W. H. McNirt, P. M. April 1st, 1890.

We can't agree with brother Allison that the umbrella, at the post office that has during a period of many days of sun, rain and storm, awaited an owner, might be stolen in a rain of pitch forks. It is true that an umbrella thief might forget the lack of polish under the pricks of such a storm, but would't he be equally sensitive to the fact that the weather beaten umbrella would be no protection against the just punishment of being prosed to death for stealing it?

"Gettysburg and Other Poems," by Isaac R. Penstucker, of the editorial staff of the Philadelphia Inquirer, includes the poem read by Mr. Penstucker, at the invitation of the Governor and State Monument Commissioners, at the dedication of the 80 Pennsylvania Monuments on the battlefield of Gettysburg, last September. Mr. Edmund Clarence Stedman has pronounced this poem to be a noble lyric. It has just been published by Porter & Coates, 9th and Chestnut Sts., Philadelphia. The price is 80 cts., postage paid.

From the Bloomfield Advocate April 2: On Monday Wm. N. Soubert, Esq., received a carload of ice from Lake Champlain. Silas W. Conn, Esq., and Samuel J. Clouser expect a carload daily from the same source. This ice until delivered, the buyers say will cost them anywhere from $5 to $8. The blocks average about a foot thick and are as clear as crystal.

Last Wednesday the poor house team consisting of six mules, showing an ordinary load stalled on the dirt between Wm. McClure's steam saw mill—above Elliottburg—and the Tyrone township line and it took a team of twelve horses and mules to pull the wagon out. This will give some adequate idea of the condition of the main valley road.

From the Newport News: At a meeting of the congregation held in the Lutheran church last Monday evening the soliciting committee reported that they had secured obligations for over $2000 for the repairs of the church.

Mr. W. H. Peffer, of New Buffalo, recently purchased a cow at his father's public sale. When he started for home he tied the cow behind the wagon, but before he reached there the animal died from some unknown cause.

On Saturday morning County Treasurer Thomas J. Clark arose feeling as well as usual, but became ill at breakfast. He went to work at the People's Bank about nine o'clock, but felt badly and with difficulty staid at his desk till the bank closed. He then went home and was a very sick man from 9 until 11 o'clock Sunday morning. His affliction is known in medical parlance as renal colic, and he got no relief until the stone had completed the passage from his kidneys. He was able to resume his work at the bank yesterday morning.

A Spring Medicine. The druggists claim that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache, discovered by Dr. Silas Lano while in the Rocky mountains. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, suit is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells at 40 cents a package and is called Lane's Family Medicine.

To the Directors of Juniata County. Gentlemen: In pursuance of the forty-third section of the act of May 8, 1884 you are hereby notified to meet in convention at the Court House in Mifflintown, on the first Tuesday in May, A. D., 1890, being the sixth day of the month and so forth in accordance with the provisions of the whole number of directors present, one person of literary and scientific attainments, and of skill and experience in the art of teaching, as County Superintendent, for the three succeeding years; and certify the result to the State Superintendent at Harrisburg as required by the thirty-ninth and fortieth sections of said act.

W. E. AUMAN, Co. Sup't of Juniata County, April 4th, 1890.

Oranges for Health. And while the orange was so highly esteemed by the ancients for its medicinal qualities, it is surprising how little attention the present generation gives to the many virtues enclosed within this little golden ball of fruit. A prominent physician once remarked that were his patients to eat an orange or two every morning they would require little medical attention; for throughout the entire range of fruits that have attracted the attention of the medical profession, as alleviating many of the ills of mankind, there has been found none that has so many diversified as the orange, particularly in the cases of low fever, and neural complaints, and it should more largely take the place of the unpleasant drug so extensively used, to the great disgust of the patient. No fruit compares in cheapness with the beautiful and luscious orange, and particularly so now that our country is raising the finest oranges in the world, the fruit selling at a price within the reach of the most moderate purse.—California Farmer and Dealer.

Last Opportunity to Washington via the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The last of the popular series of excursions to Washington, which have been so successfully run by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company during the winter and spring is fixed for Thursday, April 24th, a date which is without doubt the most desirable that could be selected. Washington at that time is beginning to show all the activity of spring and the beautiful parks in which the city abounds are veritable with shrubbery and blooming with early flowers. Congress is busy. The city is thronged with prominent people, and the actual working of the government is seen to the best advantage.

Excursion tickets will be sold as heretofore at $9.00 from Pittsburgh, and proportionate rates from other stations, with the privilege of stopping over in Baltimore in either direction. These tickets will be good going on any regular train of that date, except limited express, and to return within ten days. In addition a special train of Pullman Parlor Cars and Day Coaches will leave Pittsburgh at 8:00 A. M. and run through to Washington.

Pleasant side trips may be found from Washington to Old Point Comfort, Norfolk, Richmond, Petersburg, and Mt. Vernon at reduced rates. The specific excursion rate from Mifflin, Pa., is $5.25 and train connecting with the special will leave at 2:05 P. M.

Pennsylvania.

BY R. W. ALEXANDER. In our beautiful sisterhood of states fair Pennsylvania leads.

In sturdy men and woman true, and record of brave deeds. Whenever lives have measured the sacred rights of man,

And they always led the van. From the hour when Penn the Quaker heard the "Key stone of the arch."

She has borne upon her banner that proud motto—Forward March.

And her progress has been onward as resistless, and as true, As the rushing of her waters from the mountains to the sea.

On her soil the note was sounded, that this land no more should be ruled and ravaged by a tyrant—by her master o'er the sea.

And from out her border sallied on a stormy winter night That immortal band of heroes who crushed that tyrant's hand.

Her history is written in letters all aflame With deeds that glorify the right and put the wrong to shame.

She has tarried won in council sage, and on the battlefield she has borne the banner of the brave.

Her title to the foremost rank—inscribe it on her shield. Do you seek the source from which her fame, her honor springs?

You'll find it in the Scottish Kirk that bred a race of Kings.

The title to the crowns they wore bears stamp of Heaven's decree.

And runs: Eternal hate of tyrants and love of liberty.

You will find it in the Huguenot, best type of Gallic race, Who lifted steel from fire and sword, and found a resting place.

From bigot's chain and despot's sway, and the proud oppressor's rod, Then swift unstained what have he found— "Freedom to worship God."

Behold it in the unswerving faith in the "ever light divine" That led the followers of Fox to Freedom's holy shrine.

That faith born of love of God inspired the true love for men.

And stamped itself for aye upon the heritage of Penn.

"See Mrs. Heman's 'Landing of the Pilgrims.'"

The Newest and Latest Goods. Miss Ellie Pannabaker announces to her friends and the public generally that she has restocked her millinery store in Patterson with the newest and latest styles of goods, which she will be pleased to put up to suit all who will favor her with their patronage.

NEW DRUG STORE. M. P. CRAWFORD, PHARMACEUT, has opened a new drug store in Mifflintown and has in stock a full line of all goods kept in a first class drug store.

Public Sale.

Mrs. Catherine Dillman will sell at her place of residence near Cross Roads, Delaware township, April 19 1890—at 12 o'clock noon, a horse, a cow, a year-old heifer, four alons, a good two horse wagon, hay ladders wood ladders, horse gears, and harness, and farming implements and and so forth.

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottles 50c and $1 at all druggists.

A Valuable Historical Work Republished.

"The Harrisburg Publishing Company has published a reprint of 'The Early Settlement of the Juniata Valley,' written and published about 35 years ago by U. J. Jones, and familiarly known as 'Jones' Juniata Valley,' with an Appendix of about 80 pages, by Dr. Wm. H. Eggle, State Librarian. This history was, in the main, prepared from statements gathered from the original settlers of the Juniata Valley, and embodies facts concerning its early settlement and the genealogy of the first settlers that are of great value at this day.

The subscription price is two dollars, and the book will be sent post-paid to any address. As the edition is limited, orders should be sent in at once. Direct orders to Harrisburg Publishing Company, Harrisburg, Pa.
