dinahs which is a perhas regained a volume of business vertin' public taste, and didn't ought approaching in many respects to the me as Providence had anything to do to whisper:

quite feelin' about you, an' said if the paintin' didn't turn out a good job, there was the place as bookkeeper in any time, and so farewell. Your lovin'

that he had nothing more to hope or expect in this world. He had, in fact, month, with a cold, despairing feeling settling down upon his heart. He was one of the competitors for a prize, but each day he passed his brush over the day's work with an angry vehemence, for me but to go back to the button —no muffled drum of defeat, but where factory. There's nothing in me. I can't get up the ghost of a conception | cided, and all is lost or won for time for a picture. My figures look as if cut and eternity! out of pasteboard, my skies are like Aunt Roxanna's blutng, my rocks are pasty. Heigho! I could almost wish I'd lived in those wonderful days of magic and wizards. If any obliging and say, 'Roy Mather, you shall have your heart's desire for the paltry consideration of- Halloo, who are you tumbling over?"

A fierce 'sacre' came from the advancing foe, but the next moment it was changed to a greeting. A sallow tangled mass of black hair on his faced, dark eyed gentleman in black stopped suddenly, and then said: 'It is Monsieur Mather, eh? Ah! you come, I suppose, from your friend

-ahl the poor young man-cut down 'What do you mean?' cried Roy, recognizing a fellow student. 'Is it that you ask me? Why, I ought it was with you, Damon, and 'Never mind! What is the matter

'Oh! he is dying; that is all!' Roy turned away and walked rapidly. seemed to be a perfect forest of easels, He had been so occupied with his brothers, and that the expression ex- from each of which had sprung a wild work, having a studio of his own now, cludes his nephews and nieces from looking figure, with unkempt looks and that he had hardly thought of Lang for ing black eyes and mocking grins. three weeks, and his conscience smote

> But certainly Mather could not be so desperate, or his friend would have let him know. He made his way up the dim stairception given to a new student at the Beaux Arts, so he kept his temper and open the door of Lang's room there was no light or any sound save a half smothered moan from the bed. He took the light in his hand. A horrible fear was clutching at his throat Here, monsieur, interrogate the gentle-men. But first let us give three cheers men. But first let us give three cheers glance it looked as if the shadow that hand upon one aching brow. last words or to hold his hand in the supreme moment. Perhaps, though, there may be some faint pulse of life.

If I had some stimulants--' He bathed the cold face with water first, and then looked about for something stronger.

In doing this he saw an easel, and upon it stretched a finished picture. hat even in that faint and dim light was a tall headland, pine crowned, the prize?' draped with dainty ferns. Above it with its emerald light and foam crested waves and flame onals of light. And voice and Hoy felt relieved where the reeds seem to thrill with the wind stands one like a lily queen,

A miracle of snow and gold, tender eyes.

She lives! It would hardly seem a miracle if she stepped forth and touched the griefs and joys, the temptation his hand. Ah! this is genius. He recognizes it with a groan. It is nothing to him now, that he would | might think have won the prize. What are earthly triumphs or the toil to one on whom a new day dawns in the land where there shall be no night?

'I must take care of this picture.' said Roy. 'He would have given it to him representing only a fifth of the membership of the Convention. We He had rolled it up with this thought, and hearing the door open turned to face a virago. 'So, some one at last. And how is it that you make your way into my house, and ask no leave? The doctor it is who has forbidden?'

'The poor fellow is a friend of mine, terances he has generally taken the of art matters. I am now certain I am and if you will get a little wine, I think right views of strikes, and has expressed a desire to make the Knights of rid of all the old methods, and haven't owe me fifty francs? And he was to Labor a respected organization, ad- any new ones. That's my condition at pay with his grand prize, and here he has escaped-died out of pure malice-'I have not even an aunt-I am to cheat me. But I will have all-all this, and I will send some wine for He offered the woman money, and

"Thanks; monsieur is a gentleman

Roy did think of his own safety. could do no more, and why should he risk his life? He went down the stairway once more, and with the picture 'Poor Lang,' he said, half enviously 'there was no mistake about him. He had the hidden fire. If his mantel could without, and turned and looked about him. He saw the rolled up picture his button factory as you could have at living on the table, and thought there could be no harm in taking one more look. He stretched it upon the easel, women to the clerk of whom she had thrown him to wolves! I would not save myself in any way at his expense. the clerk. But now, if I can save myself without injuring him, why not?" And then commenced one of those himself gloomily. 'There's nothing left for me but to go back to the button factory. There's nothing in the button factory. There's nothing in the button factory is nothing in the button factory.

Roy feit as if the voice came from How Some Women Act After Making

> So three days passed, and one day, impelled by an irresistable force, Roy turned into the street where Lang had his humble room. But as he reached the corner he saw a coffin borne out, and turned shudderingly away. It was all over, then. He could do his friend no harm, even if he won the prize through him!

Roy painted no more his ineffective over the magical island, with its wind swept ferns, its lambent skies and luminous air. Each day he looked ber. into the blue eyes of the island queen, and felt assured of his own triumph. It was a time of fever and unrest till as a clerk did once, and we'd just the final day, when, mounted in a moved to that street and no one knew frame that had cost his very last franc. us and such a time as the driver had. he sent the picture to the judges and street, and—" there were about two "Hate you watch and lived upon the proceeds while he waited. He did not sleep well any more, his old buoyancy had

He took a step forward. There was time, and he would save himself yet. What matter if chaos came afterward? He would have done his duty. But how could be face those ranks of spectators and tell his crime? He faltered and fell back-it was too late. He heard a hum of voices. Some one was speaking, but he could not distinguish the words. He did not know till some pushed him forward, and a voice said in his ear:

name they are calling. Your picture has taken the prize, and no wonder. How you have blossomed out. It's no nore your old style-' Roy felt himself pushed over toward the platform. Was there no help? He made a strong effort to speak as

'Look alive, old fellow! It is you he met the smiling faces on every hand. 'It is not mine,' he managed to say. 'There is a mistake.'

'He is gone, poor fellow!' thought Roy, 'and no one beside him to hear did it all mean? The professors stared jured cheat! at him and at one another. 'What does it mean, then? Why are you here? Let the painter of Miranda ome forward and claim the prize,' 'You're fading away, my boy,' one of his fellow painters said, on meeting him the morning of the decision. 'And what has become of your chum? He was always ethereal. Has he sailed away like thistle down on a puff of glowed with life and power. There wind? I thought he was painting for

'So he was,' stammered Roy, with a the misty air seems like amber, the sky guilty flush on his face, but sickness is of melting gold. Below, the sea, 'Your place, messieurs,' cried a stern

He was trembling, nevertheless, felt giddy, as one who stands on the verge of a precipice. He stood by a indow and could catch a glimpse of It is miranda on her island. She blue sky, and one fleecy, wind swept looks at Roy with fearless, but innocent cloud. Could any one look down from those shining battlements? he wondered with a vague shiver. Could one know and triumphs of those left behind? His head seemed in a whirl, as if a hundred And the man whose cunning hand wheels were turning there. He longed as done the work is lying there dead! to stop it all for a moment that he Roy shuddered. From what pale laurels to him, who sees the amaranth's deathless bloom? What are all the call back the artist of the prize?

'I-I will explain,' he began. But the words were frozen on hi lips, for before him, pale, gaunter than ever, hollow eyed, purple lipped, with slow and wavering steps, he saw his friend appear. 'I am here!' a hollow voice said near him. 'I was ill, and my friend sent the picture for me.' Roy heard no more. The excitemen of the past six weeks had done their work. At that voice from the dead, for so it seemed, he staggered and fell When he came back to his senses, Lang bent over him kindly. 'You're all right now, old fellow,' he said. 'I ought to have given you warning. I'm just able to be out.'

Don't take my hand. I am a swindler," cried Roy. "You don't know. 1 meant-' 'But you didn't. You were brave at the last, in the face of all! I say you are a trump. Come, never speak of it again. Let us take a studio together, and I'll stand the expense out of the prize, till you do something really good. Work will do it, old fellow. Roy did succeed at last. His battle had taught him something.

A discovery of much archaeological interest was recently made in the Algerian Sahara. M. Tarry, who has been carrying on work in connection with the proposed Trans-Sahara Railroad, having noticed a mound of sand in the neighborhood of Wargal, had the sand dug up, and discovered the top of a dome. This naturally aroused his in terest, and getting his Arabs to dig dome a square tower, then a platform of masonry, and finally a complete morque. Continuing the excavations, M. Tarry soon unearthed seven houses n perfect preservation, and came upor a subterranean watercourse. At the last news nine houses had been disinterred, and M. Tarry was getting additional assistance to clear out the precious watercourse, which he describes as sufficient to irrigate a small forest of palms. It is well-known that the Sahara was at one time much more populated than it is now, and its trade much more extensive, but no one seems to have supposed that cities had been buried under its sands, at least so recently as since the introduction of

The New 1 ork pool-rooms were said Adolph, more candidly than posed up by the authorities recently. Said Adolph, more candidly than positive some of your prayers." closed up by the authorities recently.

SHE MAKES US TIRED.

a Seventy-five Cent Purchase.

olease," said one of those wound-up "What street did you say?" asked

"It would be the greatest kind of a disappointment if I didn't get the goods to-day. I speak of it because you unseen battles on the battle ground of know sometimes you don't get goods there when you say you will, and if I of getting there I'd --"What number, please?"

"Take it with me, but I'm going to make a great many other purchases and I can't carry this very sides, I'm not cure I'll get there as "What street, ma'am?"
"O, East 172d street, and be sure you write it plain for once I ordered ome goods here and you sent them to 127th street and I didn't get them for three full lays, and if you should make suct, a mistake to-day I don't pictures. Each day he gloated instead know what I should do; for, as I said

"You haven't given me the nun "O, haven't I? Well, it's 1729, and be sure that you don't write thirty-nine Estelle's Hair.

It was all the beauty she had, that hair of hers. It fell down to her knees in ripples and waves. She could more beautiful each time. It was golden brown color, and Adolph fell Estelle was an actress of very minor parts and Adolph was far above her in the profession, well paid and hand-The hot days of Summer were approaching, and the theatre was to be and arrogant spirit which is regarded extends far beyond what we call the Goose" and then those who would or could might rest for a while, could be.

was in his stolen pocketbook. expended in medicine and rent. The o demand her money, and threatened the late war-statuary and fountains f the money was not paid to have ornamental street lamps, beaches o Adolph sent to the hospital. would be a very dangerous matter in The ships that carried troops to the Adolph's present weak state, and that war came back laden with planes, nic would ruln him in his profession. weight fell upon her shoulders. sooner than he should suffer so," and putting on her hat she hurried to the weeks yet.

ing lady of the coming season, had her headquarters. She was soon in madame's presence, and letting down her hair all in ripples, she said: "Madame, you have said often that you wish you had my hair. If you will give me five gumeas I will cut it close to my head.'

in five minutes more madame had Es- class man by the professional crackstelles's hair and Estelle ten guineas. She sent the package of money to Adolph by the landiady's boy. "Tell furriers, and other firms who frequently have their places of business And Adolph received it as a gift from in upper stories of houses are selected the gods, attributing it to the gener- as victims. The key fitter usually oposity of the manager. He paid the erates in gangs of three. He will an isndiady, and had some wine and proach an employe of the firm to be jelly. In the dusk poor cropped Estelle crept in and sat beside him. value and pretending to have an office After this she never went near him in the same building. Politely he when it was light enough for him to asks if the person approached has a see her, and even then she muffled key to fit the box or vallse, he himself her head in a kerchief. She had looked having lost the "open sesame." in a glass just once, and saw such a plain little creature, with such a smooth little round head, that she did pretends to try them his "stalls" or Ural mountains to the Pacific ocean, 2 lay is remark not look again. And he was angry at assistants come in and divert the at her neglect, and never guessed what he tention of the employe or business ing the 1,500 miles already constructed where women of indubitably correct owed her. But the broken bones knit, man long enough to permit the man from St. Petersburg to the Ural. This and strength came back, and he re-covered surprisingly; and the manager came back again to town, and all his are considered necessary for the subsecame back again to town, and all his troubles were over, and when the new fairy piece was advertised he was ready to take part in it.

day of the rehearsal. Mme. Laporte, the leading lady, with ration is easy. Estelle's hair on, fastened by a mysterious band or comb, so that one would have sworn it grew upon the leading lady's scalp. She looked as though she had never met Estelle before. She walked towards the entrance

"What has happened to your hair?" he asked her in a lower voice, though the leading lady heard it, "I cut it off." said Estelle again. "You've made a fright of yourself," li?" She shook her head.

you to get rid of your only benuty. Such hair as yours! Great heavens!" Estelle threw his hand from her and ran away. Adolph stood staring after her, and then and there the leading lady caught him by the arm. She was richer than Estelle, but she had a heart; for she marched him into able to conceive of such division by her dressing-room and there, with her back against the door, took off Estelle's hair. "That's where it is," she said laconically. And Adolph stared in wonder.

to turn you out of house and home at improving the others, and each might the Duke of Aosta to his bride of the risk of your life, and she cut her be neglected without injuring the $85,000. It contains 1,150 stones. hair off to pay the landlady. You'd others. A splendid physique, they say, been making love toher, of course, and she was silly about you, and now you the conscience more tender; a well duced into England by Spohr in 1820. snub her for it. And she has not told trained mind does not give rebust you a word."

a little room under the eaves, flung anything but a true impression. So down upon the floor, sobbing as though her heart would break, and took her in his arms. Whatever he had thought or meant, he thought and meant only what was poble and how the improvement of the rest, and the rest is the rest of the rest is the re meant only what was noble and hon- neither can be left to wither without orable now.

"Estelle, my darling," he said, "don't cry so! I did not conceive that through the teachings of science, how dependent are both intellect and charsacrifice for a fellow like me? I've acter upon physical health. Educators just found out. I''-

"I'm not crying for my hair," she said. "It is better to lose it than that you should have been lame for life—a and the pallid cheek are no longer supgreat deal better, even if it is only my posed to be favorable to fine mental ac beauty. And you hate me and think quirements, or to moral and religious

"Hate you; do I look as though I hated you? I fell in love with your hair; but it is you I love. Forgive my rude words, darling, and tell me I may love yours to be a set of the learn in this matter. Day by day we are preving how dependent we are upon sound health and vigor, not only for our happiness, but for our usefulmay love you always and have you for ness in the world. But the necessary

Chillian Soldiers.

We know more, perhaps, of the pro- is too often condoned when it should be practice targets. gress of Chili than of any other of the Spanish-American countries, through its overwhelming triumph over Peru in into and influences for evil both the the river. The raft will be 600 feet the recent war. No other country has me mental powers and the moral char- long, 23 feet beam. It will be in six been supposed to be endowed with so acter, closed for repairs and improvements. Solution as characteristic of the Yankee of the mind itself. It enlightens mankind as constant of the constant of the to the best ways of living; it teaches him how to take care of that body esting. He gives them credit for great which which must be kept healthy, and The leading lady, Mme. Laporte, bravery and endurance; a Spanish that character which must be kept tenacity and an Irish wit. He finds pure. It would, indeed, be far better, carnivals they fill columns. The awful Robbers had set upon him and had scenes that took place on the battletaken from him his pocketbook containing £30 in bank notes, his watch and loose valuables; they had broken | modern warfare. Nine tenths of the his leg and cut his head open in the dead were found with their throats cut, struggle. It was a long time before and the Chillenos took no prisoners Adolph could tell how it happened, and then he confided to Estelle that he had not been remarkably economical. They ask no quarter and give none. The fear of the Chilleno knife had and all the money he had in the world much to do with the subjugation of the more humane Peruvians. It follows that the Chilleno soldier is not easily disciplined and has a great theatre was closed and there was no-body to call upon. The landlady began Santiago is to be seen the plunder of carved stone in the parks, and almost This, as the doctor informed Estelle, everything that beautifies the streets the should not be removed for two ures, furniture, books and innumerable household articles stolen from the Estelle went up to her own room and homes of the Peruvians. They took wept. The old woman would turn him out, and he would be lame for life. It the cemeteries, altar equipments of silver from the churches, even steeple would ruin him in his profession.

While she was weeping the comb fell out of her hair, and its silky weight fell upon her shoulders.

Should ruin him in his profession.

While she was weeping the comb reach. They stripped the edigies of the control of the reach. They stripped the edigies of the control of the reach. They stripped the edigies of the control of the reach reach. They stripped the edigies of the control of the reach reach. They stripped the edigies of the control of the reach rea "I'll do it," she said, "Anything and even carried off statues of Washington and Lincoln to set them up in selves clearly and strongly, but unless after marriage. Hence the term honeythe courtyard of the Postoffice in Sanstreet where Mme. Laporte, the lead- tiago. These things have done much science enforce them they will remain Hun, drank so much mead at his wedtago. These tangs have done much toward the adornment of Valparaiso as undone. While sympathy without ding feast that he died '' well, which exceeds any city in the wisdom will often lead astray, the —According to the Re United States of the same population (125,000) in the beauty of its shops and sympathy would be barren and sterile, and Wales 2,314 priests, as against the display of luxury.

"Fivel I'll give you ten for it. A dangerous burglar is the key Such hair can't be had. But you'll fitter, because from the very nature of his operations he is rarely ever discov-Estelle was firm in her purpose, and ered. He is not considered a firs man because he is as much of a sneak minating at Ekaterinburg, and the from fresh beeswax, oil, and lamp- will much shorten the trip from St. decorum are never passed, and the Estelle was at the theatre the first black. From these impressions the lay of the rehearsal.

Petersburg to American Pacific coast, beauty show stands to-day, as it has expert key fitter readily makes the ports, superinducing as it will, a line for many years, absolutely without a The first object that she saw was keys required. The balance of the ope-

The Hypocrite and His Son.

corn, was accustomed to pray that the wants of the needy might be supplied.

But when any one in needy circum Petersburg to New York. The genersearch him. They ransacked his and met Adolph. He started, looked at her and held out his hand.

She waiked towards the entrance wants of the newsy mans of the newsy man 'Estellel" he cried, "have you been said he had none to spare. One day, trip. after hearing his father pray for the poor and needy, his little said to

> "Father, I wish I had your corn." "Why, my son, what would you do with it?" asked the father.
>
> The child replied, "I would answer Nellie V., 2.20%, having purchased the fired into the unfortunate beast when with it?" asked the father.

Physical, Mestal, Moral.

The division of man's nature into found so convenient for study and disussion that it has sometimes been strained too far. While quite allow-"She sold it to me," said the lady. Some persons speak as if there were no the most splended temple dedicated to "I found out why. My doctor told necessary connection between them— that deity, was built 1263 B. C. me he attended you. They were going as if each might be cultivated without —The diamond that a presented

And when the door was opened he departed, hot tears in his eyes, and something in his throat choked him in search of Estelle. He found her in last truths which, taken alone, give half truths which, taken alone, give half truths which, taken alone, give anything but a true impression. So deteriorating them all. foundations We are beginning to find out, are ceasing to expect good results from my very own some day—my own dear care, training and self-discipline to obtain this boon are very far from occusold over twenty pounds of lead to an pying the high place in our thoughts Augusta junk dealer. It was rifle and hearts, which they deserve. To balls which he had dug from the em-disobey the laws of our physical nature bankment back of the State militia sections, coupled strongly together So with the intellect; its efficiency with wire. It is to be towed to Bosthe next piece, had given the small much resemblance between the Chilfry a glimpse of her in street attire at rehearsals, and had condescended to say that she would "give five guineas for that little creature's harr." Hers or the United States! Grant of the States! The cheers were given with a gusto, and the supervisor approaches Roy. Thirty frances from you.'

The cheers were given with a gusto, and the supervisor approaches Roy.

The cheers were given with a gusto, lies in wait for all of us had indeed seen the supervisor approaches Roy.

Thirty frances from you.'

The cheers were given with a gusto, lies in wait for all of us had indeed seen the shadow that little creature's hair." Hers leno will not endure a seege nor light at long range, but as soon to lies in wait for all of us had indeed seen the shadow that little creature's hair." Hers leno will not endure a seege nor light at long range, but as soon to be liftle to the results to be attained. It is good to have a tool well face, soft, thick, dark hair, which she sees the enemy he fires one volley, drops attained. It is good to have a tool well for that little creature's hair." Hers light woman, with a colorless was the same color, but whose chignon attained. It is good to have a tool well face, soft, thick, dark hair, which she she sees the enemy he fires one volley, drops attained. It is good to have a tool well for that little creature's hair." Hers light woman, with a colorless was the same color, but whose chignon at long transport of the shead once more among his face, soft, thick, dark hair, which she she was no longer a per light at long range, but as soon to be light at long range, but as soon to be attention to maintain the colorless was the same color, but has colorless at long range, but as soon to be attention to maintain the colorless was the same color, but has colorless at long range, but as soon to be attention to maintain the colorless at long range, but as soon to be attention to maintain the colorless and the shead once more among his face, soft, thick, dark hair, which she was no longer a per light at long range, but as soon to be attention to maintain the colorless at long range, but as soon to be attention to maintain the colorless and the shead on sees the enemy he fires one volley, drops one night Adolph escorted Estelle home from the theatre, and an hour This is a long curved knife, which he theatre, and the things the afterwards some one was heard groan- carries as a dagger and uses to cut that that tool is used skilfully and apthe prostrate is a larger and uses to cut that too is used skilling and applied to its legitimate purposes. The was Adolph by instinct, and with the land never carries a revolver, but in a landlady's sons lifted the prostrate quarrel springs with this knife at form from the pavement and brought the throat of his enemy like a blood- conduct. It is ever searching out what cedar not far from the beach, found s him into the house. A doctor was sent for, and the poor, bleeding, sense-cutting affairs are to be found in every done. It is opening up the laws which of great antiquity, and portions of s less soul was cared for as well as day's paper, and on feast days or underlie human society and happiness, human skeleton, which crumbled into and claiming obedience to those laws. dust as soon as exposed to the air. The perfectly will the welfare of the whole

From New York to London by Rail.

People will, instead of risking the horrors as well as for the purpose of saving time, leave New York for Lon-and thus will be exemplified more fully

'There lies the east; there lies Indial' distance of about 7,000 miles, includ-

American ports, across a much nar-

But in a little time, comparatively,

-Old Barnum is still taking an ac-

-H. W. Clark, Mendota, Ill., has

tive part in racing. He won at Waverly on November 13th.

the great speech of senator Benton

tained. - Public Ledger

feelings into right channels, so that in- hatchets of curious design, stead of being wasted in mere ebulliion, they may conduce to the real good of society. It is also frequently in the upper house of that country, discovering new aims and better making titles of mobility descend only methods. A recent writer well says: to the eldest son, and having them in The man who recognizes new duties, separable from a seat in the House, above those he has been taught to ob- English fashion. The reason is fan serve—who sees beyond the circle of tastic enough—that so-called barons conventional obligations the dim forms and dukes have been killing themselves new claimants on his heart and serlately because they had no money to vice, is a moral inventor, an enlarger support their dignity. f human life. Those who saw the -A woman in North Gainsville claims of the slave were such; those who see the claims of animals are the Fla., saw a little bird flying in and out same. How many more such are still of a back window of her house. She owerful on the character: what shall we say of the heart and consciencewould soon become a wreck. The capacity may exist, and the knowledge and ludgment to guide that capacity may "Among the northern nations of Eu inoperative. Duties may present them- from honey (hydromel) for thirty days the heart receive them and the con- mouth or honeymoon. Attala, the 60; in Ireland, 3,961,000; total, 5,641, -A young man at Vinalhaven, dangers of an Atlantic trip and the Me., who attended the firemen's ball put on the sheriff's coat by mistake. While escorting home his "best girl" don via Portland and St. Petersburg, he found a pair of handcuffs in his pocket, and the young woman tried when, in pointing from Washington and locked, and the hands could not toward the Pacific, he exclaimed: be withdrawn. The girl nearly "There lies the east; there lies India!" sprained her wrists trying to extricate There are now two lines of railway herself from her embarrassing position running eastward from St, Petersburg and did not succeed till the sheriff artoward the Ural mountains, one ter rived with the key.

Ural mountains to the Pacific ocean, 2 tay is remarkable. ing the 1,500 miles already constructed where women of indubitably correct

-The London Globe prints a stron rower portion of the Pacific ocean than from the diamond fields. A Kaffli

NO. 51.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

-A cigar dealer in Manheim, Pa.

New York was published in 1786 and -A mass of clam shells embedded in sandstone has been found at a depth of -The temple of Apollo, at Delhi, -The diamond tiara presented by

-Apologies for Christianity were dows of a store in Pearl street, New Albany. -The occupants of an Astoria, Ore. hostelry fish from their bedroom win dows and haul in their suppers from the surging waters about the hotel -Cardinal Manning will soon give his views on teaching religion in the public schools. That is a point on which Protestantism and Romanism will never agree. -A university is said to have been founded at Bologna by Tasodosius establishment of the University of Boulogne was 1116.

-Speaking of Belva A. Lockwood correspondent says: "In literature she loves works on science, history and blography best, the writers of such works being her favorites. -An industrious Maine boy recently granted an annual subsidy of 111,000 o run a line of steamers between the Russian Pacific ports and Corea, Japan,

It is constantly guiding emotions and weapons were arrow heads and stone -An influential paper of Buda Pesth, Hungary, advocates a reform making titles of nobility descend only

If a healty body and a vigorous mind eral rooms to the front parlor and disare thus interdependent, and together appear on a "whatnot" in the corner. There the housewife found a nest with four eggs in it. They were not disose forces which we call moral? turbed, and at last accounts the bird Without them, both mind and body was trying to hatch the little eggs. -The etymology of the word honey-

-According to the Roman Catholic wisest scheme of philanthropy without returns for 1888, there are in England There is constant action and reaction, 1,728 in 1875, serving 1,304 churches, and the closer the co-operation between chapels and missionary stations. In these three parts of humanity the Scotland there are five bishops and higher will each attain, and the more 334 priests, serving 327 chapels. individual and of society be main-tained.—Public Ledger.

Catholic population in England and Wales is 1,354,000; in Scotland, 326,- > hem on. Unfortunately they snapped -The display of pretty faces and of steamers from Vladivostock to rival.

that of the course of the steamer now was suspected of being in possession of plying between Vancouver and Yoko- uncut diamonds, and was pursued by officers of the law. When they came up with him he had just shot one of woolly head, they tried all the usual they find, and finally they had to retire discomfited. Then the Kaffir proceeded to pick out from the dead ox's carcase all the diamonds with which his gun he saw the officers approaching.