Many people fall into the habit of gossip, by an effort to keep up a conversation when they meet friends, and then at the time they belittle themselves by belittling talk about their neighbors.

John C. Martin sojourning in this place since the sale of household goods of Joseph S. Martin, contemplates returning to the western part of the state, and on his way will stop at Johnstown, Pa.

The monthly "Gospel Temperance Meeting" will be held in the Presbyterian church on Sabbath next at 3 o'clock P. M. E. C. VanFossen, Secretary.

Mifflintown, Pa., April 8th, 1889.

President Harrison recommends that the people hold religious services in the churches at 9 o'clock on the morning of April 30, as a solemn national observance of the centennial of President Washington's inauguration.

Rupture cure guaranteed by Dr J. E. Mayer, 831 Arch street, Phil'a, Pa. Excites no operation or delay from business, attested by thousands of cures after others fail. Advice free. Send for circular. March 14, '88, 1y.

The railroad company will at this station make a cinder roadbed about the trestle work leading to the coal wharf, to take the place of the trestle work. A couple of gangs of men have been dumping ground and filling from cars run up on the trestle work.

From a despatch from Florida ex-President Cleveland while in a boat in company with two other persons hooked a 96 lbs and 13 ounce tarpon fell to the side of the boat and then having the timely assistance of his two friends succeeded in securing it.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer: A Kentucky Sheriff went to a revival on Thursday night, got converted and confessed to having embezzled $1,000 of the county funds thirteen years ago. Moreover he returned the money. That is the kind of conversion that converts.

Shelly Kloss continues to give singing lessons in the Presbyterian church; and Jacob Thomas in the Lutheran church, and Samuel Bell man in the old Academy building on Third street. Each of the above named singing masters have a set evening for every week.

List of letters uncalled for remaining in the P. O., at Mifflintown, Pa. Week ended April 6, 1889. Persons calling for letters in this list will please ask for advertised matter. D. M. Seibert, David M. Smith, Mrs. Malinda Shields, Rev. I. Heckman.

CHAS. B. CRAWFORD, P. M.

Robert Elsmere has been dramatized; The book is pleasant for people of literary taste, but we should think it would make a dull play. Possibly the only scenes in it, that will take with the public are the love making scenes between Catherine and Robert, and Rose and Langham, and the scene of Robert saving a drowning man.

English Spavin Liniment removes all Hard, Soft, or Calloused Lumps and Blemishes, from horses, Blood Spavin, Curbs, Splints, Sweeney, Ring-bone, Stifles, Sprains, all Swollen Throats, Coughs, &c. Save $50 by the use of one bottle. Warranted. Sold by L. Banks & Co., Druggists, Mifflintown, Pa. Oct. 31 '88.1y

Last Thursday evening a medicine peddler stopping in Patterson, sold Indian Star Tea in front of the Keystone House by the light of a torch. He claimed the tea to be a blood purifier and good for the relief of headache. Before selling his medicine he sang songs and played on the banjo. He also claimed being a dentist, but as he did not have enough of a crowd pulled no teeth.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jacobs, who lived with her sister Mrs. Libo on Third street, was found in bed dead, last Friday morning. She had gone to bed about ten o'clock on Thursday evening in her usual state of health, which during some time past was not good, but she was not considered as being in a dangerous state of health. She had partaken of both dinner and supper on Thursday, and her friends did not even imagine that she was so near her end. She was about 65 years old.

The White Caps were first used as a disguise when citizens engaged in a movement to rid their midst of good fornothing men and women, now bad men and women use the White Cap as a disguise when they rob well to do people as was the case at 2 o'clock last Thursday morning when two white capped men visited the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Elmer a mile from Washington, Pa., tied them in bed, and, with threats of burning the house if their request should be refused, extorted from them $500.

Hiding under the petticoats of their wives has been over done in Maryland and the Baltimore Court of Appeals, has just rendered a decision that a wife's property is liable for a husband's debts. The decision says: "It can hardly be necessary to say that where a conveyance is made to a married woman, the burden of proof is on the wife to show that the property was purchased and paid for out of the money belonging to her, and that, in the absence of such proof, the presumption is that the husband furnished the means of payment."

"The women of Detroit, Michigan behaved themselves finely at the election on Monday, April 1st for school inspectors, in which for the first time they enjoyed the right of voting. Some of them were enthusiastic in the work of electioneering, but the majority of those who voted were entirely tranquil. Husbands and wives went to the polls together, though they did not always vote the same ticket, and the voters of both sexes displayed manifest respect at the ballot boxes. It was through the labors of the women that one of the female candidates for the office of school inspector was elected. She is over sixty years old."

An exchange says: There is a rumor that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company contemplates using the old canal route from Conemaugh to near Lewistown for a freight railway. It is for the purpose of shortening the freight route east by a branch from Conemaugh and thence through the old portage and tunnel, which has been abandoned for many years, to connect with the Hollidaysburg and Williamsburg branch, and extended down the banks of the Juniata on the old canal bed as far east as Lewistown. This route it is claimed, will avoid heavy mountain grades, would open up quite a stretch of freight producing country and cut off fifty to eighty miles distance between Pittsburg and Philadelphia. The cost to carry out this scheme will be comparatively little, as the Pennsylvania railroad purchased the right way for the proposed line when it bought the Pennsylvania canal from the state more than thirty years ago.

MUSICAL COLLEGE.—The 35th Session of Six weeks, opens Monday evening, April 29, for the teaching of Young Ladies in Vocal and Instrumental Music. Address,

F. C. MOYER, Director,
Freeburgh, Pa.

March 6, 6t.

THE American Agriculturalist, FEBRUARY, 1889, SAYS OF US:

"True to name." That is the motto of one of the leading firms of "nurserymen in the pretty town of "Geneva. Their extensive nurseries "are located some two miles from "town. Every tree and plant sent "out by the firm carries with it a "guarantee of its honest quality. "The best salesmen that can be pro"cured are constantly at work. "When you deal with one of these "you deal with one of the firm and "the quality of the goods need not "be doubted."

SALESMEN WANTED.—Write at once for terms. Only honest, sober, industrious men need apply. Address us at our

THE TWO DAKOTAS—SOUTH AND NORTH.

Public attention is now more than ever directed to these two new states of the Union. Climate, soil and opportunities for investment of capital, are unexcelled by any other section of the Great West. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Co., which has lines of its own both in North and South Dakota, has just issued an illustrated phamphlet entitled, "Plain Facts about Dakota," containing numerous letters from farmers and others which are well worth reading, as they show the result of each writer's personal experience in the North-West, and convey a great deal of valuable and reliable information which will be of benefit for those seeking new homes in South and North Dakota.

For a free copy of this phamplet address A. V. H. Carpenter, General Passenger Agent, Milwaukie, Wis.

Delaware Notes.

"How do you like your new home," is the question asked by every individual when they meet their new neighbor.

Miss Emma Benner who was employed as seamstress at the Soldiers' Orphan School at McAlisterville, has returned home. Glad to see you Emma.

Jacob Gingrich of Nebraska is visiting relatives in this vicinity.

M. L. Keiser an enterprising young man of our midst, will engage in the lumber business the coming summer. We wish him success.

Misses Alice Auker and Ella B. Kurtz, and Homer VanOrmer, will attend the Thompsontown Normal School the coming summer.

David Hunberger was so fortunate as to capture a wild duck while working in one of his fields last week.

Miss Lizzie Brown of Shannokin, is the guest of her friend Miss Lena Dougluten.

Mrs. Doughten spent a few days in Philadelphia last week.

The Sabbath School at Goodville, was reorganized last Sunday. H. A. Auker, was elected Sup't, D. F. Hunberger, assistant; Emma Benner, Secretary; Ella Kurtz, assistant Secretary.

Clifford S. Ford will start next Tuesday for Delaware, Ohio, where he intends to go to school. We regret to see you go Clifford.

Last Friday J. Banks Kurtz closed his school. A large number of visitors were present. Among those were J. W. Hibbs and M. L. Keiser, who addressed the audiences with pathetic speeches, followed by J. B. Kurtz, who delivered his farewell address. After bidding his pupils good bye he took the train for Harrisburg where he intends to visit, after which he will go to Philadelphia. We all wish him back again next winter.

Some folks think they know who Servius Tullius is, but they are very much mistaken.

SERVIUS TULLIUS.

Temperance Column.

Topeka, Kansas, has more churches than any city of the same size in the country, and has not a single saloon or drinking place. There were four years ago 240 saloons in the city, and before the whiskey element could be convinced that "prohibition would prohibit," over $25,000 in fines were collected from saloon keepers for violations of the law, and over thirty of them served in the county jail.

Thaddeus B. Wakeman, of the New York bar, has a decided opinion on the Temperance question. He says: "There are but two consistent positions on this subject: free trade in alcohol if it is a food; no trade in alcohol (except as a poi-on) if it is a poison. Science has rendered her verdict on the facts: it is a poison, and the most terrible affliction of the human race."

California, with its "pure, light, home made wine" idea, has one saloon to every ninety of its population. This proportion is exceeded by only two States in the Union. So far from wine-making being California's mainspring of material success, it has been shown that against its 1887 value of $2,780,000, the wheat and barley product aggregated $45,420,000, and the gold and silver mining, $94,565,000.—N. W. Christian Advocate.

Dr. Talmage says: "Gather up the money that the working classes have spent for rum during the last thirty years, and I will build for every working man a house, and lay out for him a garden, and clothe his sons and daughters in silks, and stand at his front door a prancing span of sorrels or bays; and secure for him a policy of life insurance, so that the present home may be well maintained after he is dead. The most persistent, most overpowering enemy of the working classes is intoxicating liquor. It is the anarchist of the centuries."

"Whisky never misses fire." So said a man to us the other day. Now it never does. It is sure to bring down its victim sooner or later, whether he be high or low in the social or intellectual scale. And fluttering all about him will always be the wounded hearts of mother, father, wife, children, sisters, brothers and friends, while beyond and behind all this is too often a trail of ruined virtue and contaminating influences. At least six hearts on an average carry a lifelong, overshadowing, dreary sorrow for ever victim alcohol brings down. The undertone of all family and social life is largely silent sorrow and dreary heartache over the victims of alcohol. No; whisky never misses fire—never.—The Churchman.

Would Justify a Divorce.

The Supreme Court of Michigan says that "evidence that a man choked his wife, threw her down stairs, compelled her to lie on the floor behind the stove all night without anything to sleep on or anything over her; that he swore at her and called her rough names and threatened to knock her brains out, will justify a divorce on the ground of cruelty."

Well, we should say so.—N. Y. Herald.

Won a Wife and Lost a Pulpit.

A special despatch from Monticello, Ill., says: "The members of the New Light Church at La Place are greatly incensed at their pastor, Rev. George W. Draper, and have demanded his resignation. They charge the reverend gentleman with having cheated Charles Sampson, a member of the New Church, out of his intended bride. Sampson was engaged to marry Miss Addie Daniels, and had bought her a wedding outfit. Draper, it is said, persuaded the girl to marry him and jilt Sampson. Sampson proposes to sue the preacher for damages, and there is lots of trouble in store for the unfortunate, or fortunate minister."

Mifflintown, Pa., April 1st, 1889.
June 4-'89.

The Hemliest Man in Mifflintown and Patterson, as well as the handsomest, and others are invited to call on any druggist and get free a trial bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, a remedy that is selling entirely upon its merits and is guaranteed to cure and relieve all Chronic and Acute Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption. Price 50 cents and $1.

March the 26 at 1 o'clock, Mrs. Mary E Jenkins, died at the residence of her husband No. 515, Fifth Avenue, Altoona. She was aged 29 years, 10 months and 24 days. 5 children survive her, the youngest being only ten days old. Mrs. Jenkins was a sister of Hannah Crawford and Emma Burris, of Patterson. A kind Sister and a true and affectionate Wife and a loving Mother has been called from us. So young in years, but we must all Submit to the Lord's will, for he does all things well.

'Tis hard to break the tender cords
When love has bound the heart
'Tis hard so hard to speak the words
We must forever part.

'Tis hard to leave our loved one
In the mouldring graves' embrace,
But her memory will be cherished
Till we see her heavenly face.

Dearest Sister thou hast left us
Here thy loss we deeply feel
But twas God that hath bereft us
He can all our sorrows heal.

SISTER.

The Population of Mifflintown and Patterson is about 1600, and we would say at least one half are troubled with some affection of the Throat and Lungs, as those complaints are, according to statistics, more numerous than others. We would advise all not to neglect the opportunity to call on their druggist and get a bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial size free. Sold by druggists.

MASON & HAMLIN

The easiest organ and introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.
Mason & Hamlin effect, as demonstrations of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, where competition was open to the instruments of all countries, they have received the highest honors. Illustrated catalogue $22 TO $500. Free.
Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for these organs that they are superior to all others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim as above. This they attribute solely to the considerable improvement introduced by them into the system of the most well known and popular MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGING, by which the tension of each string is secured the very best possible purity and quality of tone, together with great evenness and increased capacity. GRAND & SQUARE PIANOS of unrivalled excellence, containing the latest improvements, and other important features.
A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, mailed free on application.
Prices and terms sent for cash or easy payments; also rented.

Successful Treatment of Disease
A SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY!
MICROBE KILLER
Successful Treatment.
CURES:
Catarrh,
Bronchitis,
Consumption,
Malaria,
Rheumatism.
Wonderful Tonic and Blood Purifier.

The efficacy of the Microbe Killer in cases of consumption has been sufficiently far-reaching that we are justified in claiming for it curative powers beyond those of any medicine known. We do not claim for it miraculous power in curing cases so far gone that cure is impossible, but we do claim that it will cure in cases where the lungs are not more than half gone. Persons with poor appetite, weak and debilitated, will find it a boon indeed. Every one should use it, particularly those who are subject to pneumonia, as it will prevent attacks of same. Most dust, or germs, are causes of disease. The microbe that will kill the germs and so cure the disease, the patient is the one to use.
Cheap, within the reach of all. Send for circular and price list. Agents wanted. Address
