A ONE THOUSAND barrel oil well was struck on the Arbuckle farm two miles from Pittsburg last week.

THE Chicago jury fixer ran across a juror that would'nt be fixed for five thousand dollars. It was in the Cronin murder case.

WITHIN a period of four days one hundred cases of small pox appeared in the town of 1000 people on Pelee Island, a fishing resort on Lake Erie.

LEADERS of the Pennsylvania Democracy held a General Assembly in Philadelphia last week. The assembly was much larger than a Democratic State Convention. Great enthusiasm prevailed at intervals when they forgot that there is a majority of 80,000 to overcome in this state.

A number of honest, well-intentioned Prohibition people are displeased at the Republican party for not voting for the Prohibitory Amendment last June. They believe that because the republican party passed an act to submit the question to a vote of the people, that, that act committed the republican party to the question of prohibition. The republican party has never been a prohibition party, but when the prohibitionists wanted the question submitted to a vote of the people, the republican party granted their request and provided the lawful course to pursue in the submission of the question to a popular vote and now instead of receiving the thanks of the prohibitionists for having granted them the prohibitory amendment legislation they asked, they are displeased and threaten revenge. However not all of the prohibitionists act and speak that way. The more thoughtful ones think differently and appreciate the favor that was granted them when the opportunity was extended to the people to vote on the question.

IF the Second Adventists know, the world will come to an end next Friday, October 25. The Philadelphia Bulletin in speaking of the day of doom so near at hand says: It will be a great pity that this earth should be destroyed before it fulfils its mission and becomes thoroughly reformed. Mankind is just now engaged in praiseworthy efforts to do better, and it ought to have a few thousand years to reach that result. It will be sad to have it extinguished just while Amerierds are engaged in a war upon Trusts, in effort to reform the Civil Service in America, to establish the Australian ballot system, to abolish intemperance, to give women the right of suffrage, to discover how to make electricity harmless to the innocent and fatal to the guilty, to abolish wars, to invent new engines of war, to unite the American nations, to extend the railroad systems, to rebuild the navy and to restore the stars and stripes to their old commercial supremacy on the seas. It will be equally bad for the Europeans who are striving to resist the advance of Republicanism and to give new life to the nearly expiring medieval dynastic system. There is no end to the catalogue of great enterprises, political, commercial, scientific and social, that will be extinguished next Friday, when the world goes sky-high, and the favored Second Adventists go up higher. But if their interpretation of the prophesies is correct all, this will happen by Friday of next week.

The Need of Hard Work.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Republicans of Pennsylvania can lose the State this year by failure to appreciate the importance of the result and its bearing on the future. It is a good deal easier to talk about great majorities than to get them.

We shall not get a big majority this year, nor any majority at all unless we work for it. The opposition is encouraged by the off year possibilities and is neglecting no opportunity in any quarter to poll its vote and thereby get an advantage which will be valuable to us in future campaigns.

The loss of Pennsylvania by the Republicans this year means its probable loss next year, when a Governor, Legislature, twenty-eight Congressmen, and a United States Senator are to be chosen. A reduced Republican majority this year means a perilous uphill fight next year, with all that will then be involved.

There are dangers that can be avoided only by persistent and faithful effort throughout the next four weeks. Reliance not depend upon the party ascendancy the responsibility is upon the individual voter. Every Republican should be awake to the importance of the situation.

The party has an unassailable candidate for State Treasurer in Henry K. Boyer, and it has presented substantially the same platform of principals that was presented last year by a majority of eighty thousand. That result should be decisively reaffirmed by an overwhelming majority of voters in November.

Let us keep Pennsylvania at the front of the column of Republican states. That can be done only by hard and determined work on the part of every Republican in every election district. Indifference invites defeat and there is no time to lose.

We Have a Walk Over.

The feeling of security prevailing among Republicans throughout the State is to be greatly regretted. A common expression among Republicans is: "We have a walk-over. This is our greatest danger. Apathy—naturally consequent upon over confidence—is more to be dreaded than open disaffection. Unless we change this current we are liable to wake up on November 6th and find ourselves in the minority. There is only one remedy now and another hereafter. Now—close, compact organization. Hereafter—getting the "stay-at-homes" to the polls on election day, as the result of "close organization." Any line of work which doesn't have one of these two objects in view is a waste of energy. We must do twice the amount of "hustling," this year that we do in a Presidential or Gubernatorial year, when there are live issues to stir up the people.

A Child Killed with Whiskey.

James Sheilds, five years old whose home was in the rear of 1249 Sorrel street, died on Sunday night from alcoholic poisoning, resulting from a quantity of whiskey drank Sunday morning. The father of the little one took whiskey home with him on Saturday evening, and after drinking a portion of the contents set the bottle on the stairway leading to the third story. The little one found the bottle helped himself to its contents, and a few hours latter became unconscious. Dr. R. L. Smith, of 2912 Richmond street, was summoned in the afternoon, but found his patient in a state from which he could not be aroused, and he died shortly before midnight. From the symptoms and the history of the case Dr. Smith has no hesitancy in saying that the little one's death was due to alcoholic poison.—North American.

He Sto'e His Wife's Leg

Thomas Connolly' twenty-eight years of age, was brought up in Jefferson Market Police Court, N. Y., charged with stealing his wife's wooden leg. Connolly has been married about a year, and had quarrelled with his wife through jealousy. When he got out of St. Vincent's Hospital lately he went to 402 west Thirty-third St., where Mrs. Connolly was staying with freinds, and tried to get her to bring a suit for divorce. She refused, and Connolly, losing his temper, knocked her down and wrenched her wooden leg off. He ran away with it, leaving the wife of his bosom with only one leg to stand on. She lodged a complaint, and her leg was restored. But in court this moring she refused to prefer any charge against Thomas, and he was set free. She said she had oer leg and whs satisfied. They hent off together, she eu her crutches and he, figuratively, on his knees.

Onions Beat Quinine.

WHY WE SHOULD HAVE THE VEGETABLE IN THE HOUSE CONSTANTLY.

One day I was taken with chills and headache, signs that my old enemy, malaria, was on hand. My quinine box was empty, and I was looking forward to a restless, sleepless night. In desperation I peeled a raw onion and slowly ate it, and then went to bed, with warm feet and an extra comforter, when, presto! I was asleep in five minutes and awaked in the morning free from malaria and ready for the day's duties.

Our homely but strong freind will be appreciated in time as a medicine and if agriculatists would turn their attention to raising a model onion, with the strong scent taken out that taints the breath so unpleasantly, families will be putting their "pills" in the cellar by the barrel and the doctors would take to onion farming. The onion acts as acathartic and diurstic, and may help to break up a cold or lesson the bad symptoms. Said a doctor: "I always store a barrel of onions in my cellar during the fall. We have them cooked twice a week, and whoever of the family is threatened with a cold eats some onions raw. If this vegetable were generally eaten there would be no diphtheria, rheumatism, gout, kidney or stomach trouble. "But bless you! the young men and women are afraid to eat them. One young man went so far as to say to me: If my wife ate onions I would get a bill of divorce.—American Garden.

Love.

A WOMAN'S LOVE.

When the flowers bloom over the lea;
When I live in the country, or live in the town;
When the sun comes up or the sun goes down;
My darling, I'll think of thee.

A MAN'S LOVE.

And soars afar over the sea,
Where the briny billows are black and blue;

When I intend writing a letter to Mr. George, Fulton & Gano—L. W. G. in N. Y. Tun.

The Pennsylvania Dutch.

Capt. E. H. Rauch in Mauch Chunk Dem't.

The true story of the Pennsylvania Dutch can be told in a general way, in a few words. Their fathers were just awkward enough, in the early settlement of the state to locate and build their homes where the natural flow of milk and honey is most abundant. As to good morals, sobriety, honesty, hospitality and industry they compare favorably with any class of people on earth. Governors, Hiester, Wolf, Snyder, Ritner and Shunk were all Pennsylvania Dutchmen, and their public records are as free from taint of corruption, of fraud, as any of their predecessors or successors. Among the most successful and leading merchants, manufacturers and business men of the city of Philadelphia, and including, lawyers, doctors, journalists and educators the Pennsylvania Dutch are second to no other class, and in the fields of science they are equally prominent and second to none.

But in several respects they are comparatively slow and non-progressive. They are also entirely without representation among professional religionists for expediency only. They hardly ever turn up among the great political corruptionists, demagogues and frauds, whilst among the ex-barkers, and boodlers, who during recent years migrated to the north side of St. Lawrence there is not a single representative of the Pennsylvania Dutch persuasion.

To Restore Worn Clothing.

The mystery to many people of how the scourers of old clothes can make them almost as good as new is explained in the American Analyst as follows: Take for instance a shiny old coat, vest, or pair of pants of broadcloth, cassimere or magonal. The scourer makes a strong warm suds and plunges the garment into it, souces it up and down, rubs the dirty places, if necessary puts it through a second suds, then rinses it through several waters and hangs it to dry on the line. When nearly dry he takes it in, rolls it up for an hour or two and then presses it. An old cotton cloth is laid on the outside of the coat and the iron pressed over that until the wrinkles are out; but the iron is removed before the steam ceases to rise from the goods else they would be shiny. Wrinkles that are obstinate are removed by laying a wet cloth over them and passing the iron over that. If any shiny places are seen they are treated as wrinkles are; the iron is lifted while the full cloud of steam rises, and brings the nap up with it. Cloth should always have a suds made specially for it, as if that which has been used for white cotton or woolen clothes, lint will be left in the water and cling to the cloth. In this manner we have known the same coat and pantaloons to be renewed time and again, and have all the look and feel of new garments. Good broadcloth and its fellow cloth will bear many washings and look better every time because of them.

Third—He shall have resided in the election districts where he shall offer to vote at least two months immediately preceding the election.

Fourth—If twenty-two years of age or upwards, he shall have paid within two years a State or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the election.

I also hereby make known and give notice, that every person excepting Justices of the Peace, who shall hold any office or appointment of office or trust under the United States, or this State, or any city or incorporated district, whether a commissioned officer or otherwise, a subordinate officer or agent who is or shall be employed under legislative, executive or judiciary departments of this State, or of the United States, or of any incorporated city or district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature and of the select or common council of any city, or commissioners of any incorporated district, is by law incapable of holding or exercising at the same time the office or appointment of judge, inspector or clerk of any election in this Commonwealth, and no inspector, judge, or other officer of such election shall be eligible to any office then to be voted for.

As therein directed, I also give official notice of the following provisions of an act approved March 30, 1865, entitled "An Act regulating the mode of voting at all elections in the several counties of this Commonwealth:"

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That in all future elections of the several counties of this Commonwealth, it shall be the duty of the inspectors, before proceeding to the election of any officer, to open the general election ballot-box, and then and there publicly announce the whole number of votes contained therein; and the said inspectors shall then and there proceed to count the votes so given for each office, and make out duplicate certificates thereof, stating in words at length the number of votes given for each person for each office, which certificates shall be signed by the inspectors, or a majority of them, and delivered by them to the clerks of the election, who shall severally add the same to the returns by them respectively kept of the votes given at such election; and the said inspectors shall then and there deliver to the person or persons elected to each office a certificate of election.

SECTION 2. And be it further enacted, That the general election ballots voted in each district shall be kept separate and apart by the inspectors of election, and shall be by them, without unfolding or examining the ballots therein, within one hour after the polls are closed, put into a box, and securely sealed up, so as to prevent the addition thereto or subtraction therefrom of any ballots, and shall be so kept by the inspectors for ten days, unless sooner required to be produced in some court in a case contesting the election, and shall not be opened or examined during that time, except as hereinafter provided; and if any inspector shall wilfully violate the provisions of this section, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned not exceeding one year, or both, at the discretion of the court.

Given under my hand at my office in Mifflintown, this tenth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, and of the Independence of the United States, the one hundred and fourteenth.
