FRANKLIN, Pa., May 11.—A terrible cyclone passed over the southern part of the county last evening about 5 o'clock. Two people, Noah Jackson and wife, were killed outright and a large number of persons dangerously injured.

The storm was general throughout the country, but the deadly cyclone only about three hundred feet wide, extended about twenty-five miles. Everything in its path was demolished, trees uprooted and houses and barns completely demolished—in one istance a house containing an invalid was struck and the bed containing the sick man was lifted bodily and carried out into the yard, where it fetched up against a tree. The sick man was badly injured.

A large number of cattle were killed. No trains have arrived on the Allegheny Valley Railroad since last evening on account of slides and a bad wreck about five miles south of this city, where the cyclone struck the river.

On the 7th inst., George Dumm had his collar bone broken, body bruised and head cut by being caught in the branches of a sliding spruce tree that he had cut on land of Robert McMeen on Shade Mountain. The tree stood on a steep place on the mountain side, and when cut slid off the stump and down the mountain. Dumm had taken himself safely away from the trunk of the tree, but when it had slid—perhaps—seventy-five feet he was caught in the branches of the tree as it swept along over the rocks, and was dragged till some obstruction stopped the sliding tree in its descent. The angle of the mountain side was about forty-five degrees and he lay with his head down hill for a period of one hour and a half when his situation was discovered by a teamster, who was in the mountain to haul out logs. Dr. Wm. H Banks was summoned and gave the case the attention it required, and Dumm is doing as well as can be expected under the circumstances.

There is an unseen battle field
In every human breast,
Where two opposing forces meet,
And where they seldom rest,
That field is veiled from mortal sight—
'Tis only seen by One,
Who knows alone where victory lies
When each day's fight is done.

Givens' Great European Show.

The day has been named and the great European show, owned and controlled by Sir Samuel Givens, with all its old world wonders and newly-added American novelties will exhibit at Mifflintown, Friday, May 23d in its great European tents and with its army of artists and world of wonders. Sir Samuel brings artists from the famous arenes and capitals of the old world and trained animals from all parts of the globe. The Wild West is a newly added American feature and is the most complete exhibition of its class in the United States. The trained animal exhibition is without an equal anywhere on earth, and as for the balloonists—well they are out of sight. No one can afford to miss seeing Monsieur Montbrian ascend and decend, hanging by his toes to parachute car, while he cleaves the air with lightning-like rapidity for three miles. Oh, its a most wonderful and awe-inspiring sight! Don't forget the date.

The Tramp Nuisance.

Judge Stewart of Chambersburg, on Monday of last week delivered a long address to the Grand Jury upon the tramp question which has grown to be such an expensive nuisance, the tramp bill of Franklin county in the last eighteen years having been over $125,000. The Judge said that the vagrancy law of 1876 intended that the penalty for vagrancy should be labor, not confinement, and that the custom followed here of keeping the tramps in jail in comfort and idleness during the Winter and then allowing them to prey upon the farmers in the Summer, was a violation of the law and must be stopped. It is the duty of the officials of the county to provide work for the tramps and neglect to do so is a misdemeanor. He recommended that they be put to work quarrying stone on the Innshouse farm. The Grand Jury was instructed to make a full investigation of the matter and report some plan to rid the country of the tramps. The judge said he felt sure the tramps would disappear as soon as they are put to work. The Court appointed ex-Judge Rowe special counsel to assist the Grand Jury men in their investigation and awarded them subpœnas to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers.

Three of the tramps who last week attacked and beat farmer Samuel Lehman, afterward broke open several houses, were tried and convicted in Chambersburg on Monday, Judge Stewart sentenced two of them to the penitentairy for fifteen months each and the third to the county jail for a year.—Repository.

PIANOS-ORGANS.

The improved method of fastening strings of Pianos, invented by us, is one of the most important improvements ever made, making the instruments more richly musical in every tone, more durable, and less liable to get out of tune.

Both the Mason & Hamlin Organs and Pianos excel chiefly in that which is the chief excellence in any musical instrument, quality of tone. Other things, though important are much less so than this. An instrument with unmusical tones cannot be good. Illustrated catalogues of new styles, introduced this season, sent free.
