A bridge across the railroad at the station will be a great convenience for railroad men who are delayed by the necessity of cutting their trains, and it will be a convenient and safe course for the people who travel on the high way. There will be no necessity to "look out for the locomotive," but the structure will spoil the appearance of Main street.

Why not elect post masters instead of appoint them? A number of towns in Vermont are preparing to choose their postmasters by popular vote. The Republicans of Bradford, Morrisville and Sharron have already held caucusses to select candidates for the places held by Democratic postmasters, and will send the result of the election to President Harrison for his consideration.

There are many thousand acres of unproductive land in Juniata county on which grain cannot be grown with profit, but if turned into peach orchards can be made to return a larger profit per acre than the best farm land in the county. If the cities of the east and west continue to grow the scrub timbered hills of Juniata may in time become the most valuable property in the county.

The Womans Christian Temperance Union of Juniata Co., will hold its annual meeting in the United Presbyterian Church at Mexico, Commencing on Wednesday evening, April 24, at 7½ o'clock. Continuing all day Thursday and Thursday evening. Mrs. Wm. B. Rhoads, State Supt. of Y. work is and other ladies prominent in the Temperance cause are expected to be present. All visitors will be cordially welcomed and entertained.

By order of Ex. Com.

On last Sunday morning a young man breaking on a freight train coming east was killed at a bridge near Tipton by his head striking against a bridge as the train passed under it. He was struck while working with a brake with his back turned toward the bridge. He was found lying dead on top of the car. The name of the man killed is Sheffler and he was a nephew of Mrs. William Egolf formerly of Patterson. The body of deceased was put in ice at this station and taken to Harrisburg where relatives live, for interment.

Mr. T. K. Beaver, of Fayette Twp., lost a valuable horse in a singular manner last week. The team had been taken to a piece of woodland and while quietly standing, waiting for a load, a tree was cut down. The fall of the tree frightened the team and in the flurry that took place among the horses the wagon tongue was broken and one end of the broken tongue was run into the horse 18 inches back of the front shoulders The beast died in 20 minutes. The week before the accident Mr. Beaver paid $150 for the animal.

The Lewistown Democrat and Sentinel says. On Monday night Col. Solheimer noticed from the rear of his residence a man lying on the shed roof of the back building of the residence lately vacated by George B. Keim. The Colonel called to him to know what he was doing there, when the fellow jumped from the roof and took a hurried departure up through the lot. As the house where he lay was unoccupied, it is believed it was his intention to lie there concealed until later and then try to effect an entrance to the dry goods store of S. L. Ruble, by the rear window.

At the regular morning service last Sabbath Rev. L. Y. Hays read two papers, relative to the separation of his pastoral relations with the Mifflintown Presbyterian congregation.

The first paper was a certification by elders, Silas Moyer, and George Wilson, that last January Mr. Hays expressed a desire to resign, on account of ill health.

The second paper was a statement of the clerk or secretary of Huntingdon Presbytery, that met last week—on the 9th of April—at Curwinsville, Clearfield county, setting forth that Mr. Hays had asked permission of Presbytery to resign his present charge, to take affect next October,—permission was granted—and the Mifflintown congregation is cited to convene in June and confirm the resignation or show cause why the resignation shall not be accepted.

Last Saturday night, a noise was heard about the barn of Isaac Barton at Cuba Mills. The stable doors were found open and it was plainly to be seen that a prowler had been in the barn—it is believed by some people that the prowler was a horse thief, for at Harry Stambaugh's stable the doors were open and a young horse had been unloosed and was found in an other stable of the same barn, which gives size to the conjecture that whoever was at the barn was examining the horse stock and had been disturbed by some passer by or probably was not suited in the animals he was examining. A son of Brice Horning came along and found Stambaugh's stable in the condition mentioned; going on to his home he found the doors of the barn of his father's in the same condition. Arousing his father they investigated the barn, but found things all right with the exceptions stated.

From the Perry County Advocate of April 10. The strange disappearance of David Houdeshell, a lumberman of Shiremans town, Cumberland county, has created considerable excitement in and about Mechanicsburg. The last heard of him was on March 28 last, at which time he left his home intending to go over the mountain to his sawmill, located in Rye township, this county—a distance of about fourteen miles, where a large force of men are taking out timber. He started on foot, and it is supposed took an old Indian path up the mountain. He was seen and spoken to by a mountaineer. The missing man had on his person nearly $400 and a gold watch, and it is believed he was waylaid, murdered and robbed, and his body secreted in the crevices of the rocks. Searching parties are now on the mountains, but as yet their efforts have been fruitless.

Later.—David Houdeshell's body has been found. Tramps who were seen lying in ambush, committed the murder, stole the money and hid the body in the woods on the North Mountain. * * * Last Friday morning a Jew peddler accosted Mr. Ezra Bupp, who was working in the field near his home in Centre township, inquiring the way to Newport. He was informed, but went to Mr. Bupp's house. The female members of the household being upstairs, the peddler looked around and finding a pocket book containing about $45, which Bupp had laid on the mantel before going to work, appropriated it and skipped. In the evening, discovering his loss, Bupp hastened to Newport, but failed to find his man. He was seen near Bloomfield on the same day.

SALE OF HORSES.

On Wednesday, April 24th, at 1 o'clock P. M., L. B. Wilson will sell a lot of Western horses at public sale on Main street in Mifflintown. Draft horses, driving horses, farm horses, and guarantee that horses are as represented when sold.

The Bedford County Outlaws.

Bedford Inquirer, April 12: The Bedford township cowboys or midnight marauders have again resumed their devilish work. On Wednesday night at about half-past 10 o'clock two large bay stacks belonging to William Easter, of the Dutch Corner, were burned. His buggy was cut and broken, wheels were cut, one wheel burned and burrs carried away. The buggy was a complete wreck. On the ridge a short distance from the house the fence was fired and many panels were destroyed. Fortunately the night was calm. Had it not been it would not have been possible for the eight men, who worked all night, to have saved the buildings. As the criminals were leaving they fired off their revolvers, evidently to deter people from following them. One night the early part of the week Patrick Henry, an industrious but poor young man living below the almshouse, had his plows broken up.

EAST SALEM ITEMS.

Farmers are busy sowing oats.

George Forry has gone back to Union county.

An organ was purchased for the Methodist church week before last

Levi Meyers has moved back from Harrisburg.

Our merchants are busy cleaning their stores.

George Hubbard moved into Levi Meyer's tenant house yesterday.

David Martin moved to Locust Run yesterday.

Quite a large number of peach trees have been planted in our county this spring.

Beauty, you surprise me, that you wrote such a large column of items week before last.

Wm. Himes our boss shoemaker and peach tree agent, took a trip to Washington, to see the President week before last.

Samuel Shlegel, one of our merchants has hired another clerk.

Last Tuesday, D. L Kepner closed his school, quite a number of visitors were present. After recess a few declamations were offered by the pupils, after which the teacher delivered his farewell address. A happy winter was spent in which great progress was made. We the pupils thank the teacher for his kindness and attentiveness that he manifested toward the school. We all wish him back again next winter.

Servius Tullius, you think the people don't know that you are writing for this paper, but they do.

MASON & HAMLIN

The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as testimony of the unequaled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in which year they received the only medal awarded to cabinet organs, they have received the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues $22 TO $500, free.

Mason & Hamlin do not believe in making the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "Mason & Hamlin Piano Scale." The experience of the past two years has fully demonstrated that this improvement is second to no other practical piano-forte invention of the present century, and the Mason & Hamlin Piano, together with greatly increased capacity, $21,000 & $22,000 for 7 years standing in tone and other important particulars.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred prominent musicians, and containing, together with descriptive catalogue, many applicants, Mason & Hamlin Organs and Pianos sold for cash or easy payments; also rented.

Successful Treatment of Disease

A SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY!

MICROBES the Cause of all Diseases.

MICROBE KILLER Kills the Microbes.

Successful Treatment.

CURES:

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Consumption, Malaria, Rheumatism.

Wonderful Tonic and Blood Purifier.

The efficacy of the Microbe Killer to cure of consumption has been so effectually demonstrated that we are justified in claiming that it is capable beyond all those of any medicine known. We do not claim for it miraculous power in curing cases so far gone that cure is impossible, but we do claim that it will cure in any case where the lungs are not more than half gone. Persons with poor appetite, weak and debilitated, will find it the best tonic. Every one should use it, particularly those who have suffered for years with miserable chronic diseases. More than 90 per cent. are cases of disease. The medicine that will kill the germs and at the same time purify the patient is the one to use.

Sold only in one gallon stone jugs. Price $3.00, or half gallon jugs $1.75. Express charges to be paid by purchaser. If you cannot get it from your druggist, send to us. We will ship you a jug by express, charges paid, on receipt of price.
