SENTINEL & REPUBLICAN

MIFFLINTOWN.
WEDNESDAY, FEB. 5, 1890.

B. F. SCHWEIER.
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

A Pittsburg man has sued a neighbor for $10,000 for the alienation of his wife's affections.

Chicago is not out of the list for the World's Fair in 1892. She has just put up ten million dollars to pay for the big show.

European nations are dividing off the Congo country to suit themselves, regardless of the rights of the 20,000,000 people of that country.

The minister sent to Washington by the Provincial government of Brazil has been formally recognized by President Harrison and that is a moral support for the revolutionists that is of incalculable value.

Miss Elizabeth Bisland, arrived in New York, last Thursday from her trip around the world. She made the trip in 77 days, 16 hours and 43 minutes, and if she had not missed connection in several places on the route she would have come in ahead of Nellie Bly.

Delamater and his friends are charged with having tricked Hastings out of the Cambria county delegates to the Republican State Convention. The friends of Delamater say there was no trick in the securement of the delegates. They allege that everything was conducted fairly.

It has been proposed in certain quarters to erect, confederate—rebel—monuments—on the battle field of Gettysburg. The confederates made a brave fight for slavery, but a hundred years after this their posterity will wish that all knowledge of the cause of the fight had been lost with the battle. It will not be a pleasant to have east in their teeth, that they fought to deprive their fellow men of the natural right of liberty of person.

Senator Reed raised a breeze the other day by announcing that in considering the question of whether a quorum is present, he will count all members present, regardless of the fact whether they answer to their names or not. The erring brethren were doing their best to lock the wheels of business by not answering to their names at roll call. Under former rules a gang of obstructionists might go into the House and sit there and hear roll call and not answer, and in that way make it appear that there was not a sufficient number of members present to transact business. Speaker Reed has foiled the practice of the obstructionists by counting all members who are present and if the members thus counted constitute a quorum he proceeds with the business. "Well done," is the plaudit Mr. Speaker.

McVeytown's Mystery.

The Philadelphia Press of January 28th, contained the following dispatch from McVeytown: Frederic Clegg, a young man 22 years old, and late of England, came to this place a year and a half ago, and commenced work at his trade, blacksmithing with David Corkle. A few months ago he conceived the idea that he was called to preach, and made application for the necessary papers to Rev. M. K. Foster, presiding elder of the Juniata district. These papers were granted at the last quarterly conference, and he has been filling a few appointments since. It was announced one week ago from the pulpit that Frederic Clegg would preach in the M. E. Church, on Sunday night the 26th inst. He called on a young lady on Saturday night, to whom he has been paying some attention lately, and when he left her he went to his boarding place, took his license, fifty cents in paper money, his parents' pictures, Bible, new overcoat and many other articles, and placed them in his room where they could be seen and left. He has not been seen nor heard of since. The news spread rapidly through the town on Sunday, and it was believed by many that he would be back and fill his appointment Sunday night. The church was crowded, but Mr. Clegg did not put in an appearance. The community is divided as to his possible fate. Some of Clegg's friends believe his mind has been affected by over study and are confident that he will return in a few days.

THE MYSTERY EXPLAINED.

The young man Frederic Clegg to whom the Press dispatch refers, appeared in this Mifflintown—on Sunday the very day he was to preach in McVeytown. This town is twenty four miles east of McVeytown and Clegg walked the whole distance to this place where he appeared on Sunday afternoon on the premises of Squire C. B. Horning and appealed to him for something to eat. The Squire looked at him in surprise for he was good looking and clean, and from appearance was one of the last young men, he would have taken for a tramp and he said to him: "It is not possible that you are a tramp. Such a good looking and able bodied young man as you appear to be ought to be ashamed to tramp and beg for a living. Where are you from?" Clegg was at first confused, but recovering himself he told the Squire that he had been working at his trade, that of a blacksmith in McVeytown till on Saturday—the day before, having had an unpleasantness with a young lady, the daughter of his employer, he determined to leave on Saturday night, which he did without telling anyone. He said he had spent three years of his life on the sea. He said he purposed going to Philadelphia, and would take the cars here for that city. The Squire did not give him a meal, but in the kindness of his heart he gave him a half dollar.

Man is sociable by nature and it seems that God had created the social gift in him in order that he should make use of it. There are all kinds and all grades of society, and a great part of society is formed into organizations. Those that trapsact their programs publicly and those that arrange and work their programs within the circle of their own membership, wear badges on public parades, and during the occasion of special meetings. Literary societies of colleges during the times of public demonstrations to inspire and kind'e the loyalty of their members, have each member badged in the name of the organization. Also members of Literary societies in some Academies and public schools in vicinities where literary work is loved and esteemed, wear badges. Other organizations, some of mechanics; some of trades. men; some of professional men wear the badge of the organization to which they belong. Further the soldiers wear the badge of their organization in honor of the companies they marched and fought in during the time of war. It is an honor to the members and in many cases an honer directly to the societies of colleges, academies, &c., to wear the organization badge. it is an honor to organized Christianity or Christian society to wear the badge of allegiance to Christ, that is loyalty to the Redeemer even if there be no real badge. All college and academy students of good repute, and all good repute veterans are invited to join these respective societies or companies whether they will accept the invitation or not, while on the other hand God invites the whole world to look to him for salvation, saying "Look unto me and be ye saved all ye ends of the earth for I am God and there is none else." This wide invitation is given whether it will be accepted or refused. They that accept receive the benefit since Christianity is a high rank of society and yet it is open to publicans and sinners that they should lose "their guilty stains." It has as a society developed Europe and America in the direction of civilization, above the heathen nations. It is no common company or society since its foundation and organization is the Son of God, and for this reason it will make up the society inside the gates of the kingdom of heaven. Allegiance to Christ obtains the best society for this life and for the one to come at which time it shall be perfectly refined since refinement is of God. Christ's glorified state when he shall appear with the holy angels, will excel all the refinements and all the riches and all the glories of earth.

Card of Thanks.

If the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam should publish a card of thanks, containing expressions of gratitude which come to him daily from those who have been cured of severe throat and lung troubles by the use of Kemp's Balsam, it would fill a fair sized book. How much better to invite all to call on any druggist and get a sample bottle that you may test for yourself its power. Large bottles 50c and $1.00.

Cost Him $5 for a Hug.

New York, Jan. 30.—Alferd Whitehouse was before Judge Tighe today to answer the complaint of Mrs. Margaret Dixon who claims that when she went to the defendant's store to buy some furniture he hugged her. She told her husband and it was upon his suggestion that the complaint was brought. The Judge fined Whitehouse $5.

Described His Meetings With Christ.

Nicholasville, Ky. Jan. 29.—There lies dead in this place a man than whom there is none better known in Kentucky—Rev. Stephen Noland—who died suddenly yesterday. He was an evangelist and claimed that he had divine visitations from Jesus Christ who appeared to him in bodily form three times. He gave a full account over his signature in his paper the Central Methodist, of the strange meetings and described the conversation in full. Many members of his church—the Methodist South—so revered him to the last that to doubt his story was impiety.

Edison's phonograph has found a new application at the Milwaukee College where it will be used as an assistant in teaching the French and other foreign languages. The phonograph never gets tired and can be made to repeat the same sentence or the same word hundreds of times. In giving a lesson the teacher reads it before the phonograph, at the same time addressing the pupils and the lesson is reproduced whenever wanted.—Exchange.

Bloomfield Advocate: Rev. J. D. Miller, of the Marysville, Duncannon Reformed charge, recently received a thousand mile ticket from his Duncannon members and a well filled purse from his Marysville congregation. * * * Monday night the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Orr, in this place made a narrow escape from destruction by fire. Wm. Orr, Esq., on entering the house, struck a match to light a lamp, when the ignited head dropped into a large vase of grasses, causing a flame to shoot up, setting fire to a lambrequin. Will opened the door and took the vase into the street, when the door shut behind him, locking him out; all the time the flames were licking up the lambrequin and making rapid progress to other inflammable material. He promptly burst the door in and gained the mastery of the flames, but was badly burned about his hands. The other inmates of the house were sound asleep, and had the flames gotton beyond control they might have been suffocated.

CATARRH.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS — HAY FEVER.
A NEW HOME TREATMENT.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the living membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however has proved this to be a fact, and the result of this discovery is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permantly cured in from one to three simple applications, made at home by the patient once in two weeks.

N. B.—This treatment is not a snuff or an ointment; both have been discarded by reputable physicians as injurious. A phamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free on receipt of stamp to pay postage, by A. H. DIXON & SON, 337 and 339 West King Street, Toronto, Canada. —Christian Advocate.

Sufferers from Catarrhal troubles should carefully read the above. 1y.

NO MORE OF THIS!

Rubber Shoes unless worn uncomfortably tight, will often slip off the feet. To remedy this evil the "GOLCHESTER" RUBBER CO.
offer a shoe with the inside of the heel lined with rubber. This clings to the shoe and prevents the Rubber from slipping off.
Call for the "Colchester"
