The Court House was crowded to its utmost capacity, last Friday evening to enjoy the play of Jephthah's Daughter by the Jacob Thomas singing class of 40 young people, all from this place. The expectation of the audience was more than realized. The young people acquitted themselves admirably and the Cantata ran along smoothly, without a jar from beginning to end to the culminating point where Jephthah plunges his dagger into the bosom of the daughter. It is one of the best religious pathos shows ever exhibited in this town.

On Friday evening last the J. S. Thomas singing class rendered the dramatic Cantata, "Jephthah and his Daughter," to a crowded and highly captivated audience in the Court House. The gorgeous novelties of costume, the swift movement from scene to scene without a noticeable jar or defect, the evidence of fine drill in voice and military effects, and withal the good acting visible from beginning to end, gave proof that the 40 performers had not only been undergoing painstaking preparation, but achieved a signal triumph as well. Whilst the executive ability of J. S. Thomas was clearly apparent to everybody, it must not be forgotten that his daughter, Miss Katie, who possesses culture and musical talent and culture of no ordinary degree, and to Mr. James Robinson is given no small share of the grand success of the occasion. It has been variously suggested that other places would no doubt be glad to be afforded an opportunity to enjoy this splendid treat. Although the cantata lasted about one hour and a half everybody seemed heartily sorry when finally the curtain fell upon the tragic scene of Jephthah's daughter yielding her sweet young life to the rash vow of her warrior father.

From the Newport Ledger: James Hahn has some sugar maple trees on his premises above Sixth street, by which he places great store. One day last week several boys entered the plot and bored holes in some of the trees to drain sugar water. Mr. Hahn did not like this procedure and made information against the boys before Squire Wingert, who gave them a hearing on Friday evening. By consent of the prosecutor, the Squire left the boys off by the payment of the costs. They were very lucky to escape without paying a heavy fine each, and it is to be hoped that this experience will be a lesson to them not to be caught in similar acts. A young man named Jesse March, formerly of Bloomfield, but now residing in Harrisburg, "died" his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth March, who recently received some $3000 pension until she gave him $400 of it. He threatened to return Monday and remove her furniture. The mother made information against Jesse, and when the train arrived at Bloomfield the officers were there to arrest the lad, who having heard of this information, fled off the train out of town and evaded the return of the cars to make his escape. A telegram was sent via Newport to Duncannon to detain Jesse, but it was gone before the message arrived.

The following credited to the Pennsylvania Grocer, we publish for the benefit of our readers. In view of the ice crop failure it is just in place and if on trial it proves practical would no doubt furnish many a block of ice where otherwise this useful commodity would not be available. Take a cylindrical vessel and pour three and one third ounces of commercial sulphuric acid and one and three fourths ounces of water in it and then add one ounce of powdered sulphate of soda. In the center of this mixture place a smaller vessel containing the water to be frozen then cover the vessel, and if possible revolve the whole with a gentle motion. In a few minutes the water in the small vessel will be converted into ice. The same mixture can be used a second or third time for making a block of ice. The operation should, if possible, be performed in a cool place.

Prof. Lancereux brought before his clinic a man who exhibited a popular-pustular eruption over the entire body. The serous ocellular glands were enlarged and showed all the signs of syphilitic adenitis. The cause of the affection was a catarrh of the Eustachian tube. Another case was that of a lady, who a few weeks after some operation on her teeth had an indurated ulceration of the gums, followed by a diffused eruption and indolent enlargement of the glands, as well as by painful periostitis over the bones of the skull and forearm. In both cases anti-syphilitic treatment restored the patient to health. Dentists, barbers, and hair-dressers should take care to keep their instruments disinfected and should all be communicated by them as well as by the physician and surgeon.—Bull. Med., 88, 1889.

A PROCLAMATION. WHEREAS, By a concurrent resolution of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, approved the 30th day of March, 1887, the Governor is requested to appoint, annually, a day to be designated as Arbor Day in Pennsylvania, and to recommend by proclamation to the people on the days named, the planting of trees and shrubs on the public school grounds and along our public highways throughout the State, and

WHEREAS, The observance of such a day has become of much good and of an increased interest in the subject heretofore, and

WHEREAS, The experience of the people of the Commonwealth, has shown that the diversity in our climate makes it impracticable to observe the same day throughout the different portions of the State, and it is thought for this reason to name alternative days to be observed by the people of various localities.

Now, therefore, I, James A. Beaver, Governor of the said Commonwealth, in pursuance of and obedience to the request of the Legislature aforesaid, do hereby designate Friday, the 11th Day of April 1890, to be observed as Arbor Days in Pennsylvania.

In those portions of the Commonwealth where the climatic conditions are favorable, the day first above named should be observed for tree planting and conducting such other exercises as have been usual, or may be desirable in our schools and in the public generally. In the higher latitudes of the Commonwealth, the day last named can be so observed.

The executive cordially commends to all the people of the Commonwealth the general observance of the one or the other of these days for the purposes named, and would further suggest that, as a means of giving practical direction to the thought and effort of the people, village improvement societies might be organized, looking to the beautifying not only of school grounds, but the general planting of trees and otherwise making attractive the streets and public places of our towns and villages. Such organizations have been productive of much good in many parts of the country, and could not fail to be beneficial if carefully organized and judiciously conducted.

Arbor Day might also be advantageously used for the organization of forestry associations, looking to the dissemination of useful information upon the subject of the preservation of our present forests, and of reforesting the waste lands of the Commonwealth. The subject is one of great importance, from many points of view, and cannot fail to commend itself to the thoughtful citizen who is mindful of the needs of the present and the demand of the future.

Let the people everywhere throughout the Commonwealth unite in the observance of Arbor Day of the present year, and make it such a day of brightness and usefulness that the designation of such days in the future will be anticipated with expectations of the highest pleasure and profit.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed, this twenty-first day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety, and of the Commonwealth the one hundred and fourth year.

JAMES A. BEAVER, By the Governor: CHARLES W. STONE, Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Poor, Foolish Men. TAKE A WOMAN'S ADVICE. This is only the second time in eight weeks that I have had to polish my shoes and yet I had not used Wolff's ACME Blacking. It is a wonderful shoe polish, which keeps on men's boots a week, and on women's a month. WOLFF & RANDOLPH, PHILADELPHIA.

ICURE FITS! When I saw Cure I did not mean merely to stop them for a time, but I had them cured for good. I was a Sufferer from Epilepsy. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS.

Consumption Surely Cured. To the Editor.—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me the Express and P. O. address. Respectfully, T. A. BLOOM, M. C., 181 Pearl St., N. Y.

Still a Kicking! Our Competitors are kicking because we took every advantage that the markets afforded in the selection of our SUPERB SPRING AND SUMMER STOCK.

They kick because they're left. Their kicking is the strongest testimony that can be offered to Our excellent stock and low prices.

Don't fail to examine OUR GRAND DISPLAY of New Goods or you will miss The Sight of the Season, and if you miss that you will miss bargains without a parallel.

Thrift is a good revenue. Great savings results from cleanliness and SAPOLIO. It is a solid cake of scouring soap. Try it in your next house-cleaning and be happy.

Looking out over the many homes of this country, we see thousands of women wearing away their lives in household drudgery that might be materially lessened by the use of a few cakes of SAPOLIO. If an hour is saved each time a cake is used, if one less wrinkle gathers upon the face because the toil is lightened, she must be a foolish woman who would hesitate to make the experiment, and be a churlish husband who would grudge the few cents which it costs.
