A youth of the period told a neighbor with elation: "Pop's been elected a junior in his church, and he'll set up the cigars if you go in." E. J. Rowe, of Geary, Westmoreland county, bought a quantity of dry paper two days ago and spread it around. During his absence a pet cat got stuck on it, and, rolling over and over in its fright, became tightly bandaged in it all but its claws. In this state it made a frantic dash for the woods. A lot of men in a harvest field took flight in terror. The neighbors were aroused and soon men, women and children, with guns, clubs, &c., were chasing the strange looking animal. It was finally run down in a brush heap where it expired of fright.
Merchant Espenshade has leased his farm at the foot of the Narrows for mining purposes, and that fact awakened a good deal of talk of the finding of valuable mineral on the property at Arch Rock. What can the mineral be? is the question. Some have pronounced it best silver and copper. Others have pronounced it limestone. An analysis can determine the quality of the rock. It is hoped that the most sanguine expectations in regard to it may be realized. There are men in the community who guess that it is iron ore mining movement that will crop out sooner or later in an effort to have the county build a bridge across the river at Black Log or Millford station.
J. G. Debra, boss carpenter, with seven carpenters did an amount of work in Juniata this summer that indicates that he understands the carpenter business, thoroughly. The amount of work and the quality of the work speaks for itself. They put up Jonas Kauffman's barn, 100 feet long, 45 wide, in Walker township. Matthew Roger's barn, 70 feet long, 36 feet wide, in Beale township. John Aucker's barn, 70 feet long, 36 feet wide, in Fayette township. John Walker's barn, 46 feet long, 36 feet wide, in Millford township. Roofed the half of Michael Sieber's barn, in Walker township. Roofed the house of Kurtz Kauffman, in Walker township and built an out house for John Gingerich.

The large barn, 80 by 45 feet with this year's hay, wheat and oats, and wagon shed and corn house with 150 bushels of old corn, owned by Samuel Sieber in Walker township was destroyed by fire shortly before day light on Sunday morning. Loss between three and four thousand dollars. Insurance, $1200 on barn, $150 on wagon shed and cornhouse, $100 on crop and hay. How the fire got into the barn is not known and if it had not been for the visit of Jacob Kurtz the probability is the live stock would have fallen victim to the flames. Mr. Kurtz came to Mr. Sieber's on Saturday evening about 10 o'clock. He was invited to stay with Sunday morning intended to get with some of the family to count them. With the purpose of getting an early start he went to the barn about 3 o'clock in the morning and fed his horse; that done he went to the house for breakfast. He came out from breakfast and was about to hitch his horse to a buggy when he noticed fire in the upper part of the barn. Everybody about the place was so afraid of the fire and by their untoward efforts all of the live stock was taken out of the stables with harness and such things as were in that part of the barn. It was with difficulty that out buildings were saved from the flames.
From the Bloomfield Times. Mrs. C. J. Shull, has just completed a patch-work quilt that contains twenty-nine thousand and seven hundred and thirty-two pieces. It was a small job to count them; it was no small job to sew them. The old ball house of the Millers-town bridge, which was moved out of place by the flood, was given to Mrs. Heminger, whose house was swept away; and the citizens of Millers-town put the house on a foundation for her. The public school law now in force of this State provides that the use of profane or obscene language by any pupil shall constitute good cause for expulsion from school; also that any who shall cut, deface or otherwise injure school houses, fences or other outbuildings thereof are liable to suspension and punishment, and the parents of such pupils shall be liable for damages for the amount to be determined by the Directors and collectors through the Court.

Several days ago Mrs. H. J. Davis accompanied by her husband went to Bloomsburg, Pa., to have some teeth extracted. The dentist administered an anesthetic. Almost immediately she fell back in the dental chair a corpse.
Law and Order Pills.
Hyndman, Bedford county, has a law and order society, and a few weeks ago posted notices giving warning to violators of the Sunday law. H. R. Hyland, a druggist, in connection with the dispensing of medicine, sells soda water, fruits, candies and cigars on the Sabbath. Sunday he placed upon his cigar case a bottle of pills labeled "Law and Order Pills." He sells the pills for 5 cents each, and gives away that amount of merchandise with each pill. The organization is at present puzzled, but has procured a lawyer and will test the case.
From Pat and Biddy.
Since our last letter many incidents happened which we can not tell because we were not at home.
There was quite a party in this vicinity on last Sat. Eve., given by Miss Mary Langacre. All reported as having a good time.
C. we suppose you will quit making cider now wont you.
Quite a number of young folks expect to attend Newton Hamilton Camp meeting this week.
E. next time you go to see your Uncle don't forget to get there.
The farmers of this vicinity have taken up arms against a large colony of obnoxious weeds. The war is almost over and we hear the cry of victory o're and o're.
Farmers are busy plowing.
The potato crop will not be a large one.
Apples are scarce, so I can't go to the cider press so often.
W. if you can't stay awake any more you better go to bed.
A. you better stay at home if your horse gets sick when you go away.
We will now close by giving you a short sketch of our trip to the country as we just arrived we are tired and won't write much.
A VISIT TO THE COUNTRY.
Our uncle came for us that morning despite the violent rains, but we did not get out in the least as he was well provided with a cosy covered wagon.
We arrived at our Uncle's about 10m till eleven o'clock. Our Aunt and Cousin were just preparing a magnificent dinner which consisted of fresh beef, new potatoes and peas and things to numerous to mention, but it was good just the same, and you bet Biddy and I took our share of it. After dinner Biddy helped Cousin Bridget to wash the dishes while I went along with Uncle and Cousin John to the barn. Cousin John and I watered the horses while Uncle fed them and then I watered the cattle while Cousin John hitched tops in the cart and then we took a drive to the back fields to see when that wheat will be ready to cut and on our way back we saw lots of sights of which I lack time and space to tell you of.
When we got back I unhitched tops while Cousin John chased the cattle out of the orchard into which they had stolen their way, you know it was my fault as I had forgotten to close the bars, but no one said a word about it. Biddy by this time came out and rang the bell for supper, but I wasn't slow about starting neither was Uncle and Cousin John they are none of the kind that will keep the cooks waiting when the meals are on the table, but when the bell rings the work is all suspended till after meals.
Supper is over Uncle goes out to get 2 mowing scythes and gives one to Cousin John and one to me, the one he gives to me is an old one twenty-six years in use, but it is not one as you would expect to find it the scythe all rusted the snath all cracked and weather worn, but instead the scythe is as bright as a new dime the snath almost as pretty as when it was new.
Now John and I go to mow a small piece of grass while Uncle gets the harvester ready for use as we expect to cut wheat in a day or two.
When almost done I cut Uncle's scythe into a stone and dilled it considerably, you bet there was a boy felt bad, but uncle said that happened a farmes often besides a city boy.
Uncle is now through with the harvester and he said I should turn the harvester stone to grind that dilled scythe and the reaper knives, my uncle does not use a binder for he says it is not right to pay out so much money for twine and let the poor suffer while for an ordinary crop you throw out $15.00 worth of twine and then the poor man the farmer nor the farm has any benefit of it.
When the grinding is done I again help John to water the horses and then bed the horses. In the meantime Uncle did the feeding and then we all went to the house merry as crickets also I felt a good deal tired over my work.
Biddy has been busy all afternoon. First she cleaned our shoes. Then she went along with Cousin to gather the raspberries.

When they came back they looked like a couple of small children left with a bucket full of black cherries a pretty spectacle they were.
Next they went to picking cherries till it was time to get supper then they helped Aunt Susan to get supper after supper they wooded in the garden till it was time to milk. They are now in the cellar getting potatoes for breakfast. I fear they have got all the pies, better look Aunt Susan.
This closes the first day.
PAT AND BIDDY.

The Illiterate Nations.
The intelligence of nationalities is shown by the number people in the country who are able to read or write. Among the civilized countries Russia, Serbia and Roumania, head the list with the greatest population of illiterates, having about 80 per cent. of people unversed in letters. The Latin countries show a better average than the other. Spain having sixty-three per cent. of illiterates, Italy forty-eight per cent. and Belgium only 15 per cent. Hungary has forty-three per cent., Austria 39 and Ireland 21, England shows 21 per cent., Holland ten, the white population of the United States 8 per cent. and Switzerland 7. The smallest percentage is found in the purely Teutonic countries, Sweden, Denmark, Bavaria, and Wirttemberg, having practically no illiterates, and the same can be said of some sections of New England and middle States of this country. Germany has statistics that show that but one per cent. of the people do not know how to read or write, and in Switzerland there is but two and a half per cent. The statistics show that this country is more advanced in educational matters than any other in the world having the same population or anything like the same area.—North American.
