

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 25, 1880.

B. F. SCHWEIER, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Congress is taking the holiday recess.

Inhabitants of Galicia in the old world are killing their horses because of famine.

Two hundred and sixty-eight pension examiners are on their travels through the country.

Ex Mayor, C. Harrison of Chicago, has declared himself in favor of horse meat as an article of food.

The assessed valuation of Jefferson Davis' estate is $7,940. His indebtedness is about $10,000.

As Iowa girl, shot dead, a man who was with a calumny party, was then newly re-married.

By Governor Beaver's announcement, the people are informed that the State debt was reduced $881,950 during the year ending, November 30, 1880.

It is said the channel of the Gulf Stream, runs one hundred miles nearer the American coast than two years ago and that is the reason of so much rain.

A New York letter carrier killed himself for love just as if girls are scarce, and a New York woman sued a man for breach of promise just as if the deceiving man is the last of the race.

Nor many days ago the Philadelphia Inquirer published the expression of many preachers on the subject of "Is Heaven a place?"

The past few days it has been publishing the expression of many preachers, on the subject of "What idea have you formed of hell as a place?"

Sent for the Inquirer and get what many preachers say of the places to which the whole human family is hurrying.

Rev. Dr. David Beale, pastor of the Johnstown Presbyterian church has received a present of $5,000 from the Johnstown flood relief fund of the New York Mail and Express.

Mr. Beale and family, were swept out of house and home by the flood, and the present comes at an opportune time. There is no information at hand by which one may know how much captiousness there may be in the opposition to Mr. Beale in the Johnstown congregation.

Suffice it to say that the Dr. has tendered his resignation of the charge and at a recent meeting of the congregation, he asked the congregation to join with him in asking Presbytery to dissolve the pastoral relation.

Sixty-seven votes were cast in favor of his resignation; 123 votes against his resignation. How would it do for the Westminster congregation to call the Dr.?

Mifflintown is not a bad place, neither is it one of the wicked places on earth.

Nothing for Horses. WHAT IS NOW A LUXURY WILL SOON BE A NECESSITY.

From the Washington Post. "It might sound very odd to most people when a suggestion is made that horses and stock generally should wear clothes."

said M. P. Key, thoughtful of the Humane Society, "but that is one of the innovations that is sure to be reached in time.

In Norway they now have their cattle graze while covered with blankets yet we in the United States ignore such methods of producing good results in the treatment of stock.

A cow that has been giving a liberal supply of milk during the summer will continue giving the same quantity if, when the chill air of January comes along, she is kept warm, but if it is not done the supply will fall off.

There is a lively stable keeper that declared to me some time ago that he believed that horses would wear night shirts, and that they would be just as beneficial to them as they are to men.

"What are you talking of clothing that you would consider desirable?" They should be warm enough to keep them comfortable from the time cold weather sets in until it is passed, and should be made to fit the animals for which they are intended.

There are really few people who really understand the full meaning of the ideas embraced in the work of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, but the public is gradually coming to its realization.

When I took charge of the work here six years ago, "there was a general idea that it was inspired merely by a refined and sensitive sentiment, but their opposition was changed when they saw the business end of the question, and then they fell into line.

They are finally realizing that poor horses mean poor men, poor wives and poor children, and in fact I consider that a nation's strength can be judged by the condition of its economic motive power. It is a question of prosperity or adversity."

"Is the Humane Society considering further steps in carrying out its principles?" "Just as soon as we are able we mean to establish a hospital near this city for horses, to be provided with hot and cold baths and all the facilities for treating sick horses.

There are many more who would be benefited by having their animals brought back into good condition, whereas they might otherwise lose them."

An Unknown Land. A despatch from Portland Maine says: Captain George B. Leavitt, of the whaling ship Spy, of the Pacific Steam Whaling company, is in this city visiting his mother.

Contributed to the JUNIATA SENTINEL. The sectional hall surrounding a shell-bark is illustrative of sections in Christianity. The last verse of the 1st chapter of Revelations reads concerning the seven churches of Asia and their seven angels, and this indicates sections. After frost the hull of shellbarks can be plucked off in sections or somewhat like people will divide the peeling of an orange with a knife so nature gives divided sections to the shellbark covering. Each section of the hull is of the same substance, and in like manner churches have the same Christ, desire their doctrines from one Bible, and also most of them believe in G-d the Father, Christ the Son, and God the Holy Ghost, the Trinity is one, and are accordant in the faith of Christ. The Church is made up in actions like the body like the body is one body so in a higher sense is the church one church although the 7 churches respectively have angels. The shellbark shell and kernels within are better than the hull, yet the hull goes to make up the shellbark, so people are drawn to Jesus, and he of his own good will, mercy and pleasure redeems them and they make up his kingdom with this difference that they are raised to be heirs of Christ and joint heirs of God, and Christ is their "elder brother" and Great High Priest entered into heaven and the "Holy of Holies" thereof, having purged away their sins by his own precious blood. Therefore they that come to G-d through Christ are not cast away like the shellbark hulls as are the wicked cast away into a waste land. The hull of the shellbark protects the shellbark shell, however on the other hand Jesus Christ (the kernel) or as he calls himself "The Bread of Life" around which Christianity is gathered in denominational sections, although whether in the belief of the Saviour, who is both for trust, present believers gathered into the various denominations and who is a protector to the souls of such believers against the laws of death and hell, having conquered those, or rather in the present life is a deliverer from "the world, the flesh and devil" for those that will be delivered. "Whoever will let him come and take of the waters of life." Verses further read of Jesus who says "I am the bread of life," thus "I am the living bread which came down from heaven." "If any man eat of this bread he shall live forever." Accordingly they that eat of the body of Christ by faith and drink of faith of his blood in the Lord's Supper shall live forever while that "eateth and drinketh unworthily eateth and drinketh damnation to himself not discerning the Lord's body." "Let a man examine himself" concerning this belief. There is one faith and one baptism, although various opinions as to the way baptism should be administered, whether by immersion, sprinkling or pouring of water, and whether infants should or should be consecrated to the Holy Trinity in baptism. A verse reads: "For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body whether we be Jew or Gentile, whether we be bond or free." Christians according to this are baptized into the body of Jesus. "How shall we that are dead to sin live any longer therein. Know ye not that so many of us were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death. Therefore we are buried with him in baptism into death. That like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of God the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life." are the reading of several verses. Although Christianity is sectional on baptism yet all use the name of the three persons of God in the administration of baptism, whether they baptize adults only or christen infants and those not arrived at the years of accountability.
