The groom visited Port Royal less than a month ago with Pawnee Bill's Wild West Show, and in a short time proposed and was accepted. From the Newport News of last week. Last Saturday night Reuben Sheaffer of Buffalo township, and Daniel Shelley of Buffalo township, went out hunting and shot a long snail their dog carried up what proved to be one of the largest coons ever caught on the east side of the Juniata river. After running about 1 1/2 miles the coon sought safety in a large rock, but the dogs were close up to it and began a fight that ended in the coon's capture and death. It weighed 19 1/2 pounds and fought desperately before surrendering. The dogs were at a disadvantage, having to take desperate chances in putting their heads in the hole under the rock that harbored the coon. Messrs. Sheaffer and Shelley also killed two polecats. From Perry county papers: U. H. Ward has bought the Ward Hotel, Millertown, for $2650. * * * Jake caught two more coons last Saturday night; but while coming home his horse stepped on his coon dog and injured his back and could appendage. Jake is afraid the dog will be able to make a turn or walk off $25 for his dog last week. * * * Benj. Gring, a cousin of David Gring of Newport, on Monday a week was shooting mark with comrades, when he put about five times the necessary amount of powder in his gun and fired. Both barrels were hurled back the stock, which was hurled back with terrific force, tearing off the left hand of his upper jaw, leaving only one tooth. He is recovering. Mr. Gring is aged about 18 years and has been for some time an engineer on the Diamond Valley Road. The accident occurred at Barrow Huntingdon county. * * * L. E. Dore nally's Mills, had his fall share of bad luck this summer. He has lost several fine hogs with the cholera and about one-third of his oats crop with the wet weather, and Tuesday evening a week he drove his wagon into the shed with some seed wheat on and let it stand there, thinking that the stock was all shut up; but it appears that two colts rising three years old, were in the meadow and the hogs being down they came to the shed and ate about a bushel of wheat. They both died Thursday following, and were worth $225. * * * Mr. Geo. Rouse was passing the house of Mr. Ed. Clegg, in old Rice building, on Main street, last Saturday evening when he noticed a bright spark in the room. Hastening to the door he found it looked and forcing it open discovered that a lamp had been upset on the floor, and the oil and flooring were burning fiercely. After considerable effort he succeeded in extinguishing the flames. It was lucky that the fire was seen so quickly, otherwise a disastrous conflagration would have to be chronicled. Two little children had been locked in the room alone, while Mrs. Clegg had gone out and it is supposed that in their play they upset the lamp. Another Reduction in the Price of Cabinet Photographs. NOTICE. For the next 90 DAYS, I will make full length Cabinet Pictures, at $2.00 per dozen, and Bust Cabinets, at $4.00 per dozen. I am also making a very popular picture called the Opera Picture, at $2.00 per dozen, and another picture called the Miniature Cabinet, at $1.00 per dozen. ALL WORK REDUCED. Cabinet Pictures from $2.50 per dozen to $1.50 per dozen. Do not fail to take advantage of this opportunity at once. Respectfully, Joseph Hess, Millintown, Pa. Sept. 16th, 1889. 3mo. Congressman Atkinson for Governor. From the Chambersburg Public Opinion. The names of a number of prominent and influential Republicans are being named in connection with the gubernatorial nomination in Pennsylvania next year. Thus far Delaware and Hastings have been named as the most likely candidates. Dr. Lyman E. Atkinson the faithful and efficient member of Congress from this district, would make a strong candidate for Governor before the people. As a soldier, citizen, practitioner at the bar and legislator, he has a record that his legion of friends are proud of. The party could not confer this nomination upon any citizen of the State who would fill the position more ably and so patriotically than the distinguished statesman from Juniata county. In the event of his candidacy the vote of this district in the State Convention would be a unit in his favor. October Excursion to Niagara Falls. An autumn trip that is being looked forward to with marked interest is the personally conducted special excursion to Niagara Falls over the Pennsylvania Railroad on Tuesday, October 15th, 1889. The train will leave Washington at 7:10 A. M., Philadelphia at 9:20 A. M., stopping at principal stations on the Northern Central Railway, with all necessary arrangements will be made for those who reside on the main line and branches of the Pennsylvania Railroad and who intend participating in the excursion to join the special train at the principal junction points. Tickets will be good to return until October 24th inclusive, and a stop-off will be permitted at Watkins Glen in either direction. Half-rate tickets will be issued to children between the ages of five and twelve. On the date named train will leave Millintown at 8:27 A. M. Excursion rate $8.60. LUXURY IN RAILROAD TRAVEL. The Pennsylvania's New York and Chicago Limited Express. [Editorial in New York World, September 26th, 1889.] In these improvements which make railroad travel a luxury the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has always been a pioneer. The hand some finish and comfort of its ordinary cars almost render the old drawing room car superfluous. Probably that is the reason the corporation has added new accommodations, and alterations to its palace car system which has never before been dreamed of in the philosophy of the rail. Bath-rooms have been added to the sleeping-cars, with female attendants for lady passengers. A drawing room car handsomely fitted with rockers and other easy chairs, sleepers, in which persons taking berth can ride while their beds are being prepared. Barber-shops are provided for men, and arrangements have been made to receive stock quotation on the day trains. So a traveler can now have as many conveniences and luxuries on a Pennsylvania train as he can obtain in his own home or hotel. I ONCE HAD. I had a mother on whom I could lean, And forgot for a moment this world's dark scene, Whose loving arms did ever entwine Around me like an Ivy vine. Then if any evening I was late, Until I came home she would patiently wait. And presently sit her face so mild, To say good night to her only child. I once had a father better than gold, You never would hear him fret, nor frown, nor scold. But over had a word of good cheer, For the suffering, lonely and dear. When the world moved on at a trying pace, I then could read hope in his dear loving face. For he was in God ever fled, Waiting whatever betided. I once had a home in the distant west, In which when tired of school I found sweetest rest. For in it was the parental wing, Under which I could gaily sing. I once had a brother both fond and true,

When I thought far more of them than I do now, But when our country To Arms did cry, He left his all without one sigh. Still another brother to me most dear, Willingly took to his hands his life, his spear. He left them both on the blood stained soil, And is it heaves a free from toil. I once had a dear darling, bright-eyed boy, He was early to me my pride and my joy, But Jesus took my dear little dove, And placed him in his home above. So you see in the past to me has been, Many long days of sorrow grief and gloom, But why should I cherish these sad hours, Daily gathering tresser flowers. I once ask when all sleep and still, Why it is our dear Heavenly Father's will, To sever from these rights the soul, Unless on him to fix our eyes. God is both our father and trust friend, And will never forsake us, sitting, and heartless trials to an earlier end. If he'll but say Thy Will be Done. CLARA A. GREEN, L. S. A Family Gathering. Have you a father? Have you a mother? Have you a son or daughter, or wife or brother who has not yet taken Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, the guaranteed remedy for the cure of Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Croup and all Throat and Lung troubles? It is so, why, when a sample box is gladly given to you, free by any drug-gist, and the large size costs only 50 cents one $1.00? The Hagerstown, Md., Fair via Pennsylvania Railroad. The Hagerstown, Md., Fair enjoys a reputation second to none. By reason of liberal management and a thorough knowledge of the tastes of its patrons, its annual exhibitions always attract great throngs of people, and as the general features, special exhibitions, &c., arranged for this year are of a more liberal character than those that have preceded it, it can safely be presumed that the influx of visitors will also be larger. The Fair opens October 15th, 16th, 17th, and 18th, and in accordance with its accustomed surprise on such occasions, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets to Hagerstown, October 12th to 17th, good to return until October 19th inclusive, at greatly reduced rates. A Ghastly Crime. BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 8.—A most shocking murder and suicide occurred at No. 43 main street at an early hour this morning. Charles F. Orris, who resided with his mother, Mrs. Mary King, in the third story of the building, was for some time suffering with a severe headache, and then committed suicide by cutting his throat from ear to ear with a razor. Without discovery was made, a terrible spectacle was witnessed. In one little bedroom about six by eight lay the murdered woman in bed. An angry but woman in her frenzy had the cause of death. She lay on her back as if quietly sleeping, and undoubtedly never realized what happened to her. Events her body was lying extended with blood from the wound, which was not disturbed. After killing his mother the murderer may have walked to a table nearby and leisurely scrubbed the 11 wailing witnesses of his guilt on three separate pieces of brown paper as they were found in his coat pocket this morning: "If John and Henry Orris will kindly dispose of my goods, money, etc., I will thank them very much." "CHARLES F. ORRIS." "I should prefer cremation if possible. Please don't bother our relations for they have trouble enough. I hope my friends will not think the worst of me for this. Mother could not get along without me, so ended her suffering also. So good-by friends, and may you all be happy." "CHARLES F. ORRIS." The notes were taken to Orris's grocery on Main street, where also another man suicide had been committed, and the hand writing was fully identified as his by those familiar with it. After writing the above notes, the surroundings indicate that he walked up to a mirror hanging on the wall between two windows, taking a last look at his throat from a car or with a razor. He then turned to his right and sat down in an easy rocking-chair, and smoked a cigarette while his life-blood was oozing out. The family came from Canada some years ago. Orris was a painter by trade, and was a member of the Sixty-fifth Regiment. His reputation of being quiet and industrious.

A BRILLIANT SUCCESS, in our NEW CLOTHING DEPARTMENT. Three Doors above the old stand, one Door above Democrat and Register, BRIDGE STREET, MIFFLINTOWN PA. Scott's Fall and Winter opening in Men's, Youths, Boys and Children's clothing, hats, caps, and Gents Furnishing Goods is now on. Since the opening of our NEW CLOTHING DEPARTMENT, our business has loomed up with wonderful increased sales over the corresponding period of last year, crowded with eager customers, anxious to inspect the perfectly low prices. Large as our assortment is, we want it to be distinctly understood that there is not a single overcoat, suit, or old garment for men, boys, and children, but what is strictly new and desirable, in every particular, ever to the front as the processor of low prices, and the very best values obtainable for money, we can honestly say that we are displaying a line of Fall and Winter Goods which for extensiveness of stock and thoroughness in selection have certainly never been exceeded in the county. We back every assertion we may make about style, quality, material and price. If all wool, we will say so; if part cotton we will tell you; if all cotton, we will enlighten you. We strive to please our patrons in every way, so we say that after inspection you become dissatisfied with your purchase, bring it back to us, we will cheerfully exchange it. Can we say more? OVERCOATS AND WINTER SUITS FOR MEN, BOYS, AND CHILDREN. This matchless assortment includes almost every known material, from an honest all wool domestic to the very finest importations. None but the very latest and most fashionable styles all being made and finished alike to the buyer as well as the seller. We candidly say that we give such grand values that all sensible and economical people will do themselves great injustice if they do not come and convince themselves of the truth of our assertions. WORKINGMEN OF JUNIATA CO., we want you to see for yourselves the Fall suit that we are offering at all prices, from $4.85, and $6.
